MYOPRACTIC

We are asked what is a Myopractor and what do we treat, and how do we treat, We treat by adjustment and we treat all chronic diseases. Do we give medicine, no, do we believe in medicine, yes, and we work with the M. D. We are asked why employ a Myopractor if we employ a medical doctor. If you are a going to repair your old house why employ a carpenter and a mason, because they each have their own special work to do. the same with diseases, Myopractic removes the causes as Osteopathy, Mechano, Therapy and Chiropractor teaches.

But this we find in many cases is not enough, and the patient needs medicine for the system is too weak to rise from its weaked state. Many a patient has been lost for the want of the right treatment, therefore we say Myopractic is the lost art of healing, Science and medical men will back us in what we say.

Come and get acquainted, and let me explain this simple method of healing When you understand our way of healing, you cannot help but have absolute confidence in Myo Practic adjustments. Chronic diseases a specialty.

LINTON-PRIOR

Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Evangelical Parsonage Rev. W. L. Martin united in marriage Miss Mary E. Linton of Tecumseh Mich. and Mr. Manny Prior. The couple were attended by the brides sister, Miss Margeret Linton of Tecumseh and Jack Graf. The bride was very becomingly attired in a tailored suit of old blue, with hat of harmonizing colors. Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the Vance residence on South Front Street. The table held a center piece of pink and white Killarney roses and was additionally artistic with the use of pink ribbon and smilax

Mr, and Mrs. Prior will go to housekeeping at once at 310 Bidwell Ave. Miss Linton has been connected with Miss Vance in the Millinery business for several years and has made many friends since she has made Fremont her home.

Mr. Prior is a well known Fremont young man and only the heartiest congratulations and best wishes of many friends are extended to them on this happy occasion.

PLEASANT PARTY

Miss Ruth Kloffenstein very pleasantly entertained a company of her young lady friends Tuesday evening. Those present were the Misses Florence Smith, Lydia Babcock, Effie Sims Florence Aten, Anna Mitchell, Gertrude Scudder, Bonnie Brown, Sylvia Andrews, Ione Sission and Mrs. Dale Hodges. A short time was spent in sewing, followed by music and dancing. Most appetising refreshments were served and a very delightful evening was reported from all present.

NO NAME CLUB

The No Name Club were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hay on Wednesday evening

A two course dinner was served, after which Progressive Pedro furnished the amusement of the evening. There were four tables of players, ten games were played. A most delightful evening was reported.

RESEARCH CIRCLE

The Ladies of the Research Circle held their meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hurry. It being gentlemens night there was a fine turnont. A program was given under direction of Miss Mingay.

Solo—Hazel Zimmerman accompanied by Mrs L. Pratt

Violin Solo—Lynn Rogers with Mrs. Hodges as accompanist

Reading—Miss Mingay

Solo--Ellsworth Ellis with Mrs. F. B. Wood to accompany him

ENTERTAINED

Mrs. James Aten entertained Thursday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Sarah Platt An elegant three course dinner was served, covers being laid for twelve of her girl friends, Florence Aten and Anna Mitchel served the guests in a very charming manner. A social evening followed the company being very busy with their needles, also in planning the future of Miss Sarah whose approaching marriage furnished an interesting topic for discussion.

SEWING CLUB

The members of the Sewing Club were entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Kenneth Hay An hour was spent in sewing, and then social visiting was in order, the time passing most merrily. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. Homer Marsh was the victim of a genuine surprise Thursday when about 16 of her friends came over on the train from Adrian. Taking up their line of march they discovered her at Wm. Palman's store, where she had been called by Miss Alma Tansley who was in the secret. As soon as she could recover her senses, she piloted the company to her home, as each lady carried a package in her hands, it goes without saying that there was a fine picnic supper served. A jolly crowd made a merry afternoon, and eveling when the crowd departed for their homes on the night train quite pleased with the success of their undertaking.

SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Goheen were most completely taken by by surprise Tuesday when 37 of their neighbors and friends dropped in upon them about noon. The company came loaded with everything for an oyster dinner and the other good things that go to make up a feast.

That they had a good time it is needless to say and Mr. and Mrs. Goheen fully appreciated the occasion.

THE CHEAPEST LIVE STOCK REMEDY ON THE MARKET

The average cost of live stock remedies for years has been from 12 to 20c a pound, a figure which has kept many farmers from using them, on the belief that they could not afford to feed them. Of course, this question of cost depends upon the benefit derived If a live stock remedy produces excellent results, saves your stock losses, prevents contagious diseases, etc., one could afford to pay even more than 20c a pound. It is the results you get from preparations of this character which determine whether they are expensive or economical.

But it is no longer necessary to pay 12 to 20c a pound for stock remedies. There is one on the market now which costs 5c a pound in 100 pound lots and less in larger quantities. And the makers prove its merit or refund your money. Therefore, you are not only assured of a saving of 100 per cent to 400 per cent in cost, making it one of the cheapest preparations on the market, but it is sold on a guarantee that it must prove satisfactory to you or no pay.

We refer to "Sal-Vet," a preparation which in about three years' time has become the most popular and best known remedy on the market, and has a larger sale than all others combined. It is not only the cheapest in price, but is sold on a 60-day trial plan that makes every purchaser safe.

How Michigan Farmers Are Successfully Fighting Live Stock Diseases

If you are not doing something to rid your farm animals of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms you are simply Letting Down the Bars to hog cholera and all the other fatal diseases which have cost the farmers of this country over fifty millions of dollars the past year. YOU can't afford to run this risk. YOU can't afford not to take preventive measures. The best way of preventing these deadly plagues from getting a foothold among your stock is to keep every animal worm free and in the best possible condition.

Worms are the cause of 90 per cent of live stock losses. Thousands of Michigan farmers have learned this fact and by effectually striking at the cause have successfully won their fight. They have found "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Read how they have stopped the loss and improved the value of their live stock.

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horse has rounded out splendidly; my sheep never looked so well at this time of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the best of health. I have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET. It has certainly improved to a marked degree the condition of my stock."—W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept., Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is a fine thing. It was well worth the price for my cows alone. I have Holsteins and some of them have had trouble with their bags becoming caked. This spring they were free from it, with a single exception and I attribute their improvement to SAL-VET."—ERNEST F. [illegible], Britton, Mich.

"We keep SAL-VET accessible to our sheep all the time and have found its use very effective in keeping out worms, and the sheep in a generally healthy condition. We have also found it an excellent conditioner and worm cleaner for horses. Our experience is that of many of the best farmers in this locality."—A. A. WOOD & SONS, Per Roscoe M. Wood, Saline, Mich.

"I have been feeding your SAL-VET to my sheep, hogs, horses and cattle for some time and feel that I would not willingly do business without it. It keeps all my stock in fine condition and in a high state of thrift, and since feeding your remedy, I have seen no evidence of parasitic infection. I can confidently recommend SAL-VET to every stockman."—WM. H. ANDERSON, Pres. Fourth National Bank, Grand Rapids, Mich.

"Our horses are free from worms, and look sleek since giving them SAL-VET. I feed it just as I do salt—just keep it before them constantly."—FRED MANKER, R 1, White Cloud, Michigan.

"Having thoroughly tested your 'SAL-VET,' I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera; I have had no trouble here."—JOHN H. LEVENDECKER, [illegible], Byron Center, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place, I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that [illegible] worth of SAL-VET saves me [illegible] worth of feed; all my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms cannot dwell together."—E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

The Great Worm Destroyer and Live Stock Conditioner

Look Out for These Danger Signs

Coughing, rough coats, laggard steps, poor appetites and dull eyes. These are the common symptoms of worm infection and should disease break out in your neighborhood the chances are a hundred to one against you, and your entire herds may be swept away with a suddenness that will appall you. You can greatly lessen this danger from disease if not altogether avoid these heavy losses simply by letting your stock run to "Sal-Vet"—the cheapest and greatest worm destroyer as well as the best preventive of live stock diseases.

"Sal-Vet" is a medicated salt which works a wonderful change in all live stock. It first destroys and expels the deadly worms and gives nature a chance to put every animal you own in a healthy, vigorous condition. It is the best stock insurance you can get because it costs so little and does so much. For one-twelfth of a cent a day any hog or sheep can run to it freely and will doctor themselves. It costs only a trifle more for larger animals and requires no mixing, no dosing, no drenching, no starving—no bother at all. I prove all this or no pay.

Here is My Money-Back Trial Offer

Simply call at my "Sal-Vet" dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely. Then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" does not do what I claim—if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove entirely satisfactory TO YOU, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember, you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased. You certainly can't afford to risk the loss of a single animal when such a fair, square, liberal offer like this is made to you. You know your dealer—he accepts your word as to the results. You take no risk whatever.

To Our Patrons: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get a supply the next time you come to town. We guarantee "Sal-Vet" and back up every statement in this advertisement. You take no risk. You'll find it the cheapest stock conditioner you ever used.

So much has been written of California, its climate, it sunshine and storms etc., that one is at a loss to know what is the real facts, but it depends on the disposition of the writer to a great extent. If one be of a cheerful happy disposition every thing is alright, but if they are discontented and sour, they see only the gloomy side and never seem to see the silver lining. If the heart is all right any clime will be pleasant and if not, then look for storms.

Chiropractor

Read What I Do

F. M. BROWN

I use no medicine, Surgery or Osteopathy, Only Spinal Adjustments.

Disease is a manifestation of insufficient, or abnormal nerve supply. The nerve force is the life of the body when that is shut off the body suffers.

The different organs of the body are supplied by nerves leading from the Spinal Cord, which originate in the brain.

The Spinal Column is made up of 24 movable bones, from between these 24 bones are given off, latterly, 25 pairs of Spinal Nerves. These nerves pass out from the spinal cord through a small opening or notch between the vertebrae. This being the only place in the body where nerves pass between two bones, hence the only place where a nerve can be impinged.

Each pair of spinal nerves, has its own particular ramification and organs which it controls. Between each vertebra is a thin layer of cartilage serving as a cushion to protect the body from jars.

During life these cushions become packed from different causes allowing the nerves to become pinched between the bones. Disease will cause the muscles to contract, and draw the bones of the spine out of alignment thus causing a slight subluxation and and nerve impingment, causing the nerve supply to be shut off according to the severity of the dislocation, hence an impinged nerve cannot do its required work. therefore an affection of its respective organ is sure to follow.

Now what I do is to examine your spine, I can detect the smallest dislocation, and knowing the exact ramification of all the spinal nerves I can tell you just where your trouble is located. Then by scientific spinal adjustments done by hand I remove these subluxations and release the pressure on the nerves which allows a full amount of nerve force to flow after which nature will take care of the disease.

This is briefly speaking, the theory of the science of Chiropractic. Between 80 and 90 per cent of all disease will very readily yield to this treatment if given a fair trial.

I am a graduate of the Michigan College of Chiropractic of Grand Rapids, Michigan. A college recognized by the state and national associations as being one of the very best of its kind, in existence.

I am no Quack, I will treat you fair I will examine you free of charge, if I can't help you I will tell you so I have spent a small fortune and almost three years in College preparing my self to be able to handle this work. Anyone desiring further information concerning my ability and Character may write Dr. O. B. Frye M. D., and M. B. Thompson of the Michigan College of Chiropractic, Grand Rapids Mich

For the present until I can get suitable rooms in the business part of town you can find me from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at the home of Mr. Gustine Sisson, East Chicago St.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's—and take no other.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Cold. LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says;-"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

FUNERAL COST $1,100

Probate Court Investigates Exorbitant Charges in Belleville.

Belleville, Ill., March 6.—The grand jury here returned three indictments as the result of an investigation of the $1,100 funeral of James Connor, a hodcarrier. Those indicted are William H. Degen of the East St. Louis undertaking firm that had charge of the funeral, Public Administrator W. U. Halbert, and Michael Kenlley, jailer of the East St. Louis police station.

The indictments came after an exhumation of the body. It is charged that the $600 casket was of wood, that the body wore no shoes and no expensive clothing. In the funeral bill presented to the probate court there was a $4 entry for shoes, $31 for a suit of clothes, and $10 for flynets for horses.

The bill was paid by the public administrator, but when he brought it into the probate court for approval, an investigation was ordered.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfeet about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

MRS. HARKELY E. PIERCE, of 244 Bright Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after suffering for three years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lotion Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for these medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me."

MRS. PIERCE.

MEMOIR

Elizabeth Rowland was born March 7th, 1832 in Seneca Co. N. Y. She came with her parents to Lenawee Co. Mich. while still a young girl. She was converted and united with the christian church at Britton. She was united in marriage with Chauncey Dibble in the year 1851, to this union was born 4 children. S. Y. Dibble who passed from this life less than a year ago. Mrs H. F. Barnes, C. B. Dibble of Ridgeway and Cornelius Dibble of Cone, one brother J. S. Rowland of Cedar Lake Mich. Grand children and great grandchildren survive her besides these she made a home for three girls, 2 of whom survive her Miss Nettie Pierce and Miss Lucile Kelly.

She united with the M. E. Church by letter in the year 1877 and has been a devoted and constant chrisian. Her husband proceeded her to the Heavenly Home in 1907, when the Rev Mr. Frazee was pastor in 1877 God wonderfully blessed him in his labors and sister Dibble had great joy of seeing her whole family converted to God and join the church.

During her sicknes she suffered severe pain and her loved one's did all they could to relieve and help her and on March 1st, she quietly and peacefully fell asleep in Jesus.

There's a beautiful home beyond the skies
The land of eternal rest,
Where the glorified throng, shall sing the song
The sweetest, the dearest and best.
Beautiful, beautiful mansion above
Oh beautiful home on high,
Where our Savior and Lord, shall crown his own
With joys that shall never die.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of our beloved mother for the music rendered and to those who presented the beautiful flowers.

REPUDIATES HER CONFESSION

Lillian Cramer Acts Against Advice of Her Attorney.

Chicago, March 6.—Repudiation of the confession of the killing of Sophie Singer, Baltimore heiress, was made by Lillian Beatrice Ryall Conway Cramer, alleged wife of Charles Cramer, alias Conway, followed a sensational two hours of testimony in Judge Kerstein's court.

Her action was taken in direct opposition to the advice of her attorney, who advised her to stick to her confession and desert the crippled clown, with whom she stands on trial for the Singer killing.

TREND TOWARD FARM SEEN BY PURDUE DEAN

Declares Bankers' Sons Are Joining Movement.

Indianapolis, March 6.—"There has been a great awakening along agricultural lines among the young men of Indiana," declared J. H. Skinner, dean of the agricultural department of Purdue university, who has been in Indianapolis. "Students of agriculture are no longer the farmers' sons alone," he continued. "We have many sons of bankers and other professional men among the 600 students in our department. In addition to these, we have 175 boys from all parts of the country who will complete the eight weeks' short course next week.

"The short course students are divided into four classes. In one division the study of live stock, breeding and management is taken up. The dairy course is fast growing in popularity. The general agriculture course is the broadest. In it a study of grain judging and of growing methods is taken up. This course also deals with soil fertility and crop improvement."

Asked if he thought the "back-to-the-farm" spirit was increasing, he replied in the affirmative and asserted that never before had the reaction ben so strong. He added, however, that the department at Purdue will be impeded seriously in the next few years if provision for additional equipment is not made by the state.

RIOT AT DARROW TRIAL

Women and Men Fight for Admittance to Courtroom.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 6.—Women and men fought till the turmoil took on the aspect of a riot to gain admittance to the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, Chicago lawyer accused of bribing McNamara jurors. Women were crushed in the jam at the doors and several fainted. Men fought with each other and there were scores of broken heads and battered faces.

Judge O. W. Powers made the final argument for the defense.

Avert British Strike.

London, March 6.—The threatened "universal" strike on the railroad systems throughout the British Isles was averted by the reinstatement of Conductor Richardson by the Midland Railway company.

CANAL TO OPEN NEXT FALL

Colonel Goethals Orders Panama Towns Removed.

Panama, March 6.—Colonel George Goethals, the chief engineer and chairman of the Panama canal commission, says that he will be able to keep his promise that the great waterway will be opened next fall, two years ahead of time.

He issued orders that Gorgona, a village on the Chagres river, and other towns along the line which Gatun lake would submerge, shall be removed.

BATTLE CREEK—Forty or fifty dairymen of this city organized a Calhoun county association for the definite purpose of raising the price of milk from $1.50 to $1.60 a hundred pounds to $2. This will mean 9-cent milk for Battle Creek.

MENOMINEE—Charles Ackerman, who was aged seventy-eight years, Civil War veteran, died following a stroke of paralysis. He had never been ill in his life previous to his fatal illness.

SUMMON EMPLOYERS OF FEMALE LABOR

Legislative Investigators Are Busy in Chicago.

Chicago, March 6.—Subpoenas for leading Chicago merchants were served by officers of the Illinois senatorial vice commission which will resume its hearings at the Hotel La Salle Friday.

All those subpoenaed are employers of hundreds of girls.

Edward Hillman of the Hillman company, Henry C. Schwab of Rothschild company, Joseph Basch of Siegel & Cooper, Henry C. Hart of the Boston store, John Pirie of Carson Pirie, Scott & Co., George E. Thorne of Montgomery Ward & Co., and Mrs. Augusta Lehmann of the Fair, were subpoenaed.

It is expected that a week will be necessary for the examination of those now subpoenaed. The latter part of next week the commission plans to subpoena the owners of the large wholesale clothing factories located on Market and on Franklin streets.

James Simpson vice president of Marshall Field & Co.; Edwin F. Mandel, president of Mandel Bros.; Edward J. Lehmann, vice president of the Fair; Roy M. Shayne, president of John T. Shayne & Co.; George Lytton, treasurer of the Hub, and Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., have been instructed to appear.

Enough employes of the department stores and mail order houses will be subpoenaed to make certain a hearing of both sides. Those who testify will bring their books, pay-roll sheets and other business records.

SUFFRAGIST PARADE

About 5,000 women were in the parade of the suffragists when it formed at Peace manument and, headed by Mrs. Richard Cope Burleson, grand marshal, started on its march through the capital's streets.

Mrs. Alberta Hill, Mrs. Russell McLennan, Mrs. Mary Chesborough, Mrs. Alberta Barr Taft and Miss Lou Bridges, aides, rode with the grand marshall at the head of the procession.

SNOW DUGOUT CAVES IN UPON SMALL BOY

Almost Suffocated when Rescued after Ten Minutes.

Marquette, Mich., March 8.—Buried in snow at the family home, Byrtle Olson, a boy of Ishpeming, narrowly escaped death. A fatality was prevented only because of a fortunate incident. The children had made a "dugout" in the back of the lot, and young Olson was enlarging the opening when the roof caved in, burying him completely. He was lying on his stomach at the time and the weight of the snow was so great he could not move.

His mother happened to look out the window just as the roof collapsed. It occurred to her that perhaps some of the children might have been in the tunnel and she called for help. A man who was passing responded and he shoveled snow for fully five minutes before he struck the boy's feet. It was fully ten minutes before it was possible to extricate the youngster, woh was almost suffocated.

CADILLAC—Mrs. N. E. Helbeck of this city has received information that $55,000 awaits her in Philadelphia, one-half of the amount left her mother by the latter's brother, George Baker of Philadelphia. The estate has been in probate court for years.

HASTINGS—Charles Parker, who is the supervisor of Thornapple township, who has been an ardent worker in the Democratic party in the northwestern part of Barry county, has entered the race for the postoffice plum in Middleville.

WILSON DEFERS CHURCH CHOICE

Washington In Doubt as to Where He Will Attend.

PRESIDENT A CHURCH ASSET

Particular Congregation With Which Occupant of White House and Family Habitually Worships Is Vastly Profited by Crowds Which Are Attracted to Services.

Washington, March 10. — There is much uncertainty among church folks in Washington because President Wilson has not made it known at which church he will worship during his residence in Washington.

Many presidents have attended the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, a stone's throw from the White House, and a multitude waited in vain before that edifice Sunday morning for the presidential party. Anxious to avoid the crowds, the president, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Eleanor Wilson changed their plans at the last minute and went to the Central Presbyterian church, located in northeast Washington, a mile or so from the White House.

Washington Pastor Surprised.

The pastor of the Central Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. James T. Taylor, was as much surprised as anybody when the Wilsons were ushered to a pew. He had not been advised of the honor which the president was to pay his church. He did not refer to the executive's presence in his sermon, which was exactly what Mr. Wilson desired.

With the final choice of a church home by President Wilson deferred, Presbyterian churchmen in Washington are still in an anxious frame of mind. The desirability of including among the worshippers of a Washington church the president of the United States and his family possesses something more than the pride of ownership. The material increment to a congregation from this connection is vast.

The churches of the national capital which have numbered presidents among their regular worshipers have without exception gained thereby permanent standing and substantial financial foundation.

President's Attendance Booms Church.

The power of the president in carrying with him prosperity to a church was never more clearly exemplified than when President Taft took office. The Unitarian church in Washington All Souls, had always been a conservative congregation. The Unitarians had never had but one president before Mr. Taft, and that was Millard Fillmore, who served less than three years. All Souls church was a comparatively wealthy congregation and the church had always been on a firm financial basis, but the edifice was old and but moderately attractive. No sooner had President Taft joined the congregation, however, than the usual boom started. A huge building fund was gathered about two years ago and one of the last acts of Mr. Taft's career as president was his participation in laying the cornerstone of the new All Souls church in the fashionable heart of Washington for an edifice which will cost when completed more than a quarter of a million dollars.

CHICAGOAN MAKES GOOD

Gains Princeton Honor Roll on Alumni Scholarship.

Princeton, N. J., March 10.—Among the names on the honor roll of Princeton university for the term just ended is that of John Larson of Chicago, a freshman.

Larson came to Princeton from Chicago, where he had been a bartender. He was found in that occupation by the Princeton Alumni association of Princeton and was selected as the most promising man to receive their scholarship at the university. He played football last fall.

UNITED CHURCH PLAN FAILS

Dissension Puts End to Movement In Tuscola, Ill.

Champaign, Ill., March 10.—The movement to unite churches in Illinois came to an inglorious end at Tuscola when members of the board of the Christian church resigned because of dissension created.

Members of the Christian and Baptist congregations rebelled, although the Presbyterians had approved the plan. Now it is said the churches are farther apart than ever.

Worried Over Morton's Condition.

New York, March 10.—Former Vice President Levi P. Morton is resting easily, and no sudden turn for the worse is expected. Governor Morton is eighty-eight years old and is ill of hardening of the arteries. His age causes worry over his condition.

SLUICING FREE GOLD FROM WINTER DUMPS

Alaskan Fields Expected to Yield Record Amount.

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 10.—Telegrams from Ruby announce that sluicing gold from winter dumps began there last week, a full month earlier than usual. Alexander Capewell, one of the largest Ruby operators, wires that spring clean-ups at Ruby will produce a record gold output for that camp.

In one district between Fairbanks and Circle pay streaks averaging two and half dollars per square rod of bed rock have been uncovered at a depth of 160 feet. On Dome Creek pay streak is much richer.

Reports from Iditarod, Aniak and other interior districts say that winter dumps awaiting sluicing are largest in years.

GREAT NORTHERN ORDERS VESSELS

Two Immense Steamships Now Building in Philadelphia.

COMPETE WITH PANAMA CANAL

Western Railroad Adds to Its Fleet, but With What Object Public Is Uninformed—Opening of Big Ditch Believed to Be Cause of Latest Great Investment.

Philadelphia, March 10.—The Great Northern railway, which has been made a power in the railroad world by James J. Hill, has given an order to the Cramp Shipbuilding company of this city for two immense steamships, which are to be used by the Great Northern in competing with the vessels that will pass through the Panama canal when that artificial waterway is thrown open to the public.

May Compete with Canal.

In just what particular Mr. Hill and his fellow officials of the Great Northern except to become active competitors of the canal cannot be ascertained, nor will it be acknowledged that the two vessels for which they recently closed the contracts are to be erected for the Great Northern railroad. This information was made public by one of the competitors of the Cramps, who gained his information through bidding on the engines, which are to be placed in the new vessels.

The only thing that has been ascertained is that the Great Northern people apparently expect to use the vessels on the western road trade. At least one of the terminals is to be at Astoria, Ore., but just where the other terminal is to be has not been ascertained.

May Utilize Panama Ditch.

Some steamship men suggest that the Great Northern people are adding to their fleet for the purpose of running several vessels through the canal, making a direct bid for business between the eastern coast of the United States and Japan, China and the Philippines instead of splitting freight rates with the eastern railroads when freight is shipped via the all-rail route from New York to the western coast and then transferred to the vessels of the Great Northern Steamship company.

CHILD IS FATALLY BURNED

Goes Too Near Hot Stove and Clothing Is Set Afire.

Oolitic, Ind., March 10.—Anna Mass, nine years old, was fatally injured at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mass. The mother was absent from home and while the little one and a neighbor's child were playing with dolls Anna got too near a red hot stove and her clothing caught fire.

She ran screaming from the house and a neighbor who attempted to put out the flames was severely burned.

Find Two Bodies in Fire Ruin.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 10.—Charles A. Cary and E. J. Reynolds of Utica, Ill., perished in the fire that destroyed several local stores. Their bodies were found in the ruins of an oriental goods store.

Six Rides for a Quarter.

Kansas City, Mo., March 10.—Representatives of the city and of the Metropolitan Street Railway company conferred here on a proposed new franchise for the company and agreed that street car fares are to be reduced here at the expiration of three years, when tickets are to be sold at the rate of six for 25 cents.

POPE PIUS ILL; FEELING BETTER

HAS GRIPPE AND CATARRH

Though Physicians Maintain That Sickness Is of Only Ordinary Severity, All Audiences Are Cancelled and Long Rest for Pontiff Is Determinedly Insisted Upon.

Rome, March 10.—Pope Pius X is feeling better. His cough has been troublesome and he was unable to go to sleep until 3 o'clock this morning. Then he went to sleep and did not wake up for four hours. He awoke greatly improved. The pope complained of a sore throat, which his physicians attributed to inflammation of the tonsils in consequence of his catarrhal trouble.

Sisters Visit Pontiff.

The sisters and niece of the pontiff visited him. They found that he was not depressed and ridiculed what they regarded as the useless precautions of the doctors, who, however, insist on a prolonged rest.

Professor Marchiafava refuses to give interviews to the newspaper men. He said statements from him are not necessary since the pope's illness is an ordinary attack of influenza, but when he was asked confidentially for his opinion by members of the pope's entourage the professor replied evasively.

Length of Life Doubtful?

He declared the illness in itself is not serious, but owing to the pope's age, predictions are not safe. He may die within a fortnight, and, on the contrary, may live another five years.

Dr. Amici fears that the pope's illness is a prelude to an attack of gout.

The doctors insisted upon making an official communication to the public, which was issued in the organ of the Vatican, the Osservatore Romano.

The statement announced that the pope had suffered a slight attack of catarrh as the result of grippe, and that all audiences had been suspended.

Official Report Not Usual.

An official announcement of a pope's illness is unusual and is only resorted to when a long illness is feared. Hence, despite the optimistic wording of the statement the pontiff's illness is causing alarm.

POLICE CHIEF SHOT DEAD

Pennsylvania Officer Meets Death In Discharge of His Duty.

Monesson, Pa., March 10.—Acting Chief of Police George Etinger was shot dead at the door of a disorderly house which he and three other officers were raiding.

Police, state troopers and detectives are searching for Mosh Hough, a former policeman of Belle Vernon, who is believed to be hiding in an abandoned coal mine. A warrant has been sworn out for Hough's arrest on a charge of pandering, it beng alleged his sixteen-year-old daughter was being kept in the resort where the murder occurred.

Killed In Grain Elevator.

McLeansboro, Ill., March 10.—While working in a grain elevator at Dewey, Ill., Charles G. Kornmeyer was caught in the machinery and killed. A year ago he completed a four-year enlistment in the United States navy, seeing service in China between Hongkong and Shanghai on board the gunboat Samar.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Poetry and Music.

If I had to live my life again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once every week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept active through use. AFTER JULY 1

Post master Charles Bidwell has received a government official notice that after July 1st parcels may be sent C. O. D. by parcel post for an extra fee of 10 cts. provided the amount to be collected does not exceed $100.

The parcels will be insured without extra charge in an amount equal to its actual value not to exceed $50. C. O. D. packages can only be excepted at money order offices and sent to money order stations.

No person receiving these packages will be allowed to open or examine the contents until all charges are paid and a receipt given for the tag, nor can they be returned nor will the amount of the charges be returned.

Packages may be sent without the fee, but a special duplicate tag must be given, and the post office department will not be held responsible for any mistakes made by the sender or misunderstanding that may arise between the sender and the one addressed.

Records of the proceedings and all transactions of the Parcel Post C. O. D. will be preserved one year at the office sending packages, and at the office where the delivery is made for three years.

TAKE NOTICE.

Don't forget the free entertainment at the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening. 75 beautiful views along the Canadian Pacific route in natural color will be shown, and Mr Oviatt of Battle Creek, who is familiar with this route, will describe it wonderful scenery. G. J. Ziehr has taken great pains to secure these lantern slides, and Rev. R. R. Weld has spared no pains on his part to make the entertainment a success. Don't miss it.

"FRECKLES"

A. G. Delamater's big scenic production of "FRECKLES" is booked for an early appearance at the Bradley. The play is is taken from Gene Stratton-Porter's novel of the same name and is proving one of the best book plays ever put on the road. The play follows closely to the story. If you have not read this great story read it now, you will enjoy the play all the more.

Make Us Prove It

We dare not exaggerate to you. We are dependent upon your patronage. To get it we must have your trust and confidence. We make the following statements with a full understanding of what they mean to us. You are safe when you believe in these statements.

For the Bowels

If you only knew as much as we and those who have used them know about Rexall Orderlies, you would be as enthusiastic about recommending them as we are. They taste just like candy. They act so easily and so pleasantly that the taking of them is a pleasure.

Even children like Rexall Orderlies; and you know that if a medicine appeals to a child, it will appeal to grown-ups.

help chase gloom, dispel blues and make you feel happy by their splendid tonic, cleansing and strengthening effect upon the bowels.—They act to free the system—and keep it free—from the distress and ill feeling that naturally results from irregular and inactive bowels.

Rexall Orderlies do this quietly, without griping or causing nausea, purging or excessive looseness. They act to overcome and remove the cause of bowel ills and in a short time usually make unnecessary the continued use of physics and purgatives, thus tending to stop such unhealthy habits as may have been formed.

Make Us Prove This

We do not ask you to take our word for this. We want you to make us prove it, and at no cost to you.

Buy a box of Rexall Orderlies at our store. Use them once, or use up the whole box. Then, if you are not thoroughly satisfied, just come back empty handed and tell us. Without obligating you or questioning you we will return the money you paid us for them.

Doesn't that indicate that Rexall Orderlies are at least worthy of trial? Doesn't it prove our faith in them? Doesn't it merit your confidence? Could any offer be more fair to you?

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children, delicate and aged persons. Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes. 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.

THEATRICAL NEWS

"SEVEN HOURS IN NEW YORK"

The Fairmont, (W. Va.) Times, Saturday Feb. 8th, 1913.

Fairmont had a live one last night in the Grand Opera House. "Seven Hours in New York" is the livliest show that has struck here this season and that is aying a heap, for some good ones have held down the boards this year.

The "Seven Hours in New York" having been spent in various ways by various people the night before it took the entire action of the play to unravel the mix up. This was accomplished finally after two of the funniest acts possible to think of, at about a laugh a minute. Snap and ginger seemed to be the slogan and every one from principals down to the smallest chorus girl, was simply chuck full of life all the time. Speaking of chorus girls, this show had the hardest working bunch and the best looking of the year.

The entire company could and did dance and sing and do new things until it seemed as though there could be nothing more and then, on the next song, an entire new set of stage pictures would be shown. Fred Bailey scored the biggest hit. He was the fellow who went through the entire two acts in a pair of pajamas and danced and sang and got in and out of trouble every time he turned around. Will Healey the taxi driver scored well, as also did Louis Lytton the ex-prune merchant who was with Bailey when the trouble started. Bailey is a great dancer and went the course last night in his "Chef Song," when with eight of the chorus he had to take five encores and finally ran out of verses and breath and was forced to stop.

Irma Croft, Edith Edwards and Dottie Leighton shared honors in the female roles, all of them having good voices, and Miss Leighton danced especially well. Her duet and dance with Fred Wright making a big hit. Miss Croft's song "I Can't See You at All" was worked out to perfection.

The entire show was a pleasant surprise to a good sized audience and when this show get to Clarksburg tonight it should pack the house to the doors, for the cabaret girls and the waiters trio are alone worth the price of admission not to speak of the laugh producing quanities of the rest of the company. Any way they deserve great business for they certainly work hard enough for three ordinary shows of this type.

"BETWEEN SHOWERS"

Ed. Mark of the Bradley Opera House was in Toledo Saturday afternoon to see Charley Grapewin in his new comedy success "Between Showers" is the title of the new comedy Mr. Grapewin is appearing in this season and Mr. Mark says it is funnier than "The Awakenin. of Mr. Pipp" which Mr. Grapewin appeared in several seasons ago. Tecumseh theatre goers will undoubtly remember this piece as it was the first one Mr Grapewin played here. It is even funnier, if possible, than "Baby Mine" and that is saying a good deal.

Mr. Grapewin is ably supported by "Mike" Donlin, the famous Philadelphia National League base ball player and Miss Anna Chance, who has appeared with Mr. Grapewin in all of his successes in the past decade.

Mr. Grapewin has a character similar to that of "Mr. Pipp" which he made a classic. He is "Jep Hoover" while Donlin who plays opposite to him is "Jack Hawley" his insaparable chum and his side partner in all of his escapades. By the way their having the same initals causes the mix up which forms the plot of the entire comedy. Miss Chance appears in the character of "Mrs. Hoover" which gives her plenty of chance to show her versatility. The balance of the company are very good.

The scenery is exceptionally fine being far above the average seen on the road. The effects are of the very best, especially the "April Showers" in the second act where showers of "real water" are much in evidence.

Mr. Mark was very anxious to secure Mr. Grapewin and his new piece for Tecumseh and both Mr. Grapewin and his manager assured him that he would get a date early in May, as they come back through this territory at that time.

Grapewin has a contract with Donlin which holds him as long as Grapewin sees fit to keep "Between Showers" on the road. He cannot return to the Philadelphia team until the show is taken off the road.

Modern Young Lady.

"In regard to the custody of the child," said the judge in handing down his decision in the divorce case, "I'll let the young lady decide for herself." "Oh," replied the worldly wise young thing, "if mamma is really going to get all that alimony I guess I'll go with her."

CALIFORNIA LETTER

Los Angeles Cal,
Feb. 24, 1913

My dear papa and sister:

As it is such a rainy morning, I will improve the moments and write you of the fine auto trip we took yesterday of sixty miles. Mr. Wood a near by neighbor has a new Regal machine and he and his wife invited us to go for a ride, so of course, we accepted and such a beautiful trip as we did have. We cut out through the N. Broadway tunnel, (which by the way is one fourth of a mile long) down through rear of the city, out into the suburbs, on these beautiful country roads. It started to rain soon after we reached the city limits but on we went just the same. We went through some very beautiful farming country and the alfalfa, oats, and barley are looking fine from the recent rains. Then we came to Sartelle where the land is one network of oilwells. You do not know how grand it all looks, with the black derricks there in the valley with the beautiful green firs surrounding and then in the distance the Santa Monica Mts. with their serpent like roads winding in and out, but we kept on the mecademized roads which are all through Los Angeles County. We then came to some of the most beautiful grounds ones eye ever rested upon and the grand buildings, which proved to be the soldiers home and such a home it must be for those who fought so bravely for their countrys cause and who need the best of care by their country. There were very few of the old boys of blue in the grounds as it was raining so hard, but Mr. Wood slowed down so that we might take in the location as well as possible without getting out as none of us were prepared for wet weather.

The Home is situated on a hill and the grounds slope to the road and are beautifully kept. The lawn looks like a beautiful green carpet laid down for the old Soldiers to walk over to be easy for their tired and weary feet for they are ageing and the feet that took the long weary marches will soon take their last march, home to eternal rest. The grounds are beautifully laid out with flower beds which were in full bloom and nodding their flowery heads to us as much as to say, "We are enjoying this rain for it will save Jack Frost from taking our lives." There the shrubs are in bloom and the little winding paths leading in an out to the little summer houses with rustic seats where the old boys may sit and talk of the old battles and hardships they endured and not thinking then, that there would be such a beautiful spot prepared for them.

Then we saw more winding paths, dear little drinking fountains are to be seen and to the right just as we went out of the grounds was a fine soldiers monument. I mean to take this trip again by electric car and go on a day when visitors are allowed so that I may see what the interior is like, if the interior is one half as lovely as the exterior it is a haven of rest indeed, but I must hasten on with my letter. We took a 25 mile an hour clip and were soon in sight of Santa Monica and the ocean. Santa Monica is a most beautiful place and we took a drive the length of Ocean Ave, which faces the ocean, this is the aristocratic section of the place, there the flowers were in full bloom and vegetation, seemed very little hurt by frosts. The Ivy geraniums were climbing the palm trees and looked very much like climbing roses. We went as far as Santa Monica canyon then turned to come back into the city proper and we turned off from Ocean Ave. to our right and came to the Ocean speedway then turned towards Ocean Park. This speedway leads back to Los Angeles and on coming towards our home city we passed by the wireless telegraph station which was of course a sight to me. We could not stop to look around as it was raining harder every moment and we were getting hungry from our long drive. So we came back home from an enjoyable trip tired and hungry but more pleased with the country than ever.

Well Frank is waiting to take this to the office so will have to close for this time. Worlds of love to you both and best regards to enquiring ones. I am as ever your affectionate daughter and sister,

Bertha Anglemeyer.

Nonrusting Tinware.

If new tinware be rubbed over with fresh lard and thoroughly heated in the oven before it is used, it will never rust afterward, no matter how much it is put in water. For stained tinware borax produces the best results. If a teapot or coffee pot is discolored on the inside boil it in a strong solution of borax for a short time and all its brightness will return.

In a Crocodile's Stomach.

In the stomach of a crocodile which was shot not long ago no the Merguan estate, Madras, were found a python thirteen feet long, two tobacco pipes, a number of pieces of whisky bottles and a pair of trousers.

Proof from Michigan Farmers

SAL-VET

The Great Worm Destroyer and Conditioner

The results Michigan farmers are getting from "Sal-Vet" and the way they endorse it is proof conclusive that this great worm destroyer and conditioner is the greatest boon to farmers ever discovered. Here are a few of the hundreds of letters written to me by grateful Michigan farmers relating their experiences and results from "Sal-Vet". You may possibly know some of them personally. Read what they say:

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horse has rounded out splendidly, my sheep never looked so well at this time of of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the best of health. I have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET. It has certainly improved to a marked degree, the condition of my stock."—W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept. Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is giving fine results. I lost fewer lambs by 50% this year while feeding SAL-VET than in either of the two succeeding years when it was not fed."—R. J. DOWNING, St. Charles, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place. I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that $5.00 worth of SAL-VET saves me $10.00 worth of feed; all my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms cannot dwell together."—E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

"After having used a 100-pound keg of your SAL-VET among our horses, cattle and sheep with gratifying results, I can heartily recommend all stockmen and especially sheepmen to give it a trial."—HARRY POTTER, Davison, Mich.

"I find SAL-VET all that it is claimed to be."—JAMES NICOLL, Sandusky, Mich.

"I have given some SAL-VET a good trial and find it is all right. Will want more when this is gone. I would rather have it than any stock food or remedy that I have tried."—W. H. NICHOLAS, Bangor, Mich.

"Your SAL-VET is all that you claim it to be and I heartily recommend it to every sheep raiser. It surely has put my sheep in the pink of condition."—EDWARD LITTLE, Prop. Oxford Stock Farm, Rosebush, Mich.

"Having thoroughly tested your SAL-VET, I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera. I have had no trouble here."—JOHN H. LEYENDECKER, R. 63, Byron Center, Mich.

SAL-VET
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

"Sal-Vet" is a wonderful medicated salt—a preparation which is saving farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is not only the surest and quickest remedy for worms, but also a tonic, digestive and conditioner which puts all farm animals in excellent condition, thus providing the most efficient disease preventive you can get. No trouble to feed it. You simply place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely—no drenching, no handling—no bother at all—they doctor themselves.

CHEAPEST and BEST

It is inexpensive—costing only one-twelfth of a cent a day for each sheep or hog and only a trifle more for larger animals. It saves feed—PREVENTS DISEASE—makes stock thrive and gain faster—in fact repays you its small cost many times over. It is from 100% to 400% cheaper than other live stock preparations and far more efficient. The fact that it is sold on a "Money-back Guarantee" PROVES all this.

Here Is My Money-Back Offer

Simply call at my dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely, then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" don't do what I claim, if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove a paying investment for you, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased.

SIDNEY R. FEIL, Pres. The S. R. Feil Co., Cleveland, Ohio

To Our Customers: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get "Sal-Vet" the next time you come to town. We back up every word in this advertisement. You take no risk. Don't wait until your hogs or other stock get sick and die—get "Sal-Vet" NOW and PREVENT such loss, and have thrifty, finer, more profitable stock. It is the cheapest and best conditioner you can buy.

Studebaker

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the Story.

Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since.

Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build.

And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one.

There's a Studebaker for your needs—whether you live in city, town or country.

AT THE ROYAL ON FRIDAY, MARCH 14

By the death of their father, Robert and Claire Ffolliott are given into the care of Corry Kinchela, an unscrupulous land agent, who schemes with Harvey Duff, a dishonest police officer, to secure possession of the children's lands. Robert is convicted on Duff's testimony and sentenced to the penal settlement in Australia. His sister, Claire, and sweetheart, Arte, are dependent upon Conn, the Shaughraum, who supplies them with food by poaching.

Several years later Robert returns to Ireland, but is captured as a fugitive and thrown into prison. The crafty Conn assists him to escape and feigns death when fired upon by a sentinel. It is commonly believed that Conn has been killed, and a wake is held, during which the Shaughraun learns of a plan to spirit the girls out of the country. Kinchela and his accomplices are brought to justice and the girls reunited to their sweethearts.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers. Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905. I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Cold. LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says:—"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfeet about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

MRS. PIERCE.

MRS. HARKELY E. PIERCE, of 244 Bright Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after suffering for three years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lotion Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for these medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me."

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

DETROIT — The Reverend Joseph A. Vance, for twelve years pastor of the Hyde Park Presbyterian church, Chicago, who came to this city in September, 1911, to accept the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, is charged with slander in a warrant issued to Alderman Edward Barnett of the Third ward, Detroit. In the course of an address on "The Redemption of Detroit" Dr. Vance declared Barnett was caught red-handed taking a bribe, and then was elected alderman of the Third ward. The doctor admits he inadvertently confounded the names of Alderman Thomas Glinnan, self-confessed boodler of the Eighteenth ward, and Alderman Barnett.

MENOMINEE—The numerous men engaged in the lumber business expect that during 1913 prices will reach high levels, with a strong market and a good demand, as unfavorable weather conditions in almost every part of the country where logging is in progress have tended to curtail the supply. Besides the stocks of all mills have been decreased the past six months and many of the big concerns are well sold ahead of their cut. The conditions at the camps have been such that the output in many districts will be far below normal. Labor has been scarce and the lack of snow has prevented hauling.

DETROIT — The representatives of the Standard Manufacturing company of Pittsburgh, Pa., and other members of the so-called bath tub trust, recently convicted for criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade, notified Assistant District Attorney J. Edward Bland of this city that they would pay the fines imposed on them without further contest if the government will cancel a second criminal indictment which is pending against them. Bland has asked Attorney General Wickersham for instructions.

HENRY AUGUSTINE KILLED BY TRAIN

Famous Horticulturist Victim of Accident at Normal

Bloomington, Ill., March 10.—Henry Augustine of Normal was killed by a train near his home.

He was one of the best known horticulturists in the west and was for many years president of the Illinois Horticultural society and president of the National Nurserymen's society.

He had charge of the fruit exhibit at the World's Columbian exposition in Chicago in 1893.

WILL TEST NEW EXPLOSIVE

Work Will Be Resumed at Mine at Fort Branch, Gibson County.

Princeton, Ind., March 10.—William H. Raney, member of the district executive board of United Mine Workers, received a message from National President White announcing that the national board had given its consent for a thirty-day test of a new explosive in the coal mine at Fort Branch, this county.

The work has been suspended in the mine there since the explosion, early in February, when Henry Deweese and William Bush, two shotfirers, were killed. It is expected that the temporary contract will be signed and the men will return to work at once.

CRAMERS FOUND GUILTY

Life Sentence for Husband and Fourteen Years for Wife.

Chicago, March 10.—Charles N. Cramer and his wife, Mrs. Lillian Beatrice Ryall Conway Cramer, were declared guilty of the murder of Sophia Singer, the Baltimore heiress, by a jury in Judge Kersten's court. The verdict was a triumph for the state, as it had been believed that Mrs. Cramer would be freed, even if her circus clown husband were adjudged guilty.

The jury fixed the penalty at life for Cramer and at fourteen years for Mrs. Cramer. The woman sobbed violently as the verdict was read.

PLACE FOR ILLINOIS MAN

Merritt O. Chance Made Chief Clerk of the Postoffice Department.

Washington, March 10.—Illinois has received one of the first appointments made by the new administration. Merritt O. Chance, who has been named as chief clerk of the postoffice department, is from Mount Vernon, Ill.

He has held office for years in Washington. His last prior to entering this administration was that of secretary of the economy and efficiency commission appointed by Mr. Taft.

BEACHEY QUITS FLYING

Daring Aviator Admits Indirect Responsibility for Many Fatalities.

Chicago, March 10.—Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, says that he will never fly again, professionally.

Beachey holds himself indirectly responsible for the death of several aviators, and gives this as his reason for giving up flying.

"I have defied death at every opportunity in the last two years," he said. "I have been a bad influence and the death of a number of young aviators in this country can be traced, I believe, to a desire to emulate me in my foolishly daring exploits in the air."

RAWN'S WIDOW GETS $15,661

Jury Decides Late Monon President Did Not Commit Suicide.

St. Louis, Mo., March 10.—A jury in the circuit court here awarded Mrs. Florence W. Rawn, widow of Ira G. Rawn, former president of the Monon railway, $15,661 in her suit against a life insurance company, which she was suing for a policy on her husband's life.

The insurance company claimed that Rawn committed suicide, thereby invalidating his policy. Mrs. Rawn contended that his death was accidental. The policy was for $14,000. The additional $1,661 represented accrued interest. Three other suits against companies that had policies on Rawn's life are pending here. Six companies compromised. Rawn's total insurance was $120,000.

What a Yawn Tells.

When children bite their nails this often points to some digestive trouble, so do not scold your bairns for this nasty trick, but diet them very carefully and consult a doctor if they seem at all out of sorts. In older people the habit often goes with a hasty temper, which, in its turn may be traced to a bad digestion.

Constant, uncontrollable yawning may sometimes point to a growth in the nose and throat. The person cannot breathe properly, so he is forced to yawn, not by weariness, but in order to draw more air into his lungs.

OLNEY MAY GO TO LONDON

President Wilson Chooses Him as Ambassador to St. James.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson has offered or soon will do so to Richard Olney of Boston, secretary of state in President Cleveland's cabinet, the post of ambassador to Great Britain.

It is not known whether Mr. Olney will accept, and it was said the matter had not gone so far as the sounding of the court of St. James as to Mr. Olney's acceptability.

BRITISH SHIPS ON REEFS

Two of Them Come to Grief on Treacherous Keys of Florida.

Key West, Fla., March 10. — Over one hundred passengers were rescued from the British steamship Luzano, Liverpool to Havana, which struck on Ajax Reef. The passengers were taken off by the wrecking tug Rescue, which is bringing them to port. No details have been received as to the condition of the Luzano.

The British steamer Howth Head is also ashore on Molasses Reef. The United States revenue cutter Miami is standing by the stranded vessel and rendering assistance. The Howth Head is leaking badly.

ELISHA LEE

Representing Railroads Before Board of Wage Arbitrators.

FIREMEN'S WAGE HEARINGS BEGIN

Evidence Being Presented before Three Arbitrators.

New York, March 10.—The hearing in the dispute between the railroad firemen of fifty-two eastern railroads and their employers began at 10 o'clock this morning at the Waldorf Astoria. The hearing is before three arbitrators and is held under the Erdman act.

Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of the railroads, which could not agree with the firemen's committee on changes in pay and hours, is the chief representative of the railroads and is presenting that side of the dispute.

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, will perform a similar duty for the men. It is thought that at least two weeks will be needed to hear both sides.

ARREST HYDE JUROR

Action Based on Statement That He Tried to Bribe Marshal.

Kansas City, Mo., March 10.—A capias charging Samuel Brown, a juror in the second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, for the alleged murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, with attempting to bribe a county officer, was issued by the criminal court.

The action was based upon a statement by Thomas Holloway, deputy marshal in charge of the jury in the present Hyde trial, that Brown had told him "there was $1,000 in it" to bring about a hung jury in the Hyde case, and $1,500 for an acquittal.

OLSON PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Remanded to Jail for Killing Laundry Driver in Mystery.

St. Paul, March 10.—Professor Oscar N. Olson of the state agricultural college, who, the police say, confessed shooting Clyde N. Darling, a laundry driver, pleaded not guilty in the municipal court to the charge of murder in the first degree. He was remanded to the county jail to await action of the grand jury.

No mention was made of the "unwritten law," which Professor Olson had been quoted as saying was the reason for the shooting.

SON FINDS PARENTS DEAD

Returns After Year's Wandering, but Shout to Mother Brings Silence.

Sparta, Wis., March 10.—"Hello, mother, the wanderer returns," shouted Frank Harmon, son of August Harmon, as he entered his parents' home unexpectedly after a year's absence in the west. He received no response.

A neighbor told him later both his parents had been murdered and robbed by Evolt Rentz a month ago. The young man fell in a faint. He is now under a physician's care.

Jacksonville Mayor Marries.

Jacksonville, Ill., March 10.—George W. Davis, mayor of Jacksonville, and Miss Mary Rowen were united in marriage here. The bride has been taking a course in the nurses' training school at Hannibal. The groom has been mayor for two years.

Darrow Jury Disagrees.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 10.—The jury trying the case of Clarence Darrow, the Chicago attorney, on the charge of bribery in connection with the McNamara brothers' trial reported that it was unable to agree. Judge Conley is expected to discharge it.

Farmer's Wife Mother of Eighteen.

Stillwater, Okla., March 10.—A son born to Mrs George Mitchell was her eighteenth child. Sixteen of the children are living. Mr. Mitchell is a farmer near Stillwater.

Gomez to Veto Amnesty Bill.

Havana, March 10.—After a conference with his cabinet, congressmen and lawyers, President Gomez decided to veto the amnesty bill. The American government had declared opposition to the passage of the measure.

Wilson's Policy As to Appointments Causes Surprise.

BRYAN TO NAME DIPLOMATS

Federal Judges Will Be Selected by Attorney General McReynolds—The President, However, Will Retain the Power to Veto Any or All Appointments—Barrett's Place Safe.

President Wilson's announced policy of leaving appointments to his cabinet ministers has come as a thunder clap to daze the army of Democratic officeseekers.

Secretary of State Bryan, by this order has the naming of all ambassadors and other diplomatic officials. Attorney General McReynolds has the appointment not only of his assistants but of federal judges before whom these assistants must practice.

The other eight cabinet officers must select their own men. Of course, President Wilson will retain veto power in all these appointments.

Exception for McCombs.

There are to be a few exceptions, it is seen, from this reversal of negotiations with William F. McCombs regarding the ambassadorship to France. This is the first ambassadorship to be disposed of even tentatively and it is significant that the appointment was made directly by the president and not by William Jennings Bryan, who according to rumor, was to dispose of all high diplomatic patronage.

Charles R. Crane can go to China or to Russia to represent the West, this also by order of the president. He comes from Chicago and started for China once to be ambassador but was pulled back by President Taft, who appointed him. Thomas Nelson Page may be sent to the court of St. James.

Barrett Sure of His Place.

John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union, is one official who is not worrying over the permanence of his job. He is safe. It was discovered that, because of the peculiar organization of the pseudo branch of the government, Mr. Barrett was not answerable to changing administrations, but his tenure of office was dictated by the votes of the twenty-one republics comprising the union.

The United States, as a member of the union, has no greater voice in its direction than the smallest of its sister republics. As a result Mr. Barrett can snap his fingers in the face of those who cast envious eyes on his official position.

Carter for Chief of Staff.

Mayor General William H. Carter, in command of the central division of the army at Chicago, will be the next chief of staff, according to belief of officials at the war department.

General Carter was slated to command the troops now at Galveston, if it becomes necessary to invade Mexico.

According to the story General Carter was ordered here from the Philippines by Secretary of War Dickinson to become chief of staff. President Taft, however, decided in favor of General Wood.

Many Republicans to Stay.

Office seekers were jarred when they learned that President Wilson has no intention of removing Republicans before the expiration of the terms for which they were appointed. This rule will apply to all administrative positions where the incumbents have nothing to do with the shaping of policy. It affects postmasters, collectorships, bank examiners and practically all of the government service outside of Washington.

Fourteen hundred Republican nominees named for appointment by President Taft in the closing days of his administration will not derive any benefit of course from the rule. In practically all these cases, embracing appointments in every branch of the public service, Democrats will be named by President Wilson.

"FIREBUG" CONFESSES

Implicates Thirty-Five Members of the "Arson Trust."

Ben Fink, "firebug," made a complete and detailed confession to First Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnston, Jr., in South Bend, Ind. He implicated sixty members of the arson trust, according to an announcement by the state's attorney's office in Chicago.

Fink is also known under the aliases of Franklin and Finkelberg. He has been under arrest in the Indiana city for two months, but until now steadfastly denied complicity in incendiary fires. Finally he sent word to Prosecutor Johnston that he wanted to see him. The prosecuted went to South Bend on the first train. The confession followed.

Probe Blast on Dynamite Ship.

At Baltimore, Md., a rigid investigation is under way to ascertain the cause and fix the blame for the disastrous explosion of more than 300 tons of dynamite in the hold of the British tramp steamer Alum Chine, in the lower harbor, which brought death to fifty-four persons and serious injury to three-score more, and caused property loss of more than $250,000.

SAGINAW—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kobs heard the piteous cries of a baby about 10 p. m., and upon investigation found a girl baby about two days old. A slip of paper, upon which was written the word "Wallace," was pinned to the dress.

PORT HURON—On account of inhaling a quantity of gas Frank Stover and Miss Blotzkie, employed in the office of E. J. Schoolcraft, were almost asphyxiated. They were removed to their homes and are out of danger.

LANSING—A number of citizens of Reading appeared before the railroad commission and alleged discrimination on the part of the Michigan State Telephone company. The company has promised to adjust rates.

WOMEN USE FIRE

Another Campaign of Arson Is Begun in England.

RAILWAY STATIONS BURNED

Placards Found in the Vicinity Bearing the Words "Burning to Get the Vote!" and "Votes for Women!"—Suffragette Speakers Are Mobbed in London Parks.

Early in the day they set fire to the Saunderton station of the Great Western railway and burned it to the ground. Saunderton is about thirty-one miles from London.

Two placards were found in the vicinity on which were painted the words: "Burning to get the vote!" and "Votes for women!"

Another station, Croxley Green about three miles from London, on the London and Northwestern, also was burned down during the morning.

Both Saunderton and Croxley Green were new stations.

Bowling Pavilion Burned.

Suffragettes burned the wooden pavilion of the Bowling club at Heaton Park, Newcastle. They left a card inscribed, "No Peace Until Votes for Women!"

Meetings for women were held in Hyde Park and on Wimbledom common. The authorities had large bodies of mounted and foot policemen in attendance but wild scenes occurred.

Five thousand persons assembled in the park and swarmed about the speakers' platform and by a deafening din prevented any word of "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond's speech from being heard. The pressure of the surging crowds to storm the platform at length became so great that re-inforcements were summoned. Mrs Drummond and her colleagues were rescued from their perilous position.

Protect Speakers at Other Meetings.

At Wimbledon similar scenes were enacted. Scarcely a word uttered by the speakers was audible, and they, too, had to be protected.

Another meeting at Hampstead Heath was still more disorderly. Miss Brackenbury announced her intention to speak for an hour. This she succeeded in doing by the help of a large force of police to control the crowds but her discourse was inaudible. Eggs were thrown at the speakers, and the meeting finally broke up in the greatest confusion. Many suggestions were made to duck the speakers in a pond.

FIVE STATES JOIN ILLINOIS CRUSADE

Would Eliminate White Slavery and Its Causes.

Five states contiguous to Illinois will join in a move for the elimination of white slavery and for the ending or mending of such contributory causes as may be found in low wages for women.

They are Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio.

Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, chairman of the Illinois senate commission on white slavery, has received communications from the governors of these states, declaring that in their next messages to their respective legislatures they will recommend the appointment of commissions endowed with the same plenary powers as the senatorial commission of Illinois.

It promises to develop the most important movement against white slavery that has ever been undertaken.

LAWLER REPORT IS A WARM DOCUMENT

Recent Investigation of Vice Conditions in Kalamazoo

Lansing, Mich., March 11. — When Governor Ferris returned to his desk in the executive office he found a report filed by Attorney General Fellows which made him forget the inauguration and the distribution of Michigan patronage.

The statement which comes from the legal department of the state gives the result of a recent investigation made in Kalamazoo by Deputy Attorney General Lawler and contains some details of moral conditions in the celery city which are said to be startling.

During the early part of February a number of young and old men were arrested charged with offenses by a number of girls so young that many of them still wear their hair done down their backs in braids.

The arrests caused a sensation in Kalamazoo but the cases were not pushed as hard as some thought they ought to be and others thought the officers were too officious. Complaints were made to the governor and attorney general from Kalamazoo at the manner in which the cases against the men had been handled and Deputy Lawler spent three days in that city making a thorough investigation.

ARREST DETROIT BONIFACE

George Petrovich Accused of Stealing $2,000 in Diamonds.

New York, March 11.—George Petrovich, a Detroit hotel keeper, was arrested here, in response to a request from Superintendent Downey of Detroit police, who telegraphed that Petrovich was wanted for stealing $2,000 worth of diamonds.

Detectives traced Petrovich by his trunks and found him at 210 Second avenue. His wife and two children were with him. He was locked up in the East Fifty-First street police station to await further word from Detroit. Petrovich when searched was found to have $3,000 in cash and a valuable diamond ring and stickpin.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Former Deputy Sheriff Convicted at Allegan.

Allegan, Mich., March 10. — Guilty of manslaughter was the verdict brought in by a jury in circuit court here in the trial of John Kleis, who about a year ago shot and killed Ted Gearing at Douglas.

At the time of the shooting Kleis was an officer. He shot Gearing while attempting to capture him for a misdemeanor.

Dies at Age of 100 Years.

Pontiac, Mich., March 10.—Farrell McMann, aged 100 years and seven months, died at Oxford after an illness extending from Thanksgiving day. His body was taken to Williamston for burial Monday, where his five sons reside.

Yeomen to Meet April 1.

Menominee, Mich., March 10.—State convention of Brotherhood of American Yeomen will be held in Menominee, April 1, at which time delegates will be selected for the supreme conclave, to be held in Oklahoma City.

BAY CITY—An unaccountable fire destroyed the home of Mrs. Isaac Pierce. Mrs. Pierce was ill in bed and had been removed to the home of a neighbor. While Mrs. Pierce was being taken to safety a crowd of boys and girls were taking the furniture out of the burning house.

THREE MEN ARE HURT WHEN METAL EXPLODES

One Port Huron Victim May Lose His Sight

Port Huron, Mich., March 10.—Three men were injured at the plant of William O. Lee company when 200 pounds of white hot metal dropped into a pit of water, causing an explosion which rocked the entire southern section of the city.

One of the men, Edward Faulkner aged twenty-seven years, may lose his sight, while two others, Arthur and Charles Farnsworth, brothers, were painfully injured.

Every window in the plant was shattered, while the damage to the factory will be far reaching. Faulkner will be kept in a dark room for at least two weeks.

WASEPI WOMAN ARRESTED

Alleged She Stole Registered Letter Containing $15.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 8.—Charged with rifling the mails at Wasepi, Mrs. Julia Palmer, wife of the postmaster there, was arrested by postoffice officials.

Officers say that she admits the theft of a registered letter from the mails. There was $15 in the letter, which was being sent to a doctor in Benton Harbor, it is alleged.

When arraigned before United States Circuit Court Commissioner Joseph Stockwell here, she was admitted to bail.

WOMAN'S LEG AMPUTATED

Locomotive Runs Over Victim, Crushing Lower Limb.

Cadillac, Mich., March 11. — Miss Edith Boyle, thirty, of Leslie, met with an accident at Thompsonville, that resulted in the loss of her left leg.

She was changing cars from the Ann Arbor to the Pere Marquette depot, enroute to Charlevoix. The depots are but three rods apart, and as Miss Boyle passed from one to the other, a Pere Marquette train ran over her left leg, crushing it badly.

SWEET TO HELP REDFIELD

Grand Rapids Man Slated for Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 10.—"Former Congressman Edwin F. Sweet of Grand Rapids is slated for assistant secretary of commerce," said F. E. Pulte when he returned from Washington.

"He and William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce in the new cabinet, are personal friends, and the secretary wants the local man in the position."

Big Timber Haul at Petoskey.

Petoskey, Mich., March 11.—Grauel & Wilcoxen, who have just about completed their log hauling, made some remarkable records during February. During the month this firm of log haulers brought 1,145,000 feet of logs to the city.

Celebrates Ninety-Sixth Birthday.

Flint, Mich., March 11.—Mrs. Sarah Ward, healthy and in full possession of her faculties, celebrated her ninety-sixth birthday at the home of her grandson, J. Grinnell.

FLINT—Very elaborate plans for a complete sewer system for Flint which will cost approximately $300,000 have been presented to the council after nine months' work by Professor W. C. Hoad of Ann Arbor. One hundred maps outline the work. The maps and plans cost $5,000. The plans are arranged for a sewerage system to take care of 100,000 persons.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

The University of Michigan Observatory has sent more astronomers of high merit out to the observatories of this nation than has any other observatory in this country. In the science of astronomy Americans have led the world for more than fifty years. Two schools have been founded in America; the one by Professor Benjamin Pierce of Harvard University, the other by Professor Brunnow of Michigan. The Michigan Observatory names among its early students such men as James C. Watson, Asaph Hall, C. A. Young, Cleveland Abbe, and DeVolson Wood. More than twenty Michigan graduates have achieved distinction in the astronomical field.

Among the professors from other institutions who are to teach in the Michigan summer session this year are Professor F. A. Updike of Dartmouth (political science), Professor Parmelee of the University of Missouri (sociology), Professor Frank Carney of Denison University (geology). The usual program of public lectures has been arranged for. This series presents a lecture for each school day of the session.

The Senate Council of the University has granted permission to present the annual Michigan Union Opera in Detroit on or before April 5. This will be the first time the opera has been given outside of Ann Arbor.

As a result of the recent first semester examinations forty students in the Department of Literature, Science, and the Arts will be sent home for deficiencies in scholarship. The total enrollment in this department is 2400.

The new marking system, which provides for a nice discrimination between the "high pass" and the "low pass" student, has brought about a closer scrutiny of the work of upper classmen. A greater number of students are discsplined for low averages than was formerly possible.

Through the extension lectures, the hospitals, the clinics, and the laboratories, over 80,000 people of the state, besides those in attendance as students, are directly served by the University of Michigan every year.

MICHIGAN STATE FEDERATION OF GLEANERS

Flint March, 19, 20, 1913

The State Federation of Gleaners will meet in Flint Wednesday and Thursday of next week. All sessions to be held in the Auditorium Masonic Temple. Music will be furnished by an orchestra from Unadilla Harbor. Opening session will be held at 10:30 Wednesday, at 1:30 p. m. a special program will be given followed by evening session at 7:30.

Thursday morning and afternoon sessions will be held. These will be followed by a banquet to the members of the Federation in the Masonic dining room 5:30 to 7:00.

The Federation will close its session at 7:30 meeting. At the close of this meeting the Genesee County Round-Up will take place. Candidates will be initated and work in the second degree will be performed. A short school of instruction will be held. All Gleaners in Michigan in good standing are invited to be present.

"SEVEN HOURS IN NEW YORK"

Although the musical play "Seven Hours in New York" has enjoyed but a brief existence, it bids fair to outstrip many of its older and better known rivals in the race for popular favor. The new piece abounds in tuneful, tinkling melodies, pretty faces, beautiful scenery, and last but not least, a light, really consistent plot, interpereted by a large company and chorus of singing and dancing comedians and comediennes. This big company will be seen at the Bradley Opera House, next Friday, March 21.

Many of the song in "Seven Hours in New York" are destined to become very popular. One in particular, bearing the same title as the play is a great hit everywhere. Each musical number, of which there are 18, are staged carefully and effectively. The unique title is made possible by the adventures of one Merrill Lee, during his seven hours' stay in the metropolis. A stranger named Lincoln Penny, a taxicab driver known as "Nifty", several wives and sweethearts, and the eight cabaret girls, figure in the uproariously funny plot.

The song called "Sleepy Time" rendered at the conclusion of Act I is said to be a gem. It is a very melodious song with a quaint swing but easily remembered. The accompanying stage business and lighting effects produce a series of charming pictures.

Mrs. Clarence Holdridge and her mother, Mrs. George Chidister of Holloway, were calling on friends in town Thursday.

Will Waldron surprised his family by coming home from Ann Arbor Wednesday, the operation on his throat having very successful, and a permanent cure is promised. His friends will all rejoice that Will can talk once more like other folks.

How Michigan Farmers Are Successfully Fighting Live Stock Diseases

If you are not doing something to rid your farm animals of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms you are simply Letting Down the Bars to hog cholera and all the other fatal diseases which have cost the farmers of this country over fifty millions of dollars the past year. YOU can't afford to run this risk. YOU can't afford not to take preventive measures. The best way of preventing these deadly plagues from getting a foothold among your stock is to keep every animal worm free and in the best possible condition.

Worms are the cause of 90 per cent of live stock losses. Thousands of Michigan farmers have learned this fact and by effectually striking at the cause have successfully won their fight. They have found "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Read how they have stopped the loss and improved the value of their live stock.

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horse has rounded out splendidly; my sheep never looked so well at this time of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the best of health. I have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET; it has certainly improved to a marked degree, the condition of my stock."—W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept. Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is a fine thing. It was well worth the price for my cows alone. I have Holstein and some of them have had trouble with their bags becoming caked. This spring they were free from it, with a single exception and I attribute their improvement to SAL-VET."—ERNEST F. DAISHER, Britton, Mich.

"We keep SAL-VET accessible to our sheep all the time and have found its use very effective in keeping out worms, and the sheep in a generally healthy condition. We have also found it an excellent conditioner and worm cleaner for horses. Our experience is that of many of the best farmers in this locality."—A. A. WOOD & SONS, Per Roscoe M. Wood, Saline, Mich.

"I have been feeding your SAL-VET to my sheep, hogs, horses and cattle for some time and feel that I would not willingly do business without it. It keeps all my stock in fine condition and in a high state of thrift, and since feeding your remedy I have seen no evidence of parasitic infection. I can confidently recommend SAL-VET to every stockman."—WM. H. ANDERSON, Pres. Fourth National Bank, Grand Rapids, Mich.

"Our horses are free from worms and look sleek since giving them SAL-VET. I feed it just as I do salt—just keep it before them constantly."—FRED MANKER, R. 2, White Cloud, Michigan.

"Having thoroughly tested your "SAL-VET," I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera. I have had no trouble here."—JOHN H. LEYENDECKER, R. R. [illegible], Byron Center, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place, I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that $5.00 worth of SAL-VET saves me [illegible] worth of food. All my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms cannot dwell together."—E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

The Great Worm Destroyer and Live Stock Conditioner

Look Out for These Danger Signs

Coughing, rough coats, laggard steps, poor appetites and dull eyes. These are the common symptoms of worm infection and should disease break out in your neighborhood the chances are a hundred to one against you, and your entire herds may be swept away with a suddenness that will appall you. You can greatly lessen this danger from disease if not altogether avoid these heavy losses simply by letting your stock run to "Sal-Vet"—the cheapest and greatest worm destroyer as well as the best preventive of live stock diseases.

"Sal-Vet" is a medicated salt which works a wonderful change in all live stock. It first destroys and expels the deadly worms and gives nature a chance to put every animal you own in a healthy, vigorous condition. It is the best stock insurance you can get because it costs so little and does so much. For one-twelfth of a cent a day any hog or sheep can run to it freely and will doctor themselves. It costs only a trifle more for larger animals and requires no mixing, no dosing, no drenching, no starving—no bother at all. I prove all this or no pay.

Here is My Money-Back Trial Offer

Simply call at my "Sal-Vet" dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely. Then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" does not do what I claim—if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove entirely satisfactory TO YOU, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember, you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased. You certainly can't afford to risk the loss of a single animal when such a fair, square, liberal offer like this is made to you. You know your dealer—he accepts your word as to the results. You take no risk whatever.

To Our Patrons: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

As Seen on Canvas

The entertainment at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, which was given through the kindness and co-operation of G. J. Ziehl, who furnished the lantern slides, and Rev. B. R. Weld who took charge of the affairs, was one of the treat of the season.

Mr. C. E. Oviatt of Battle Creek, General Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific, gave a very clear and entertaining description of every scene along the route. Mr. Oviatt spoke with an effort, as he had been quite ill for the pass week. W. B. Mesacar Travelling Passenger Agent on the Canadian Pacific from Detroit, was present to assist Mr. Oviatt.

Over three hundred of the representative citizens of Tecumseh, were there and each one felt that this was not only an entertaining, but an educational evening. The gentlemen certainly deserve the thanks of the people, and congratulations on the wonderful success of the undertaking.

Comfort Your Stomach

We pay for this treatment if it fails to promptly relieve Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets remedy stomach troubles because they contain the proper proportion of Pepsin and Bismuth and the necessary carminatives that help nature to supply the elements the absence of which in the gastric juices causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They aid the stomach to digest food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood and material necessary for overcoming natural body waste.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket, or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal and prove our assertion that they will keep indigestion from bothering you.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, or we refund your money, if they fail to do so. Doesn't it stand to reason that we wouldn't assume this money risk were we not certain Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will satisfy you? Three sizes: 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Cold. LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says:—"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

ARREST HYDE JUROR

At Kansas City, Mo., a capias charging Samuel Brown, a juror in the second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, for the alleged murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, with attempting to bribe a county officer, was issued by the criminal court.

The action was based upon a statement by Thomas Holloway, deputy marshal in charge of the jury in the present Hyde trial, that Brown had told him "there was $1,000 in it" to bring about a hung jury in the Hyde case, and $1,500 for an acquittal.

Why Women Are Not RICH.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anaemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person looses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

J. D. LIVELY, ESQ.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes MR. JAS. D. LIVELY, of Washburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 83. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic, and further advise ailing people to take Dr. Pierce's medicines before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

LANSING — Miss Luella Burton, who is the chief woman inspector of the state labor department, has just filed an interesting report showing the result of an investigation made as to the causes of immorality among women. She says one chief cause of the downfall of girls is the fact they are employed where they have no suitable place to entertain company, and are forced out on the street. The report shows that of 216 women questioned, 109 had been married; of the 216 cases investigated, 136 had been employed as domestics or waitresses. The investigation included Detroit, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Flint and Bay City.

GRAND RAPIDS—In the United States court in this city Judge Sessions imposed the following sentences: Frank Cronin, Grand Rapids, rifling government mails, six months in Detroit house of correction; Sydney Britton, Charlotte, sending obscene letters through the mails, two months in Eaton county jail; Otto D. Spears, Bellaire, embezzlement of postal funds, six months, in Detroit; Andrew McNally of Milwaukee, Wis., violation of white slave act, eight months in Detroit house of correction.

EATON RAPIDS—Miss Dora Stewart, who was aged forty-five years, was found dead in her home, three miles east of here, by neighbors. The body indicated Miss Stewart had been dead three or four days. Death resulted from natural causes.

MONROE—In a desperate quarrel at the quarry north of the city, Joe De Gorge, twenty-eight years old, was stabbed four times with a stiletto. Tony Mineoro, thirty years old, is accused. Dr. L. C. Knapp says the wounds may prove fatal.

LANSING — The Michigan secretary of state, during the month of February, collected $12,000 in automobile license fees. This is $6,000 more than was collected in February, 1912.

Dentist's Wife Dies.

PONTIAC — The city commission has finally adopted the gas ordinance, providing for the quality of gas supplied by the local company and also for tests and inspections. The Pontiac Light company notified the commission of its refusal to accept the terms of the ordinance. The commission also turned down the proposed charter amendment to permit of municipal ownership of all public utilities, and likewise proposed amendments to change the city fiscal year and to make a special assessment payable in ten year installments instead of five years as now provided. All of the amendments were to have been submitted at the April election, but City Attorney Bromley discovered that a recent law provided that amendments must be on file with the city clerk at least ninety days preceding an election which is now impossible.

FLINT—James W. Courtney, who is known to the police of the country as "Rochester Jimmy," and said to be one of the most famous of his clan, was convicted in the circuit court of blowing the safe of the Bank of Mt. Morris on the night of Nov. 24 1908. He was sentenced to a term of seven and one-half to fifteen years in Marquette prison. The court advised that a guard of at least three officers accompany Courtney to prison.

IRON MOUNTAIN—Alvin Olson, who is a demented man of giant size, wrested the control of the locomotive from a train crew here, but after a terrific battle with the sheriff and deputies, he was torn from the throttle before he succeeded in running the engine on the main line. A passenger train passed on the main track, near the scene of the battle, a few minutes after Olson was taken into custody.

FLINT—Little Helen Hutchins, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchins, who celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary this week, has five grandmothers, one great great grandmother, two great grandmothers and two grandmothers

ALLEGAN—Carlisle E. McGeath of this place, who has been city letter carrier since the free delivery was established here, has resigned and accepted the secretaryship of the Sanilac county Young Men's Christian association, just organized.

Our Query and Reply Department

Evidence Being Presented before Three Arbitrators.

In New York city the hearing in the dispute between the railroad firemen of fifty-two eastern railroads and their employers began at 10 o'clock in the morning at the Waldorf Astoria. The hearing is before three arbitrators and is held under the Erdman act.

Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of the railroads, which could not agree with the firemen's committee on changes in pay and hours, is the chief representative of the railroads and is presenting that side of the dispute.

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, will perform a similar duty for the men. It is thought that at least two weeks will be needed to hear both sides.

60 SINK WITH BOAT

German War Vessel Rammed by a Cruiser During Maneuvers.

It is reported in Berlin that sixty men drowned when the German cruiser Yerck rammed torpedo boat G-178 during the night in the North sea off Heligoland.

The disaster occurred during maneuvers of the German navy. The G-178 was cut in two and sank immediately.

Emperor William, who was at Wilhelmshaven, where he went Monday to attend the launching of a new German dreadnaught, had inspected the G-178.

The disaster occurred two miles south of Heligoland Island. The cruiser was going at half speed when she crashed into the torpedo boat destroyer amidship.

CRAMERS FOUND GUILTY

At Chicago Charles N. Conway Cramer and his wife, Mrs. Lillian Beatrice Ryall Conway Cramer, were declared guilty of the murder of Sophia Singer, the Baltimore heiress, by a jury in Judge Kersten's court. The verdict was a triumph for the state, as it had been believed that Mrs. Cramer would be freed, even if her circus clown husband were adjudged guilty.

The jury fixed the penalty at life for Cramer and at fourteen years for Mrs. Cramer. The woman sobbed violently as the verdict was read.

BAY CITY — Joseph Smith has been re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America, district No. 24, comprising Michigan, over Harry Elliott of Saginaw, vice president of the organizations. It was the closest election in the history of the mine workers in this state. Frank O'Donnell of this city was elected vice president, and George Clements of Saginaw was re-elected secretary treasurer.

GRAND RAPIDS—George Wright, who has been charged with the fraudulent use of the mails, pleaded guilty before Judge Sessions. On his own motion, two indictments brought against him at Sault Ste. Marie will be transferred to this division. He was allowed a plea of not guilty to stand against the indictments of the northern division.

"It's The Best Polish I Ever Used"

That's What Every One Says Who Tries

Black Silk Stove Polish

DON'T imagine for a moment that all brands of stove polish are the same. Don't get the idea that to keep a nice glossy shine on your stove you must black it every few days. It's not a question of oft-repeated application. It's a question of the stove polish to use.

Black Silk Stove Polish is so much better than other stove polishes that there is absolutely no comparison—it's in a class all by itself.

It makes a brilliant glossy shine that don't rub or dust off. It anneals to the iron—becomes a part of the stove. It makes old stoves look like new and lasts four times as long as any other shine.

Get a can and give it a trial. Try it on your parlor stove, your cook stove, or your gas range. If you do not find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Black Silk Stove Polish has been made by the same formula and sold under one name for 30 years.

"I sent to you for a can of Black Silk Stove Polish and found it so much better than any I had ever used that I asked my hardware dealer to order a supply. He did so, and is now selling nearly everyone in the place your polish. I had no idea there could be such a difference in stove polishes."

"I was visiting friends and they used Black Silk Stove Polish on their stoves. It made the best shine I ever saw, and after blacking, the polish did not rub or dust off. It is way ahead of any polish I have ever used."

Ask Your Dealer for Black Silk Stove Polish and refuse a counterfeit brand. Costs you no more than the ordinary kind, so why not have the best. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Ill.

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel for grates, fenders, [illegible], stove pipes, etc. Prevents rusting. Not affected by heat or cold. Produces a permanent glossy black surface. Can, with brush for applying enamel, only 25 cents. Ask your dealer.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for nickel, brass, silverware or tinware. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

PORFIRIO DIAZ WOULD RETURN

Has Wish to End His Days in the Fatherland.

WILL WAIT FOR PACIFICATION

General Gonzalez, Now in New York, Comes from Deposed Dictator—Senora Madero and Twenty-Four Other Relatives of Late President Are Gathered in Gotham Hotels.

New York, March 17.—Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, will return to his native country if he is needed there at any time. He would like to spend the remaining years of life in his fatherland, and as soon as the process of pacification is complete he will probably make his home in Mexico City.

Goes to Learn Conditions.

This information was given to your correspondent by General Ferdinando Gonzalez, former governor of the state of Mexico, who arrived here from Paris Saturday and is now at the Hotel Savoy. He will leave for Mexico City within a few days and will return to Paris to meet his chief, after he has attended to some personal business in the capital and has gathered some idea of the actual condition of affairs in the republic. General Gonzalez, in addition to being governor of Mexico state, for seven was chief of staff of the Mexican army and a soldier of repute in that country. He left Mexico on May 21, 1911, with President Diaz and has been with him most of the time since.

Asked if General Diaz had taken any part in the insurrection against the Madero government General Gonzalez answered that he could say that the former president had, at various times while in Paris, counselled his friends in Mexico City to support Madero and never forget their duty to their country.

General Gonzalez expressed sympathy for the Maderos. He has known several members of the family and referred to them as hard working men. He even intimated that he might meet them during his short stay in New York.

GENERAL PORFIRIO DIAZ.

Twenty-Five Maderos in New York.

With the arival here of Senora Mara Madero, widow of the slain president of Mexico, steps have been taken by her representatives to secure payment from local insurance companies of large policies on the life of her husband. It had been reported that such action had been started before, but her relatives who arrived here before her from Havana, where they went from Mexico City, deferred such a move until she came.

Now that the explanations of the provisional government concerning the death of Francisco Madero have been officially accepted the policies will be promptly paid, Senora Madero is understood to believe. Her husband was insured in the Mutual Life Insurance company for $13,000 and in the New York Life for $25,000, both policies having been taken out in 1904.

Gustavo Madero, brother of the late president, was also insured in a United States Life Insurance company, and the family will make an effort to collect on his policy, too.

Pino Suarez, vice president of Mexico, who was killed at the same time as Francisco Madero, was also insured for a small amount in an American company, but, so far as can be learned, no claim for payment of his policy has yet been made.

There are now twenty-five of the Madero family in this city at the Hotel Ansonia, the Hotel Willard and at Alfonso Madero's apartment on Riverside Drive, near One Hundred and Sixteenth street.

YEGGMEN BLOW TWO SAFES

Bloomington, Ind., March 17. — Nitroglycerine was used to blow up two safes at Stinesville, fourteen miles north of this city. The postoffice safe was robbed of $200 in stamps and a safe and cash register in the Ray Dunn store were also cracked and robbed of a small amount of money.

The yeggmen obtained an entrance to the store where the postoffice was located by a window. Mr. Dunn, who is the postmaster, was not aware of the robbery until he opened for business as none of the residents of Stinesville heard the explosions. The Bedford bloodhounds were sent for, but failed to track the robbers.

WILSON REGIME IS WELL LIKED

Makes Favorable Impression upon All Washington.

FOUND TAME AND SENSIBLE

Friends of President Think Bryan Figures on Being Candidate for President in 1916—People Pleased, but Politicians Do Not Applaud Executive's Appointments.

Washington, March 17.—The Wilson administration has been in control of the government just about two weeks. During these thirteen days in Washington everybody has been watching intently each move at the White House and in the big executive departments, and all have reached the same conclusion—that Woodrow Wilson and his advisers have made a good start. There is no single act or feature of the new administration that can be pointed to as chiefly responsible for this opinion; it is the general tone of the new regime that has made a deep impression on Washington observers.

Administration Changes Quietly.

When Mr. Wilson entered the White House, Washington had prepared itself for something radical, or at least theatrical, but it has been disappointed. As a matter of fact the coming of Woodrow Wilson and the Democrats has been as tame and as sensible as any one could have wished. The most pleasing feature of the new administration to many is its general conservatism. President Wilson's cabinet has made a distinctly favorable impression on Republicans as well as Democrats here. The general verdict is that on the average it is equal in ability to that of President Taft.

Outside of the president himself, Mr. Bryan as secretary of state has been the most closely watched of the new figures at the national capital. But up to this time about the only thing that can be said of "the commoner" is that he has kept his mouth shut tight.

The one unanswered question that is agitating Washington now more than ever, is why Bryan has accepted the state portfolio?

President Wilson's close friends believe firmly that Bryan is looking ahead to become a candidate in 1916 and at the proper time will seek to hold Wilson to the one-term pledge of the Baltimore platform.

President Wilson's appointments thus far have done as much as anything to contribute to the good impression that the national capital has formed of his administration. At the same time, the opinion is rapidly taking substance that it is in this that the president will find the most trouble. The country generally is applauding his selections thus far, but the office seekers and the politicians are rumbling. It will be only a short time when this feeling will flare into revolt.

SHOT BY DETECTIVE; DIES

Arrested on White Slavery Charge, Makes Break for Liberty.

Racine, Wis., March 17.—Sam Perry, who was shot last Tuesday by Charles Christiansen, a detective, died as a result of his wounds.

Perry had been arrested on a white slavery charge and was being conducted to the lock-up when he made a sudden break for liberty. The detective gave chase and fired three shots into his fleeing prisoner before bringing him down.

HAVOC WROUGHT BY GREAT STORM

Ten Mile Strip in Mississippi Is Wiped Clean.

PEOPLE HOMELESS AND HUNGRY

Water in Streets of Augusta, Ga., Reminds Ex-President Taft of "Dear Old Cincinnati"—Hardships of Passengers on Trains Stalled by Blizzard on Nebraska Prairies.

Mobile, Ala., March 17. — News received here from Guntown, Miss., is to the effect that the wind and rain storms have done $100,000 damage.

The hurricane was more disastrous for miles east of Guntown. For a distance of about ten miles there is scarcely a building or tree left standing over territory two miles wide. Fourteen people are reported killed and more than 100 injured. A number of the injured will die. At least 1,000 people are homeless and without food or clothing as everything has been swept away.

There is much suffering, for there are several families in which every member is injured and there is no care for them.

Savannah River Falling.

Augusta, Ga., March 17.—Water covered some of the principal business and residential streets of Augusta and Ex-President Taft was reminded of "Dear old Cincinnati."

The Savannah river, which began rising Saturday morning, continued to rise slowly until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the guage showed thirty-five feet two inches. There is remained stationery for several hours and now it is falling. The freshet was not destructive at all and did nothing more than fill a few cellars and cause considerable inconvenience. Only one side of Broad street in the principal business sections was covered.

Trains Stalled in Blizzard.

Omaha, Neb., March 17. — In the blizzard that swept over this state, train traffic was suspended. No trains moved west of the Missouri river, and it is reported that fifty are snowbound on the prairies.

How some of the storm delayed passengers are faring is told in a dispatch from Sidney, Neb., where a Union Pacific train has been stalled. All night the train moved slowly while the snow piled higher and higher. Finally within a mile of Sidney farther progress became impossible, the train slowed down, and finally come to a halt.

Fuel and Food Low.

North Platte is the junction point where trains renew supplies of fuel and eatables for the dining cars. Therefore all supplies, both fuel and edibles, have run low.

With the mercury below zero it was impossible to heat the coaches from the engine. Finally the passengers were confronted with the serious problem of keeping warm.

Axes were ripped from the emergency fire boxes and card tables were smashed into kindling wood and burned to furnish heat.

BULGARIANS TAKE REDOUBT

Turks Are Repulsed and Leave Three Hundred Dead on Field.

Sofia, March 17.—A dispatch to the Demotika received here says the Bulgarians captured a redoubt to the eastward of Akalan, close to Tchataldja.

The Turks tried to recapture the place, but were repulsed and left 300 dead on the field. Prisoners taken in the action say the Turks have lost all hope of success.

SCHEDULE MATTER OF TARIFF IS DONE

Washington, March 17.—The Democrats on the house committee on ways and means completed consideration of most of the schedule matter of the tariff revision and are prepared to take up a fresh draft of the revision scheme.

The administrative provisions and the income tax feature of the coming legislation have yet to be given serious consideration while the schedules all the way down through the present law and the free list will be scanned again in a final way.

The free list, with the possible exception of cattle and meats, which were embraced in the Democratic free list plan last year, will be substantially like the previous Democratic free list bill. Beyond admitting there had been substantial reductions all along the line, greater perhaps than anticipated for some of the items, members of the committee would say nothing. The situation was in a "tentative" stage, they declared.

PROTEST FREE USE OF CANAL

Trustees of Carnegie Peace Endowment Urge Repeal of Section.

Washington, March 17.—Repeal of that part of the Panama canal act which grants free passage through the canal to American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade is urged by the trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, in a statement made public here.

The argument is made that Great Britain has raised a fair issue regarding the interpretation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in her protest against the free tolls clause of the treaty and that the United States government cannot refuse to arbitrate the question unless the cause of the protest is removed. Therefore, say the trustees, the clause in the law to which objection has been taken should be repealed in order that the good faith of the United States with regard to the Panama canal shall be made clear to the world.

SIX HORSES ARE CREMATED

Fire That Destroys Barn Believed of Incendiary Origin.

Princeton, Ind., March 17.—A barn belonging to John Boren, near here, was burned to the ground. Six horses, valued at $1,200, were cremated.

The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin and bloodhounds were brought here from Vincennes, but the animals took up no scent. The total loss by fire will reach $2,000.

Friedmann Back from Canada.

New York, March 17. — Dr. F. F. Friedmann returned from Canada, tired but happy over the success of his trip and the manner in which he was received. He will treat perhaps a dozen or more cases at Bellevue hospital, but until he has a chance to culture his preparation further additional treatments will be postponed.

"Lid" on Aurora Vice.

Aurora, Ill., March 17. — The red light in the southeast Aurora district went out. An injunction granted property owners in the neighborhood restraining keepers from further operating disorderly houses went into effect.

"Unloaded" Gun Kills Child.

Galesburg, Ill., March 17.—Hubbard Ryberg, sixteen years old, accidentally shot and killed Wilbur Bradley, seven years old, with a gun that "was not loaded."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Proof from Michigan Farmers

SAL-VET
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
The Great Worm Destroyer and Conditioner

The results Michigan farmers are getting from "Sal-Vet" and the way they endorse it is proof conclusive that this great worm destroyer and conditioner is the greatest boon to farmers ever discovered. Here are a few of the hundreds of letters written to me by grateful Michigan farmers relating their experiences and results from "Sal-Vet". You may possibly know some of them personally. Read what they say:

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horses have rounded out splendidly. my sheep never looked so well at this time of of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the best of health. I have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding, and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET, it has certainly improved to a marked degree, the condition of my stock." —W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept., Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is giving fine results. I lost fewer lambs by 60% this year while feeding SAL-VET than in either of the two succeeding years when it was not fed." —E. J. DOWNING, St. Charles, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place. I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that $5.00 worth of SAL-VET saves me $10.00 worth of feed: all my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms cannot dwell together." —E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

"After having used a 100-pound keg of your SAL-VET among our horses, cattle and sheep with gratifying results, I can heartily recommend all stockmen and especially sheepmen to give it a trial." —HARRY POTTER, Davison, Mich.

"I find SAL-VET all that it is claimed to be." —JAMES NICOLL, Sandusky, Mich.

"I have given your SAL-VET a good trial and find it is all right. Will want more when this is gone. I would rather have it than any stock food or remedy that I have tried." —W. E. NICHOLAS, Bangor, Mich.

"Your SAL-VET is all that you claim it to be and I heartily recommend it to every sheep raiser. It surely has put my sheep in the pink of condition." —EDWARD LITTLE, Prop. Oxford Stock Farm, Rosebush, Mich.

"Having thoroughly tested your SAL-VET, I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera. I have had no trouble here." —JOHN H. LEYENDECKER, Rt. 63, Byron Center, Mich.

TRADE MARK
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

"Sal-Vet" is a wonderful medicated salt—a preparation which is saving farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is not only the surest and quickest remedy for worms, but also a tonic, digestive and conditioner which puts all farm animals in excellent condition, thus providing the most efficient disease preventive you can get. No trouble to feed it. You simply place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely—no drenching, no handling—no bother at all—they doctor themselves.

CHEAPEST and BEST

It is inexpensive—costing only one-twelfth of a cent a day for each sheep or hog and only a trifle more for larger animals. It saves feed—PREVENTS DISEASE—makes stock thrive and gain faster—in fact repays you its small cost many times over. It is from 100% to 400% cheaper than other live stock preparations and far more efficient. The fact that it is sold on a "Money-back Guarantee" PROVES all this.

Here Is My Money-Back Offer

Simply call at my dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely, then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" don't do what I claim, if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove a paying investment for you, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased.

SIDNEY R. FEIL, Pres. The S. R. Feil Co., Cleveland, Ohio

To Our Customers: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get "Sal-Vet" the next time you come to town. We back up every word in this advertisement. You take no risk. Don't wait until your hogs or other stock get sick and die — get "Sal-Vet" NOW and PREVENT such loss, and have thrifty, finer, more profitable stock. It is the cheapest and best conditioner you can buy.

THEATRICAL NEWS

"SEVEN HOURS IN NEW YORK"

"The public that sits in a theatre and sees the action of a big musical entertainment unfold smooth before it, has no conception of the enormous amount of detailed labor that has gone into the making it, says Louis Lytton, stage director of the "Seven Hours in New York" company, which is announced to appear at Bradley Opera House Friday March 21. "And", said the kindly faced, but resolute looking gentleman, "It is not likely that the public will ever have a true conception of it for the end of all these long, tedious rehearsals is solely and entirely to fool the public into the belief that it is all play, and the actors are only doing it because they enjoy it more than anything else in the world." Of course the work that our excellent chorus girls do now is easy and pleasant, as constant repetition has rendered it so, but they will not forget those hot August days and night. Why, it took over a week to perfect the "Ragtime Baseball" Baseball" number to say nothing of the other musical hits in the play.

A complete car load of special scenery and electrical effects are carried for the Production. Everything is new this season, scenery, costumes, electrical effects- the company just going on the road last September. Another case of Tecumseh getting an absolutely new production.

Mr. Holden, manager of the Theatre at Peru, Ind. thought so highly of "Seven Hours in New York" that he wired the local management the following wire the next morning after playing them:-

Peru, Ind. March 12,
Mgr. Opera House,
Tecumseh, Mich.

"Seven Hours in New York" played here tonight to good house. Gave splendid satisfaction. Strong company and chorus. Fine scenery and costumes. Can cheerfully recommend it as a clean, up to date musical comedy.

For Hair Health

If Rexall "93" Hair Tonic does not improve the health of your scalp and hair, we will pay for what you use during the trial.

We could not so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it to the same people if it did not do all we claim. Should it not prove entirely satisfactory our customers would lose faith in us, we would lose their patronage, and our business would suffer.

If your hair is falling out or you suffer any scalp trouble, we believe Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do more to eradicate the dandruff, give health to the scalp, stimulate new hair growth and prevent premature baldness than any other human agency.

We want you to make us prove this. We ask you to risk no money whatever. Buy a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, use it according to directions for thirty days; then if you are not entirely satisfied, come and tell us and we will promptly hand back the money you paid us for it.

We won't ask you to sign anything, nor even to bring the bottle back. We won't obligate you in any way. We will take your mere word. Could anything be more fair? Could we do anything more to prove our belief in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and our honesty of purpose in recommending it to you?

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as spring water and has but a faint, pleasing odor. It comes in two sizes of bottles, 50c and $1.00.

RICHARD B. GILLESPIE

Richard B. Gillespie passed away at his home Saturday March 15, at 11:45 a. m., after an illness of nearly three weeks. The immediate cause of his death being Cerebral hemorrhage with which he was stricken on Wednesday, and from which he never rallied.

His, was a familiar figure upon our street every day until disease laid him on a sick bed. Mr. Gillespie was born Dec. 29, 1835, and has always been a resident in Clinton or Tecumseh townships, living on his farm until 1902, when he and his family moved into their present home on Pearl street.

He has always been a staunch Democrat, and while living in Clinton township served as Justice of the peace, and for two years as supervisor. For the last six years he has been a faithful member of our Common Council, his term just expiring.

Mr. Gillespie has been a Mason for many years, belonging to every Masonic order in Tecumseh, being a most faithful attendent at all their meetings. He was also a member of the Grange, and was always active in promoting the good of the order. As a Citizen, he was highly esteemed by every one, and his genial smile and pleasant word of greeting will be missed by all.

A widow and three daughters, Grace, Jennie and Mrs. Ora Murphy, and three grandchildren and their mother, Mrs. Garland Gillespie, with a large circle of relatives and friends mourn his loss. Two sons have preceeded him into the Better Country. Ralph the youngest of the family, who died in 1897, and Garland R., who passed away last May.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Masonic Fraternity. His Pastor, Rev. B. R. Weld of the Presbyterian church officiating.

Richard Gillespie is gone, another name is stricken from the roll of our Citizens. A lonely home and sorrowing loved ones are left to attest how sadly they will miss him. Yet his life work was done, and well done, he was wearied with life's duties and cares and laid him down to rest, not for him be our tears, but rather let us cover his grave with flowers, and rejoice that all is well with our loved one.

MRS. JAMES ELLIOTT

The funeral of Mrs. James Elliott was held from her late home Monday afternoon with Rev. W. B. Hartzog officiating, Mrs. Ella Hodges and Mrs. R. B. Mead sang two beautiful selections, The house was filled with friends and neighbors whose loving sympathy went out to the bereaved family who were called to part with the precious wife and mother. Surrounded by such a wealth of beautiful flowers she seemed but sleeping, yet so peaceful did she look, that none would wish to disturb her slumbers.

The ladies of the Eastern Star came in a body to pay their last tokens of love to their departed sister.

And Oh! When aweary, may we be so blest.
And feel ourselves clasped to the Infinite breast.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express through these columns our appreciations of the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavment, Also for the many beautiful floral pieces.

JAMES ELLIOTT,
MR. AND MRS. A. D. GAISFORD
MR. AND MRS. W. C. KNODELE

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Cold, LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says;—"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the cough ing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

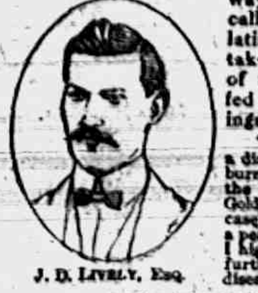
Why Women Are Not RICH.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anaemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person looses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.



J. D. LIVELY, Esq.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes MR. JAS. D. LIVELY, of Washburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 33. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic, and further advise ailing people to take Dr. Pierce's medicines before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured.

"Playing the Goat"

A story comes from the Bear Grass Mountains, in Montana, which should sound a needed warning to those sportsmen who persist in donning disguises whether of cloth or of skins, of the nature or color of the animals they hunt. It is told by my friend, Murray Grenlet, mountain climber, camera hunter and expert gunner.

In early September Grenlet had his camp high up in a pass in the Bear Grass trail. He had located a band of goats on a mountain slope above, after three weeks of hunting for this game. He was prepared for photography, his outfit consisting of a camera with telephoto lenses, a disguise or decoy suit made of genuine white goatskins—a "four legged" suit with a headpiece comically like that of a hornless goat, and a pair of moccasins with thick, stiff soles of Indian-tanned elkskin.

Grenlet was afoot early in the morning. It was a beautiful day for stalking, a trifle cloudy, with breeze enough to carry his scent straight away. Before now he had climbed 3,000 feet above the Bear Grass River, and was in a land of snow and ice.

He wore no coat or waistcoat, and the suit of skins which he now donned, although clumsy to travel in, was rather comfortable. He was now on the range of his goats, and he spent an hour or two in careful exploration. He had even taken the precaution to cover the camera, which was slung under an arm, with dirty white cloth.

After a time he sighted the band he was looking for—seven of them—and on a slope below his elevation, quite where he wanted them, for if you wish to approach a mountain goat you must, as a rule, descend upon it, and that with much caution.

Upon second observation, however, which took in all their surroundings, Grenlet saw that the animals were in a position where they would be exceedingly difficult to come at unless he should, indeed, play the goat effectively. The animals were in a scoop-like basin, with a barren surface, which looked "like a crazy quilt in black and white," and there were no hollows or tree growths to screen an approach.

Grenlet had to go nearly straight down to them, keeping somewhat to the left to get a snap shot across the bottom of the little basin. He began the descent in a careless and confident fashion, taking no pains to conceal his movements or the noise of his moving. He hitched along down on all fours in the jerky fashion of an aged "billy-goat."

When he was within about two hundred yards of the game, and hitching gingerly down an icy slope, the goats suddenly seemed to take notice of him.

The smaller ones bunched together and raised their heads, while an old leader raised himself on his hind legs, after the comical fashion of his kind, and apparently took a long and critical survey of the newcomer.

This was an agonizing moment for the camera-hunter. If he should fail to act the goat pretty satisfactorily, the animals would take to their heels, and matters would be ended for the day and perhaps for good. However, "Billy" seemed satisfied at last, and the goats resumed their nosing for stray bits of moss and frozen vegetation.

Grenlet came within a hundred yards finally, and was congratulating himself on at least a chance for success, when, with no warning at all, the goats took to flight and went up the opposing slope with a celerity that was marvelous. In his disappointment the hunter groaned in spirit, if not aloud.

He sighted a boulder and was hitching along toward it, when, high up on the left-hand ridge, he heard the crack of a rifle, and immediately the peculiar, spiteful whine of a soft-nose slug which spatted into the ice somewhere beyond him.

Was the fellow shooting at those goats on the opposite ridge? His mental question was answered by two shot, close together, and the whistle and thud of their bullets convinced him that he himself had become a target. And he owed this peril to his disguise!

He got to his feet and waved his arms in signal, and losing his footing, slipped, slid and rolled for twenty-five yards or more, till his freezing fingers clutched the tops of a low bush.

As he raised himself to a sitting posture, faint and laughing cheers—a feeble yet irritating volley—came down the wind to him from the crest of the high ride on his left. Again, as he staggered to his feet, rifles cracked; three of them, and the fierce song of their bullets buzzed in his ear.

He knew now the occasion of this unwelcome target-practice. A party of autumn tourists from Massachusetts had passed his camp three days before, with many horses, and armed with repeating rifles. He had supposed these tenderfoots on their way over to the Gallatin valley, but they had gone into camp nearer at hand, and their mountain-climbers had found game at last!

He waved his arms and shouted, but the wind was against his voice, and the response was more shots and uncomfortable whine, of high- bullets. Grenlet scanned the [illegible] for some sight of the [illegible] but the men were lying flat and their smokeless ammunition gave no sign.

The camera-hunter realized quickly that demonstration would be useless. Dressed as he was in a dirty-white and wooly suit of indefinite outlines, he could appear to these tourists only as game in the shape of an animated blotch on the mottled surface of the slope. Whatever sort of game these Easterners thought him, they were likely to keep firing till they hit him.

Although the shooting was wild, being down-hill and at long range, yet the ridge commanded every square rod of the basin, and there was fair prospect that the [illegible] of shots might chance to spot him before he should be able to get out of range.

Grenlet determined to get rid of his disguise. To take off his skin and cast it from him ought, he reasoned, to arrest the shooting. To this end he flung himself on his back in a depression which would serve to lessen a trifle the target space of his body, and set frantically to work upon the lacings of his goatskins.

Of necessity, on account of the rough scrambling, the leather strings which fastened the decoy suit had been tied in hard knots. Grenlet's fingers were absolutely without feeling—as useless as dry bones. He tried to swat them into warmth; but lying on one's back on the ice, and in a state of nervous fear, is not conducive to warming exercise.

In the meantime his movements were seen, or at least his animated body, and the firing grew sharper and more accurate. When a slug struck the frozen earth within a few inches of his head and he felt the sting of lead spattered into his face, flight became the only recourse. He dared not feign death, for fear that at closer range some hunter might wish to make sure with some final shots.

The way into the gulch below would have been already speedy, but the slope he had already reached was difficult enough, its foothold barely tenable. To return the way he had come would have been to lessen the distance between himself and the shooters.

So Grenlet chose a straightaway scramble up the lower ridge, over which the goats had fled—and he would have been glad enough could he have emulated the speed of those fortunate animals.

And now began a dodging, scrambling flight along a [illegible] full enough of danger without the added peril of bombardment.

The hunters at this moment were guessing their range with a better degree of accuracy. Their bullets were striking, spat, spat, spat, within a range of ten or twenty yards.

At least four men were firing as rapidly as they could work the mechanism of their guns.

Go! He went in every way that a mortal could go, dodging and curving, leaping and scrambling, much of the time, of necessity, on all fours. For a minute the [illegible] of ounce slugs followed. Then his immeasurable relief, the firing ceased. He scrambled straight ahead now, until suspicion of that lull in the firing attacked him.

He halted, and briefly scanned the curved crest of the ridge in his rear. And he discovered his tormentors racing like a swarm of monkeys across a shorter and less steep slope of their heights. They were gaining ground swiftly, and he saw that they would considerably lessen their range before he could pass over his ridge. Should he wait and trust to signaling at a nearer view?

He dared not, but turned to a labor of superhuman exertion in getting up the icy slope. When he had a little more than covered half the distance to safety the firing began again, and from a point nearly at his level on the ridge directly behind. The crack of rifles sounded distinctly nearer.

He dared not now halt for a single second. To present the uncertainty of an erratically moving target was his only hope. Twice he was hit by pieces of ice or of frozen earth knocked up by bullets. He felt the sting of these missiles so sharply that for the moment he believed he had been wounded.

Then in a flash his reprieve came. He was slightly above the level of the shooters now, and a depression on his left suddenly offered its protection. He rolled into this little hollow joyfully. From this point his way round a curve on the ridge and to its top was of safe and easier ascent.

Dressed in a woolen shirt and khaki knee-breeches, he was seated in a sunny spot on a boulder when five men, armed with rifles, came tearing over the ridge.

They did not see him at first, and were surprised to discover him in their path a moment later. Sweating and panting, the tourists halted. With labored breath, one greeted him.

"I say—how are you? Did you—by any chance—notice a gray old grizzly—loping over this way? The beast was probably," he added, with a panting touch of humor, "probably bleeding from every pore."

"No, I haven't seen a grizzly," Grenlet drawled. "Some goats came this way from down yonder, and I saw your shooting. A man," he said, "snow-blind, with one arm and a sawed-off musket, could have got that superannuated old billy-goat."

A burst of chagrined laughter greeted his dry raillery, and it is needless to add that the strangers were not taken further into the camera-hunter's confidence.—Franklin Welles Calkins.

Unfair Political Advantage.

"Gerrymandering," in United States politics, is an arrangement of political divisions in disregard of natural boundaries, as indicated by geography or position, so as to give one party an unfair political advantage. It is done sometimes by throwing the greatest possible number of hostile voters into a district which is certain to be hostile, sometimes by adding to a district where parties are equally divided some place in which the majority of friendly votes is sufficient to turn the scale.

Whetstones and Hones.

The particular classes of stone used in sharpening edge tools, such as razors, knives, scythes, etc., are hard, compact, and so very silicious that they readily wear down the hardest steel. They are varieties of slate, derived from argillaceous schists of the Paleozoic. These stones are found in Turkey, Bohemia, Persia, and the Hartz Mountains, in Styria, in the United States, Spain, Peru and Siberia. One of the best American stones for hones comes from Arkansas.

Caught Three Tons of Moths.

An electric light trap to end the caterpillar plague by destroying the brown nun moths that lay the eggs from which the caterpillars are hatched has been devised and placed in successful operation at Littau, Germany. The trap consists of two large and powerful reflectors placed over a deep receptacle into which the moths are drawn by exhaust fans. The first night three tons of moths were caught.

The World's Coal Production.

The coal production of the world in 1907 was 1,209,200 short tons, of which amount the United States furnished 480,400,000 tons, Great Britain 300,000,000 tons and Germany 226,800,000 tons.

Keep Record of Trees.

There are 85,840 trees in Paris and each tree has its lot number, age, history and condition recorded in the books at the City Hall. The appropriation for this department is $90,000 a year.

Rug Industry Safe.

The great earthquake which destroyed sixty villages and cities in Persia, says a Kansas City paper, will hardly affect the Oriental rug industry of New England.

$250,000 IN LOOT

CLIMAX TO MANY ROBBERIES

Cut Through Floors and Walls Instead of Using Stairways, Wired with Burglar Alarms—Enter Big Vault but Do Not Touch Locks or Doors—$800,000 in Sight.

Fifty detectives in the City of New York are at work trying to run down the cracksmen who robbed Martin Simons & Sons' pawnshop on the east side some time Sunday of more than $250,000 worth of jewelry—one of the most daring and successful robberies committed in this city in the memory of the present generation of policemen. It comes as a climax to a series of safe blowing robberies which for more than nine months has engaged the attention of a special "safe squad" of detectives organized by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty.

Thieves Knew Their Ground.

The care with which the burglars cut their way by a devious route from an adjoining cellar to the Simons building convinces the detectives they were familiar with the premises. The men had carefully avoided using the basement stairway, which was open to them, but sawed their way through two floors, apparently knowing that the stairway was wired with burglar alarms. In like manner when they reached the big vault in the pawnshop, they did not touch the great steel doors or their locks, but attacked the walls—two feet thick.

Face to Face with $800,000.

They were rewarded by access to such riches that the robbers must have been stunned. The vault contained valuables worth $800,000, according to Simons, $600,000 in jewelry and watches upon which money had been loaned, $130,000 in negotiable securities and $6,000 in notes, as well as $8,000 in cash and checks.

The thieves took the bonds and notes, but threw them away in the basement before leaving the building. In the vault they took nothing but diamonds and jewelry contained in twenty-four drawers. Watches and other jewelry of less value were not taken, although all the drawers had been pulled from their places and the jewelry and watches dropped on the floor until they were a foot deep.

5,000 VOTE FOR STRIKE

Switchmen to Walk Out If Roads Refuse Concessions.

Switchmen on nineteen railroads entering Chicago have voted to strike unless certain concessions are granted by the railroad companies.

Vice President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, arranged with T. J. Foley of the general managers' committee, for a conference, at which the result of the vote will be given the employers.

In the event of the general managers refusing further concessions, it is said a strike will be called immediately. In order that there may be no delay in ordering a strike, General President W. G. Lee of the brotherhood notified Vice President Whitney that he had indorsed a walkout if a settlement could not be made with the general managers.

FARM BUREAU IS LAUDED FOR WORK

Immigrant on Farm Relieves City Labor Market.

Lansing, Mich., March 18. — Land Commissioner A. C. Carton reports that the farm labor distribution service which he inaugurated with the aid of the Michigan State Grange, and which was formed to supply labor to Michigan farmers, is doing excellent work.

Through the assistance of a United States deputy immigration inspector loaned by the government the state of Michigan is receiving almost daily laborers from the fields of the old countries who make excellent farm hands.

At the time the plan was put into operation the public domain commission had no funds with which to carry on the work. Mr. Carton therefore interested the state grange in his plan and the farm labor distribution service was the result.

For the sum of one dollar and the railroad expenses from New York city to Michigan points, any farmer who needs hands can secure them without trouble. The dollar fee goes to the grange to assist in carrying on the work, which is in charge of George B. Horton, Fruit Ridge, Mich.

As soon as is possible the work will be taken over by the public domain commission. It is one of Mr. Carton's pet theories that every immigrant who takes a place on the farm relieves the labor market of cheap competition and fills a place made vacant by the farmer boy who is moving to the city.

HURT IN AMBULANCE WRECK

Jackson, Mich., March 14.—A private motor ambulance, conveying a patient, Herbert Kills, from the hospital to his home here, was partially wrecked when it ran into a gate at the Michigan Central railroad Main street crossing. The steering wheel was forced against the chauffeur, Harry Stiles, injuring him seriously. His assistant, Stanley Johnson, also received severe injuries while the patient escaped with a bruise on the head.

The latter was conveyed to his home in another ambulance, while Stiles was taken to the hospital.

RICH AUTOIST KILLS BOY

R. Clayton Diggins of Cadillac Hits Youth on Bicycle.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15. — R. Clayton Diggins, one of a wealthy family at Cadillac, Mich., struck and fatally injured Bernard Wood, nine years old, with his automobile, while returning to Pasadena from Los Angeles.

The boy died the next morning. Diggins, in company with a party of friends, was following another machine. Young and his brother were both riding on bicycles on the wrong side of the street.

Egg and Poultry Plant Burns.

Ovid, Mich., March 18.—Meehan Brothers' egg, cream and poultry station burned. This is the third plant in four years that has burned on this site. The cause of the fire is not known. The plant was only partially insured and the total loss will reach $3,000. Meehan Brothers will rebuild at once.

100 KILLED IN FIERCE STORM

Latest Reports Indicate Property Loss of Millions.

MOST FATALITIES IN SOUTH

Middle West and Dixie Are Swept by Winds of Cyclonic Violence—Floods Cause Heavy Damage in Wisconsin and Minnesota—Illinois Suffers Extensive Damage, Though but One Death Is Reported—Late Tidings Increase Amount of Loss.

One hundred persons were killed many injured and a loss of millions of dollars has been caused by the great storm that has been centered over Iowa.

From the gulf to Duluth and for 2,000 miles east and west reports are coming in of tornadoes, floods and, in the south, earthquakes. In the west and southwest washouts have caused several fatal railway wrecks.

Heavy rains continue in the southern states and heavy falls are reported in the middle Atlantic district and in some of the interior regions. In the northwest, particularly in Minnesota and South Dakota, considerable snow has fallen.

Many Fatalities in South.

The storm took its heaviest toll of life in Alabama, Tennessee and northwestern Georgia. From Nashville and Memphis came reports of cyclones half a mile wide, sweeping through five counties, tumbling over scores of houses, brushing a dozen towns and killing twenty persons.

Rome, Ga., told a similar story of the storm in northwestern Georgia during the night, placing the dead at eighteen. A cyclone 100 yards wide plowed through DeKalb county, Georgia, just east of Atlanta, cut that district off from the world and killed five persons. Six persons were killed in northern Alabama.

More Than 100 Known Dead.

Rome, Ga.	18
Curryville, Ga.	4
Rosedale, Ga.	1
South Berlin, Tenn.
Gadsden, Ala.
Atlanta, Ga.	5
Columbus, Ga.	2
Gaysville, Ala.	2

Floyd County, Georgia	14
Northern Louisiana	16
Northern Mississippi	7
Genidon County, Georgia	13
Lexington, Tenn.	2
Huling, Tenn.	3
Potts Camp, Tenn.	1
Brookland, Texas	1
Jacksonville, Ill.	1

Deaths also were reported from Middleton, Tenn., Mount Airy County, Tennessee; Pleasant Grove, Tenn.; Brinkley, Ark.; Marked Tree, Ark.; Earl, Ark.; Huron, Tenn.; Timber Lake, Tenn.

At Columbus, Ga., the Racine hotel where the St. Louis National League baseball players were staying during the training season was wrecked and several of the Cardinals were injured.

Havoc in Illinois.

Down-state damage was heavier. At Quincy wires were torn down and windows broken. Several large boats were broken loose from their moorings in the Quincy bay and many launches were swamped. The waves were larger than have ever been seen on the Mississippi by many of the old river men.

In the counties of Peoria, Woodford and Tazewell the damage was heavy. The wind at Peoria reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Window glass and signs were broken and trees uprooted. Small buildings were overturned. Both telephone and telegraphic communication is practically at a standstill.

At Spring Bay, Ill., where a church meeting was in progress, the members were thrown into a near panic when the church steeple crashed to the ground. Part of the building was unroofed. No one was injured.

Farmer Killed by Falling Tree.

Near Jacksonville, Ill., Charles Gilpin, a farmer, went to close the kitchen door of his house, which had blown open, when a large oak tree was blown down, inflicting injuries from which he died. The rear of the house was wrecked.

At White Hall, one man was blown from the sidewalk against a house, a distance of twenty feet. A skating rink was blown over.

Three persons were hurt and considerable property damage done at Jerseyville, thirty miles northeast of East St. Louis. Several houses were wrecked.

Floods Sweep Wisconsin.

In Wisconsin floods and washouts have caused great loss. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has suffered washouts on the Reno branch at Lanesboro and at Tunnel City on the main line. The Chicago and Northwestern experienced seven serious washouts between LaCrosse and Elroy, resulting in the delaying of trains for seven hours while the damage was being repaired.

PONTIAC—Mrs. Elizabeth Hames, who was a colored woman and former slave, who died at Royal Oak last week, left an estate valued at $2,000. Her will has been filed for probate in the local court.

FLINT—It is learned that ten more miles have been added to the good road building plans of the present year by the county commission. This makes a total of sixty miles, to be constructed this season.

PONTIAC—Mrs. Rebecca Thorington of this place has started a $5,000 damage suit against Attorney William T. Hosner of Romeo as the result of alleged legal dealings between the parties.

SHOPPERS FLEE FROM FIRE

Make Speedy Exits as Store of James J. Cochrane Burns.

Romeo, Mich., March 18.—Fire, originating near an oil barrel in the three-story brick store building of James J. Cochrane, damaged his $10,000 stock of general goods.

The loss on the stock, which was insured, will be heavy from smoke and water. So rapidly did the flames spread that many shoppers in the store were compelled to make a hurried exit. The display windows were demolished otherwise the building was but slightly damaged.

The stock of goods was doubled about six months ago when Mr. Cochrane purchased the stock of dry goods of Newbury Brothers, of this place.

CHIEF KOHLER OUSTED

Civil Service Board Finds Cleveland Official Guilty.

At Cleveland, Ohio, Frederick Kohler, hailed by Colonel Roosevelt as "the best chief of police," was discharged from office after a trial before the civil service board on charges of gross immorality.

Kohler, who was also known as the "Golden Rule" chief, was accused by Mrs. S. D. Shearer, whose husband has obtained a divorce.

The board recommended that Kohler be given his full pension. If this is refused he will appeal to the courts.

FLINT—After they had been working all day dynamiting an ice jam in Reed creek, near the Kearsley street bridge, the police stated all danger of a flood, which had been imminent, has passed. The ice was jammed in a solid mass in the small stream for two miles, held back by the ice which was frozen at the junction of the creek and Flint river.

ILLINOIS TROOPS ARE GUARDING PRISONERS

Martial law is in force at Salem following the exposure of plot to wreak vengeance on Judge C. N. Holt, assistant prosecuting attorney, by kidnaping and mistreating his little daughter and son.

When the excitement was at its highest, the ministers, assisted by members of the city council and law abiding citizens, took advantage of the situation to "clean up" the town. Salem is officially "dry," but a number of blind tigers have been flourishing and the impromptu vigilance committee raided all it could find. Half a dozen fifty gallon casks of whisky and about seventy-five cases of beer were seized, broken up, and their contents allowed to soak into the streets.

Three companies of state troops, ordered here by Governor Dunne on the urgent appeal of Sheriff Vursell, have arrived and succeeded in holding back the crowd that threatened to storm the jail and lynch the prisoners.

The men in jail are Thomas Sullens and Ernest Harrison. Shortly after being taken to the jail Sullens made a statement to the warden and chaplain in which he not only admitted his guilt, but disclosed the details of the plot to kidnap the two Holt children, Dorothy and her ten-year-old brother, Ward Holt, and hold them for ransom.

THE ILLINOIS DEADLOCK

Joint Ballots at Springfield Fail to Elect.

At Springfield, Ill., the lengthy deadlock on the two United States senatorial vacancies remained unbroken. The ninth joint ballot was taken on the long term and the eighth on the short term. James Hamilton Lewis received 82 votes, Lawrence Y. Sherman 77, and Frank H. Funk 21 out of 189 votes cast on the long term ballot.

The result of the eighth ballot, short term, was: Boeschenstein, Democrat, 41; Sherman, Republican, 31; Funk, Progressive, 46; McDonald, Socialist, 4; scattering, 67.

Both houses of the legislature voted that there was no election of a United States senator on Feb. 27. The journal of each house showing no quorum and no election when James Hamilton Lewis received 66 out of 71 votes was approved. The Lewis men made a fight in the senate, but in the house there was no protest.

BIG OFFICES FILLED

President Wilson Gives Out Five Important Positions.

President Wilson sent the following appointments to the senate:

ST. LOUIS—A large enthusiastic crowd attended the horse show in this city. About 150 of the finest horses in Gratiot county participated in the parade which traversed the principal streets.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Flint Man Uses Revolver in Double Tragedy.

Flint, Mich., March 17.—In a fit of maniacal rage, C. Morgan Letts, aged sixty-eight years, Civil War veteran, shot his wife, Helen, aged fifty-eight, through the breast, killing her instantly, and then sent a bullet through his own heart. The tragedy occurred in the basement of their home, 1355 Broadway boulevard.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. H. C. Tompkins, who lived in the upper apartment of the two-family flat. She found them when she went down stairs to call for Mrs. Letts, whom she intended to accompany to a doctor's office.

Two letters written by Letts, one addressed to Chief of Police McCall and the other to his son, Grover Letts of Big Rapids, were found on a dining room table. Both showed the crime premeditated, but were written in an incoherent manner, indicating the writer was demented.

A few weeks ago Letts started divorce proceedings in the circuit court, alleging his wife had deserted him without cause.

Mrs. Archie Wolcott, daughter of Mrs. Letts by a former marriage, said her stepfather had been demented for some time and that members of the family had been warned by physicians he might do harm to his wife.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN DIE

Newberry, Mich., March 17.—Mrs. Lena Ryberg, twenty-eight years old, her seven-year-old son Victor and an infant girl were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home.

The mother left the blazing building, but learning her baby was within gave up her life in an attempt to save it. An overturned lamp caused the tragedy.

Middleville Hotel Burns.

Middleville, Mich., March 18.—Fire destroyed the St. James house, a three-story structure, the leading hostelry of this place, entailing loss exceeding $10,000, and would have probably wiped out the entire business section had it not been for the assistance given by fire-fighting apparatus from Grand Rapids.

BAY CITY — Ellsworth Kerr, aged twenty-one years, pleaded not guilty in police court to a charge of larceny. Vina Wilson alleged Kerr took a ring worth $70 from her.

SCHEDULE MATTER OF TARIFF IS DONE

At Washington, D. C., the Democrats on the house committee on ways and means completed consideration of most of the schedule matter of the tariff revision and are prepared to take up a fresh draft of the revision scheme.

The administrative provisions and the income tax feature of the coming legislation have yet to be given serious consideration while the schedules all the way down through the present law and the free list will be scanned again in a final way.

The free list, with the possible exception of cattle and meats, which were embraced in the Democratic free list plan last year, will be substantially like the previous Democratic free list bill.

Representatives from a number of Clubs were present. Hudson was represented by Mrs. Clara Pease Vice President of the Federation, Mrs Andrew Meredith, President of Woman's Literary Club, Mrs. R. F. Birch President of the Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. Stanley C. Stone. President of Social Book Circle. Mrs. John Clark, Past President of the Federation, Mrs. Ella Clark, Vice President of Clinton Club, represented Clinton. Those from Adrian were Mrs. Smart, Secretary of the Federation. Mrs. F. P. Dodge a Past President of the Federation, and new President, Adrian Woman's Club. Mrs. Adah Peters Munnford, Chairman of Committee on Corrections and Charities for this County, and Miss Florence Reynolds of the Monday Evening Literary Club.

Mrs. Chester Binns, Vice President of the Addison Club, represented Addison. From Jasper came Mrs. Dr. Whitney, President of the Jasper Club and Mrs. Cheney. Mrs. Lillian Gay, President of the Monday Club, and Mrs. W. W. Crabbs, Secretary, were here from Morenci. Mrs. Addie Kemp represented the Woman's Club of Tipton. Mrs. George Tiffany, President Civic Improvement Society, Mrs. F. B. Wood, President Monday Club, Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Vice President Research Circle, and Mrs. C. A. Wright of the Monday Club, were the Tecumseh delegates present.

The business meeting was held in the forenoon, with reports from the various committees. A program was arranged for Convention Day, which will be held in Hudson Wednesday, April 30, 1913.

A four course luncheon was served by Mrs. F. S. Anderson, Mrs. P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. J. D. Shull. The meeting was a very pleasant and interesting one throughout.

WIT AND WISDOM

The Wit and Wisdom Club were entertained Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McAlpine and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slayton at the home of the later. The evening was University evening, and the U. of M. colors and pennants were used in decorations.

Mrs. H. R. Conklin was leader and the following program was given:

Early History of the U. of M.—Dr. H. R. Conklin

What the University stands for—Dr. E. D. Brown

Ann Arbor Hash—Dr. L. G. North

What the next 25 years will bring to the University—Prof. D. P. McAlpine

Review of Dr. Angell's book "Reminscences"—Rev. W. B. Hartzog

Mrs. McAlpine and W. E. Slayton sang college songs and Mrs. A. E. Reason of London, Ont. favored the company with a vocal solo.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the program, and a social chat concluded the evenings enterteinment.

"FRECKLES".

The next theatrical offerings of the local season is A. G. Delamater's beautiful scenic productions of "Freckles" a dramatizations of Neil Twomey of Gene Stratton-Porters widely read novel of the same title

All of the many characters introduced in the book have been retained in the dramatization of "FRECKLES." Of course, the principal characters in the play, as in the novel, are the keen witted, self reliant and lovable by, Freckles: The Angel: McLean, the manager of the Grand Rapids lumber company. The Bird Woman; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan; The Man of Affairs; Lord and Lady O'Moore and Black Jack and Wesner, the timber thieves.

Great care has been taken by Manager A. G. Delamater in selecting the artists to create the different roles in the dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's novel "FRECKLES." The most difficult roll to fill was that of Freckles as it only required an exceedingly young, handsome actor but one who was possessed of a Grand Opera voice as well. At least a hundred different applicants were interviewed before one was selected. "Freckles" with its complete scenic production will be the attraction at the Bradley Opera House. Next Thursday night March 27.

The hundreds of thousands of book lovers throughout the entire country who have read and enjoyed "FRECKLES" as a novel will be pleased to know that the hero of the Limberlost promises to become the greatest stage favorite of the present theatrical season.

CHANCE FOR CHANGE OF TIME

Detroit via Manchester.

The following letter relative to the change of time of trains to make connection at Manchester for Detroit looks hopeful for Tecumseh.

Detroit, Mich.
March 18, 1913.

Mr. L. C. Hayden,
Tecumseh, Mich.,
Dear Sir:—

Mr. Waterfall of the Board of Commerce has just returned from Chicago and presented the petitions signed by the people of Tecumseh and Clinton to the general management of the Lake Shore R. R., and the matter is under advisement.

His personal opinion is that the change will be made very shortly. They promised to give him an immediate answer within the next week or ten days, which I hope will be satisfactory.

Sincerely yours,
Chas. E. Freese,

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore was the scene of a birthday party honoring the mother of Mr. Moore who was 80 years old, Mrs. Moore was as bright and cheerful as a young girl. A noticable feature of the occasion was the five lines of four generations represented, Mrs Moore, Mrs C. E. Williamson, son Charlie and family, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. C. E. Williamson, Anna Heesen and daughter, Mrs. Moore, Mrs C. E. Williamson, Floyd Williamson and daughter, Mrs. Moore, Mrs C. E. Williamson, Leon Williamson and daughter, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Cribbins, Mrs. Dixon and daughter.

A birthday cake with 80 lighted candles was placed before Mrs. Moore, Three tables with pink candles and pink carnations and smilax bringing out the color scheme of pink and white with the snowy table linen. A four course dinner was served the pink and white scheme being carried not in the serving.

The mother and her children sat at the first table, the grandchildren at the second and the great grandchildren had a table by themselves. Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Williamson was the guest of honor, this also being his birthday and a dainty cake with five candles proclaimed his age.

The occasion was one long to be remembered and the many friends wish Mrs. Moore many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Moore and son, Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Dixon and daughter, Mrs. John Cribbins and daughter, and Mrs. Frank Ellis all of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Clinton were the out of town guests.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Bonnie Brown was the victim of a surprise Monday evening on return ing from calling on a friend. She was met by thirteen of her girl friends who proceeded to make merry with music and song. A fine three course dinner was served. In the words of one of the participants, "We had an awful good time."

THIMBLE CLUB

Mrs. Fred Rosacrans and Mrs Kendrick entertained a Thimble Club at the home of Mrs Rosacrans Tuesday afternoon There were twenty ladies present and a social good time was enjoyed. Each lady gave ten cents towards a fund for the M. E. church which the ladies have undertaken to raise in this manner.

A very dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, billiousness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, gripe, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons as well as for the most robust. They act toward relieving constipation, and also to overcome its cause and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and associate organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Cold. LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says: "I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Aeroplanes and lobsters are both likely to upset us.

BEST KNOWN COUGH REMEDY

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year. Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way hundreds of others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used." For coughs or colds and all lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1.00 at B. J. Pulver's.

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

MRS. WILLIAMS.

MRS. G. H. WILLIAMS, of Lynnhaven, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

How Michigan Farmers Are Successfully Fighting Live Stock Diseases

If you are not doing something to rid your farm animals of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms you are simply Letting Down the Bars to hog cholera and all the other fatal diseases which have cost the farmers of this country over fifty millions of dollars the past year. YOU can't afford to run this risk. YOU can't afford not to take preventive measures. The best way of preventing these deadly plagues from getting a foothold among your stock is to keep every animal worm free and in the best possible condition.

Worms are the cause of 90 per cent of live stock losses. Thousands of Michigan farmers have learned this fact and by effectually striking at the cause have successfully won their fight. They have found "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Read how they have stopped the loss and improved the value of their live stock.

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horses have rounded out splendidly; my sheep never looked so well at this time of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the [illegible] have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET; it has certainly improved to a marked degree the condition of my stock."—W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept. Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is a fine thing. It was well worth the price for my cows alone. I have Holsteins and some of them have had trouble with their [illegible] becoming caked. This spring they were free from it, with a single exception, and I attribute their improvement to SAL-VET."—ERNEST F. DAISHER, Britton, Mich.

"We keep SAL-VET accessible to our sheep all the time and have found its use very effective in keeping out worms, and the sheep in a generally healthy condition. We have also found [illegible] stock conditioner and worm cleaner for horses. Our experience is that of many of the best farmers in this locality."—A. A. WOOD & SONS, Per Roscoe M. Wood, Saline, Mich.

"I have been feeding your SAL-VET to my sheep, hogs, horses and cattle for some time and feel that I would not willingly do business without it. It keeps all my stock in fine condition and in a [illegible] state of thrift, and since feeding your remedy I have seen no evidence of parasitic infection. I can confidently recommend SAL-VET to every stockman."—WM. H. ANDERSON, Pres. Fourth National Bank, Grand Rapids, Mich.

"Our horses are free from worms, and look slick since giving them SAL-VET. I feed it just as I do salt—just keep it before them constantly."—FRED MANKER, R. 2, White Cloud, Michigan.

"Having thoroughly tested your "SAL-VET," I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera; I have had no trouble here."—JOHN H. LEYENDECKER, Rt. 11, Byron Center, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place, I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that $5.00 worth of SAL-VET saves me $100 worth of feed. All my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms do not dwell together."—E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

The Great Worm Destroyer and Live Stock Conditioner

Look Out for These Danger Signs

Coughing, rough coats, laggard steps, poor appetites and dull eyes. These are the common symptoms of worm infection and should disease break out in your neighborhood the chances are a hundred to one against you, and your entire herds may be swept away with a suddenness that will appall you. You can greatly lessen this danger from disease if not altogether avoid these heavy losses simply by letting your stock run to "Sal-Vet"—the cheapest and greatest worm destroyer as well as the best preventive of live stock diseases.

"Sal-Vet" is a medicated salt which works a wonderful change in all live stock. It first destroys and expels the deadly worms and gives nature a chance to put every animal you own in a healthy, vigorous condition. It is the best stock insurance you can get because it costs so little and does so much. For one-twelfth of a cent a day any hog or sheep can run to it freely and will doctor themselves. It costs only a trifle more for larger animals and requires no mixing, no dosing, no drenching, no starving—no bother at all. I prove all this or no pay.

Here is My Money-Back Trial Offer

Simply call at my "Sal-Vet" dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely. Then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" does not do what I claim—if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove entirely satisfactory TO YOU, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember, you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased. You certainly can't afford to risk the loss of a single animal when such a fair, square, liberal offer like this is made to you. You know your dealer—he accepts your word as to the results. You take no risk whatever.

To Our Patrons: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get a supply the next time you come to town. We guarantee "Sal-Vet" and back up every statement in this advertisement. You take no risk. You'll find it the cheapest stock conditioner you ever used.

HONOR ARKANSAS MAN

Elected President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate.

U. S. SEN. J. P. CLARKE

WASHINGTON — U. S. Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas, Democrat, was elected president pro tempore of the senate. Senator Clarke received 41 votes; Senator Gallinger Republican, 18, and Senators Clapp Bristow and Borah 1 each.

BAY CITY — The principal hemlock manufacturers in the Saginaw valley have advanced the price $1 a thousand, piece stuff being quoted $20 and $21 and boards $21 and $22. Stocks in the hands of manufacturers are said to be very low.

BUCHANAN — On a number of warrants charging serious crimes committed against Buchanan youths, two of the most prominent citizens of this place have been arrested. A third, a physician, is a fugitive from justice.

Kills Son and Heroic Mother.

Alexandria, Ind., March 17. — Mrs. Carl Schmitz, aged twenty-three, and her two-year-old son were crushed to death in consequence of Mrs. Schmitz's effort to rescue the boy, who had toddled in front of a moving electric railway car.

Car Ferry Reaches St. Ignace.

St. Ignace, Mich., March 18.—Saint Marie, the big car ferry which left Toledo Thursday, has reached this port. Captain Graves, in command, stated that he encountered ice thirty inches thick from Presque Isle here, but experienced no trouble.

Africans Never Sneeze.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

FLINT—Because he swore vigorously at a number of men and called them "cheap skates" when they refused to pay him $4 for digging a grave in a local cemetery, Edward Cole was arrested for using bad language. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay $7 or spend ten days in jail. He paid. The men with whom he disagreed had made up a purse to defray the funeral expenses of a neighbor.

BENTON HARBOR—Shortly after daybreak the steamer Puritan of the Graham & Morton line, cut loose from her mooring at the Central docks between the two cities, where she has been tied all winter, and steamed between the two piers out into Lake Michigan, inaugurating the opening of navigation on the G. & M. line.

ANN ARBOR—Herbert Case, who was the steward of the Huron club, who has been out of the city since a warrant was issued for him four weeks ago, alleging he had sold liquor to two Detroit students without a license, has notified his attorney that he is ready to come back.

GRAND RAPIDS—A suit for $20,000 damages was begun in this city in the circuit court by Constantine Lesewski against the Grand Rapids-Muskegon Power company and the AuSable Electric company, because of the death of his daughter, Josephine Lesewski, last October.

ANN ARBOR—George Langford, of this city, has been awarded $309.25 by a jury in the circuit court. Langford sued the Detroit United Railway for $1,000 for damages done to his automobile when the machine was stalled on the track in front of a limited car.

ALLEGAN — Attorney Gerritt J. Diekema has succeeded in securing a stay of proceedings for twenty days in the case of John P. Kleis, convicted of manslaughter for the killing of Edward Gearing. A new trial will be asked. Kleis is released on $5,000 bonds.

ANN ARBOR — The Ann Arbor board of education has increased the authority of the school medical inspector by empowering him to exclude from school any pupil that he believes is about to be taken sick with any contagious or infectious disease.

ANN ARBOR—Because all of the bids received for erecting of the proposed Seventh ward school were too high the school board has rejected all the bids that were under consideration and others will be asked for.

KIDNAPER TAKEN TO MOUNT VERNON

Illinois Militia Also Protects Second Accused Man.

Mount Vernon, Ill., March 17.—Frank Sullens, who confessed abducting Dorothy Holt at Salem, was brought here on a special train to escape the mob that had assembled at the jail hoping to get an opportunity to hang him.

As he was taken from jail bricks and clubs were hurled at him, but the Shelbyville company of the Illinois national guard took him to the train. The company came here as a guard to the prisoner. Sullens is secreted somewhere in the city, but where is not known.

Ernest Harrison, who was named by Sullens as an accomplice in the abduction, was taken to Vandalia under the escort of Companies L of Olney and G of Effingham.

The preliminary hearing of Sullens and Harrison was held and they were held under $10,000 bonds.

ULTIMATUM FROM BIG POWER

Affairs Begin to Look Warlike in Southeastern Europe — Austrian Fleet Maneuvering Off Montenegrin and Albanian Coasts May Begin Offensive Operations.

Berlin, March 24.—The German foreign office learned that armed operations against Montenegro by the Austrian navy may be expected soon. An Austrian squadron is now maneuvering off the Montenegrin and Albanian coasts.

The officials of the German foreign office say Austria will send one further note to Montenegro, so as to exhaust the possibilities of diplomacy before the character of the activity of the warships changes from a demonstration into offensive action.

It is understood here that Russia has counseled the Montenegrins to yield.

Austria Takes Offensive.

Vienna, March 24.—The Austro-Hungarian government has addressed a strongly worded note to Montenegro which was in the nature of an ultimatum.

This note follows the defiant answer received from King Nicholas of Montenegro in reply to Austria-Hungary's note concerning the siege of Scutari.

First—Free exit from Scutari of noncombatants.

Third—Violent conversions to cease instantly.

FOREIGN POSTS FOR POOR MEN

President Deplores Sacrifices Forced upon Ambassadors.

TALKS OF M'COMBS' REFUSAL

Chairman of Democratic National Committee Had Reasons for His Action Which Satisfy Mr. Wilson—President Thinks It Not Necessary that Diplomats Should Be Wealthy.

Washington, March 24.—A statement made public at the White House makes it plain that President Wilson will not again urge Mr. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, to accept the office of ambassador to France. This affair is a closed incident as far as the president is concerned.

In the statement the president made he expresses regret that acceptance of the appointment was impossible, but says that it was recognized that the sacrifices under which acceptance would have been conditioned would have been unreasonable so that the president would not press the offer further.

Sacrifices for Foreign Service.

This was the president's comment upon Mr. McCombs' refusal to accept the French embassy:

"I am very sorry indeed that Mr. McCombs cannot accept the appointment to France. He would have accepted at an unreasonable sacrifice and I could not further press the offer upon him.

"It is a great pity that the country has to ask such sacrifices of those who are invited to serve it abroad—a service which every year becomes more exacting and more important. The sacrifice of time, of means, and of opportunity at home is very serious for any but men of large means and leisure, and the diplomatic service is unnecessarily hampered."

This part of the statement carries the first official announcement of the president's impatience at the accepted belief that only men of wealth can afford to accept important diplomatic appointments. It has been known for some time that Mr. Wilson did not like to feel that his list of available men to do the important work of the American foreign service was limited to men of large means. President Taft felt the same impatience over this limitation when he started out to select his diplomatic corps.

Wealth to Cut No Figure.

President Wilson's policy thus far has been to pick his men without regard to their wealth. It is believed he will adhere to this policy and that if he becomes convinced that the United States diplomatic service is seriously hampered by the sacrifices conditional upon entrance into the service by men in moderate circumstances he will find some method for dealing with the situation other than by abrogating this policy and accepting the necessity of wealth as a perquisite of availability.

No surprise would result if he should announce a resolution to urge congress to revise the pay list of diplomats and consular officers.

TRIES EXTORTION BY MAIL THREATS

Letter Writer Seeks to Mulct Wealthy Chicago Man.

SUSPECT TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Frank Eckert, Alleged Author of "Black Hand" Notes, Walks Into Trap Set by Police—Little Daughter's Writing Like That of Missives That Passed.

Chicago, March 24.—Frank Eckert of 2322 Park avenue was booked at the detective bureau on a charge of extortion by threats. This action followed an investigation for twenty hours by detectives.

Ignatz Hasterlik of 5153 Michigan avenue, president of Hastelik Brothers, wholesale liquor dealers, during the last week has received three "Black Hand" letters. The first demanded $2,000, the second $1,000 and the third $500. If the money was not paid by a certain hour the letters read, Mr. Hasterlik's home and place of business would be blown up by a bomb.

Thursday when Mr. Hasterlik received the third letter, which contained a diagram showing him where to place the money and instructed him to use the "personal" column of an afternoon newspaper as a messenger, he went to First Deputy Superintendent Schuettler's office and laid the matter before the latter.

Spring Trap, Get Man.

Plans to trap the "Black Hander," whose letters seemed to have been written by some school child, were arranged.

Mr. Hasterlik inserted an advertisement in the newspaper as requested in the last letter. He also prepared a decoy package.

The four detectives, each armed with two revolvers, secreted themselves near the spot where the package was placed.

Near midnight Eckert came into the alley. He had a dog with him. He walked to the spot where the package had been laid according to the diagram. As he stooped down to pick up the decoy package he looked into the muzzles of eight revolvers.

Question Little Girl.

Eckert was put through the "third degree" several times by Chief McWeeny and Mr. Schuettler. He denied knowledge of the package and said he had stooped to pick up a stone to throw at his dog.

His handwriting did not compare with that in the letters His daughter, ten years old, was then taken in hand by the detectives. A sample of her handwriting was almost identical with that in the three letters. The child admitted to the police that she had written some letters for her father during the week.

Eckert is thirty-six years old and has two children. He owns a home and an eighty-acre farm in Michigan, and earns between $150 and $200 a month.

GIRL RUGH SAVED AT WORK

Gary, Ind., March 24.—Miss Ethel Smith, for whom Billy Rugh gave his life last October that she might live, has recovered sufficiently to resume her position as cashier in a department store.

Miss Smith was burned in a motorcycle accident last summer, and shortly after Rugh, who allowed his crippled leg to be amputated to provide skin for her burned body, died. She nearly died a second time when she became ill with pneumonia

MOORE WILL RETIRE AS WEATHER CHIEF

Resignation Is to Become Effective July 31.

Washington, March 24. — Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, has resigned. Secretary Houston accepted the resignation after a talk with President Wilson to become effective July 31. Mr. Moore is a Democrat and was a candidate for appointment as secretary of agriculture.

Secretary Houston explained that the office of chief of the weather bureau was not covered by civil service and was a presidential appointment.

"We have no one in mind now," said the secretary, "but will try to get the best man we can of scientific ability and administrative talent."

Under Mr. Moore's administration the weather bureau has grown tremendously. Charges have been made that the weather service was inefficient and that its prognostications were valueless. Attempts were made during the last congress to secure investigations, but they were not successful.

STORMS TO CONTINUE

Present Week to Witness Cold, Warm and Stormy Weather.

The distribution of barometic pressure over the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate a continuance of abnormal storm activity and marked fluctuations in temperature in the United States the present week. It will be decidedly colder Monday and Tuesday over the middle west and the southwest, and Tuesday and Wednesday generally east of the Mississippi river.

Another disturbance of widespread influence will develop in the far west about Wednesday or Thursday, move eastward attended by rain in southern and probably snow and rain in northern districts and cross the central valleys Thursday or Friday and the eastern states Friday or Saturday. A general change to considerably higher temperature will precede this disturbance.

PRESIDENT ELIOT DECLINES

Will Not Serve United States at Court of St. James.

Cambridge, Mass., March 24. — Dr. Charles W. Eliot in an interview said: "It is true that I have declined the position of British ambassador My years had nothing whatever to do with my refusal to serve abroad."

Mr. Eliot's unwillingness to take upon himself the duties of ambassador are probably based upon the fact that he and Mrs. Eliot desire to spend the remaining years of their life at home. While leading a rather active life, the doctor has lived simply and unostentatiously.

Wins Damages from Pastor.

Otis, Ind., March 24.—A jury in the superior court awarded Peter Komasinski, a schoolboy, $600 damages against the Rev. Thomas Janowsik, pastor of the Catholic church here. The boy, who was a pupil in the parochial school connected with the church, was bitten by the pastor's dog as he was crossing the school yard.

Woman Kills Ex-Policeman.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE CAUSE OF RHEUMATISM

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes. "All remedies failed until I used Electric Britters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by B. J. Pulver.

Anchor for Small Boats.

A very simple, neat and serviceable anchor for small boats, such as row boats, small launches and sail boats, can be made as follows: Procure an ordinary granite cobblestone, in the center of which drill an inch hold. Next get a four or five inch ring bolt, according to the thickness of stone (mine is five inches) On the bottom of the stone cut around the hole large enough so that the nut will be countersunk when bolt is screwed in. I used this sort of anchor on my last summer's vacation, and found it much better than the clumsy anchor with which most of the small boats are equipped. I made a frame large enough for the stone to fit in when not in use. This frame was before the mast and prevented the stone from rolling.—H. J. Germain, in Recreation.

HAIL GENTLE'S RING

Friday March 21 at 10:40 a m witnessed the advent of Spring and what a Spring, wind and storm of the fiercest character prevailed, and marked its way with destruction. Trees were upturned windmills were laid low, barns and houses were unroofed, and many small buildings being razed to the ground. The fence around the baseball grounds suffered a collapse and the grandstand left for a new position. Telephone and electric wires swing in the breeze and windows sailed down the line.

—An immense pane of glass from one of the gallery windows in the Masonic Temple was drawn from the sash by the suction of the wind and struck the sidewalk in front of Stahl & Service Store and was broken in minute pieces.

The large sign at the Macaroni factory was torn from its place. An immense tree on the lawn west of the Presbyterian church was split in twain, one part falling east and one west. Several globes were lifted from the tops of the new electric lights along the streets. One of the large chimneys on Stacynome lies scattered over the lawn.

However Tecumseh was highly favored when we read of the death and destruction that followed in the trail of the storm in the cities and surrounding country, our little losses sink to insignificance.

This is claimed to be the worst wind storm since the cyclone of 1896. Its course in Michigan covered the country from Lake Michigan to Lake Erie Huron and St Clair reaching north as far as Saginaw Bay. The wind gained a velocity of 90 miles an hour and seemed to carry everything before it. Bet after the storm a calm and now we feel assured that spring is here.

A WELL-PLANNED SLEEPING PORCH.

In a pretty bungalow high up a mountain valley in Colorado I found it. I had seen some thousands of other sleeping porches in my journeyings about the State, for the people of Colorado are more avidly outdoor folks than those of any other State, save, perhaps California. But this particular sleeing porch was different from any of the others. They had seemed, for the most part, mere house adjuncts, a sort of builder's afterthought put on to accommodate one or two members of the family who solicited a screened in place just big enough for a bed.

The sleeping porch in question, you felt at a glance, had been part of the original house plan, if not the central idea around which the rest of the bungalow had been schemed. To begin with, it occupied over a fourth of the gronnd space, for it was the sleeping apartment of the entire family—so designed, so used. There were two dressing-rooms indoors, but no bedchamber. By virtue of its size, it was not merely a whole-family sleeping room, but a delightful living-room by day. After the four single beds had been placed, there was room to spare for two or three easy chairs, a reading table and a sewing machine. There the housekeeper did all of her sewing and much of her work.—The Ladies' World and Housekeeper for April

Special to the Tecumseh Herald.

Washington, Mar. 21—There has been sufficient time to get an idea of the manner in which the new President will handle the affairs of State. He has already shown himself to be an able executive, giving attention to important matters in person and letting his assistants handle questions of routine. He has not been precipitate in making official appointments and yet he has not balked at choosing men where vacancies made prompt action necessary. He has shown himself to be firm yet diplomatic, and his course gives promise of an able, efficient, businesslike and satisfactory administration to the nation at large.

FRECKLES Coming

A. G. Delamater, the prominent producing manager of New York announces he will present Neil Twomey's dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's "FRECKLES" at the Bradley Opera House next Thursday evening, March 27.

A comparison of this wonderful nature story is impossible, for there has seen nothing produced in all the history of the American stage just like "FRECKLES". It is distinctive; original; but of such absorbing interest that it is not difficult to know why the hundreds of thousands of readers have delighted in the story, nor why it has touched the palate of modern fiction readers. Neil Twomey has stuck faithfully to the text of Mrs. Porter's story; every character has been brought out in bold releif in the play, and where the picture was in the minds eye of the reader, it will now be in the actual line of vision. Delamater, does nothing by halves and so he has given carte blanche to scene painters, electricians, carpenters and propertymen; a big expense? yes; but the education of the theatregoer is very complete and for success, demands perfect equipment. The great "Limberlost Swamp", in which "Freckles" has taken hold of life, and forms his nature friendships is realistically shown. It is a beautiful stage picture with the thickness of the swamp forming a dark massive background below, while above tower gigantic trees. A knowledge of perfect stage lighting makes this effect possible

The coming of "FRECKLES" will be an event of the stage, just the same as it was an event in fiction; it is not a supposition is a reality; the drama is now as great a success as is the story. It is playing to immense crowds everywhere,

The company comes here direct from the Valentine theatre, Toledo, where they play a matinee and night performance. The production will be given here exactly the same as presented there.

"7 HOURS IN NEW YORK"

It is to be regretted that a larger audience did not see "Seven Hours in New York" given at the Bradley Opera House Friday evening but owing to the date being Good Friday also the very inclement weather the crowd was somewhat lighter than the average. The attraction certainly deserved the capacity of the house if any one ever did.

The entire eighteen musical numbers were given, each number receiving several encores. Especial mention should be made of "Steamboat Glide" and "Sleepy Time" which seemed to be the biggest hits of the first act and "The Rag Time Base Ball Game" in the second act. It is doubtful if eight more uniform or better looking girls will ever be seen in one company than the eight "Carabaret Girls" and they certainly worked hard from the start to the final curtain. The costumes and scenery were all new and clean. Each number being given with a complete change of costume.

Fred Bailey as "Lincoln Penny" the comedian who went through the entire two acts in a pair of pajamas was uddoubtly as a good a comedian as any ever seen. The other principals were good,

Owing to the high wind it was impossible to draw the scenery until after supper which necessarily made the curtain late but no one seemed to mind that.

ly as a round hole can be bored has recently been devised by Carl Philgus, a German inventor. As described in the Scientific American, the body of the drill has the form, in cross section, of a spherical triangle. The triangle is made up of equal arcs, each struck from the intersection of the other two arcs as a centre. Such a triangle will alawys touch the four sides of a circumscribed square; and as the triangle is turned, the corners of the triangle will move in a rectangular path, following the sides of the square.

HOUSEWIVES' LEAGUE SHOW.

The first annual exhibition under the auspices of the Housewives' League will be held at the Wayne Garden Detroit, May 5 to 10 inclusive, 1913. This will be known as the Household, Pure Food and Made-in-Michigan Products Show. Wayne Gardens will be beautifully decorated for this exhibit both on the first floor and upstairs in the big hall. The exhibits will vie with those seen at the Automobile Show and will be, if anything, more elaborate. Unlike other exhibits of like character in other cities, Detroit, under the able management of Walter Wilmot, will decorate uniformly and gaudy heterogeneous style of exhibit seen at the recent Cleveland show will be done away with.

Exhibitors at this show will number considerably over 100 and everything of interest to the housewife will be found. Mrs. R. H. Ashbaugh, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Cause for Alarm

Loss of appetite or distress after eating—a symptom that should not be disregarded.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, healthiest persons are moderate eaters. Nothing will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people contract serious maladies through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all who suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the understanding that we will refund the money paid us without question or formality, if after use you are not perfectly satisfied with results.

We recommend Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets to customers every day, and have yet to hear of one who has not been benefited. We believe them to be without equal. They give prompt relief, aiding to neutralise acidity, stimulate flow of gastric juice, strengthen the digestive organs, and thus promote perfect nutrition and correct unhealthy symptoms. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.

The Oldest Military Diploma.

Quite recently, a number of memorial tablets belonging to the period of Roman occupation have been dug up in Egypt. One is the record of the services of a veteran of the old Roman army in Syria, whose career is of interest because he took part in the celebrated siege of Jerusalem under Titus. It is the first tablet which mentions the holy city itself. It is the "military diploma," or honorable discharge of a legionary, after the warrior had fulfilled his complete period of service, and it grants special privileges to the veteran and his family because of his prowess at the siege of "Hierosolyma." Valerius Quadratus served in the famous Tenth Legion. It is a certified copy of the decree of honorable dismissal from the ranks, which was engraved upon two plates of bronze, one of which was placed in the proper depository for such documents in Rome and the other in Alexandria.—The Christian Herald.

DOES LOCAL OPTION HELP?

On the 7th of April next, the voters of the county will again vote on the question whether the saloons shall come back to Lenawee County or whether after an experience of three years without them we shall still continue dry.

One of the first things the voter will naturally ask himself will be, what has been the practical result from an economic stand point of the county's being without saloons, how has it affected the business of the county from a financial standpoint. Perhaps the best indication of a community's prosperity is its Bank's deposits; they, more than anything else show just its prosperity and indicate how the community is finacially, and below we give some figures which show the deposits in the several bank of the county, and also show the deposits in the several banks of the county, and also show how they increased during the period that we have been dry.

On January 1, 1909, the last reporting date before Local Option Law went into effect in Lenawee county, the County's ten State and National banks, outside of Adrian City, had deposits amounting to, $3,660,006.00, and the banks, in the City of Adrian had, $3,564,060.00, or a total of $7,J24,000.

On September 1, 1912, (the last report available) the ten county banks showed deposits amounting to $4,447,000.00, and the City of Adrian banks showed, $4,447,000.00, or a total of $8,845,000.00, which is a gain of $1,621,000.00 in deposits in two years and eight months or two years and four months of the dry regime. This gain shows that $732,000.00 thereof is in the banks in the city of Adrian.

This is better than 22 per cent gain for the period mentioned. That the city's prosperity, or its commercial deposits are not the cause of this great gain in the bank deposits of the county is show by the per cent of gain of the banks outside of Adrian City being 20 per cent to the City of Adrian's being 24 per cent.

It is a good thing for the farmer and the small town as well as for the city.

Jan. 1, 1910.
County banks,	$3,660,000.00
City banks,	3,564,000.00
	$7,224,000.00
Sept. 1, 1910.
County banks,	$3,864,000.00
City banks,	3,833,000.00
	$7,697,000.00
Sept. 1, 1911.
County banks,	$3,985,000.00
City banks,	4,038,000.00
	$8,023,000.00
Sept 1, 1912.
County banks,	$4,398,000.00
City banks,	4,447,000.00
	$8,815,000.00

The reports of the Adrian Building & Loan Association show the following figures, indicating how Local Option has affected their business;

1907,	Cash, $80,374.00,	Shares,	7803
1909,	Cash, 84,209.00,	Shares,	8176
1912,	Cash, 96,397.00,	Shares,	9341

From these figures it will be seen that from the time the county went dry in 1909 up to the present time there has been an increase in cash of $15,188.00, and of shares, 1165.

The reports of the State Labor Commissioner show the following very suggestive figures concerning the labor situation in Adrian, which clearly shows that Local Option has not hurt business in the city:

Males employed in general factory work,
In 1909,	779
In 1910,	1036
All classes of employes,
In 1909,	1136
In 1912,	1529
Average daily wage,
In 1909,	$1.83
In 1912,	2,13
Aggregate daily wages,
In 1909,	$2,004.88
In 1912,	3,138,93

A certain landlord had a square plot of land, in one quarter of which stood a house, let to four tenants. In the balance of the ground the landlord planted four apple trees, placed as shown in the sketch.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommendating this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

Easter Services

The Churches of Tecumseh Observed Easter Day With Appropriate Services.

ELABORATE MUSICAL PROGRAMS WERE GIVEN

The bell rang out at 6 o'clock Sunday morning a goodly company started for the sunrise service at St. Peters church. The church was made beautiful with its white and green decorations and Easter lillies perfumed the air. The services were very impressive. The vested choir rendering sweet music, Miss Hazel Zimmerman sang an exquisite solo during the offertory. At 10 a. m the Sunday School had an Easter service which was a very pleasant gathering The children quite enjoying the exercises. The afternoon services was most beautiful. The duet by Miss Hazel Zimmerman and Ellsworth Ellis was specially fine,

A solo by Bonnie Brown with a violin obligato by Duaine Service and a solo by W. S. Dickinson with the Anthems by the choir, made an afternoon long to be remembered by all who were so fortunate as to be present.

The morning service at the Baptist church was given over to the children A chorus of 30 voices from the smallest little one who could sing to those of larger growth, All were in white and made a most beautiful picture. A solo by Lucile Kelly, a duet by Misses Kelly and Van Antwerp and a solo by Ernest Church completed this hour of service,

At the Methodist church following the regular service the Sunday School marched in to the church and took charge of the later services. Several chorus numbers, solos and duets brought the glory of Easter near to every heart.

The service at the Presbyterian church in the morning was a very pleasant one. following an address by the pastor. A fine musical program was given, an anthem by the choir, solos by Mrs. Stella Brush-Billings, W. S. Dickinson and Mrs E A. Reason of London Ont. A duet by Mrs. Weld and Mr. Dickinson. This was followed by a program by the Bible School.

A glorious Easter Song service tendered by the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist choirs at the union service in the Presbyterian church at 5:15 p. m, was a grand culmination of the day of praise and thanksgiving.

It is said that the united voices made one of the most wonderful chorus choirs ever heard in our city. Especial mention must be made of the chorus "Unfold Ye Portals" which was sung not only with the spirit but with the understanding, also The organists from the different churches each took part as the accompanists. Each singer whether as soloist or in chorus was at their best.

Special feature in the decorating of the church was the bringing of plants and flowers as memorials by those who had loved one in the better country.

In spite of the rain that prevailed from morning until night. There was a good attendance at every meeting through the day. The glad tidings 'Christ is Risen" waking an echo in every heart.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W. Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Popularity merely consists of keeping our troubles to ourselves.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Cold. LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistence R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J. says:—"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Aeroplanes and lobsters are both likely to upset us.

BEST KNOWN COUGH REMEDY

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year, Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money: J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way hundreds of others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used." For coughs or colds and all lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1.00 at R. J. Pulver's.

Many a good bluff has been called by a better one.

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

MRS. WILLIAMS.

MRS. G. H. WILLIAMS, of Lynnhaven, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally, I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your 'Favorite Prescription.' It's the only medicine on earth."

TO END PAINT CREEK STRIKE

Peace Pact Reached Between Operators and Mine Workers.

Philadelphia, March 24. — John P. White, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced here that a basis of settlement satisfactory to the miners has been reached with the representatives of the Paint Creek Collieries company, whose miners in West Virginia have been on strike for about ten months.

There are nearly 10,000 men on strike in the West Virginia fields, and the expected settlement affects about 4,00 of them, according to Mr. White. The strike of the miners of the Cabin Creek Consolidated Coal Mining company continues.

Availability.

A nobleman was once showing a friend a rare collection of precious stones which he had gathered at a great expense and enormous amount of labor. "And yet," he said, "they yield me no income."

His friend replied, "Come with me, and I will show you two stones which cost me but five pounds each, yet they yield me a considerable income." He took the owner of the gems to his grist-mill and pointed to two gray millstones, which were always busy grinding out grist.—Success Magazine.

Guests at This Hotel Do Not Pay.

Essen, Germany, has a hotel—a first-class hotel—at which the principal guests never have to pay for their accommodations. It is owned by Frau Bertha Krupp, the richest woman in Germany, and owner of the great Krupp works, at Essen. She runs it at a loss of more than $100,000 a year. This hotel was built by Frau Krupp for the entertainment of the representatives of foreign Governments who visit Essen for the purpose of purchasing war material or who stay at Essen to superintend the execution of orders.

Emissaries from the Emperors of Japan and Russia, from the Kings of Roumania, Bulgaria, Spain, Norway, and Sweden, as well as from the Presidents of the Central and South American republics, have been entertained at the Krupp hotel for months at a time in the most princely style. Ordinary travellers sometimes can find accommodations at the Krupp hotel, but only when the rooms are not required for Frau Krupp's foreign official guests.

CAT LIKES SNAKES.

Prefers Serpent Diet to Rodents, Milk or Meat.

"St. Patrick," a monster maltese cat which hunts and eats snakes, is the latest freak of nature in this vicinity. He belongs to Francis H. McGovern, roadmaster of Lower Oxford township, and won his name because, like the patron saint of Ireland, he has driven reptiles out of the neighborhood.

This cat lives almost exclusively on serpents. Rats and mice are never touched by this epicurean feline. During the past week he is known to have caught eleven snakes of various sizes and varieties, none of them poisonous. He has even caught and killed a four-foot blacksnake, and Snaky Spring, which gained its name from the fact that it was infested with watersnakes, has been cleaned out.—Oxford (Pa.) Correspondence Chicago Inter-Ocean.

He Followed His Natural Bent

"I wonder, James," said Mrs. Meek, doubtfully, to her husband one morning, "if you could get your own dinner to-night? You see, I've had to let the servant go on a holiday for a day or two, and they want me desperately at the Women's Aid and Relief Bazaar this evening. It is the last day. If you thought you could manage by yourself"—

"I'll try to survive it," observed Mr. Meek, good-naturedly. "I don't fancy it will prove fatal."

"I'll get a point and cook it this morning, then," went on Mrs. Meek, cheerfully, "and you can have it cold for dinner."

"Thank you!" replied Mr. Meek. "You'll do nothing of the kind. I fancy I haven't gone camping out with the Volunteers every year for nothing. I suspect I can prepare a hot dinner as well as most women."

Thus it came about that Mrs. Meek abandoned all ideas of preparing Mr. Meek's dinner for him and betook herself to the bazaar. So it resulted, furthermore, that Mr. Meek left his office about 4 o'clock that afternoon, and proceeded to collect on his way home the necessary supplies for a dainty little dinner.

An alluring display of geese was the first thing to catch his eye, and he was just on the point of securing one of them, when by good luck, or more probably through the natural sagacity of the man, he recollected that as a rule you don't cook geese just as they are. In the momentary reaction that followed this feat of memory he bought a couple of mutton chops and three tomatoes.

"I'll have a good, old-fashioned, English dinner," he thought. "By Jove!" he exclaimed a moment later, "I'll have some oyster soup to begin with, and apple pudding to finish."

He was so tickled with this idea that he promptly rushed into a green grocer's and purchased half a peck of their best eating apples, and then hurried home, pausing to order some oysters on the way.

By 5 o'clock he had the fire going beautifully. By 6 o'clock he was just beginning to enjoy the thing. The tomatoes were stewing divinely; the potatoes were boiling to their heart's content, and the milk for the oyster soup was simmering contentedly on the back of the stove. The oysters had not yet arrived.

"Dear me!" thought the ambitious gentleman, "I wish I had thought of it in time and I'd have some oyster patties for a sort of grand finale. Hello, what's this? By thunder, if that woman hasn't left me some cold ham and a custard pie! By Jove! for twopence I'd throw the whole lot out into the back yard!"

At half-past six he puts the chops on to broil, "as in the good old days of yore"—this poetic allusion to the style of cooking being occasioned into the fire, whence he rescued it with great presence of mind by the joint assistance of the poker and one of the best table napkins.

At the time the chop was thus rescued both it and the table napkin were fairly well done—to put it mildly. This difficulty he got over by putting the erring chop on the window sill to cool, and the napkin into the fire—to do the other thing.

This accomplished, and with one chop gently cooking on the gridiron and the other one cooling on the window sill, he started to construct the paste for his apple pudding. This proved most fascinating.

He placed a large quantity of flour in a small bowl, emptied a jug of water on top of it, and proceeded to mold it deftly into shape, as he had often seen his wife do. The flour and water promptly forsook the bowl and betook themselves to his hands.

Then the milk for the soup began to burn just as the potatoes boiled dry. He rushed to the rescue and left the greater portion of paste evenly divided between the handles of the two saucepans and the poker.

At this juncture the tomatoes started to see if they couldn't surpass the milk in burning. They succeeded. The cat which was accustomed to a 6.30 dinner, walked off with the chop on the window sill, while the chop on the fire grew beautifully black on the "down side." So many things were burning at the same time that Mr. Meek gave up hope of trying to discover just which one was burning most.

"Let the blessed things burn till they're sick of it!" was the extremely broad-minded way in which he summed up the situation. With the astuteness that characterized him as distinguished from his fellow-men, he gave up all effort to track the truant paste, and simply popped his apples into the oven to bake.

It was now about 7:30, and the fire was getting hotter than anything else on earth, except, perhaps, Mr. Meek. He turned all the dampers, opened all the doors, and took off all the lids. This resulted most unsatisfactorily. The fire began to cool. It got, if anything a little low. Then it went out. Mr. Meek rushed for some "fire-lighters" and nearly took his head off on a clothesline.

The gentlest of natures when roused are often the most terrible. He used up enough fire-lighters and paraffine to have ignited the pyramids of Egypt.

He stamped and shoved, and poked and banged, and shook with rage till even the cat—and it had had its dinner—was displeased with him and departed to the quiet kitchen to try the oysters which the dilatory fishmonger had just deposited on the table without waiting to parley with Mr. Meek.

When, about five minutes later, Mr. Meek discovered that the cat had found the oysters to its taste, he became even less calm. Had the cat been near it is highly probable that a considerable majority of its nine lives would have come to an abrupt termination.

At this stage, to console the unfortunate man, the fire began to go again. In about five minutes the chop that the cat hadn't eaten was especially well done. It could be quite safely left on the window sill with a whole legion of starving cats around it. Mr. Meek, however, simply left it in the coal scuttle.

Then there came over Mr. Meek's face a terrible expression. He brought in a pail and poured the soup carefully into it; next he scraped the potatoes in the same pail; then he poured the tomatoes on top of the potatoes.

It cannot be definitely stated whether or not Mr. Meek, in doing this, was actuated by the desire to prepare some famous camping dish, relished in the dear old volunteering days; but certain it is, no sooner did he get the tomatoes nicely on top of the potatoes than he took the whole thing and tossed it into the back-yard. This accomplished, he proceeded to make a meal off some cold ham and some bread and butter—the cooking butter, of course.

Just as he was finishing Mrs. Meek returned.

"Hello, dear!" cried Mr. Meek calmly. "I've been terribly busy. Detained at the office; only just got home. This is very good ham—a shade overdone, though, isn't it?"

"Perhaps a shade less wouldn't have hurt it. Let me get you a piece of it."

"No, thank you! No cold pie for me when there's hot apples in the oven. You might get them, if you're not too tired."

Mrs. Meek departed on her errand. In a few moments she reappeared, and without moving a muscle placed the plate of baked apples before her lord and master. They were about the size of walnuts and the color of ebony.

Mr. Meek saw, with an awful look in his eye.

"If I ever catch that cat," remarked Mr. Meek, as that feline purred past him, with a playful frisk of his tail, "I'll break every bone in his body!" —Morton Frayne.

Charles Reade at Oxford.

Magdalen College, Oxford, which has just accepted from Percy Fitzgerald a bronze bust executed by himself of his old friend Charles Reade, never had a more loyal alumnus than "the greatest master of a narrative since Scott." It may be remembered that the dedication of "Never Too Late to Mend" is to "The President, Fellows and Demies of St. Mary Magdalen College, Oxford, by a grateful son of that ancient, learned and most charitable house."

As the novelist was a fellow of Magdalen in days when Waynflete's wealthy foundation urgently needed reform, some wicked cynics saw in the dedication a subtle irony which the author never intended. The bust has been placed in Reade's old rooms, which of recent years have been transformed into the classical library.—The Westminster Gazette.

Birdseye Photographs.

A remarkable method of making birdseye photographs is by the use of a "gun camera," which is shot several feet into the air from the top of a standard in the head of which is an explosion chamber. The camera is set to expose from one to ten seconds after the explosion, when it reaches its full height. It must be caught in a net when it comes down to prevent it from being smashed.—Popular Mechanics.

Daniel and the Lions.

The Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon was fond of a joke and his keen wit was, moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the lions didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grit."

Praising the Modern Girl.

The girl of to-day is extremely impatient of compliments which outrun her own estimate of herself. On the other hand she loves to be told she is a good golfer or a fine shot or a good companion. The focus seems to have shifted from her appearance to her capacities, which is a healthy thing.—Gentlewoman.

According to the "Electrical World" an electrician successfully relieves the croupy coughs of his young son by placing an electric water heater inside the crib and then enclosing the crib. The steam rising from the heater moistens the air.

Roman Waterworks Still Used.

The town committee of Szamosvar, Hungary, has decided to utilize the remains of the thousand year old water mains and reservoirs which have remained since the Roman occupation. The water mains were discovered by Professor Ornstein, an archaeologist, who states that the great reservoir and the extensive canals served as the water supply of a large late Roman military camp—Congricastrum. The great reservoir lies on a high hill near the town. The dirt which has collected in the basin and mains during many centuries has been removed, and now it is almost incredible that they should be a thousand years old. The medical officer of the town has declared the water basin and the mains to be fit for use.

American Stature Increasing.

Measurements by scientists bring out the interesting fact that the American college athlete of to-day is a much larger man than his father was, and is constantly growing. The average height of the Yale athlete to-day is an inch and a half more than it was five years ago; he is 22 pounds heavier with three inches more chest development and 42 cubic inches more lung capacity; the average height of the Yale athletes is now 5 feet 9.9 inches, and their weight exactly 170.5 pounds. At an examination of Harvard athletes Prof. Sargent found that they were an inch taller and from four to five pounds heavier than were the students of 30 years ago.—Chicago News.

Living Expenses in India.

The increased cost of living in India generally and in Calcutta particularly, writes our correspondent is severely felt not only by European but also by Indians. House rent in recent years has trebled and even quadrupled. Ten years ago a family of half a dozen persons could live in fair comfort for £200 a year, excluding extras. With nothing less than £500 can one live in the same way now. This is recognized by the government, and the salaries of subordinate officials have been revised. Domestic servants' wages have increased enormously. A good cook cannot be had for less than £40 a year, whereas half that sum was considered sufficient ten years ago.

Block after block in the finest residence section of the city was destroyed.

Scores Buried in Ruins.

Many persons were buried in the ruins of houses and scores were fatally injured by falling debris.

In a picture theater the entire audience of fifty was buried when the building collapsed under the weight of the wind.

The storm was accompanied by rain and hail and numerous small fires were started by the overturning of lamps.

Telegraph and telephone wires were torn down, and it was several hours after the gale that Mayor Dahlman was able to telephone to the governor at Lincoln to ask for troops.

Forty blocks in Omaha's residence section were swept by the tornado.

U. S. Troops Guard City.

The regular army soldiers at Fort Omaha now are guarding the wrecked area from looters, who appeared before midnight.

Two regiments of state troops are on the way to Omaha to supplement the millitiamen already there.

First reports indicated that nearly 1,000 lives had been lost in Omaha alone.

This, however, was not borne up by the later details.

Loss of life was reported at Ackley, Woodbine, Carroll and Menlo, Iowa; at Yutan and Greenwood, Neb., and Perth, Ind.

Wind, rain, dust and sleet storms, usually accompanied by great electrical manifestations, were reported in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Illinois, and Indiana.

Other Nebraska Towns Hit.

A tornado forming near Greenwood, swept over the eastern part of the state causing the death of at least twenty persons besides those at Omaha, while ten others are missing and over a hundred are injured.

At Yutan, Neb., fifteen are reported killed, while fifty more are injured. With the water works out of commission, at that place, a fire broke out and the entire place was threatened with destruction.

Valley Still, north of Yutan, was reported hard hit, with ten persons missing and many others injured. Wire service in the eastern portion of the state was demoralized and only comparatively meager reports of the storm werer eceived over telephone wires.

Twenty Killed in Terre Haute.

At Terre Haute, Ind., twenty persons were killed and scores injured in a storm of cyclonic proportions which swept that city.

Two near by towns which were wrecked by the storm, where, it is said, thirty-nine persons were killed and scores injured, were:

Prairieton, eight miles south of Terre Haute, a farming community, demolished; homes destroyed and many killed.

The total loss to the city of Terre Haute and suburbs was approximated at upward of $1,000,000.

Severe Storm Hits Chicago.

In Chicago hundreds of windows were broken, frail dwellings blown down and other damage done. Several persons were reported missing.

Wires went down in every direction. Chicago was isolated for many hours.

Owing to the demoralization of the ordinary means of communication it is believed many towns not heard from during the night have suffered.

Other towns affected by the storm were Prairietown, Ind.; Ashland, Berlin and Craig, Neb.; Avoca, Dunlap and Manly, Iowa,; Alva, Kan., and Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Alabama Town Wiped Out.

Lower Peach Tree, on the Alabama river, about thirty miles from Pine Hill, Wilcox county, was practically wiped out by a tornado.

Reports are to the effect that thirty persons have been killed and many injured. The tornado passed directly through the town, and but few houses escaped destruction.

Birmingham, Ala., reported high winds and damage to a furnace. At Thomasville, Ala., twenty-one persons are known to have been killed, all but two of them whites, and increased estimates of the total dead.

FLOOD IN INDIANA

High Waters of 1883 Surpassed in Some Sections.

RIVERS ARE RISING RAPIDLY

Fort Wayne Partially Inundated and LaFayette Has a Like Experience—Traction Service in All Parts of the State Crippled—All Streams on Rampage—Loss of Life.

Reports from many sections of Indiana show that the entire state is in the grip of the worst flood in thirty years and in many places the high waters of 1883 have been surpassed. Thousands of acres of land in every river valley are flooded. Thousands of homes are surrounded and owners have fled to higher land.

In many cases rescuers carried out the residents in boats and it is feared that when the more remote districts are heard from the death list will be increased.

Traction Service Crippled.

Traction service in all parts of Indiana is uncertain, and in some sections it has been abandoned entirely. At Marion, where the breaking of a Mississinewa river levee forced 500 persons to flee from their homes, no attempt is made to operate the traction cars, while at Ellwood, where a break in the Duck creek levee made 300 homeless, property damage is estimated at $75,000.

At Lafayette the Wabash river has reached a stage of more than twenty-one feet, after rising a foot an hour, and still increasing. There the traffic has suspended and the detention hospital is under water. The inmates were rescued before the water reached the building.

Fort Wayne Is Flooded.

Fort Wayne, at the junction of the St. Mary, the St. Joseph and Maumee rivers, was flooded. The electric light plant was submerged and the town was without light during the night. The three pumping stations there were put out of commission and the town is without fire protection and the water supply is threatened. The rivers have reached stages higher than in twenty years.

At Kokomo, Wild Cat creek has overflowed the southern part of the town, and a company of Indiana national guardsmen patroled the submerged sections in boats. There the electric light plant was flooded and the town is without lights. The mayor appealed to Governor Ralston, who authorized the use of the militia.

Human Lives Lost.

The suddenness with which the flood came caught farmers in every section of Indiana unprepared and thousands of head of live stock were drowned.

At Newcastle John Hagner was drowned in the Blue river, while at Frankfort Ray and Roscoe Roethenberger and Wallace Garrison drowned in Big Wild Cat creek, which at nightfall was a mile wide.

At Richmond, Sugar Creek and Big Wild Cat have overflowed and many homes are under water, the inhabitants being removed in boats through second-story windows.

MICHIGAN HAS CLOUDBURSTS

Watchman Swept to Death When Dam Goes Out.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 26.—Western Michigan was swept by cloudbursts and heavy winds, causing at least one death and great damage to property.

A dam went out near Traverse City carrying John Hawthorne, a watchman, to his death. The dam furnished power for many points. Railroad traffic is either delayed by washouts or suspended at several points.

TWO PROGRESSIVES JOIN LEWIS RANKS

Thirteenth Ballot Finds Illinois Deadlock Holding.

At Springfield, Ill., two more Progressive members of the legislature broke away from the instructions of Theodore Roosevelt and voted for James Hamilton Lewis for United States senator for the long term. The twenty-seven Progressives were called upon to end the deadlock by voting for Lewis and Sherman, by Representative John Grunau, a Progressive of Chicago.

The result of the thirteenth ballot on the long term was: Lewis, Democrat, 84; Sherman, Republican, 71; Funk, Progressive, 19; Berlyn, Socialist, 4; Payne, Democrat, 1; O'Connell, Democrat, 1; Boeschenstein, Democrat, 2; King, Democrat, 3. No choice.

Result of the twelfth ballot on short term: Boeschenstein, Democrat, 41; Funk, Progressive, 39; Vrooman, Democrat, 35; Sherman, Republican, 20; McDonald, Socialist, 4; Hull, Republican, 23; scattering, 17. No choice.

Adjournment was taken until Tuesday.

INSPECTOR TIES UP ENGINES

Orders Five Big Four Locomotives Out of Service for Repairs.

At Anderson, Ind., a government inspector, representing the United States railway commission, caused consternation in the South Anderson Big Four yards when he ordered the fires to be drawn from five switch locomotives until certain repairs had been made.

The repairs were hastily made and the engines put back in commission, but in the meantime the yards had become congested.

FIRE IN CARROLL, IOWA

Masonic Temple and Department Store Totally Destroyed.

At Carroll, Iowa, a fire which started in the basement of J. H. Strohn's department store totally destroyed that building and the Masonic Temple, causing a total loss of $85,000.

The local telephone exchange was burned out and several lawyers and physicians lost their office furnishings, including valuable libraries. Insurance covers about two-thirds of the loss.

SUFFRAGETTES USE TORCH

Country Residence of Lady Amy White and a Club House Burned.

Near London, Eng., two "arson squads" of militant suffragettes succeeded in destroying property worth $100,000. One squad burned the country residence of Lady Amy White at Englefield Green, near the Thames. The other squad fired the buildings of the golf club at Weston-Super-Mare, a fashionable summer watering place in Somersetshire.

Lady White is the widow of Field Marshal Sir George White, the hero of Ladysmith in the Transvaal war. Her house was a mansion standing in spacious grounds.

SAGINAW—Mrs. Anna Fox of this city, sixty years of age, proprietor of a rooming house on Warren avenue, was found dead in the dining room about noon. Heart trouble was the cause.

CADILLAC—The little two year old son of Harry Yeager of North Park fell on a red-hot stove griddle and burned himself so severely about the eyes that the sight of one is gone.

JACKSON SHOCKED BY BRUTAL CRIME

Babe Slain and Its Little Body Fiendishly Mutilated.

Jackson, Mich., March 25.—With its skull crushed and its little body covered with terrible wounds, the thirteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sierminski, 314 Railroad street, lies in a local undertaker's establishment, while the father, charged with the murder, is locked up at police headquarters.

The murder is the most fiendish that has ever been brought to the attention of the police. The crime was committed late Saturday afternoon, but it was not until this week that the case was reported to the police. The undertaker who was called to take care of the body, notified the coroner, who reported the case to the police.

According to the information in the hands of the police, Mrs. Sierminski left home Saturday afternoon to attend church, leaving the little girl alone with her father, who, it is alleged, had been drinking heavily. When the mother returned she found the girl dead.

The father, it is said, spent the night at home. Besides the condition of the skull, which was terribly crushed, there was scarcely an inch of the child's body which had not been bitten and chewed. Deep teeth marks and great red bruises covered the little form. The face was terribly scarred from bruises that had apparently been inflicted by human teeth. On the back and sides were marks where teeth had penetrated entirely through the skin.

PRISONS AND ASYLUMS COST

For Years 1911 and 1912 the Sum Was $3,087,919.02.

Lansing, Mich., March 24. — Chairman Hinkley of the ways and means committee of the house, has completed compilation of the running expenses of the state prisons and asylums for the years 1911 and 1912, and faces a mere bagatelle of $3,087,919.02. While these are the expenses for 1911 and 1912, they must be paid for by the taxpayer out of the tax budgets of 1913 and 1914, and that amount must be appropriated.

The prisons and asylums, under the plan followed by Michigan, pay their running expenses for two years out of the state funds, and the taxes to replace the amount are raised the next succeeding biennial period.

SENDS FIVE TO PRISON

Bay City Judge Hands Out Sentences to Burglars and Highway Robbers.

Bay City, Mich., March 24.—Judge Collins sentenced five men to Marquette prison, that being the only reformatory available.

David Hill, forty-one years old, drew a one to two years' sentence, with a maximum of five, for robbing a freight car. Joseph Powalski, eighteen, who broke into a store and stole shoes, was given from six months to a year. Edgar Minnie got the same dose for highway robbery, as did Otto Huebner, eighteen, and Norbet Donley, twenty-six, for a similar offense.

BELIEVE TWO BOYS DEAD

Searchers Have Given Up Hope of Locating Lads Who Went Skating.

Petoskey, Mich., March 24.—Thirty-five men who searched all day have given up hope of finding Alton Westberg, aged twelve, and Ivar Johnson, fourteen, two St. Ignace boys who went skating on the Straits of Mackinac in the blizzard.

It is believed they went into the channel or fell through a large crack.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition. hearing will be destroyed forever. nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CALIFORNIA ANSWERS

From the Northern California Branch of the College Sufferage League.

In one precinct of California which gave 139 votes against suffrage to 88 for suffrage, there were 628 women who voted, to 549 men in the first city election after the passing the Suffrage Amendment. In another precinct that went against suffrage (169 against 113 for), at the city election following there were 962 votes cast by women to 843 by men. Is it not strange to insist that women were already represented by men when 169 men had voted to deny suffrage to women in a precinct, where 962 women afterwards voted at the very first opportunity? Women do not have to vote in objectionable places in California The polls are now located in tents in the open streets. In schools and churches and in innocuous places, vide the following postal card from one newly enfranchised citizen to another:

"Voted at sun-up in a millinery shop! Came forth unsullied. With my interest in the home undiminished and my "womanliness" intact! What about you?

In many precincts women serve all day long at the polls as clerks of election, even those women who had formerly been anti-suffragists.

Precincts are small and polling places are always in one's home neighborhood, so that frequently the housewife needs only to cross the street or go round the corner, taking not more than five or ten minutes out of her busy day, The children play about the booths, and husband or neighbor cares for the baby while the mother votes.

SARAH BERNHARDT IN "QUEEN ELIZABETH"

The photo-play, "Queen Elizabeth," enacted by the greatest of all living actresses, Sarah Bernhardt, will be given Saturday night at the Bradley Opera House. It is an event in motion picture development. The great actress seems to walk before the audience and scenes from history will be presented before the eyes as they occurred in the time of the great Queen.

"Queen Elizabeth" is presented in four big reels and twenty one scenes and lasts about one hour and a half. The scenery, costumes, acting and effects are far above anything ever before attempted in the motion picture field

This great feature will be shown for the one night only. At the Opera House, Saturday (tomorrow) March 29. Continuous show from 7 o'clock, on.

Must You Be Bald?

What have you done to stop your hair from falling? Have you tried Rexall "93" Hair Tonic? If not, we want you to try it at our risk.

If you have dandruff; if your hair is falling out and your scalp is not glased and shiny, if you use Rexall "93" Hair Tonic according to directions for thirty days, and at the end of that time you are not thoroughly satisfied with the results and will tell us so, we will immediately hand back your money. We won't ask you to promise anything. We won't even question you. We will take your mere word and return your money.

Doesn't it stand to reason that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic must be a mighty good remedy and have given great satisfaction to our customers if we endorse it like this? We know of no similar remedy that is as good. It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done for others that we back it with our own money.

Why suffer scalp and hair trouble or be bald, when Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will remove dandruff, make your scalp comfortable and healthy, promote hair growth and tend to prevent baldness—when we will pay for the treatment should it fail to please you?

We don't obligate you to anything. You simply buy the treatment; use it, and if not pleased, come back to us empty-handed—and we will hand back what you paid us. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

HON. JOHN G. WOOLEY

Next Friday April 4 the people of Tecumseh will have the privelage of hearing Hon. John G. Wooley of Chicago at the Opera House.

He was the Prohibition candidate for President of the U. S. at one time and polled the largest vote ever given to that party. Since that time he made a trip around the world and has been heard throughout the land on the lecture "My Country."

It will not cost the people a cent to hear him next Friday night. The Opera House ought to be crowded at 8 P, M.

NOTICE

Tecumseh Chapter No. 42 R. A. M will visit King Cyrus Chapter of Detroit April 15. Mr. O. H. Breed traveling passenger agent of the N. Y. Central line was here a few days ago, and arrangements were made for a special train over the M. C. via Manchester leaving Tecumseh at 8 a. m. and leaving Detroit at 12 o'clock, giving ample time for those attending the theatre. This train will take the general public as well as the chapter. A first class train is guaranteed and a crowd is promised. Leave orders for tickets with A. S. VanWinkle as early as possible, so enough cars can be ordered, Preferred the Longer Name.

Little Burney named the doll that was given him "Jim." But he said to his papa, "I am going to call it Jimmy, because it seems like when I say Jim I have to stop so soon."

OSBORN-KEYSOR

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Keysor was the scene of a charming wedding Thursday evening March 27, when their eldest daughter, Florence E. Keysor was united in marriage to Lawrence Osborne of Tipton.

The bride wore a lace embroidered gown carrying a boquet of brides roses. She was attended by her sister Blanche who wore an old rose silk with dainty flowers. Harold Smith of Palmyra acted as best man.

Rev. B R Weld performed the ceremony using the ring service. After congratulations an elegant three course supper was served. The brides table was beautifully decorated with Jonquils and Smilax.

The immediate members of the families were seated at this table, the other guests at small tables through the several rooms. Sixty guests were present to honor this occasion. The many beautiful presents showed the high esteem in which the happy couple were held by their many friends. They left for a trip but will be at home after April 4th at their farm home near Adrian The best wishes and congratulations of their many friends go with them.

I. O. O. F.

3rd Degree Conferred on Five Candidates by Visiting Lodge.

VISIT FROM ADRIAN LODGE TUESDAY MARCH, 25

Tecumseh Lodge I. O. O. F. entertained about 75 members from the Adrian Lodge Tuesday evening at their pleasant Lodge room. There was a fine attendance of the local lodge to meet their brothers.

The third degree was conferred by the visiting Lodge on a class of five candidates, Messrs. Edson Mackey, Frank Snell, George DeShetler, John Frost and George Reattoire in a most effective and interesting manner. At the close of the work a fine banquet was served which was followed by a smoker and a social hour until the special train that brought them over, gave the signal for their return trip

The fraternal spirit was evident in the hearty handshake and words of good cheer with which they met and parted.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Mrs L. C. Hayden entertained at six o'clock dinner on Tuesday evening, honoring the birthday of Mr. Hayden. Covers were laid for 35, a five course dinner being served. The occasion was supposed to be secret but was discovered in time, and in behalf of the guests F. B. Wood in a few well chosen words, presented Mr. Hayden with an elegant rocker. Mrs. B. F. Jansen of New York, was the out of town guest Miss Josephine Hayden was home from Ann Arbor for the occasion.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Ed Brooks was surprised last Sunday by 26 of his relatives and friends, the occasion being his 45th birthday. A bountiful four course dinner was served and a most pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Ed was presented with a beautiful rocker as a rememberance of the occasion.

"FRECKLES."

The play "Freckles" at the Opera House Thursday evening was one of the most charming productions. The boy Freckles was a true child of nature Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were typical Scotch characters. The Scotch dialect flowing as their own language and in the scene where Mrs. Duncan mothered the motherless Freckles, every eye was dim with the pathos of her words.

The "Angel", was an ideal comrade for Freckles with her innocent love and the callumation was very fitting. Every character was well taken throughout This play adds one more to the many good things Mr. Mark has given his patrons.

CLARKSON-McGUIRE

A very pleasant wedding was that of J. Dwight Clarkson and Miss Florence McGuire Monday March 24, at "Linda Vista" the home of the brides mother, Mrs. W. Clayton Burt at Bloomfield Hills just out of Detroit. The wedding was a very quiet affair just the immediate relatives and friends of the young couple being present.

The bride was charming in a gown of white charmeuse satin, with a bridal veil, she carried a shower boquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Rev. S. S. Craft performed the ceremony using the ring service

After congratulations the company adjourned to the dining room where a Buffet collation was served. The house was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies.

The happy couple were recipients of many exquisite presents from their loving friends. They are expected to spend a few days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clarkson in Tecumseh, after which they will return to Detroit where a pleasant home is all ready to receive them. The beginning of this romance dates back to their student days at the U of M. Mrs. Frank Clarkson mother of the groom, Miss Josephine Hayden a cousin and Earl Rector attended the wedding from Tecumseh.

Dwight is a Tecumseh boy and has many friends who offer their congratulations on this happy occasion. The bride has made many friends here on her visits to Tecumseh and she has their wishes for a long and happy life with the companion of her choice.

ENTERTAINED

Miss Emma Rogers entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. James Henderson who is soon to move to Adrian. The guests assembled at the proper hour, and everything was in readiness but the guest of honor

At last word was received that Mrs Henderson had been made a victim of a surprise by another company of friends who came laden with baskets filled with good things for a pot luck supper, But all is well that ends well and both companies report a very pleasant evening.

EASTER BREAKFAST

Mrs. Nellie Adamson entertained at breakfast on Easter morning covers being laid for eight among whom were Mr. and Mrs. George Adamson of Toledo, Miss Isabel Hicks of Ann Arbor, Miss Loana Cowan, Eugene Rosacrans and Donald Wright. A very pleasant social time was enjoyed by all present.

ENTERTAINED AT TEA

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanford entertained at tea Wednesday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, who are soon to leave for Adrian. Covers were laid for twelve, a very dainty repast being served. Mrs Henderson was the recipient of a casserole from the company, as a suggestion of the good things she is to provide when her friends visit her in her new home.

SHOWER

The Westminster Guild, Miss Kyle's Bible class and Sewing Circle of the Presbyterian church ment in the church parlors Wednesday evening honoring Dr. Helen Valens whose marriage occurs next Wednesday, April 2nd.

A very pleasant hour was spent with music and social chat and the company showered the bride-elect with many beautiful pieces of silver and linen as tokens of their love and esteem. While regretting that she is soon to leave Tecumseh yet they showered her with many good wishes for her future in her new home and with him whom she has chosen for her life companion.

AMONG the 145 styles and sizes of "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence shown in our new catalogue, the fence user can now obtain fencing perfectly suited to his particular requirements. "Pittsburgh Perfect" is the most adaptable, portable, durable and resultful of all wire fences, and gives absolute satisfaction because, coupled with our ripened manufacturing experience, it is the culmination of close and exhaustive study and investigation of farmers' needs along lines of up-to-date agricultural methods and equipment.

Open Hearth wire, like old time iron wire, is used exclusively in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence, and is galvanized with a thorough and even coating of pure zinc, which resists rust for the longest time. All line and stay wires are at every contact point, producing a perfect amalgamation of metals, and doubling the strength of the fence at the joints. This feature is found only in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence, and makes it unequaled for toughness, strength, and economy in weight and price.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Tecumseh People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Tecumseh kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Tecumseh people.

Mrs. George Burroughs, W Potawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again for the benefit they brought me has been permanent. Since I publicly endorsed this remedy in December 1905, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. My whole body ached and my strength and energy left me. Knowing several people in Tecumseh who had been helped by Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply of this remedy at Wright & Son's Drug Store and began using it. In a few weeks my condition improved in every way and my pains and aches were a thing of the past."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Popularity merely consists of keeping our troubles to ourselves.

Many a Suffering Woman

Drags herself painfully through her daily tasks suffering from backache, headache, nervousness, and loss of sleep, not knowing her ills are due to kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief from pain and misery, a prompt return to health and strength. No woman who suffers can afford to overlook Foley Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Cold LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence. La grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system and lower the vital resistence. R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., says:—"I was troubled with a severe LaGrippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be beat." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The egotist is always the other fellow.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere, "My work as conductor caused a chronic inflamation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. From the day I began taking Foley Kidney Pills I began to regain my strength, and I am better now than I have been for twenty years." Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Aeroplanes and lobsters are both likely to upset us.

FLOODS IN BUCKEYE STATE

High Water Works Havoc at Delaware, Dayton and Youngstown.

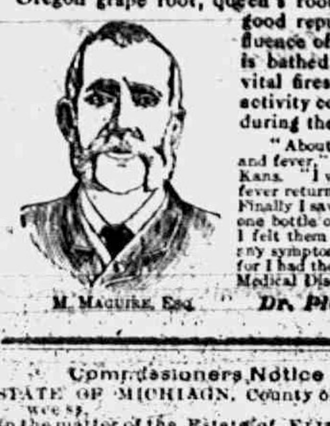
Reports from Dayton, O., show the Miami river levee at Dayton has been broken. The city is being flooded.

D. V. Leas, mayor of Delaware, a town of 10,000 inhabitants, is reported to have been drowned. The town is said to be completely flooded, all telephone and telegraph communications being cut off, owing to the flooded condition of the Scioto river, which has left its banks.

At Youngstown, O., the Mahoning river and Crab creek rose to an enormous height during the night and nearly all the big industries of the district are closed down.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alterative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.



M. MAGUIRE, Esq.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes MR. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

CADILLAC—John Thrush, aged twenty-eight years, was stabbed and killed at Ward's camp, near Buckley, by Henry Cone, according to the stories of thirty fellow workmen. It is alleged that when the two men came out of the grub house they were quarreling, and continued their quarrel into the bunk house. The rest of the men followed them and it is alleged John Cone, brother of the accused man, handed his brother a knife and shouted "Stab him." Thrush grabbed his slayer but was stabbed in the scuffle, it is alleged. He grabbed a poker, but was too weak to use it. In the confusion the Cone brothers escaped.

PORT HURON—John Smith, who is a Canadian, could not reconcile himself to the idea of being inspected by immigration authorities when he arrived at the tunnel depot here. He attempted to give a demonstration of his pugilistic abilities and was landed in a cell. Smith had purchased a ticket for Windsor, but had failed to leave the train at the proper junction in Canada. The ticket now has expired and Smith is without money.

SAGINAW—The Pere Marquette railroad company officials are planning the improvement of 177 miles of track where new standard rails will be laid. The lower part of the Toledo division on the Grand Rapids division out of Plymouth, and the Chicago division out of Grand Rapids, are the districts selected.

ALLEGAN—Charles B. Cook, who accepted the important appointment as agricultural expert here, has assumed his duties, and held the first convention to arrange demonstrations. Dr. Eben Mumford was also on the program. They will put in the remainder of the week holding meetings throughout the county.

SAGINAW—If the present rapid progress continues, the new electric line between Saginaw and Bay City on the east side of the river will be open for business July 1. According to present plans there will be no stops between the two cities and the trip will take thirty minutes.

ALLEGAN—It was undoubtedly a red letter day in the history of Dunningville. The new church was dedicated, the services being in charge of Rev. Mr. Vanarendenk. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Hekhuis of Overisel.

Proof from Michigan Farmers

SAL-VET

The Great Worm Destroyer and Conditioner

The results Michigan farmers are getting from "Sal-Vet" and the way they endorse it is proof conclusive that this great worm destroyer and conditioner is the greatest boon to farmers ever discovered. Here are a few of the hundreds of letters written to me by grateful Michigan farmers relating their experiences and results from "Sal-Vet". You may possibly know some of them personally. Read what they say:

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my work horses that was not in condition. The horses have rounded out splendidly, my sheep never looked so well at this time of the year and my hogs and spring pigs are in the best of health. I have always been slow to feed any of the stock foods or medicines, believing that good feeding and ordinary conditions ought to keep stock in good health, but I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET. It has certainly improved to a marked degree the condition of my stock."—W. H. SCHANTZ, Supt. Sheep Dept. Michigan Agricultural Society, Hastings, Mich.

"SAL-VET is giving fine results. I lost fewer lambs by 20% this year while feeding SAL-VET than in either of the two succeeding years when it was not fed."—E. J. DOWNING, St Charles, Mich.

"My SAL-VET is all gone, and as common salt does not begin to take its place, I want you to send me another keg at once. I am sure that $5.00 worth of SAL-VET saves me $20.00 worth of feed; all my sheep, cows and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and worms cannot dwell together."—E. A. BONTRAGER, Fairview, Mich.

"After having used a 100-pound keg of your SAL-VET among our horses, cattle and sheep with gratifying results, I can heartily recommend all stockmen and especially sheepmen to give it a trial."—HARRY POTTER, Davison, Mich.

"I find SAL-VET all that it is claimed to be."—JAMES NICOLL, Sandusky, Mich.

"I have given your SAL-VET a good trial and find it is all right. Will want more when this is gone. I would rather have it than any stock food or remedy that I have tried."—W. E. NICHOLAS, Bangor, Mich.

"Your SAL-VET is all that you claim it to be and I heartily recommend it to every sheep raiser. It surely has put my sheep in the pink of condition."—EDWARD LITTLE, Prop. Oxford Stock Farm, Sombush, Mich.

"Having thoroughly tested your SAL-VET, I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and colts and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera. I have had no trouble here."—JOHN H. LEYENDECKER, Rt. 63, Byron Center, Mich.

"Sal-Vet" is a wonderful medicated salt—a preparation which is saving farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is not only the surest and quickest remedy for worms, but also a tonic, digestive and conditioner which puts all farm animals in excellent condition, thus providing the most efficient disease preventive you can get. No trouble to feed it. You simply place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely—no drenching, no handling—no bother at all—they doctor themselves.

CHEAPEST and BEST

It is inexpensive—costing only one-twelfth of a cent a day for each sheep or hog and only a trifle more for larger animals. It saves feed—PREVENTS DISEASE—makes stock thrive and gain faster—in fact repays you its small cost many times over. It is from 100% to 400% cheaper than other live stock preparations and far more efficient. The fact that it is sold on a "Money-back Guarantee" PROVES all this.

Here Is My Money-Back Offer

Simply call at my dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely, then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" don't do what I claim, if it don't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove a paying investment for you, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased.

SIDNEY R. FEIL, Pres. The S. R. Feil Co., Cleveland, Ohio

To Our Customers: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get "Sal-Vet" the next time you come to town. We back up every word in this advertisement. You take no risk. Don't wait until your hogs or other stock get sick and die — get "Sal-Vet" NOW and PREVENT such loss, and have thrifty, finer, more profitable stock. It is the cheapest and best conditioner you can buy.

CORPSE IN FLUME MAY BARE MURDER

Body Found at Battle Creek Sets Police at Work.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 24.—Evidence of a supposed murder was unearthed when the body of an unidentified man was found clogging the wheels in a flume under the Grain Products mill. The coroner and police are working on the murder theory.

Because the body was clad in summer clothing, it is believed the man had been dead several months. The flume, however, was entirely cleaned out last month.

It is said the only means of access to the flume is a hole in the flume covering outside of the mill and from the mill itself. The hole in the outside covering is only ten inches wide, so that it would be hard for a man to fall through it accidentally.

Men have been working daily in the mill and a watchman has been on duty at night all winter.

WEDS HER ON RESERVATION

Lieut. Ruel, Dashing French Dragoon Officer, Has Exciting Career.

Port Huron, Mich., March 25.—To be a dashing cavalry officer in the French Dragoons, to be an aviator of world fame, to fall 500 feet and live and to be married on an Indian reservation, is the life story of Lieutenant Andre Ruel, who was united in marriage to Miss Volborg Anker-Holt of Port Huron by the Rev. Mr. Rigsby of the Chippewa reservation, Sarnia.

The couple rode on horseback to the little English church parsonage on the river road, about three miles south of town and were there married in the presence of the bride's and bridegroom's parents, who had followed them in a carriage.

HIGH WIND AT EMMET

Farm Buildings, Windmills, and Trees Are Leveled to Ground.

Emmett, Mich., March 25.—The gale here attained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour and did $10,000 damage. Farm buildings, fences, trees, windmills and barns were destroyed.

The entire belfry of the Emmett school was removed. Barns on the farms of William Webb, Patrick Quain and Patrick Tierney were demolished while on the farm of Bernard Neaton, a large stock barn was moved over three feet off its foundation.

Strike Vein of Rock Salt.

Bay City, Mich., March 25.—While boring for oil on the Mundy and Fifield farm, between this city and Saginaw, the drillers struck rock salt at a depth of 2,600 feet. It is one of the largest veins of rock salt ever struck in this section and probably the deepest of any.

ADRIANOPLE FORT TAKEN BY BULGARS

First Line of Defenses Stormed After Bombardment.

Bulgars captured the first line of defenses around the Turkish fortress of Adrianople after a bombardment lasting several hours, according to a dispatch from Sofia.

The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jakova to Lake Ochrida.

Their decision will be made known collectively to the allies, who will be informed that as Europe has settled the question, there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

The ambassadors will now take a hand in question of the southern limits of Albania.

Studebaker

"Young man, when you buy a buggy, be sure it's a Studebaker"

Sound advice from the man who has been driving one for twenty years.

When you buy a Studebaker buggy you are buying all the skill, experience and science in buggy building that half a century can produce. You are protecting yourself against the mistakes of younger builders.

You will always be proud of the Studebaker nameplate, for there isn't a buggy on the road that is its equal for style, luxury and good looks.

Flexible bent-reach gear, graceful lines, solid corner, plugless body, double-ironed shafts, are a few of the special Studebaker features.

Indianapolis, March 31.—Sixty lives are known to have been lost in Indiana's flood, which has almost disappeared in central portions of the state, but still is threatening Evansville and smaller cities along the Ohio river.

Verified reports show that fifty-six persons were drowned and four are known to have died from exposure. Five more bodies have been recovered at Peru.

Peru and Brookville's death list are those of drownings only, but two deaths at Terre Haute, one at Fort Wayne, and the only verified fatality in West Indianapolis, followed exposure suffered by the refugees.

Undoubtedly the list will be augmented during the next few days, indications being that the river channels, still buried by high water, hold at least some bodies. The five bodies recovered at Peru were those of persons already counted among the dead.

Death Toll at Peru Twenty.

Peru, Ind., March 31.—Twenty bodies of flood victims have been recovered and this number is believed to be the total.

The flood is rapidly receding and Peru, instead of being a city submerged with water is coated with a layer of mud from one to three feet thick.

The authorities devoted their efforts to removing the bodies of dead animals from the streets and disposing of the accumulations of filth left in the trail of the flood.

Debris May Give Up Dead.

The relief parties in charge of the work of recovery in South Peru say many more bodies may be revealed in the wreckage of the houses which have fallen apart and are almost completely demolished. A rigid search will be made for the missing on the south side, where the greatest amount of damage had been done.

Men with shotguns patrolled both sides of the river and looting was prevented. Lieutenant Governor O'Neil has issued a warning against crooks who are coming down from Chicago. Two men were caught carrying burglar tools.

RAILROAD EMPLOYE DROWNS

G. W. Thomas Tries to Cross Wabash River on Floating Ties.

Mount Carmel, Ill., March 31.—George W. Thomas, Big Four operator at Allendale, was drowned in the Wabash river in attempting to cross on floating ties.

A trestle near Jackson's Hill on the B. & O. was swept away with forty men who were working on it. Ten of them escaped to Vincennes. Others are marooned on a knoll, but have not been rescued. Several of the party drowned.

Woman's Slayer Gets Life.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—Clinton H. Smith was found guilty of murdering Mrs Tamar Hasqom by a jury and immediately was sentenced to a life term in the state penitentiary at Stillwater.

High Cost Bothers Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., March 31. — In presenting to parliament a report on the high cost of living in Canada, which showed an advance last year of 6½ per cent in the cost of necessaries of life over the year before, Minister of Labor Crothers expressed his approval of Former President Taft's proposal for an international commission on the high cost of living.

Iowa Child Dies of Burns.

Davenport, Ia., March 31.—Margaret Rudhe, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ruhde, residing near Davenport, is dead after several hours of terrible suffering. While playing near a kitchen fire, the child's dress was ignited, and before the blaze could be extinguished she was severely burned from head to foot.

ROBBER'S NAME STILL UNKNOWN

Mystery Enshrouds Identity of Slain Bandit.

HAD MURDERED BANK CASHIER

Killing of Resident of Barnes, Kansas, is Followed by Swift Pursuit of Fleeing Thief and His Death by Well-Aimed Bullet from Pursuing Posse.

Barnes, Kan., March 31.—Mystery still envelopes the identity of the robber who was shot to death on the street here by a posse which was pursuing him after he had pulled off a spectacular holdup in the Barnes state bank, and escaped through the door with a heavy bag of gold, leaving the lifeless form of Robert J. Brown, cashier of the bank, stretched on the floor, the victim of the bandit's automatic revolver.

Brown met death when, instead of obeying an order to throw up his hands, he grabbed a revolver and fired at the robber without effect. He had just opened the bank and was at the counter counting money when he was confronted by the robber.

Fires at Assistant.

John Potter, assistant cashier, who appeared at the back door just as the robber shot Brown, was met by two bullets. Neither struck him.

The robber gathered into a bag $600 in gold that had been spread before Brown on the counter. He then left the bank on the run. Citizens, alarmed by the sound of the shots, were in pursuit before he had covered a block.

Robber Shot Down.

Within three blocks of the bank the robber fell before a volley of bullets, still clutching the bag of gold in his hand. He died within a few minutes. He could not be identified, but is believed to have been a member of the "Wymore gang" that has robbed a number of banks along the Nebraska-Kansas line within the last few years.

The shot that killed the robber is believed to have been fired by James Clark, seventeen years old, a clerk in a store, who led the chase.

Bank Robber Slain by Marshal.

Spencer, Neb., March 31. — While trying to hold up the First National bank at Naper, Clifford Rohr of Brooktown, was shot and killed by the city marshal, Jacob Zimmerman.

AMERICAN IS RELEASED

New York Newspaper Correspondent Freed from Mexican Prison.

Mexico City, March 31.—Gerald Brandon, a New York newspaper correspondent, who had been imprisoned in the Ulua prison at Vera Cruz for some time, was released when President Huerta sent a telegraphic order transferring him to another prison in Vera Cruz.

Mr. Wilson, the American ambassador, has been working hard on this case and received energetic instructions from Washington to demand Mr. Brandon's release under surveillance until a ship sails from Vera Cruz for New York. No one knows what the specific charge against Mr. Brandon is apart from a certain dispatch he sent to his paper, although it is known that Brandon and Huerta have always been enemies.

Twelve Injured in Wreck.

Kansas City, Mo., March 31.—Twelve persons were slightly injured when St. Louis and San Francisco passenger train No. 21 collided with a freight train at Una, Mo., ten miles east of here. All the injured were able to continue their journey.

SITUATION ACUTE ALONG THE OHIO

Cincinnati Is under Water as Crest of Flood Passes.

NO LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED

Levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Breaks, but Advance Warning Enables Inhabitants to Reach Places of Safety—Total Loss of Life in Ohio Flood Not Over 500.

Cincinnati, O., March 31. — The relief work in the mid-state Ohio cities is so well in hand that the situation is no longer acute. Everybody has been fed and sheltered and the cleaning up is going on well.

Ohio River in Flood.

The situation along the Ohio river, with regard to Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana cities, is now most critical. The crest of the flood was at Huntington, W. Va., Sunday. It reached Cincinnati today. The river at Cincinnati was 68.6 feet early and expected to reach seventy feet today. The water front business section of Cincinnati is all under water, but no loss of life has occurred. The local authorities are able to handle the situation here easily.

The worst state of affairs exist in the little towns along the Ohio river. Portsmouth is entirely cut off from communication by rail or telegraph. Maysville, Ky., is in a precarious situation. It is located on the bend of the river and if the levee breaks the whole town will be inundated.

Lawrenceburg Levee Breaks.

The levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., near here, broke Saturday night. No lives were lost. All the inhabitants took refuge in the hills. The inhabitants, as in other towns on the Ohio, had sufficient warning to get themselves and their moveables out of the houses.

Rail and telegraphic communication throughout southern Ohio are badly demoralized. No trains have gone out from Cincinnati in any direction except south to Kentucky via Covington.

Ohio Deaths Probably 500.

The latest reports indicate that there has been much exaggeration with regard to the loss of life from the floods and that the total deaths throughout the state will not exceed 500 and probably will be very much less. The property loss, however, is probably not exaggerated at any point.

The fair, warm weather that has prevailed since Thursday has helped the general situation immensely. It is cloudy now, however, and more rain is predicted.

The town of Marietta, which is situated on high ground, is probably in little danger. Newport and Covington, however, are nearly surrounded by water, but adequate forewarning and ample relief measures prevent suffering. The Kentucky river towns are all without light. The authorities have asked the war department for troops, fearing looters. No looting, however, has occurred in the flood towns and all stories of looting are pure fakes.

In all towns absolute order prevails.

Man, 79, Sentenced to Prison.

Pittsburg, Kan., March 31. — W. S. Scobey, seventy-nine years old, pleaded guilty to the charge of selling liquor in violation of the law and he was fined $100 and sentenced to jail for 100 days.

Kankakee Grocer Is Dead.

Kankakee, Ill., March 31.—Charles Ehrich, a grocer, aged fifty, died of Bright's disease, following an illness of two years.

OMAHA REPAIRING DAMAGED HOUSES

Omaha, Neb., March 31.—Nearly 1,000 carpenters are repairing buildings partially wrecked by the storm and 2,000 laborers are clearing the debris of the demolished structures. Hundreds of roofs were destroyed and the work of replacing many homes on foundations from which they had been twisted is under way.

The destroyed portion of the city will be rebuilt better than ever, according to the city authorities. Members of the building trades decided to make a public announcement of regular wages, so that any attempt at extortion would be forestalled.

Steps to raise the "restoration fund" to an amount that would be ample to reconstruct the destroyed portion of the city were taken and building and loan associations and other realty interests are leading in the work. Low rates of interest for reconstruction purposes have been made and large amounts of money are being made available for loans.

White slavers were apprehended recruiting among refugees from the tornado district. Two women and one man were arrested. They are believed to have come from Chicago.

MORGAN'S HEALTH CRITICAL

Condition of American Magnate Takes Turn for Worse.

Rome, March 31. — Professor Bastianelli and Dr. Dixon, who are in attendance on Mr. J. P. Morgan, issued an alarming bulletin as to condition of the noted financier. The bulletin states that Mr. Morgan's condition was "most critical." This came as a great surprise, as inquirers were assured only two or three hours before that "Mr. Morgan's condition was good and he is resting easily."

Herbert L. Satterlee, Mr. Morgan's son-in-law, said to your correspondent that there was absolutely no immediate danger of the death of the great financier. Even if he does not recover, he said, Mr. Morgan will last a few days and, anyway, his death will be painless and peaceful.

BALLAST TRAIN GOES DOWN

Report at Springfield of Disaster at Shoals, Ill., Unconfirmed.

Springfield, Ill., March 31. — Word was received here that a Baltimore and Ohio train which was run on a bridge over White river, near Shoals, Ill., to increase the flood resistance of the bridge, was plunged into the river when the underpinning of the bridge collapsed. Wire connection was severed and verification was impossible.

G. G. Stevens of Odin, trainmaster, and H. R. Gibson, engineer of maintenance of way department, who were with the train, have not been heard from, and it is possible they have gone down with the bridge.

No word has been received from the other men who were at work on the bridge.

ENGINEER FOILS WRECKERS

Sees Covered Obstruction in Time to Prevent Serious Accident.

Kansas City, March 31.—An attempt was made to wreck Chicago and Great Western passenger train No. 5 six miles west of this city by unknown vandals, who had placed a railroad tie on the track and covered it with cinders. Fortunately W. J. Morris, the engineer, saw the obstruction and checked the speed of the train sufficiently to prevent a serious accident although the pony trucks of the engine were derailed.

All the cars remained on the track and no one was injured.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a vote.

Recommended For a Good Reason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, biliousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse subtitutes. For sale by all druggists.

CHICAGO CAR MEN WIN RAISE OF PAY

Arbiters Give Union Employes $300,000 In Wages.

Chicago, March 31. — After five months devoted to the taking and consideration of evidence, the arbitration board made its award in the wage and work dispute between the street car companies and their thousands of employes.

Justice Orrin N. Carter of the state supreme court was chairman of the board. He, with Herbert E. Fleming, representing the companies, signed the report. Judge Kickham Scanlan dissented. He occupied three hours in reading his statement.

The award of the board grants the men a total increase in wages approximating $300,000 a year. The increase dates back to Aug. 1, 1912.

In general, the men get 2 cents an hour increase in wages. This applies to all who have been with the companies eighteen months and longer.

The men asked an increase of 5 cents an hour; the companies offered an average of a little more than 1 cent an hour.

Neither employers nor employes are entirely satisfied with the award. International President W. D. Mahon of the car men's union, termed it a "crushing defeat," while Mr. Fleming said the companies had given in to more than he desired, but the compromise was reached in efforts to retain peace.

Judge Carter's position was that under all the circumstances the award was as fair as could be devised. He said in the course of his statement:

"Every business should pay its employes a living wage. When if ever it becomes a question between the payment of dividends to stockholders and payment of a living wage to employes, the men must always be first considered.

"If the street car companies of this city at any time do not have sufficient income to pay a living wage to their employes then there should be a radical change in their management."

NOT A CRIMINAL CASE.

At the last session of the circuit court for Lenawee County the people were treated to a singular experience, viz: That there was not a single criminal case on the docket. This led one of the Adrian papers to remark editorially that it doubted if any county in the state with the same population could show a similar record, and that it was the first time for a long period, that such a condition had existed even in Lenawee. When Local Option was adopted it was freely predicted that crime would increase and the expenses of prosecution of criminals be much larger.

Look at the figures given below and see how experience has proven the falsity of those claims:

Arrests for Drunkenness

Arrests for drunkenness, 1907	277
" " " , 1908	229
" " " , 1909	242
" " " , 1910	138
" " " , 1911	97
" " " , 1812	63

These figures show that the last two years and six months during the license system 541 arrests were made for drunkenness, and the first two years and six months during the license system 541 arrests were made for drunkenness, and the first two years and six months after the County voted dry only 226 were arrested for drunkenness, and the first six months of this time there were 66; the next full year was 97, and the next 63, showing a continual decrease.

It is well understood, although it cannot be shown by the records that a large percentage of those arrested for drunkenness since the County voted dry were those who came home drunk from other places.

County Jail Records

Total sent to county jail one WET year, Jan 1—Dec. 21, 1909	314
Of these drunk and disorderly	169
Total sent to county jail one DRY year, Jan. 1—Dec 31, 1912	253
Of these drunk and disorderly	58

The total cost for sheriff fees, including board and locking and unlocking, for the 169 in the year 1909, was $795.55, and for the 58 in the DRY years, 1912, was $294 30. The expense of arresting and convicting, railroad fare, officers', court and witnesses' fees is estimated in Lenawee county at $7 for each drunk.

During one WET year (Jan. 1—Dec. 31, 1909) 169 DRUNKS were sent to the county jail, costing the taxpayers for board and sheriff fees $795 55, court and other expenses at the average cost of $7 a person, $1,163.00, making a total of	$1,958 55
During the DRY year (Jan. 1—Dec 31, 1912) 58 DRUNKS were sent to the county jail, costing the taxpayers for board and sheriff fees, $204.30, court and other expenses at the average cost of $7 a person, $406.00, making a total of	$ 610 30
Balance in favor of the DRY year	$1,348.25

This represents a saving on this item alone of $1,348.25, in one DRY year. Multiply that by that by three and it makes $4,044 75 saved from this one item alone in three DRY years. DO SOME FIGURING YOURSELF, DON'T LET THE WETS DO IT ALL.

Juror and Witness Orders

It is very significant that two other items of court expenses, viz.: juror and witness fees, showed a decided decrease since the county went DRY. HERE ARE THE FIGURES:

1907-8, WET,	Witness Orders	$ 1,171.56
	Juror Orders	5,684.90	$ 6,856,45
1908-8, WET,	Witness Orders	955.57
	Juror Orders	11,655.10	12,610,67
			$19,587.02
Average for each year			$ 9,783.51
1910-11, DRY,	Witness Orders	$ 554.53

Expense of Caring for County Poor.

WET

1905-06	$16,791.51
1906-07	16,511.36
1907-08	16,224 89

DRY

1909-10	$13,475.38
1910-11	11,488.09
1911-12	10,385.00

This decrease in the cost of caring for the poor should be considered in connection with the steady increase in the cost of living during the years named. It is the one place where local option could clearly be held responsible, if there had been an increase in expense. And the fact that there has been an actual decrease in expense is worthy of note, at a time when the money of the poor buys less than ever before.

But when all is said and done, don't we owe some duty to the youth of our country? Aren't they entitled to grow up free from the contaminating and degrading influence of the saloon. For three years we've been DRY and DECENT, why not stay so? What will we gain by the return of the saloon? Will it open any factories? Will it give any of our laborers employmens? Whom will it benefit, except the brewers, wholesale whiskey men and a few saloon keepers?

VOTE "YES" MONDAY, APRIL 7th.

Daily Thought.

Lift up yourselves to the great meaning of the day, and dare to think of your humanity as something so divinely precious that it is worthy of being an offering to God.—Phillips Brooks.

World Looks for the Best.

There are two sides to every story. The victory you win means defeat to the other fellow. But that should not deter us from doing our best. It's the best that the world needs, but if you can do better than the other fellow, it is your work that the world wants.

THAT WEBB LAW

Not Unlawful to have Liquor Shipped in from Other States for Personal use

Much has been said lately by those opposed to local option regarding the provisions of so-called Webb Law and as usual most of it was not only misleading but, absolutely false. They have told you that under the opperation of the Webb Law no one could ship liquor into dry territroy even for his own personal use; that all shipments, no matter what the purpose for which they were shipped in, are illegal and absolutely prohibited. That these statements are false, a perusal of the provisions of the law will disclose.

The Webb Law, passed by the House of Representives, February 8, 1913, stripped to its legal verbiage, provides that, the shipment of intoxicating liquors of any kind from one state, into any other state or territory "which said spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquor is intended, by any person interested therein, to be received, possessed, sold, or in any manner used, either in the original package, or otherwise, IN VIOLATION OF ANY LAW OF SUCH STATE, TERRITORY, or district of the United States, or place noncontiguous to but subject to the jurisdiction thereof, is prohibited."

The law does not absolutely prohibit the shipment of liquors from one state into a dry state or dry county of a state, but instead, is a sort of local option law, that is, it gives the individual states the right to say what shipments of liquors will be legal and what shipments will be illegal interstate commerce. It provides that liquors shall not be shipped into a state to be received, possessed or sold or any manner used in violation of any law of such state.

An interstate shipment for personal use is not prohibited by the Webb Law, and any one has just the same right under the Webb Law to ship liquors from another State for his OWN PERSONAL USE as he has now. No right that a citizen has under our present laws are in any manner whatever, interfered with by the Webb Law.

AN EDITORS OPINION AND ADVISE

The Upland News in its issue of March 13 publishes the letter of Mrs. Franklin Rose of that town to Tecumseh Herald which was published several weeks ago and comments as follows:

"Upland surely has a pessimist of first rank, as is shown in an article written by Mrs. Franklin Rose of this city to her home paper, The Herald at Tecumseh, Mich. Mrs. Rose writes that California has just two crops—wind and eastern tourists—and she is positive in her belief that this state is going to the demnition bow-wows at a very fast rate.

Surely Mrs. Rose has done her work well and has proven beyond a doubt that she is homesick for her beloved state, 'Michigan, My Michigan,' and we suggest to Mrs. Rose that she pack her trunk, take the next train and start for her former home as soon as possible. As far as California is concerned it is impossible to injure the prosperity enjoyed here by such measures, as no one in the citrus district of the state has denied but that the frost did the greatest of damage this year and that every citrus-growing district has been hurt, and seriously hurt at that. However, it may be news to Mrs. Rose to learn that this is the first time in some twenty years that every section of Southern California has been damaged by frost. In years past numerous sections have been frosted, but this is the first year in about twenty that the groves on Euclid avenue, Upland, have been frosted, and growers in this district are indeed thankful that they have their trees left. The News man came from Michigan, and the state is just as dear to him as so Mrs. Rose, but after twelve years spent here has decided that California goes far ahead of Michigan when it comes to success in crop growing, and if Mrs. Rose can point out a single year in which Michigan did not lose at least one of her crops, we would gladly learn of the information. However, our advice to Mrs. Rose still holds good—go back to Michigan and stay awhile longer, then you'll come out here to LIVE and find that residing in Michigan is simply existing."

-NOTE

The editor of the Upland News in our opinion should be in the same class as Mrs. Rose, as he is as far one way, as she is the other. Each state having its good points, and its drawbicks. Life can be a mere existence in either state or what lies within us to make it. Have lived in both states.

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

IT'S different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware dealers. All we ask is a trial. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH WORKS
Sterling, Illinois

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove pipes—Prevents rusting. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

SENATOR CLAPP

Senator Mosses Clapp of Minnesota will speak for the Progressives at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian on Friday evening, April 4th. Great efforts were made to secure Mr. Clapp during the last fall campaign, but he was then busy as chairman of the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions.

Senator Clapp was one of the earliest Progressives and at a time when it took the greatest courage to stand for these reforms He is a fine speaker, and preparations are being made to entertain and accommodate a large attendance on that occasion.

When Mr. Parker, of New Orleans, and Mr. Metzger, of Vermont, were in Adrian last week, the very bad roads and the stormy day prevented the attendance of a great many out-of-town visitors who had planned to be there. This second meeting is planned to give them an opportunity to hear a distinguished orator.

FRED J. STITT

Fred J. Stitt living just west of town passed away Wednesday evening March 26, after a long and painful illness following an operation for gall stones last July at Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Mr. Stitt has always been a resident of Tecumseh and was born on the farm home where he died January 11 1859, He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Smith Feb. 22, 1881 who with two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Wheelan and Miss Nellie Stitt and two brothers Byron and Ed Stitt of Hitchcock S. D. are left to mourn his loss. The funeral was held at the home Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. F. Hewitt officiating.

He was a devoted husband, a kind father and a soul of good fellowship, a quiet good man, believing in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

To those who mourn we would remind them that he is not dead but asleep, behind the cloud of sorrow is the rainbow of hope. Out of the darkness comes the dawning of a perfect endless day.

D. T. & I. MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE

So Says Judge Tuttle of the U. S. District Court

Judge Tuttle has denied the request for further postponement, of the sale of the D. T. & I. road, at a meeting held Monday March 24, when the Attorneys for the Companies holding the papers for the road, presented their request.

He held that the road been had losing money right along, and that the creditors should have some consideration shown them.

The last date set for the postponed sale is April 17, and Special Master Elmer W, Voorhies will go to Springville, Ohio, and offer the road for sale on that day. The lowest bid that will be accepted by the court is $3,200,000.

Backache? Kidneys weak?

Distressed with urinary ills?

Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cummings St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alterative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

M. MAGUIRE, Esq.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes MR. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

WET TIME IN VIRGINIA

Railroad Bridges Carried Away and Towns Under Water.

Norfolk, Va., March 31.—With the James river higher than it has ever been since 1870, the western portion of Virginia is facing the worst flood in forty years. Buchanan, Eagle Rock and other towns along the James river are partly submerged and hundreds of people have fled to the hills to escape the rising waters.

At Lynchburg the water was ten feet higher than it has been in thirty years, but the damage was slight. Richmond is facing a freshet and the residents of Fulton, the lower end of the city, are moving out, while merchants are having their stocks of goods carried to the second story of their places of business.

Every bridge on the C. & O. between Lynchburg and Clifton Forge has been carried away and hundreds of miles of its tracks are under water. Officials of this road claim the damage already will exceed $500,000. The C. & O. has not moved a train since Thursday. The N. & W. railroad had three of its bridges carried away. Their loss, it is estimated will reach $200,000.

HAYWOOD UNDER ARREST

I. W. W. Leader Taken After Fierce Melee In Paterson, N. J.

Paterson, N. J., March 31.—William Haywood, the I. W. W. leader, and Adolph Lessig were arrested here and locked up on a charge of inciting to riot, following the fiercest melee between striking silk workers and Paterson police since the strike began five weeks ago.

There thousand laborers and fifty policemen, eleven of them mounted, mixed in two pitched battles which lasted ten minutes each. The officials used their clubs freely and the strikers used their fists and stones. No one was seriously injured, but many an eye was blackened while some work was made for the dentists of Paterson.

THIEF BREAKS WOMAN'S NOSE

Cruel Blow Dealt a Defenseless Dame by Nocturnal Prowler.

Kansas City, Mo., March 31.—Mrs. John M. Smurr, 1140 South Main street, Independence, was attacked by a burglar in her home. Feeling a cold wind blowing through her bedroom, she arose and found an outside door open.

As she was returning to bed, after closing it, she was struck in the face by a burglar, who, apparently had been ransacking the house. He made his escape. Mrs Smurr's nose was broken by the blow.

SLAIN AS HE WOOS DEATH

Missouri Resident Spurns Ambulance When He Is Fatally Stabbed.

Kansas City, March 31.—John Hors, who had been telling his friends for a week he wished to die, was killed.

"I wish I had the nerve to kill myself," Hors said a few minutes before he quarreled with an Italian. The quarrel led to a fight in which Hors was stabbed. Asked if an ambulance should be called, Hors said "For God's sake, no. I want to die."

Ten minutes later he was dead. The slayer escaped. Hors had been despondent because he was out of work.

The Widow's Way

The position was, as you see, a rather delicate one. Mr. Topley was a lonely widower.

More than once he had hinted that he was disposed to marry again; and, as it happened, there was, in the opinion of his neighbors, just the bride he was looking for within a few doors of his cottage. The lady was Mrs. McGee. She was about forty years of age, but she did not look it. Being Irish, she was naturally good-looking, and she also, like so many Irish women, enjoyed good health and very high spirits.

Mr. Topley was still hesitating when Mrs. Gray was also a widow; but it was soon clear that she was a person of independence, as far as money matters went. She began by buying the cottage she had chosen for a future residence, whereas Mrs. McGee held her own cottage on a weekly rent, and was usually a week or two in arrears.

Mrs. Gray's cottage had only four rooms, it is true, but she had a nice garden in front, which she soon put in order, planting flowers and shrubs on one side of the centre path and fruit trees and bushes on the other. She had nothing else to do but to keep her garden in order, where as Mrs. McGee had to work in various ways for her living. That is to say, sometimes she lent a hand up at the manor house where they were short of servants. she also made a little extra money by selling the eggs she got from her fowls, and also the milk procured from her nanny goat, the lady of the manor being very partial to goat's milk, and readily buying all that Mrs. McGee could supply to her. Mrs. McGee's goat was a rather well known character in the village. People said it would eat anything from a daily paper to a sardine tin, and on this variegated diet the animal got so fierce that no one but Mrs. McGee could efficiently control it.

While Mr. Topley had an eye for beauty, and Mrs. McGee made a very pleasant picture to look upon, the fact that Mrs. Gray, who was also an eligible widow, had means of her own appealed distinctly to his commercial mind.

Mrs. McGee found out which way the wind was blowing when she met Mr. Topley carrying Mrs. Gray's market basket for her one Saturday evening, when Mrs. Gray had been out to do her weekly shopping. Mrs. McGee had been on the same errand, and had to carry her own basket all the way from the town, a distance of two miles. On the following day, as he was standing at her garden gate watching her goat as it ate with evident relish the paper label of an empty tomato tin, Mrs. McGee took the opportunity to lightly chafing Mr. Topley as to his new and distinguished acquaintance. Mr. Topley replied with suitable gallantry that it was ridiculous to suppose that he could have had anybody else in mind when there was a charming woman like Mrs. McGee in the same village.

Days went by and Mr. Topley's attitude, while always being neighborly and cordial, never attained the romantic stage, and Mrs. McGee was forced to the conclusion that he was saving all his prettiest speeches for Mrs. Gray. As a matter of fact, Mr. Topley was still in an undecided frame of mind; and Mrs. Gray, who had by this time as much reason to expect a proposal from him as Mrs. McGee, could have arrived at the concluson that Mrs. McGee was trying to interrupt the course of true love to her own advantage.

Thus, as stated above, the position was a delicate one. The relations between the two ladies, which had at first tended to become somewhat cordial, grew a little strained. Instead of stopping to pass the time of day with each other in the street, they strode by with haughty sniffs. If Mrs. Gray happened to have a neighbor with her at the time, Mrs. McGee would be sure to hear some guarded reference to "that creature," while if Mrs. McGee had a companion Mrs. Gray would overhear a remark to the effect that "even a bit of money won't put a straight nose on a crooked face."

One evening Mrs. McGee was standing at her garden gate partly to take the air, and partly because Mr. Topley was in the habit of passing that way on his way to the Red Lion, which he visited every evening from motives of sociability. She had not been there very long when Mr. Topley came up.

"Ah, Mrs. McGee," he said, "I've news for you."

Mrs. McGee flushed delicately. "Won't you come and sit in the porch and tell me all about it?" she said, in her artless, Irish way.

"No, thanks," replied Mr. Topley, dryly. "I don't quite fancy that goat of yours. I was coming in the other evening and the brute rushed at me, and I was glad to get the gate between us."

"Ah, but," protested Mrs. McGee, gently "she's only like that when I'm not here to control her. When I'm here she's as quiet as any lamb; but if I don't just happen to be by, she's better than a watchdog, so she is, bless her."

"Well, it's a small matter," said Mr. Topley. "I can say it here just as well as anywhere. I've been thinking of asking your friend, Mrs. Gray, to marry me. What do you think of that?"

Mrs. McGee flushed rather more deeply; but that was the only sign of emotion she betrayed. "Mrs. Gray's a fine woman," she said, quietly.

"Aye," said Topley, "and she's got a bit of money of her own, too."

"I shouldn't wonder," said Mrs. McGee, softly. "A plain old woman like that has got to have something to recommend her." And she looked down coyly at her neat little shoe and tried to assume an air of indifference.

"Well, you know," said Mr. Topley, "at my time of life one looks for something more than mere beauty. I'm not young enough for that."

"You're a fine figure for a man, though," protested Mrs. McGee, in her playful way.

"Ah, I dessay I'm as good as some of the young ones yet," replied Topley, evidently appreciating the compliment.

"'Tis not for me to be spreadin' gossip," said Mrs. McGee, "but I have heard that Mrs. Gray is fond of her drop, and gets a bit light-headed at times in consequence."

Mr. Topley passed on his way; and Mrs. McGee walked indoors to review her position. About an hour later she went for a stroll in the neighborhood of Mrs. Gray's house, and was not at all surprised to find that lady in her garden sweeping up the fallen leaves. She had, indeed, reckoned on finding her so engaged.

"Good evening," said Mrs. McGee, sweetly.

"Good evening," said Mrs. Gray, shortly.

"You were telling me the other day how fond ye are of goat's milk," said Mrs. McGee, talking quickly for fear of interruption. "Well, now it just happens that my brother in London is sending me down a fine goat, and as I can't very well keep a couple of them, I was wondering if ye'd let me present ye with the nanny I've got at present. She's a dear creature and a fine milker, and she'll be no use to me by and by."

Mrs. Gray came to the gate all smiles. She could not thank Mrs. McGee sufficiently. Mrs. McGee said she was glad to have been able to do something towards making them more cordial as neighbors, and said she would have the goat sent up as soon as the new one arrived from London.

It may have been an accident, or it may have been the long arm of coincidence, but Mrs. McGee decided on the Wednesday that Mr. Topley had fixed for his proposal. The first intimation Mrs. Gray had of the matter was the excited shouting of a couple of laboring men who stood at her garden gate with the obstreperous goat between them.

Mrs. Gray had come smiling to her door as soon as she saw the goat, but the playful creature was released from the hands that held her, and came bouncing up the gravel path with head lowered for action. Mrs. Gray hurried indoors and went to the parlor window to reconnoitre. The playful goat spent a minute or so in butting a nice apple tree to shivers, after which she bit a large hole in a laurel bush and then rolled over the rest of it, as if determined to wallow in all the luxury possible while liberty remained to her.

Mrs. Gray stood at her window dumb with horror as she watched the wreckage of her garden. A greater horror was presently in store for her, however, for a few minutes later Mr. Topley, dressed in his Sunday best, came up to the gate with a jaunty step and lifted the latch.

Mrs. Gray tapped the window furiously to give him warning, but in his excited state of mind he entirely misapprehended the movement. He took it for a friendly greeting of encouragement, and waved his hand genially as he entered the garden and walked down the path.

The goat gave a gasp of delight, and shut one eye so as to make a truer aim at Mr. Topley's rotund figure. The next moment, propelling herself from a cucumber frame which she used as a spring board, she shot through the air and caught Mr. Topley very neatly just between the shoulders, driving him headlong through the privet hedge that separated the front garden of Mrs. Gray's cottage from her back yard.

Mr. Topley, mistaking the nature of his assailant for the moment, called to the other man to come on. At the same moment he discovered the playful goat prancing towards him with the sideways movement peculiar to the breed, and he at once darted behind the hedge again. Mrs. Gray opened the window to encourage him, and to express her deep regret at the disaster, but Mr. Topley was in no mood to listen to anything. He simply made a series of rushes from cover to cover till he reached the garden gate, and, once on the other side, he paused for a moment and shook his fist angrily at Mrs. Gray.

* * * * * * *

"Yes, Mrs. McGee," he said, as he found that lady at her gate a few minutes later, "you were right about that old woman Gray. I shall always take your advice in the future. We'd make a fine couple. Will you marry me?"

"Faith," said Mrs. McGee, "it's myself that would be refusing a handsome man like you. Come into the porch and take a cup of tea."—[illegible] Goldsworthy in P. I. P.

MACHINE COVER AND CHAIR.

Can Be Quickly Removed from Machine and Folded Into Chair.

A unique device recently patented by a New York man is an attachment for use in covering the operating parts of a sewing machine and having combined therewith means whereby the base of the cover serves as a support for a chair, which can be used by the operator of the machine when the cover is removed. As shown in the illustration, the cover incloses the machine when the latter is not in use, the seat and back of the chair folding in front. The cover thus occupies but a minimum space, and as the chair portions extend downward behind the machine they do not detract from the appearance of the machine or interfere with its free movement from place to place. When it is desired to use the sewing machine the cover is removed and the parts folded to form the chair. The base of the cover forms a support for the chair, hooks holding the back in a vertical position.—Washington Star.

Recession of flood waters in Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, and neighboring cities permitted the rescue of thousands of half-starved survivors from houses in the edge of the inundated areas and promised the relief of practically all in central Ohio.

Many who were supposed to have drowned have been found alive.

Relief trains have reached Dayton; naval reserves and militia are actively engaged in taking refugees from their flood prisons, and doctors and nurses are caring for the sick and dealing out the provisions sent from Chicago, Toledo and other cities.

The flood situation in Dayton is this:

Previous estimates of the number drowned are greatly exaggerated. The total probably will not be more than 200.

The property loss from fire will not exceed $1,500,000.

The damage caused to mercantile houses, factories and residences will run anywhere from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The water has receded from the business section of the city and from a large portion of the residence part.

There is no lack of food. The telephone systems are being restored.

There is much suffering from cold, but all available fuel has been appropriated and there is prospect of immediate relief.

So far there has been no epidemic of sickness, although several cases of pneumonia have been reported.

One thousand militiamen have the city in rigid control, effectively squelch looting, sight-seeing that will interfere with rescue work, and all disorder.

Looters Are at Work.

With the receding of the floods in Dayton and other submerged towns in Ohio and Indiana scores of looters have appeared and are being summarily dealth with by the police and militiamen guarding the property of the flood victims.

Communication was re-established with Dayton and other towns. Reports from Dayton are that many shots were heard fired within the flood zone early in the day, and these were taken to indicate that the guardsmen are carrying out their stringent orders—"Shoot to kill."

Miamisburg, the town of 8,000 population, which has up to the present been an unknown quantity in the flood situation, was reached last night, and reported that the death list there will not exceed twenty-five.

Troops Watch for Vandals.

West Indianapolis practically is under martial law and none but organized rescuers and persosn bearing passes from the governor's office are permitted to enter that section of the city. State tropps are patrolling the district to run down and capture vandals, who left plain traces of robberies of stores and abandoned homes in the early evening.

NEW SCHOOL FOR IRONWOOD

People Decide to Build $100,000 Structure.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 1.—The people of Ironwood, leading city of the Gogebic iron range, have decided to erect a $100,000 building on the site of the old Central school recently destroyed by fire.

Tentative plans submitted by Green Bay, Wis., architects have been accepted by the board of education. The dimensions of the proposed structure are 92 by 161 feet.

Found Guilty of Embezzlement.

Bessemer, Mich., April 1. — N. A. Fitzsimmons, who has been on trial here for the last three weeks for embezzlement of funds of the Ironwood bank, was found guilty.

J. P. MORGAN DEAD

Financier Succumbs After Several Weeks' Illness.

WAS UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS

Three Physicians, His Daughter and His Son-in-Law at the Death Bed—Unable to Take Nourishment, the Financier's Heart Becomes Affected Owing to Extreme Nervous Congestion—His Last Words.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the American financier, died at 12:05 p. m. at Rome, Italy.

His physicians—Dr. Starr of New York, Dr. Bastianelli of Rome and Dr. Dixon—and his son-in-law, Herbert T. Satterlee, and his daughter, Mrs. Satterlee, were at his bedside.

He had been unconscious for several hours. Earlier in the day his physicians had issued a bulletin declaring that the end was to be expected at any minute.

For two days Mr. Morgan had been unable to take nourishment. His heart became affected, owing to extreme nervous congestion, and it became apparent that he could live only a brief time.

Dr. Starr of New York attributes J. P. Morgan's breakdown to emotion caused by the investigation carried on by the Pujo committee at Washington into the operations of the alleged "money trust."

Bulletin by Physicians.

A bulletin issued by the three physicians shortly before Mr. Morgan's death said:

"A week ago Mr. Morgan was persuaded to go to bed and remain there to conserve his strength. Until Wednesday afternoon he did very well under this regimen. He rested and slept without the aid of drugs and took satisfactory nourishment. Wednesday afternoon he began to refuse food, and since then it has been impossible to nourish him. He has lost weight and strength very rapidly. His nervous system is showing this and it has added to the strain seriously. Mr. Morgan has not developed any organic trouble, but is so exceedingly weak that his present condition must be considered most critical."

Mr. Morgan's Last Words.

The last words uttered by Mr. Morgan were a request to have his limbs massaged, a treatment which had often been given to him on former occasions when suffering from nervous disorders.

All attempts to make the patient swallow anything, even water, had been in vain. The physicians explained that this was due to the lack of functional vitality in the nerve centers, which, under such conditions, arrested the functioning of the organs. They had opposed the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Satterlee to remove Mr. Morgan to London, considering that any exposure would be extremely dangerous.

TURKEY GIVES IN TO POWERS

Unreservedly Accepts Terms of Peace Proposed by Them.

The Turkish government declared that it unreservedly accepted the terms of peace proposed by the European powers.

The foreign office handed the Ottoman acceptance to the dean of the diplomatic corps, accompanied by an expression of thanks to the powers for their mediation.

PORT HURON—Alexander Schneider, a German, who was lodged in the jail here by the immigration officials, committed suicide by hanging himself with his shirt from a bar of the window in his cell. It is thought that the man was insane. An inquest will be held.

153 DEAD IDENTIFIED AFTER OMAHA STORM

Commercial Club Formulates Plan to Rebuild City.

At Omaha, Neb., two more victims of the terrible tornado there have died of injuries. They were Mrs. Pearl Adams, a bride of three weeks, wife of a street car conductor, and Mrs. E. S. Snyder, whose home was at Twenty-Fourth and Lake streets. One hundred and twelve dead have been identified within the city of Omaha. Council Bluffs and other adjacent cities reported forty-two, making a total of 153.

Plans of the Omaha Commercial club to finance the rebuilding of the devastated districts on a loan basis to the needy were told by Eugene T. Lies of the United Charities. He attended a meeting of the club, when plans to raise several hundred thousand dollars which will be loaned to the poor on easy terms were made.

LEWIS AND SHERMAN WIN

Elected United States Senators from the State of Illinois.

At Springfield, Ill., Wednesday, Col. James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, Chicago, for the long term, and Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican, Macomb, for the short term, have been elected to the United States senate.

Thus was the double senatorial deadlock broken in a Democratic-Republican combination. It ended the agony that has been on here since Feb. 11. The moose men stood by Frank H. Funk of Bloomington.

STURGIS—While he was going to his place of work, George Taylor, night watchman at the Freeland Tank factory, was taken suddenly ill and stopped in at a home to rest. A doctor was summoned, but he died two minutes later. It is thought he died of some kind of poison.

WINTER LINGERS IN UPPER PENINSULA

Nestoria, Mich., April 1.—Winter is lingering in the lap of spring in upper Michigan. In many localities there is more snow at present than at any time during the cold weather season, and in the thick woods of the copper country the ground is covered by its mantle of white to a depth of fifty inches. Drifts ten feet high are not uncommon in the Keweenaw peninsula.

The winter has been unusual. Runners gave way to wheels during January, while March was marked by the heaviest precipitation of the season. The last thirty days have witnessed a number of storms that have piled up snow along the shore of Lake Superior and have given the railroads more trouble than at any time since the preceding winter. Precipitation of this kind, as heavy as it is, causes no worry, however.

Each spring the snow disappears within a few days, with little annoyance and with no inundation of more than minor nature. The white mantle is welcome, too, and particularly by the lumbermen and farmers, for in the one case it gives opportunity to get hundreds of millions of feet of logs out of the woods economically, and in the other case it protects fields from frost and permits of cultivation early in the spring.

HASTINGS — Michigan State Railroad Commissioner C. L. Glasgow of Nashville, and Former State Senator W. W. Potter of Hastings were speakers at the annual banquet of the Knights of Pythias here, Glasgow lauding the purposes of the order and Potter relating its history. The banquet was followed by dancing.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a yote.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, billousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hsngs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Hafiin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

MAY DEWOLF

When the news of the death of May DeWolf reached Tecumseh, a deep sadness filled every heart but with the sadness came the rejoicing; that she had attained the peace and rest, for which her whole life had so fitted her.

She has been a great sufferer for many years, but during this time she could always comfort her friends in their troubles, or rejoice with them in their happiness. She was born in Tecumseh, graduated from our schools and has lived nearly all her life here. A more beautiful conscientious and perfect life has never been lived, an active member of the Baptist church, and of the Kings Daughters, giving of her best always.

Only her near friends could realize the help she has given them, both in the life she lived and the counsel she gave. This life has now passed into joy of her Lord and its memory will prove a perpetual inspiration.

Three sisters, Mrs. Alfred James and Dr. Winifred DeWolf of Detroit, and Mrs. Sam James of Los Angeles, California, and a brother Royal DeWolf of Ann Arbor, Mich., two nieces and a nephew mourn the loss of their loved one.

ARA FULLER

Ara Fuller, who lived on his farm just west of town, passed away Friday March 28, at 5:30 p. m. after an illness of two weeks aged 69 years. The funeral was held from the home Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. G. H. Whitney officiating with burial at Brookside Cemetery.

REV. T J JOSLYN

Rev. T. J. Joslyn of Pontiac a former presiding Elder of this district passed away at his home Wednesday March 26 from a stroke of paralysis. He was 84 and for more than 50 years was an active Methodist preacher in Michigan beginning to preach when only 18 years old.

Rev. Joslin was superannated about ten years ago and has made his home in Pontiac for a number of years

MRS JAMES WARREN

Mrs. Anna Warren was born in Duckenfield England July 19, 1828 and came to America when a young girl. She was united in marriage to James Warren in Buffalo, they coming to Tecumseh in 1849. Mr. Warren passed away in 1887 and in 1890. Mrs Warren and her daughter Alice went to Detroit, where they have resided until the present time. One daughter, Mary died a number of years ago. Mrs. Warren's death was due to the weakness of old age.

"Night came releasing her from labor
And a hand from out of darkness
Touched her, and she slept."

DANIEL KETCHAM

Daniel Ketcham the pioneer railroad man of Lenawee Co passed away at his home, in Adrian Thursday morning at the age of 85 years.

For 51 years he was in the employ of the Lake Shore road and nearly every man woman or child in Lenawee Co remembers uncle Dan Ketchum, the genial conductor. He retired from service four years ago and has lived a quiet life at his home.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:
68¾ Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:
67¾ Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

Prominent Wedding

IN TECUMSEH APRIL 2, DR. CHAS. McARTHUR AND DR. HELEN VALENS

An elegant simplicity marked the appointments of the wedding of Miss Helen Valens of Tecumseh to Dr. Charles McArthur of Swift Current, Sask. which was solemnized at the home of Mr. E. H. Halliday, on Wednesday evening April 2nd, at 5 o'clock. Rev. W. B. Weld officiated in the presence of only the immediate family and friends.

Trailing vines and daffodills were used with stunning effect throughout the rooms and the dining room. A tall bank of palms was used for the back ground of the ceremony.

The bride is a popular Osteopathe doctor, has lived in Tecumseh nearly four years and has made many friends. The bride's gown was white meteor satin, draped with chiffon roses, held in place by clusters of french knots and elaborately trimmed with shadow lace. The dress was entraine and decollete. She carried a boquet of white roses. The bridegroom is a prominent physician and ranch owner of Swift Current Sask. and was dressed in conventional black.

While the ring service was spoken, Miss Genevieve Halliday played "O Promise Me" the words of which were sung by Miss Common a cousin of the bride, an organist and noted musician of Galt Ont. After Congratulations they proceeded to the dining room where the thirty guests were seated, at one large table and several small ones. An elaborate dinner was served, Mrs. Kendryx catering. They left on the evening train for a short trip. The brides travelling suit being a brown french serge smartly tailored, with a chic hat to match.

The gifts were many and beautiful that of the groom being an elegant diamond ring. The handkerchief which she carried was the gift of her brother who brought it from Japan on his late trip abroad. Her mother brought her from Scotland a most elaborate white linen embroidered bed spread woven in one solid piece.

The guests from out of town were Mrs. Valens, mother of the bride Galt Ont., Miss Common of Galt Ont Evans Valens, Hamilton Ont. and Miss Elsie Valens, Detroit Mich.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The Merry-go round Club entertained at dinner at 6:30 Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Chilson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowen, Mr. Gerdon Garlinghouse and Ethel being the host and hostesses. A fine dinner was served after which the usual ten games of cards were played.

The lucky prize winner being G. A. Rathbun and Mrs. Floyd Ager, Booby Charles Bidwell and Mrs. J. Q. Look.

A most delightful evening was reported.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF LENAWEE, ss.

Probate Court for the County of Lenawee.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Adrian, on the 3rd day of April in the year one thousand, nine hundred and thirteen.

Present, HARRY L. LARWILL, Judge of Probate.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Frederick B. Wood, praying that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be duly proved and admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted to petitioner, the executor named in said instrument, or to some other suitable person.

It is Ordered, That Monday the 28th day of April, next at nine o'clock in the forenoon be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

FROM OUR FRIENDS IN THE FLOODED DISTRICT

One by one the letters are coming from the flood sufferers relieving the tension of their friends. F. B. Wood received a long letter from his sister, Mrs. Baird reporting herself and family as safe and well as usual. They are with relatives of Mr. Baird and as yet are unable to tell if anything is saved of their belongings as they were in the midst of the flood.

M. E. Conklin also has a card from his daughter Mrs. Blocker all safe and their house full with those who were driven from their homes when the floods came. The Blockers were fortunate in being on high ground and so escape. Mail has to be transferred to near by towns by automobile or horseback and postage is scarce.

Friend McNiel is in receipt of a letter from his son Leon in Findley Ohio He tells of taking his wife and children out through the window to a neighbor's house, as they had an upstairs to go to. They took up their carpets and piled their goods high on tables and chairs. He was more fortunate than many as when the waters began to recede, he had some coal for heating and cooking as the gas supply was cut off, and groceries were delivered in row boats

Mr F. S. Temple has received quite a number of post cards from Fremont Ohio showing the condition of that town during the late flood. They were sent by Mr. John Combs and one view was of the house he lived at one time. This was submerged to the second story. Another picture taken three days later, showed the drying out, where every available space is filled with bedding clothes and etc.

Miss Amy Hughes of Findley, Ohio wrote to Dr. Valens that so much destruction and desolation surrounded them, that she had not the heart to think of coming to Tecumseh for the wedding.

Manufacture of Cider in Dry Counties Not Illegal

The saloon forces are again at work in their campaign of misrepresentation in an effort to divert the attention of the voter from the real purpose of the Local Option Law. They now tell you, Mr. Voter, that cider making in dry counties is illegal, and an attempt to prove it by a statement signed by some cider makers in some far away county.

If Lenawee County Goes Wet the Cider Law will be Just the the Same as It is Now.

The cider law is the same NOW that it has been for the past 20 years, and that it will be in Lenawee County, no matter what the result is next Monday. If it is illegal to make cider now it will be illegal if the county goes wet. Read the Attorney General's Opinion on this important matter.

THE CIDER LAW EXPLAINED

STATE OF MICHIGAN
OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL
LANSING

FRANZ C. KUHM,
Attorney General.
HENRY E. CHASE
Deputy Attorney General.

MR. W. GLENN COWELL,
Prosecuting Attorney, Coldwater, Mich.

January 19, 1912.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of December 28th, in which you ask whether or not the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the people vs Eberle, 18 D. L. N. 786, prohibits the manufacture ann sale of sweet cider and cider vinegar.

For reply thereto would say that prior to the decision of the supreme court in this case, the Attorney General held in an opinion to the Honorable Wayne Simmons, Judge of Probate, Kalkaska, Michigan, under date of September 15, 1909, a copy of which is herein enclosed that the word "cider" as used in the local option statute did not include cider vinegar. That the local option statute did not include the unfermented product and did not include cider vinegar. That the local option statute was not intended to include the sweet or unfermented cider is evident from the title and provisions of the statute, which purport to prohibit the manufacture and sale of vinous, malt, brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, or mixed liquors and beverages any part of which is intoxicating.

We are therefore of the opinion that the decision in the case of People vs Eberle does not change the rule that sweet or unfermented cider and cider vinegar may lawfully be manufactured and sold in those counties where the local option law has been adopted

Very respectfully,
(Sdg.) FRANK C. KUHN
Attorney General.

The foregoing opinion by the Attorney General should effectually settle the saloon man's latest effort to divert the attention of the voter from the fact that the purpose of the Local Option Law is to close the saloon.

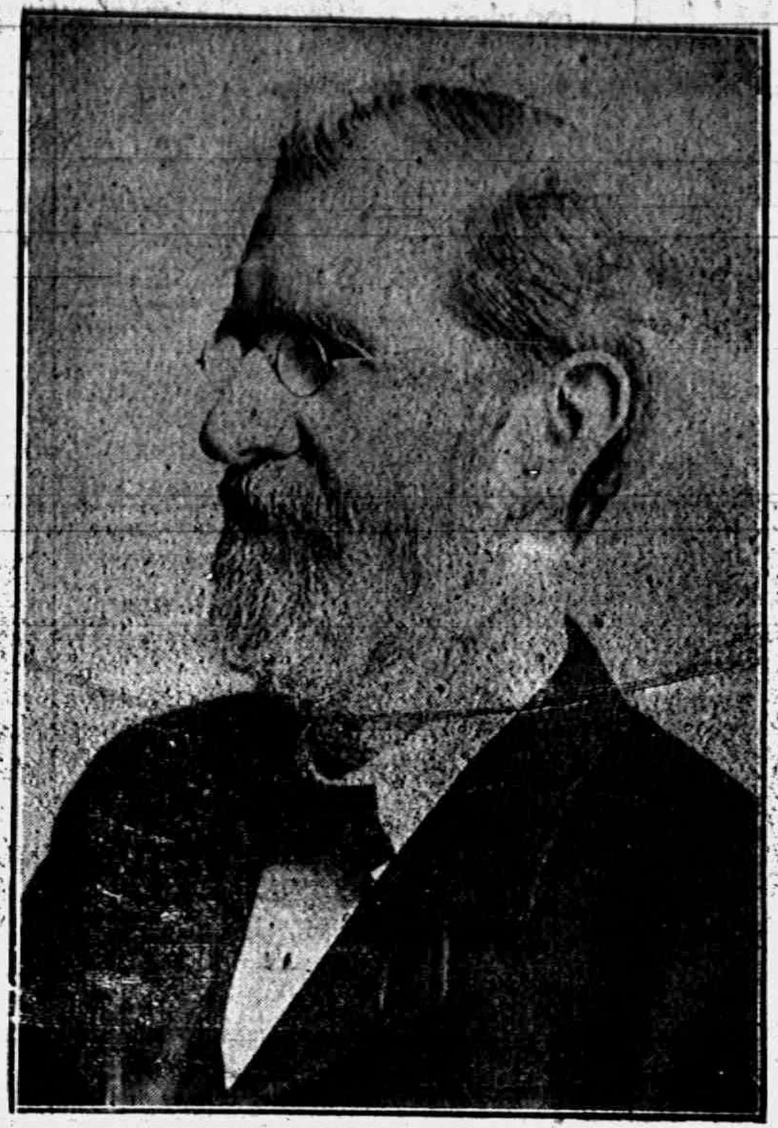
Coming to Tecumesh and not finding any trace of him he returned home, Later John Smith found him on the street. After getting him a breakfast, he procured a ticket and sent him home. He was in a pitiable condition having evidently tramped all night and his mental condition was far from good.



DEATH OF ALFRED JAMES

Tecumseh's Oldest Mason.

PASSING OF ONE OF TECUMSEH'S MOST PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN, PROMINENT MASON, AND PROMINENT POLITICIAN MOURNED BY THE WHOLE COMMUNITY. MASONIC FUNERAL, FRIDAY 2 P. M AT THE HOME; 2:30 P. M. AT THE PRESBYTEIAN CHURCH.

A death in our community so often brings sadness only to the few but in this death sadness was shared by the whole community when the announcement came from Ypsilanti Wednesday morning that Mr. James had passed away in that city where he had gone for treatment for rheumatism.

Mr, James was born in England May 12, 1831 coming to Tecumseh in 1845 and has resided here for 68 years. He has been a strong, staunch democrat and has held most every office in the county: Supervisor, Chairman of Board Supervisors, Village President, Member of the Village board, and Township Treasurer. He has been a prominent Mason and the oldest Past High Priest of R. A. M, 42, Secretary of Blanchard Council and President of Masonic Benefit Association. He had one of the largest insurance offices in the county carrying eighteen companies for twenty years, necessitating a a vast amount of work and taking a great pride in ballancing his accounts with these companies every month, himself.

He always assumed his share in the new industries that presented themselves and was identified with several at the present time. He was owner of the James block taking great pride in the Masonic temple which was in the building.

Mr. James was a most interesting man to listen to with his reminiscences of early days having a fund of anecdotes and a vivid memory, He was a man of a most kindly disposition and few could appeal to him for aid without a generous response, and many times he gave unsolicited and unknown to those in need, He was a man who was never old, but grew young as the years passed by.

He will be missed from our streets and from the many places where he called for a friendly chat.

His name adds another to the list of the pioneers who have done so much to make Tecumseh a beautiful village of homes, and now his work is done and well done, and he has laid down to rest,

The funeral is being held this afternoon from the home at 2 o'clock and from the Presbyterian church at 2:30 under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

He leaves a wife, two sons, Alfred James of Detroit and Sam James of Los Angeles, a daughter Mrs. Ernest Gamble of Coldwater and five grandchildren with the two step daughters to mourn him.

BENEFIT FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

The clerks of the Webster Anderson Co store have reasons to congratulate themselves on the success of their picture show of last evening and of the goodly sum that they have raised for the flood sufferers. They sold 1480 tickets and these with a number of generous gifts from friends brought the amount to $110 clear of all expense. This is certainly good work.

A telegram has been sent to the Red Cross Society in Washington to direct them where this money can be best used,

We feel very gratified for the patronage given our undertaking and wish to thank those who assisted in making it a success. Especially those who rendered the programme; also to Mr. Marks for his generous donation from his share of the profits.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases. Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St. tell it.

He says. "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Velbert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments,

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alterative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

M. MAGUIRE, ESQ.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes MR. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

You Know Us

We are in business right here where you live. You are an acquaintance, neighbor or a friend of ours. This money-back-if-not-satisfied offer should prove the sincerity of our claims.

When we say we believe we have the best laxative and back up our statement with our unqualified promise to return without question or formality the money paid us for it, if it does not prove entirely satisfactory to you, we believe we are entitled to your confidence.

Our business success and prestige depend upon your confidence in us. We know we must secure and hold your confidence in order to get and keep your patronage. Therefore, we would not dare make this offer if we were not positively certain that we can prove our claims for

Our experience with them and the many reports we have received from those who have used them prove that they are really the most pleasing and satisfactory bowel remedy we know of.

Rexall Orderlies taste like candy. They are soothing and easy in action. They don't cause griping, nausea, purging or excessive looseness, as do the usual physic or laxative. Rexall Orderlies seem to act as a tonic-strengthener upon the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They promptly relieve constipation. They act to overcome the cause of constipation. They tend to eliminate the cause of sick headache, biliousness, bad breath, nervousness and other ills attendant upon inactive bowels.

Make Us Prove This.

We want you to come to our store and get a package of Rexall Orderlies. Use a few or use up the entire box. Then, if you are not entirely satisfied, come back and tell us and we will promptly return the money you paid us for them.

You promise nothing—you sign nothing—you obligate yourself to us in no way whatever. We accept your mere word.

Don't you now believe that Rexall Orderlies are worthy of a trial? Could any offer be more fair?

Try Them at Our Risk

Rexall Orderlies come in vest pocket tin boxes. 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c. Usual dose one tablet.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

PIONEER KILLED BY TRAIN

John B. Lezotte Found Dead Beside Railroad Track.

Rockwood, Mich., April 1.—John B. Lezotte, one of Rockwood's most prominent and philanthropic citizens, was killed on his way home, supposedly by the Lake Shore fast train, although his body was not found beside the tracks until morning.

Mr. Lezotte was seventy-eight years of age, and lived here with Minnie Pelky, his daughter. He served through the Civil War in the Eighteenth Michigan infantry and for a time after the war followed the lakes as a sailor.

have been able to enter this district, where the water fell more than seven feet during the night. Members of the board of public safety and other city officials inspected the entire flooded district from motor boats and directed efficient organizations of the relief workers, aiding the state troops and state officials in every possible way.

Reported Loss at Howesville.

Rumors not fully confirmed tell of death and heavy property loss at Howesville, twenty-five miles south of Terre Haute, in Brown county, and in several small towns. Terre Haute is suffering greater dangers than at any time since the beginning of the floods, and Vincennes and smaller towns in Sullivan, Knox, Gibson and Posey counties may suffer repetitions of the horrors at Peru and West Indianapolis.

Indescribable conditions prevail among the refugees, who are increasing in numbers as the receding waters open up formerly isolated districts. Sanitary conditions among the hundreds sheltered in the courthouse at Peru became so bad that the boats began removing them to other places.

Reports that many persons had been killed in the floods in Logansport were dispelled. So far only one body has been recovered, and it is believed that the loss of life will not be great.

Great Loss of Property.

Estimates on the property loss place it at $50,000,000 or more. Factories, farms, homes and railroads have been destroyed throughout affected territory. Bridges are wrecked at hundreds of points between the Illinois and Pennsylvania state lines and livestock by hundreds, perhaps thousands, is lost in the deluge.

In addition perhaps one million persons are thrown out of employment, while the loss to business cannot be figured.

Cities all through Indiana and Ohio, including Indianapolis, are isolated. Roadways are flooded and railroads are washed out, so that train service has been abandoned on many of the lines.

Ohio River on Rampage.

Towns along the Ohio river in Ohio and Indiana are experiencing the greatest flood in years. Not since the devastating floods of 1884 has the water risen to such heights as were reached today.

At Cincinnati the river has reached a stage of 65.9 feet and still rising. One hundred and twenty blocks in that city and the cities of Covington and Newport, across the Ohio, in Kentucky, are submerged from one to ten feet.

The river is rising rapidly. Suffering is at a minimum owing to ample warning.

All street car lines are out of commission, the approach to the suspension bridge being under water. Another rise of a foot will put all car lines in Covington and Newport out of commission.

Loss of Life Reported.

The water from the Muskingum river, which flooded Zanesville, Ohio, is coming down fast and many houses believed to have come from Marietta, Ohio, have passed by on the flood.

Loss of life has been reported at Cincinnati from the villages of Harrison, Cleves, Valley Junction and New Bethlehem, located at the mouth of the Great Miami river. Twenty-two dead is the estimate.

Twelve bodies have been recovered at Harrison, two at Cleves, six at Valley Junction and two at New Bethlehem.

At Evansville, Ind., the stage is 42.2 feet and rising. White river has swept away the Hazelton fill on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad and that road's bridge is endangered.

Governor Dunne has ordered 1,500 state troops to proceed on special trains to Cairo and Shawneetown to patrol the levees. Hundreds of laborers also have been sent to pile sacks on the levees in the hope of strengthening them and preventing a break.

GRAND RAPIDS — Byron Pierce aged eighty years, a pioneer carpenter of Grand Rapids, while shoveling off his front sidewalk, was seized with heart attack and died. He had resided here sixty years.

RIVERA BITTER TOWARD HUERTA

Says Slaying of Madero Is Blot on His Country.

REVOLUTION WILL CONTINUE

Colonel in Mexican Army, Now Refugee in Mobile, Thinks That Majority of Countrymen Will Insist Upon Change of Regime—Tells Terrible Tale of Killing of Gonzales.

Mobile, Ala., April 7. — Louis Rivera, a colonel in the Mexican army and a close friend of the late Gustavo Madero, brother of the murdered Mexican president, says that there will be no peace in Mexico until the slayers of Madero and Suarez are displaced from power. He is bitter against General Huerta, the provisional president, whom he calls a traitor, and declares the intelligent people of Mexico will not countenance tactics that have put a blot upon the name of their country.

Calls for Huerta Resignation.

"There is but one course for the murderers of General Madero to adopt," exclaimed Colonel Rivera, "and that is to resign and submit to the creation of a constitutional government. The government of Huerta is not constitutional and there are enough sticklers for the constitution in Mexico to prevent the possibility of peace. The memory of the black day when Madero and Suarez were shot to death in the palace cannot be erased. The people have not forgotten the days of terror and rapine in Mexico City. They know that it is the power of the musket that is keeping the slayers of Madero in power, and they know that the vote next July at the election will be cast under musket rule. The result is a foregone conclusion. It will be Diaz and De la Barra, but there are enough patriotic Mexicans to contest the rule of blood and bullets. The flag of revolution will be kept afloat, and there will be no peace until the murder of Madero is revenged by his countrymen."

How Gonzales Met Death.

Colonel Rivera brought the details of the murder of Abram Gonzales former governor of Chihuahua and minister of the interior under Porfirio Diaz. He said the assassination of Madero and Suarez and the burning of Hernandez were refined cruelty as compared with the diabolical murder of Governor Gonzales. He was being conveyed under guard of Huerta's soldiers tfrom Chihuahua to Mexico City, when the station of Napulo was reached by the train. The prisoner was shackled and his hands tied behind him. His feet were bound, and the soldiers took his helpless body to the front of the train, uncoupled the cars and threw the body between them. The signal to advance was given the engineer and the body was mangled under the wheels of the coaches. The soldiers went back a few minutes later, and, finding the unfortunate writhing in agony, fired into his head with their rifles. They then took the body and covered it partly with stones. When the relatives of the murdered man went to claim it, they found that wolves and coyotes had pulled away the stones and eaten the corpse.

American Ambassador Accused.

Washington, April 7.—Charges that Henry Lane Wilson, United States ambassador to Mexico, was "responsible morally" for the assassination of President Madero and Vice President Suarez of Mexico were filed with the state department by Luis Manuel Rojas, vice president of the Mexican congress and grand master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of the Valley of Mexico.

Huerta Won't Quit.

New Orleans, April 7.—Official denial of the reported intention of General Huerta to resign the presidency of Mexico in favor of Pedro Lascurain, minister of foreign relations in the Madero cabinet, was received here from Minister of Foreign Affairs De la Barra by Dr. Ornelas, consul general of Mexico, at New Orleans. The message reads: "News relating to the appointment of Senor Lascurain absolutely false."

WILSON TO READ TARIFF MESSAGE

Precedent of Long Standing to Be Broken Tomorrow.

CONGRESS IS FLABBERGASTED

President Intends to Deliver Recommendations Regarding Action of Special Session by Word of Mouth Before Both Branches of Congress in Joint Session.

Washington, April 7. — President Wilson will go in person to the house of representatives tomorrow and read his first message to congress, setting forth the purpose for which he has called the special session. It will be the first time since the days of John Adams, the second president of the United States, that a chief executive will have read his message to congress.

It is explained that President Wilson has decided to change the practice of more than a century because he believes that it is the best method for the president to cultivate intimate relations with the legislative branch of the government.

Congress Is All Agape.

This announcement set congress to gasping as nothing has since Mr. Wilson was inaugurated. No president, so far as the records diclose, has personally delivered any other than his annual message to congress. In this respect President Wilson's action apparently will set a precedent, as the message which he will send to congress on Tuesday will be of a special character, dealing with the tariff.

President Wilson agrees with George Washington and John Adams that the president clearly has the constitutional right to deliver his message personally to congress if he chooses to do so.

The constitution lays no restriction or limitation upon the manner in which information and recommendations shall be delivered.

George Washington throughout his two terms and John Adams, in his term rode annually to the capitol to deliver his message to the house and senate in joint session. Until Dec. 8, 1801, the president of the United States delivered to congress his annual message in this way.

Jefferson Sent His Message.

In 1801, however, when Thomas Jefferson, Mr. Wilson's great Democratic predecessor, entered office, he discontinued the practice of Washington and Adams. He sent his first annual message to congress by his secretary, accompanying it with a letter of explanation to the presiding officer of each house.

Since Jefferson transmitted this letter to the house and senate, all presidential messages have been communicated to both houses on the same day.

Representative Underwood will introduce a concurrent resolution calling a session of both the houses in the lower chamber and the president will deliver his message before the senate as well as the house. This was the way Washington and Adams did it.

CAIRO IS VICTOR AS WATER FALLS

Levees Hold and People Resume Usual Avocations.

WORKMEN QUIT THE LEVEES

Adjutant General Dickson Brings Supplies and Proceeds on Up to Shawneetown, from Whence He Will Return and Make Headquarters at Cairo—Ohio Carries Wreckage.

Cairo, Ill., April 7.—Cairo has entered on its second week of flood menace with more than 1,000 soldiers camped in its borders, its high water mark nearly a foot greater than in any previous flood in the history of the city and with scores and hundreds of refugees returning to the city and taking up again their residence and business.

For the first time since the Ohio started its present rise a recession of the water has been noted here. The river now is practically stationary, with a falling tendency. The stage is 54.7 feet. Danger still menaces the city, however, from the seepage through the levees or from results that might follow a high wind.

Dickson Brings Relief.

Adjutant General Dickson, on the steamer Illinois, brought eighty-five tons of supplies, which will be distributed among the flood refugees.

The steamer went up the river, making its first stop at Mound City, and then continued as far as Shawneetown. Rations are being distributed wherever needed. Adjutant General Dickson said that on his return from Shawneetown, he would establish headquarters here.

The Big Four railroad took 500 laborers to Mound City and put them at work on the levees there. It now is thought the place is safe.

Workmen Quit Levees.

Workmen, temporarily laid off the levee are moving householders and business men with their goods from second and third stories down to the ground floor, and many who "never would live in Cairo again" have joined the unofficial tactical boards which gather on every corner and criticise the handling of the situation.

Dissension that has existed between the citizens and the state troops was buried at a jubilation meeting. Further to cement good will the Cairo baseball team challenged the Seventh Regiment team to a game the first of the week.

For the first time, Colonel Moriarty, commanding military officer, felt sufficiently reassured to go up the river for an inspection trip to his subordinates at Villa Ridge and Mounds.

Much driftwood is passing in the Ohio river, making precarious the operation of boats by the naval reserves. Roofs and entire sides of houses passed by and twelve naval reserves in a steam launch had a narrow escape from being turned over when the craft came in contact with some heavy timbers.

Send Dunne $3,500.

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—More than $3,500 has been received by Governor Dunne in small checks for the relief of Illinois flood sufferers. Additional amounts are coming in with each mail.

Jeffersonville Mayor Quits.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 7.—Because of his pending appointment as postmaster of Jeffersonville, James E. Burke, mayor of Jeffersonville, has tendered his resignation to the city council. The council elected Jonas G. Howard as president pro tem. and he will be elected to serve out Burke's unexpired term at a special meeting April 15.

FUGITIVE SHOOTS HIMSELF TO DEATH

Almora Farm Hand Surrounded after Attempting Murder.

Chicago, April 7.—While a farmers' posse, which had surrounded a barn in which he was hidden, was laying plans to lynch him, James Smith, a young Almora farm hand, stepped out into their midst and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun. Twenty hours before he had fired two charges of buckshot with the same gun through a window into the body of a young woman who rejected him.

Smiths' body was taken to Elgin. When searched by Coroner Norton two letters were found, one from Miss Jansen to Smith, dated March 29, 1913, telling him to keep away from her. Smith's letter explained the act.

"I hope this will be a warning to more of those who are in love," the letter reads. He then tells of becoming infatuated with Miss Jansen, of the trouble between them and his efforts to forget it by drink. He concluded:

"Nothing but death will please me now. I have lost the one that I loved and when a man loses that he might as well be dead."

The tragedy took place at 3 p. m. on the farm of Edward Jansen, a prosperous farmer three miles from Elgin. Within a few rods of where Smith committed suicide stood the Jansen house, where the man the night before had attempted to kill Miss Lillian Jansen as she sat reading. She probably will recover.

Smith had been employed as a farm hand on the Jansen farm. He was discharged because of his unwelcome attentions to Miss Jansen. He had threatened to kill her several times if she did not marry him.

After the shooting of Miss Jansen farmers for miles around were summoned by rural telephone and joined in a man hunt. Hearing of the plans to lynch Smith, Sheriff McBriarey hastily organized a force of deputies at Elgin and started for the scene.

Smith kept out of the mob's reach until about 2:30 p. m. He traveled in a circle and is believed to have unwittingly strayed back to the Jansen farm. Worn out and nearly exhausted from hunger and the cold, he took refuge in a cattle barn. There he was discovered in a hay loft shortly after he had entered the place.

While the posse was being rounded up for a concentrated assault on Smith's hiding place, he crawled into a hay loft. He overheard the posse below discussing plans for lynching him. At the head of the mob were Elmer Swanson, Joe Mallman and Harvey Harris, all prosperous farmers.

Just as the farmers were about to make a rush on the cattle barn, Smith was seen coming out of a door. He was lugging his shotgun—the same one with which he had attempted to murder Miss Jansen. He stepped out into the open, and, placing the muzzle of the weapon to his head, fired. The charge almost decapitated him.

BOMBS IN COLON HARBOR

Dredge Brings Up Explosive of Vintage of 1862.

Panama, April 7.—Twelve eight-inch bombs and a pack of grapeshot have been brought up by a dredge operating in Colon harbor, and it is feared that many more have gone through the discharge pipe into the reclamation fill in E street.

The projectiles were covered with coral deposits two inches thick. When they were scraped they were found to be marked "Ord. D., 1862." The bombs contained black powder in a good state of preservation.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

JOSEPH W. RANSDELL

Louisiana Senator Who Is Fighting Free Sugar.

WILSON SUGAR PLAN MET WITH DISFAVOR

Southern Democrats Predict Ruin if Duty Is Removed.

Washington, April 7.—President Wilson's proffered compromise on sugar, which would mean a 1 cent a pound duty for three years and then free sugar, was rejected by Senator Ransdell, Representative Broussard and Colonel Robert Ewing, Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana.

The Louisianians carried to the White House a strong protest, against free sugar adopted at a meeting in New Orleans of the American Cane Growers' association. They predicted the ruin of the industry if the president persisted in his determination to remove all duty on sugar.

In turn they offered as a compromise the suggestion that the president indorse a 1-cent duty on sugar for three years with the proviso that sugar be made duty free at the end of that period, if in the president's opinion at that time it was advisable.

SAVE NINE FROM FLOOD

Lumbermen Find Three Families Clinging to Roofs in Lowlands.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 7.—Nine men, women and children were taken from their submerged homes in the Jump River lowlands by a party of lumberjacks. Cries of distress were heard by the lumbermen who were in the hills, and when they reached the lowlands in a boat they found three families clustered on the roof of one of the farmhouses. The water was ten feet deep and had reached the second story. The waters were receding and no further floods are expected.

Merrill, Wis., April 7.—The rising waters of the Wisconsin river have isolated this city from the outside world as far as train service is concerned. An immense ice dam has formed about ten miles downstream and unless broken soon serious damage is anticipated.

AUBURN STRIKE NOT SETTLED

Harvester Company Threatens to Remove Twine Plants to Germany.

Auburn, N. Y., April 7. — Repeated conferences failed to bring about a hoped for settlement of the textile strike that has been in progress here for two weeks with an accompaniment of serious disorders.

The big development of the day was the issuance of an ultimatum by the International Harvester company that if its workers do not at once return the mill would be dismantled and the manufacture of twine will be transferred to the company's plants at Neuss, Germany. The strikers are given until Tuesday to answer.

ARSON INQUIRY ENDS WITH 59 INDICTMENTS

Chicago Insurance Companies Denounced for Connivance.

Chicago, April 7.—Fifty-nine indictments, involving 234 charges, an arraignment of the insurance methods of local companies, and recommendation of important reforms in their manner of doing business, form the net results of the "arson trust" grand jury's work, now completed.

A lengthy report was made to Judge Burke, to which the investigating body, of which Frederick T. Haskell, vice president of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, was chairman, made its report.

The principal recommendation is for a clearing house to which all local fire insurance companies shall immediately make report of new policies, in order that this central body may detect possible plans for fraud before the fire actually occurs.

The jury declares that 50 per cent of Chicago's fires are of incendiary origin. It finds that the loss in the period under investigation the last ten years is in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

It finds that some of the insurance companies are more than any one else responsible for the crimes that have defrauded them of this amount. It finds them willingly accepting "rotten risks" in order that they may get the preferred business of the brokers dealing in these risks.

No Answer.

INSPECT ZEPPELIN CRUISER

French Seize Opportunity to Learn German War Secrets.

Paris, France, April 7.—Minute descriptions of the Zeppelin cruiser Z 4, which landed at Luneville and was captured by the French, are already appearing in the French newspapers. These descriptions, which were written by experts, describe the interior of the airship in detail and show that the fears of the German army officers and newspapers that the French had discovered some valuable secrets are well founded.

Many official photographs of the Zeppelin ship were made while she was in the hands of the French officers. The experts differ as to whether she is really such a terrible engine of war and it is evident that there will be a long technical controversy on this subject.

WASHINGTON NOTES

The Tariff Bill

Congress is now tackling the tariff in special session, and it is believed that this bill will be through the House and Senate in a much shorter time than the tariff bills have taken in previous years. The republican opposition have stated that they do not expect to filibuster or in anyway consume time, except as to express their views on the various subjects. The country has been well assured that the tariff will not seriously disturb the business of the and the country business men seem fully satisfied with this assurance for manufacturing and commerce are both going at top notch speed.

It is believed that when the tariff becomes a law it will contain a tax on incomes of probably 1 per cent on all incomes ranging from three thousand to five thousand dollars; 2 per cent on those from five thousand to ten thousand and 3 per cent on those from ten thousand to one hundred thousand and 4 per cent on all over one hundred thousand dollars. The income tax feature of the tariff bill will be subject to much strenuous discussion and will no doubt have several amendments in both the House and and the Senate, but the best authorities seem to think that when it becomes a law it will be somewhere near the above specification. Such an income tax will bring in about one hundred and fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in revenue. This will be the first step in the history of this country towards putting a substantial, though easy tax on the luxuries of the rich. The fact has been evident for many years that the wealth laden class in this country has not born its share of the burden of taxation. We have been taxing the food that the working man eats, the shoes he wears, and the clothes that his wife and children must have, and in this present bill theses taxes on the poor man's necessitties will be removed and placed where they belong.

Pennsylvania has just ratified the amendmet to the Constitution providing for the direct election of Senators. This makes thirty-five states that have ratified this provision and with the ratification of one more state the amendment becomes a law and hereafter Senators will be elected by the Popular vite instead of through the legislatures.

TRAIL OF THE PET FERN.

Mr. Man Will Walk Through Six Rooms to Flick Ashes on It.

After supper Mr. Man lights a cigar and sits down for a comfortable smoke. His wife, with a regard for husband and the neatness of her home evenly divided, places an ash tray on the table near him, and a cuspidor on the floor. The man is comfortable and happy, and would get mad if any household disturbance caused him to leave his chair, but he notices ashes on the end of his cigar, and gets up, passes the ash holder and cuspidor, and crosses the room to drop the ashes on his wife's pet fern. The wife has piled as many as ten ash trays near the man, and surrounded him with cuspidors, but he ignores all of them to find his way to the pet fern. The wife objects, and has been known to put the pet fern in another room to save it, but the man passes the ash trays and cuspidors and walks into the next room to flick off the ash on his cigar. The same man will walk through six rooms, if need be, and pass 375 burnt match holders, to drop his match beside the pet fern. It does no good for the woman to object, or to invest all her pin money in more ash trays, burnt match holders and cuspidors, for the man will never see them on his way to the pet fern. And, so far as domestic history relates, this is the only recognition the man ever gives his wife's plants. And he never does give recognition to the ash trays, cuspidors or burnt match holders.

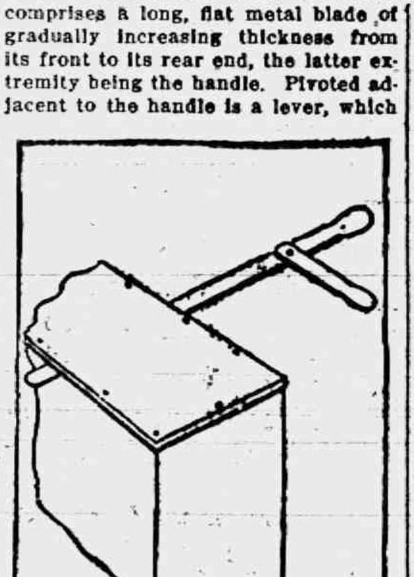
The Higher the Safer.

"The higher you are the safer you are in cross-country flying," says Mr. Drexel, who never feels comfortable flying across country in England at a height of under 800 feet. When Mr. McArdle flew homeward from Bournemouth he lost his way in the air through oil flying from his motor into his face and forming a film over his eyes without his being aware of the fact at the time. He imagined himself to be in a dense mist until he bathed his face in hot water, and so cleared his eyes.

TO PRY OFF BOX SIDES.

Implement with Pivoted Lever for Readily Forcing Off Cover.

An exceedingly simple implement for forcing open the lids of wooden boxes is shown in the illustration below, the invention of an Iowa man. It comprises a long, flat metal blade of gradually increasing thickness from its front to its rear end, the latter extremity being the handle. Pivoted adjacent to the handle is a lever, which swings in the plane of the flat surface of the blade. In operation the blade is forced beneath the box lid, and with the aid of the lever the operator is enabled to pry off the lid with a minimum amount of effort. When not in use the lever can be swung around to register and conform with the outline of handle, the implement when so arranged occupying but little space and being easily carried.—Washington Star.



A POT-POURRI ELECTION

A Little of Everything—Tecumseh Split Ticket—Clinton Republican—Ridgeway Democratic—Tipton Progressive—Macon Republican.

COUNTY DRY 500—WOMAN SUFFERAGE LOST 623—TECUMSEH WET, 3—WOMAN SUFFERAGE NO, 63.

Every voter in Tecumseh that could walk, ride or be carried was at the polls Monday to vote.

The Republicans came with fear and trembling knowing of the split in the party. The Progressives with a do or die expression and the democrats with a strut that they have lacked for many years. Much to the surprise of everybody the vote went wet and the men were not as gallant as we had thought them, as they voted down Woman Suffrage. It was one of the largest votes ever cast in Tecumseh there being nearly 700 votes.

The Progressives showed their strength in Franklin. Republicans in Clinton and Macon as usual. While Ridgeway went Democratic, in Adrian the democrats carried off most of the honors returning their democratic Mayor A. W. Chase.

Formation of Rock.

Rocks are the consolidated material forming the crust of the earth or any representative portion of it; specifically, any bed, layer or mass of the earth's crust, whether consolidated or not. A rock may consist of one mineral species, as limestone, or of several intermingled, as granite. Technically, it is a mixture of minerals except when it is one species in a bed or mass. The constituents of rock are mineral, though they may have been organic, in origin. Crystalline if formed from fusion, igneous if formed beneath the surface, and volvanic if consolidated on the surface of the earth. The larger part of those of the visible crust have been formed by erosion of the older rocks and by transportation of the detritus and its deposition under water. These are called clastic, sedimentary or fragmental rocks; when they are deposited in layers or beds they are called stratified, to distinguish them from the igneous, which are essentially unstratified. Limestones when sedimentary are formed from fragments of calcareous secretions of animals, as coral animals, or of plants such as nullipores. Immense masses of sedimentary rocks have been greatly altered by heat and pressure into a semi-crystalline or fully crystalline condition.

The Ocean Cables.

There are about 225,000 miles of cable in all at the bottom of the sea, representing $250,000,000, each line costing about $1,000 a mile to make and lay. The average useful life of a cable nowadays is anything between thirty and forty years, according to circumstances. About 6,000,000 messages are conveyed by the world's cables throughout the year, of 16,000 a day, the working speed of any one cable being up to 100 words a minute under present conditions. About 90 per cent. of these are sent in code or cipher.

BLACK SILK
LIQUID
STOVE POLISH

Keeps Your Stove
"Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used.

Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

LIQUID OR PASTE
ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind.

Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush free with each can of enamel only.

Use BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. G. B. Newsome very pleasantly entertained the class of the M E. Sunday School of which she is a member. In spite of the unpleasant day a goodly number came together for a chat and a picnic supper. This was followed by a program consisting of an instrumental solo by Miss Linton, a class history by Miss Snedicor, a song by Miss Lumm, and a contest. The history showed that in the eleven years since the class was organized it had enrolled eighty-eight members, and that at present there are twenty, seven belonging and six who are teaching classes of their own. Greetings were read from several former members, who in new homes have not forgotten old associations. All sang "Blest be the tie," and another pleasant social meeting was added to the number already enjoyed by the class.

Terrible Accident

FIRE CAUSING THE DEATH OF MRS G. W. JACKSON SATURDAY APRIL 5—9:30 A. M.

Cause-will Never be Known

The Accident Unnerving Everyone and Filling Them With Grief and Sympathy for the Family.

Horror and grief filled every heart in Tecumseh Saturday morning, when word came that Mrs. G. W. Jackson, had been fatally burned at her home on Logan street. Busy about her household duties in the kitchen the first intimation anyone had of the accident was when she rushed out of doors all aflame.

Her daughter, Mrs. Hodges, ran to her assistance and several workmen employed at the Manse across the street were quickly on the scene with the neighbors and everything was done possible to save her. Physicians were speedily summoned but despite their efforts she passed away about 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Hodges was quite badly burned on her hands in trying to extinguish the flames.

Just how the accident occurred will never be clearly explained. There not being a drop of gasoline in the house, that theory could not be true. The supposition is that she was making a preparation for cleaning the wallpaper stirring flour in warm kerosene the kerosene must have exploded, Mrs. Jackson saying to the doctor "Kerosene on the back of the stove"

But this we do know that one of the dearest and truest lives has been taken from our midst. A home has been left desolate, and all mourn the tragic death of a beloved friend.

Deborah Palmer Jackson was born in Raisin in 1843. A few years later she with her parents moved to Ridgeway where her girlhood days were spent and where some fifty years ago she was united in marriage to G. W. Jackson. A few years of their married life was spent in Hillsdale about twenty-five years ago they moved to Tecumseh where she has since resided Mr. Jackson passed away about ten years ago, Four children were born to this union, two passing away in infancy, Mrs. Ella Hodges of Tecumseh and Clarence Jackson of Arizona being the surviving children with the one grandchild Dale Hodges who has always been with her. Four brothers also survive her, A. E. Palmer of Adrian. Henry and Ed. Palmer of Ridgeway and Martin Palmer of Nebraska.

Mrs Jackson has been an active member of the Methodist church for forty years taking a great interest in the Aid Society being Secretary for last six years. Has been President of the W. C. T. U. for the past year and was a faithful member of Mrs. Barnes Sunday School class. A kinder neighbor and friend one could not have and this was shown by the deeds of kindness that they rendered and when the weary suffering had yielded to the soothing influence of opiates, it was a relief even though she passed from this sleep into the beyond, and one could but think that a voice in the softest accent said to her "The Gates are wide open and God's Angels are waiting to escort you home." Funeral services at the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

NOTICE

Dr. J. W. Jewell of Adrian an Osteopath will visit Tecumseh each Wednesday of the week for consultation and treatment. He will be at the Barrett Hotel for the present.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE SUNDAY EVENING.

A full house greeted the speaker J. Cunneen at the Opera House Sunday evening for the union meeting of churches in the interest of Local Option. The speech was exceptionally good and without ranting or raving, a plain statement of facts for the consideration of the voters of our community. A large chorus gave several selections before the speech which were most effectively rendered. The meeting was a success in every particular.

A Sweet Surprise

Some forty-five of the young people of the Friends church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanley Saturday evening for a surprise on Will Hanley and wife. A regular old fashioned candy pull was indulged in and a very sweet time was enjoyed by all present. Will will sure think he has had a pleasant visit this time.

DeLEE—MOONEY

Married at the Methodist Parsonage Saturday April 5, by the Rev. G. H. Whitney. Walter DeLee and Miss Luella Mooney both of Macon.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cummins St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Velbert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

23 Die in Congo Train Wreck.

Boma, Belgian Congo, April 7.—Twenty-three persons were killed when an entire train with its locomotive, plunged through a railroad bridge crossing an arm of the Congo at a height of 150 feet from the water. No one on board the train was saved.

Applies for Hawthorne's Pardon.

Washington, April 7. — Application was made for the pardon of Julian Hawthorne, the son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, now a prisoner at the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, convicted of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stocks of the so-called Hawthorne Mining properties. The application was made by the prisoner's sister, Sister Rosalie, a Catholic nun of New York.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alterative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

M. MAGUIRE, Esq.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes MR. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, and I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK

Higher Temperatures and Precipitation Below Normal Predicted.

Washington, April 7.—The pressure distribution over the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate temperatures near or slightly below seasonal average in northern and eastern states and near or above normal in the gulf states, middle west and far western districts. The precipitation during the week will be generally below normal except in the northwest, where rains will be frequent.

A disturbance that now covers the Rocky mountain range will drift slowly eastward, preceded by a general rise in temperature, attended by local rains and followed by cooler weather, and cross the great central valleys Tuesday or Wednesday and the eastern states about Thursday. Another disturbance will appear in the far west Tuesday or Wednesday, travel eastward attended by local areas of precipitation and cross the middle west about Friday and the eastern states at the close of the week.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

BAY CITY—T. C. Hughes, who is the manager here of the Postal Telegraph company, has received a telegram from Dallas, Oregon, stating that William Lapont, of Bay City, was killed at Ruth, Nev., and that his body is being held there awaiting word from relatives. It is believed the man's correct surname is Lapoint, but Mr. Hughes has been unable to locate anybody in Bay City who knows him.

HASTINGS—Mayor Osborn has caused several hundred posters to be scattered over the town asking for contributions for the sufferers in the floods, and citizens and farmers are responding liberally. Manager Palmer of a local nickel theater will donate the receipts of his show this evening for the fund. The regular admission price will be doubled and tickets will be sold by citizens.

BAY CITY—The jury which was sitting in the case of Dr. C. A. Trahagen against Alexander Laverty returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $125. Dr. Trahagan operated on Laverty's son for appendicitis. The father declined to pay the bill on the ground that he and his wife are separated and that the son resides with the mother.

GRAND RAPIDS—Michigan's Deputy State Food Inspector William Mickle has started a crusade against local merchants who are selling colored oleomargarine as butter. He has served 500 notices, many of which have been ignored. The first dealer has been arrested, failing to properly post his oleomargarine sign. Mickle promises many arrests.

PONTIAC—James McClure has been arrested in this city on an assault charge preferred by N. W. O'Neil, proprietor of a second-hand store on East Pike street. O'Neil says McClure is the man who beat him following O'Neil's refusal to flip a coin to see whether McClure paid 50 cents for a 25 cent tool or got it for nothing.

HASTINGS—Dudley W. Welburn who is aged about twenty-one years, who has been employed in a local laundry, has been arrested by Sheriff Williams, and is being held for officers in Crown Point, Ind. The charge against Welburn is unknown here.

IRONWOOD—John Anderson, of this place, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He was a widower and is survived by seven small children, the oldest being only fourteen. Worry over the death of his wife caused the suicide.

CHARLOTTE—Warren McClintic for a number of years a well known resident of this county and the past three years a resident of this city dropped dead while transacting business in a local bank. His widow and two daughters survive.

BESSEMER—Official notice has just been received here that the state tax commission will again review the various assessments of Gogebic county, the coming May, in time for making up the rolls for the ensuing year.

ESCANABA—While he was attempting to board a moving train Andrew Johnson, lumberman, fell beneath the wheels and both legs were amputated above the ankles. He lies in a critical condition in a local hospital.

QUINCY—Elmer Lampman, the seventeen-year-old son of George Lampman of this place, was frightfully kicked in the face and back of the head by a horse, breaking the skull His recovery is doubtful.

SLAIN BY GANG OF THUGS

Man Found Lying Unconscious by Railroad Tracks.

Detroit, Mich., April 1.—J. A. Wolfslayer, aged forty-eight years, died in St. Mary's hospital from a fracture of the skull, the injury having been inflicted by a gang of toughs.

Wolfslayer was found lying unconscious near the railroad tracks at Dequindre and Larned streets by the police. He evidently had been enticed to the spot and hit over the head with a blackjack. The appearance of his clothes indicated he had been lying there for several hours.

M'CURDY'S HEIRS TO APPEAL CASE

Would Collect $30,000 Claim against Shiawassee County.

Corunna, Mich., March 31.—The heirs of the late Judge Hugh McCurdy of this city have decided to carry to the federal court of appeals in Cincinnati the case that was decided against them recently by Judge Tuttle of the United States district court, in Detroit, in which they sought to collect $25,000 loaned by Mr. McCurdy to the county several years ago, and accrued interest of $5,000.

After the imbroglio, due to unauthorized loans by the supervisors to complete the construction of the new courthouse, the county refused to pay about $80,000 borrowed for that and similar purposes, and the taxpayers have been upheld in their refusal by the Michigan courts as well as Judge Tuttle.

Hugh McCurdy Eaton, of Akron, O., administrator of the McCurdy estate, is acting for the heirs.

TEACHER MUST APPEAR

Christian Wenger Summoned Before School Examiners.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 29.—Christian Wenger, a teacher in the High school at Caledonia, who has been charged with "wilfully sowing the seed of public discord," has been summoned to appear before the county board of school examiners Saturday, at which time he will be asked to show cause why his certificate should not be permanently suspended. This is said to be the first time that action of this character has ever been taken in the county.

The dissension grows out of the grading of instructors in the country schools. Wenger will fight to keep his certificate.

STEPS BEFORE TRAIN

Charlotte, Mich., April 1. — Lynd Griest, aged twenty-five years, a Grand Trunk fireman, was instantly killed when he stepped in front of an eastbound passenger train at Bellevue.

He formerly resided in this city and the remains were brought here for burial Monday. His mother, Mrs. Orrin Brown of Bellevue, and a sister, Mrs. Kittie Howe, of Flint, survive.

GIVE FLOWERS TO TRAVELERS

Battle Creek Has Scheme to Make Gifts on Trains.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 31.—The plan of distributing bouquets of sweet peas to women on all the trains running through this city during the summer months was formally indorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, and starting July 1, at least 1,200 bunches a day will be given out on trains passing through Battle Creek.

It is only necessary now in the carrying out of the idea that the local flower lovers aid the plan by donating sweet pea blossoms.

REPUBLICANS WIN STATE ELECTION

Returns Indicate that Party Is in the Lead.

WOMENS SUFFRAGE DEFEATED

Some Changes in Wet and Dry Territory—Municipal Ownership Wins Big in Detroit—All Amendments Carry Except Suffrage—Patrial List of Mayors Elected.

The entire Republican State ticket won out at the election of Tuesday. Early returns indicated that Judge Murphy, Democrat, had been elected as he run ahead of his ticket in Wayne and other counties, but the Republican vote in the small towns and rural districts more than overcome this lead. The Progressives were successful in many of the cities throughout the State. Muskegon and Cadillac being two that elected Progressive mayors.

Women's Suffrage Defeated.

While the complete returns are not as yet totaled for the entire state, it appears that Woman's Suffrage has been defeated by a very decisive majority. In Detroit and other large cities in the state the vote against the proposition is two, three and in some precincts as much as four to one. Counties that favored the proposition at the last election went against it this time and counties that were against before still showed disfavor by piling up even larger majorities against the idea of equal suffrage to the women.

M. O. Wins at Detroit.

The people of Detroit voted in favor of Municipal Ownership in no uncertain terms. From the time the first precinct reported on the 2 o'clock count showing 152 votes in favor of municipal ownership to 50 against, the result was never in doubt. The ratio of the vote never once fell below 3 to 1. It climbed near 4 to 1 on the 9 o'clock count and it squeezed up past 4 to 1 very early after the 8 o'clock count began to come in. There it hovered. A notable feature of the voting was the manner in which the ratio held good, regardless of the districts from which the votes came.

Mayors Elected.

The following is a partial list of the mayors elected Tuesday: Corunna, Howard Slocum, Cit.; Charlotte, George Brackett, D.; Mt. Pleasant, W. J. Newberry, D.; St. Johns, W. J. Black, R; Boyne City, Sabin Hooper, Union; Bessemer, Andy Byrn, Cit.; Marquette, William Fassebender; Ionia, F. W. Green, R; Petoskey, John I. Reycraft, D.; Alma, J. M. Montigel, R.; Owosso, John H. Brandel, D.; Flint, Charles S. Mott, Cit.; Cadillac, James Johnson, P.; Muskegon, John H. Moore, P.; Mt. Clemens, William F. Nank, R.; East Lansing, Thomas Gunson, Cit.; Allegan, Dr. F. C. Castell, P.; Eaton Rapids, Charles B. Fowler, R.; Kalamazoo, Alfred B. Connable, R.; Bay City, Gustav S. Hine, D.; Ludington, Hardy, R.; St. Clair, John Shlinkert, D.; Bad Axe, Geo. L. Whitney, R.

Amendments Carry.

All of the amendments carried by large majorities except the Woman's Suffrage which was defeated. The other amendments—initiative on constitutional amendments, initiative and referendum on legislation recall and firemen's pension, have been just as decisively adopted.

Grand Rapids Republican.

The entire city Republican ticket was elected at Grand Rapids. The Republicans also re-elected aldermen, the Democratic and Progressive candidates falling far behind.

Contest Young's Seat.

At the opening of Congress Tuesday a resolution not to seat H. Olin Young of Michigan was defeated 232 to 27, and a substitute was adopted 206 to 26, allowing the contest to take the regular course.

Results on Wet or Dry.

The following counties voted dry: Clinton, Genesee, Ionia, Montcalm, Sanilac and Tuscola. The following voted wet: Calhoun, Emmet, Jackson and Lenawee.

Saginaw voters defeated the proposition to decrease the number of saloons and raise the license from $5 to $500. At Bay City the commission form of government was adopted.

Governor's Wife Ill.

Mrs. Woodbridge N. Ferris, wife of the governor, who became very ill Monday afternoon while on a Pere Marquette train, en route to Detroit in company with the governor, was resting easy at 11:30 tonight in the Ferris apartments at Lansing, and the attending physicians announced that they did not consider her condition dangerous unless complications set in.

NEW TARIFF BILL

Wool and Other Necessaries of Life Enter Free.

RECIPROCITY IS ENCOURAGED

Provision Made for Absolute Free Trade with Philippines and to Continue Present Trade Treaty with Cuba — Arrangement for Easy Change of Rates Incorporated.

Bills providing for reductions in all schedules of the tariff law except the tobacco and spirits schedules and an income tax to make up the vast deficiency to be caused by the tariff cuts were introduced in the house by Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee.

Several articles of food and clothing, classed as necessaries of life and affecting the high cost of living, are placed on the free list or greatly reduced in duties. The income tax bill provides for a levy on all incomes of $4,000 a year or over.

Many important changes are made in the administrative features of the tariff law and in place of the maximum and minimum section of the Payne act, which empowered the president to invoke higher duties against any nation which discriminated against the United States, there is a provision giving the chief executive a free hand to negotiate reciprocity treaties with foreign nations.

The trade treaty with Cuba is retained and provision is made for absolute free trade with the Philippines There will be hereafter according to the terms of the Underwood bill no restriction on the amount of rice, tobacco and sugar that could be imported free from the islands.

Provision for Easy Change.

As an assurance against any duties in the bill being ultra-protective, it is provided that the president shall cause to be ascertained each year the amount of imports and exports of all articles, with an estimate of the amount of domestic consumption and production and where it is ascertained the imports amount to less than 5 per cent of the domestic consumption he shall immediately notify congress in a special message of his facts and conclusions bearing on the matter.

This provision, according to the committee, is to maintain the tariff on a "competitive" basis.

The bills will take effect the day after the president signs them. The main features of the bill are:

Drastic reductions in the chemical and earthenware schedules.

Duties on pig iron, structural steel and forgings cut in half. Bicycles reduced from 45 to 25 per cent. The duty on razors is more than cut in half.

Steel rails go on the free list.

Nearly all kinds of rough lumber put on the free list and heavy reductions in the finished products.

Sugar Free in Three Years.

Twenty-five per cent reduction in the duty on sugar, with the proviso that in there years it shall be placed on the free list.

Tobacco and liquor schedules unchanged.

Agricultural products cut in half, including a reduction on the tariff on lemons from 68 to 24 per cent.

Raw wool placed on free list with the retention of only one-third of the present duties on most of the woolen manufactured articles in common use.

A slight reduction in jewelry, with rough diamonds transferred from the free list to the dutiable list, with a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem.

Articles on Free List.

Among the articles placed on the free list are: Wood, alcohol, charcoal, phosphorus, radium salts, sodas, sulphur, tanning materials, iron ore, band iron for baling cotton, nails, barb wire, wire for fencing, steel rails, Tungsten bearing ore, cash registers, linotype machines, typesetting machines, sewing machines, typewriters, lumber, boards, wagon material, laths, pickets, shingles, hewn and round timbers, bacon and hams, beef, veal mutton, pork, fresh water fish, other fish of a number of varieties, meats of all kinds, lard, tallow, dairy products, breadstuffs, including bread, buckwheat flour, broom corn, maize, corn, cornmeal, oatmeal, wheat flour, potatoes, salt, swine, sugar of milk, bagging for cotton, flax straw, raw wool, press cloth for oil milling purposes, woolen rags, woodpulp, print paper valued at not more than 2½ cents a pound, Bibles, bone meat, bran, wheat screenings, coal (bituminous and shale), coke, slack, cork, waste and shavings, gloves made of horse hides and cattle hides, boots and shoes, harness, agricultural implements and leather, including shoe laces.

DEMOCRATS CARRY CHICAGO

Capture Judgeships, City Officers and Many Aldermen.

A clean sweep in the city of Chicago by the Democratic ticket of judgeship and city offices was indicated from the very first returns.

The political complexion of the election of thirty-seven aldermen shows: Democrats, 23; Republicans, 10; Progressives, 4. This includes in the Progressive group Charles E. Merriam, who ran as an independent.

United support by the city administration and various civic organizations carried to victory the proposition to issue $2,880,000 of bonds for city expenses.

Edward N. Woodruff was re-elected mayor of Peoria by 1,500 plurality George Sucher, the Democratic reform candidate, ran second, with W M. Allen, Progressive, practically making no showing at all. The balance of the ticket is Republican.

At Quincy, Ill., W. K. Abbott Democrat, was elected mayor by a large plurality over four other candidates. Nearly the entire Democratic ticket was elected.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT WEDS

Former President's Daughter Is Bride of Dr. Richard Derby.

Simplicity marked the ceremony at Oyster Bay, which made Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, the wife of Dr. Richard Derby of New York.

The ceremony took place in Christ Episcopal church at Oyster Bay Three clergymen officiated, among them the rector of the church, Rev George Talmadge. Only relatives and intimate friends were invited to attend the ceremony and the breakfast afterward at Colonel Roosevelt's home, Sagamore Hill.

"NATIONAL WELCOME FEAST"

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Marshall Are the Guests of Honor.

At Washington, D. C., Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall were the guests of honor at a "national welcome breakfast" tendered them by prominent society women of Washington.

The function was the first "big" affair given for the wives of the new president and vice-president. Official Washington was represented in the list of invitations.

BURY SLAIN GIRL AT HER OLD HOME

Funeral Services for Murder Victim Held in Petoskey.

Petoskey, Mich., April 7.—Because Mrs. Zella Newsen of this city refused to kiss a man on the streets of Lima, O., she lies cold in death in Petoskey. George Siddi, an Italian, rejected suitor, is alleged to have fired two shots into her body as she was walking to the restaurant of her sweetheart, Paul Constantine, at Lima.

Siddi escaped with companions in an auto and, according to last reparts, not been found.

The body of the woman was brought to Petoskey, where funeral services were held.

Zella was the twenty-two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eugee of Petoskey. She was considered one of the prettiest girls of the city, but after a quarrel with her husband a year ago went to Lima. It is said her death was predicted in an anonymous letter from "A Friend" at Lima to Zella's mother in Petoskey.

MICHIGAN WOMEN LOSE

Proposed Amendment Allowing Them the Ballot Is Defeated.

Detroit, Mich., April 9.—For the second time in less than six months a constitutional amendment permitting women to vote was defeated in Michigan. It alone of five amendments to the state constitution lost. The initiative, referendum and recall and the pensioning of firemen provisions all appeared to be increasing their leads as late returns from the election trickled in.

The Republican state ticket seems to have been elected, with but one possible exception, the supreme justices.

The local option question, contested in twelve counties, developed surprises. Emmet, after being dry four years, has gone wet. Lenawee, which polled a heavy prohibition majority two years ago, apparently went over to the other side. Jackson and Genessee counties, however, changed from wet to dry.

WOMAN IS BADLY BURNED

Flames Ignite Dress Upon Which Gasoline Was Splashed.

Tecumseh, Mich., April 7. — When gasoline she had splashed upon her clothing while cleaning clothes was ignited by the fire in a cook stove, which she approached too closely, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, sixty-three years old, was seriously burned.

Her clothing burst into flames and her daughter, Mrs. Ella Hodges, who was in an adjoining room and who heard her mother's cries and extinguished the flames, was too late to keep Mrs. Jackson from being burned about the head, hands and arms.

FISH CLOG DAM GATES

Bushels Raked Away from Gratings at Ceresco.

Marshall, Mich., April 8. — Thousands of fish covered the grates on the big commonwealth power dam at Cresco, eight miles west of here, backing the water up and making it necessary for a gang of men to rake them off. Hundreds of bushels of them were taken out, the most of them being suckers and speckled bass.

They were stunned and no explanation for their being down in the grates can be given.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a yote.

Recommended For a Good Reason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, billousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore. Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

EATON RAPIDS — T. A. Farrand has just completed the second thorough inspection of his large peach orchard here and says that he has failed to find a single bud, but what is alive and all right, the winter not having affected them in the least. The same conditions that prevail in the Farrand orchard prevail in all of the other peach orchards in this section of the state where careful inspection has been made, and at the beginning of April the general prospects for a bumper crop of all kinds of fruit, both large and small, have never been better than now.

CHESANING—Two men of this place, Guy Miller, twenty-five years old, and Bert Ormes, thirty-two years old, were drowned in the Shiawassee river here when the boat in which they were fishing was carried over the dam. Ormes, a mail carrier and Miller, who was employed in a local factory, went fishing late in the afternoon, and anchored just above the dam. The swollen river, however, was too strong for them, and the boat went over the dam, which is located in the heart of the town.

TECUMSEH — William C. Jordan, who is an old and well known resident of Tecumseh, was found lying in an unconscious condition on the floor of his chicken house, having suffered a stroke of paralysis. He did not regain consciousness and died at 6 o'clock. He was an old soldier and member of Beers Post, G. A. R., and has been tyler of the Masonic order in Tecumseh for many years. He was seventy-eight years old.

SAGINAW — Newell Barnard and Andrew G. Lockwood of this city had narrow escapes from drowning while trying out their speed boat on the Saginaw river. They tried to make a sharp turn while going about twenty-five miles an hour and were thrown overboard. The strong current carried them down stream about a quarter of a mile before they could reach shore.

BAD AXE — Becoming infuriated because he had been cheated out of a pound of butter at market, Michael Wehner, wealthy farmer, saturated his clothing with oil and touched a match to himself. When the oil had burned itself out and the man found himself still alive, he remarked that he "was too green to burn." There is slight chance for his recovery.

SOUTH ROCKWELL — After a year's lingering illness of Bright's disease, John Strong died at his home in this village, at the age of eighty-two years. Mr. Strong bore the distinction of being the only man ever elected lieutenant governor of Michigan on the Democratic ticket since the reorganization of the Republican party.

MUSKEGON—It has authoritatively been announced that daily boat service between here and Chicago by the Goodrich line will be resumed the middle of next month. Starting next Saturday, a four day service will be inaugurated to replace the tri-weekly service which has been in vogue during the winter months.

ANN ARBOR—Judge Kinne has just allowed the Buckeye Traction company, an Ohio corporation, a judgment of $[illegible].95 against the village of Manchester on a debt that the Buckeye people attempted to collect from the contractor who put in part of the water works system in that town last summer.

PORT HURON—John T. Rich, who is the local collector of customs, will be allowed to retain his office here until July 1, according to a dispatch received from Washington. After that date the Port Huron customs force will come under the jurisdiction of the Detroit district.

LANSING — The Michigan house passed on third reading the Follett bill to protect farmers against dishonest commission men, the Martz bill to give aid to the flood sufferers in Ohio, and the Wood bill to provide for the building of a state highway in Alger county.

KALAMAZOO—A delightful summer camp for girls, that is what will be established this summer at Gull lake by Miss Ethel Rockwell, physical director of the Kalamazoo public schools, and Miss Florence Upjohn, physical director of the Lansing public schools.

GRAND RAPIDS — H. A. Hall, eighty-four years old, went into a local barber shop, stepped into a chair and asked for a shave. The barber had only applied the razor when Hall sank unconscious, having been stricken with paralysis. His death is expected.

BAY CITY — After having met many delays, caused by unfavorable weather and other troubles, contractors building the Grand Trunk bridge have issued the statement that the bridge will be completed and ready for use by Saturday.

500 MINSTREL SHOW

Card Game of the Season—big Crowd—A Jolly Pack and a Financial Success.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF MISS NELLIE MINGAY.

The 500 Minstrel Show given by the Alpha Chapter of St. Peter's Church, Tuesday evening, April 8, 1913, consisting of fancy dances, novelty specialties, songs and choruses, and pretty scenic effects, was a success.

Miss Nellie Mingay with her untiring effort, with her talent for impersonating, and her ability to bring a finished production out of Chaos, deserves much credit. She was ably assisted by the members of the Alpha Chapter. The prologue explanatory of the evening's entertainment was original with Miss Mingay, and she gave it in a pleasing manner.

The opening scene with the entrance of the deck of Cards was very effective. The dealer was R. S. Moore. The bevy of beautiful girls in their quaint costumes were charming and and it was no wonder that the Kings, Jacks cast sheep's eyes at them and sang their love songs to them. The Joker was certainly one worth while and acted as Interluctor, George B. Hines taking this character, and with the charming Widow would certainly thrill any card player. This character was taken by Mrs C. S. Ruthruff.

Realism is the slogan of the times on the Stage, and not to be out done, Tecumseh had her live Chickens in the song "The Chickens."

The Whistling solo was much enjoyed as something unique, and called for an encore which was given. The solos were exceptionally good, and the choruses were very effective, that of "Goodbye Everybody" closing part 1st.

Wiley McCann as the Lone Fisherman was a quaint little figure, with his pantomime fishing, accompanied and keeping time to his clog dancing. The four Jacks did themselves proud in a grotesque dance. The Spanish dances were very picturesque. The Sailor's hornpipe as danced by the younger members of the company was extremely good, and they responded to several encores.

The stately Minuet as danced by the Kings and Queens, was a most graceful dance, and their costumes were certainly very beautiful and added much to the effect.

Will Barrett evidently has mistaken his vocation as Landlord, and will be applying for a job as Endman, when the next Minstrel Show strikes town.

Home talent is always appreciated; and encouraged by the people of Tecumseh, and this was no exception to the rule. It was a financial success, netting the Chapter $100.

We wonder if the people realize what the musical people of Tecumseh do in the way of charity for the town. They are always ready to give of their best to assist any of the churches, the Civic Improvement Society, the schools, responding to any call. And now that we have a good Orchestra here, we are certainly fortunate and we feel sure everybody would join with us in a vote of thanks to our musical friends.

RAISING INTERURBAN BONUS

Muskegon Shaking Down Residents for Contributions.

Muskegon, Mich., April 8.—Though the sky rockets have dropped from the campaign, work is nevertheless going on in raising Muskegon's share of the $280,000 bonus fund for the Muskegon to Manistee interurban.

Every effort is being made to land the moneyed men now and also the transportation companies which enter the city. It is hoped by those in charge that the bonus will soon be raised and the work of actual construction begun.

FOUR JUMP TO SAVE LIVES

Aged Woman Is Hurt in Fire at Cheboygan.

Cheboygan, Mich., April 5.—There were two fires in Cheboygan early in the morning. The first was the millinery store, stock and building owned by Miss E. G. Walton. Insurance will cover the stock loss only. Four people escaped from the burning building by jumping from a second story window. As the last one jumped the floor gave way. Miss Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Depuy and Miss Margaret Crumley were those who made their escape. Miss Crumley, an aged woman, injured her hip and suffered a broken ankle in jumping.

The machine shop of the J. B. Lund shipyard burned.

Symposium

The Closing Meeting of the Research Circle. A Spendid Finale of the Years Work

FINE BANQUET, 120 PRESENT

The closing meeting of the Research Circle took place Tuesday evening, April 8th in the parlors of the Methodist church dinner being served at 5:30 to one hundred and twenty.

The tables were arranged in a hollow square with a table in the center for the officers and those taking part in the program. The tables were beautifully decorated in green and white, the colors of the club. A dainty program being at each plate. The menu served was well enjoyed by everyone present, and it was quietly and quickly served by the young daughters of the members.

At the close of the banquet the retiring president spoke feelingly of the kindness of the members toward her during her term as president, of their loyality to each other, and hoped that the same good feeling would prevail during the coming year. She introduced the toast mistress, Mrs. Taylor who is also the new president who opened her remarks by saying that a good toast master should be a good roast master, she acting on this theory with many a pithy story proceeded to roast the speakers of the evening, who were the past presidents of the circle.

One of the members, Mrs. Rob. McCoy gave a vocal solo which was charmingly rendered. Mrs. James Kennedy a short history, from the first inception of the club until the present time with many a hit, that were best understood by the members.

Messrs. Wilson and Camp sang a duet and very kindly responded to an encore.

Mrs. Andrew Wilson had as her toast "The New Officers" and was very liberal in her offers of advice to them, her best piece of advice being that each one have a club gown that has not two rows of hooks and eyes down the back.

Mrs. Stahl added much to the merriment of the evening with her two character sketches of the mischievous child which were heartily cheered. Mrs. Kendrick gave a solo and was followed by Mrs. Ernest Pangburn on Club loyality. She gave a deap thoughtful talk on what constituted the loyalty of a club.

Misses Edna Taylor and Aileen Kendrick then gave a very pretty piano duet.

Mrs. Belcher closed the program speaking on the Results of the year, incidentally speaking on the results of the late election giving a few well timed hits at the suffragettes.

The Club was then closed until their midsummer meeting.

For Loss of Hair

We will pay for what you use if Rexall "93" Hair Tonic does not promote the growth of your hair.

In all our experience with hair tonics the one that has done most to gain our confidence is Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We have such well-founded faith in it that we want you to try it at our risk. If it does not satisfy you in every particular, we will pay for what you use to the extent of a 30 day treatment.

If Rexall "93" Hair Tonic does not remove dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, stop the hair from falling and promote a new growth of hair, come back to us and ask us to return the money you paid for it, and we will promptly hand it back to you. You don't sign anything, promise anything, bring anything back, or in any way obligate yourself. Isn't that fair?

Doesn't it stand to reason that we would not make such a liberal offer if we did not truly believe that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do all we claim for it—that it will do all and more than any other remedy?

We have everything there is a demand for, and are able to judge the merits of the things we sell. Customers tell us of their success. There are more satisfied users of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic than any similar preparation we sell.

Obituary

DEATH OF FAY W. DEPUY

A Former Resident. He Had a Wide Circle of Friends in Tecumseh and Vicinity.

The news of the death of Fay W. DePuy, which occured in Lansing, Mich., Friday morning, April 4, 1913, came as a surprise to his many friends in this vicinity and it is with deep regret that we are called upon to add another name to the long list of former Tecumseh residents who have recently passed away.

Fay W. DePuy was born in Mt. Morris, Livingston Co., N. Y., and was the son of the late Philip S. and Milancy (Chandler) DePuy.

On his father's side he was descended from the noted French family, de Puy who left the nobility of France on account of their religion and joined the Huguenots; for eight generations however his direct ancestors have been Americans. Many of the older men of the family, both in Michigan and New York state became bankers and capitalists and were well known for their sterling characters, indomitable push and great financial enterprise. Two of his father's cousins, Rev. William H. DePuy, the eminent scholar and author, and Senator Chauncey M. Depew, achieved worldwide fame. Both of these men were born in New York state, and both attained their fame as residents of New York City, although the Senator's family changed the spelling of the name to Americanize it.

On his mother's side Mr. DePuy was descended from an old puritan New England ancestry which traced its origin to William and Annis Chandler, who settled in Roxbury, Mass., in 1637. Dr. George Chandler, the geneologist, Louise Chandler Moulton, the poet, Bancroft, the Historian, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States and Senator Zach Chandler were his mother's cousins. The Chandlers were noted as authors, clergymen, scholars and professors. Nearly every boy in New England by the name of Chandler graduated from Yale or Harvard College, while nearly every girl by the name of Chandler married a Yale or Harvard graduate.

When a small boy Fay DePuy's parents, in company with a large number of relatives and friends, removed from New York State to Tecumseh, Mich. to live. Philip S. DePuy and his brother had each inherited a comfortable fortune from their father's large estate, and, true to the family commercial instinct, the two men sought a wider field for investment and activity. At that time Lenawee County was rich in resources and they chose Tecumseh for their future home. Here their children received their early training, here fathers and sons became prosperous, prominent and influential citizens.

Fay DePuy received his education in the public schools, leaving the High School to engage in commercial life. At the age of twenty-one he married and soon afterwards bought a valuable stock farm in Franklin, Lenawee Co., adjoining the well known properties of Bridgeman and Cyrus Wells, where he engaged in buying and selling blooded stock. Later he sold out and went into the banking business in Grand Ledge, Mich.

The close work of banking proved too confining for him and owing to ill health he disposed of his interests and engaged in Real Estate. In 1912 he removed from Grand Ledge to Lansing, opportunities in the capitol city being especially promising in the real estate line. But he had been a sufferer from Brights Disease for several years and gradually failed until the end came. The funeral was held at the residence of his brother-in-law, John M. Hendershot, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Frederick Hewitt, rector of St. Peters church; the burial was in the family lot in Brookside cemetery.

Fay DePuy was twice married. His first wife was Carrie Updyke, a sweet and lovable young woman who died in early years, beloved and regretted by all who knew her. His second wife was Miss Dorothy Covey, only daughter of the late Dr. Covey, of Grand Ledge, Mich. He had no children.

Besides the widow he leaves one brother and three sisters: Rev. Wellington DePuy, of Grand Ledge, Mrs. J. M. Hendershot of Tecumseh, E. Cora DePuy, the well known author and journalist of Detroit, and Mrs. Thomas Taber, of Madison, Wisconsin. All were present at the funeral.

Mr. DePuy was a member of the Masonic Order and of the Methodist Episcopal church.

True Education.

We shall not get full value for the money now being spent on education until we realise that fitness for life is of more importance than fitness for yearly examinations.

William Jordan

PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A Resident of Tecumseh over 50 years, a Veteran of the Civil War

One death has followed another so fast for the past two weeks that the nerves of the community have been strained to the utmost and when the news came that William Jordan had passed away Sunday after a few hours illness it seemed almost incredible.

About two o'clock in the afternoon he went out to care for his chickens and not returning in the proper time, Mrs. Jordan went to see what detained him and found him an unconcious condition from which he never rallied having sustained a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. North was called at once but nothing could be done to save him.

Mr. Jordan was born in Franklin, Aug. 30, 1840 and has been a resident of Tecumseh for 52 years. He went into the army when only 19 years old in the 18th Mich. Infantry. He was mustered out of service in 1865 reaching Tecumseh Aug. 3, and was married to Miss Elizabeth Teachout that same day.

He was Sexton of the cemetry for 10 years, street commisioner for 7 years. He has been a member of the Masonic fraternity 45 years, being tyler and sentinel for 22 years. A widow and four children, Mrs. E. H. Henderson and Mrs. Chas. McDermott of Adrian, Mrs. Wm. Cummins of Tecumseh and Mr. Claude Jordan of Jackson with a brother, Wesley Jordan of Jackson and a sister Mrs. Brisbun of Tecumseh mourn his sudden death.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Masons, Rev. W. B. Hartzog the officiating clergyman.

CARD OF THANKS

To our neighbors and friends, to the Masonic Fraternity, the Eastern Star and the G. A. R., we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks for all kindnesses shown us during our late affliction, also for the wealth of beautiful flowers.

MRS. WM. JORDAN
AND FAMILY.

MRS. DANIEL G. BAKER

Mrs. Daniel G. Baker after months of suffering, passed away from this earth life at 12:45 o'clock a. m., March 31st, 1913. Her maiden name was Oene VanDeMollen. She was born in Holland August 29th 1858, and was married to Daniel G. Baker in 1879. She left Holland in 1893 and made her home in Onarga, Ill., and came to Ridgeway, Michigan, 1911. Under the preaching of the great Evangelist the late D. L. Moody, she united with the church in 1895 and ever since has manifested a truly Christian spirit.

She belonged to the M. E. church at Ridgeway, and was dearly loved by all who knew her. She was a woman of strong character and remarkable courage. During her illness she was very patient and expressed her desire to live for her husband and family, but if it was the Lord's will to take her she was ready to go. His will be done.

Two of her children passed away in early childhood. She is survived by the husband and seven children, Henry, Janette, Garrett, Gertrude, George, Johnnie and Gladys, with three grandchildren, also two brothers and three sisters who reside in Holland. The wife and mother will be missed in the home. The neighbor in the community, the Sister in the church, but we thank God for her life and service.

She has entered the beautiful Gates
Into the Eternal City
But soon shall our feet press the golden strand
In the City beyond the sea,
When with dear ones again we shall clasp the hand,
On the shores of eternity
By the beautiful Gates they watch and wait
Till our feet shall cease to roam
For over the river to dwell forever
The dear ones are gathering home.
Oh how sweet the recollection
But how vivid is the picture
Memory brings to us today
Of her face so calm and patient
As she on her death bed lay,
Of her hands so gently folded
On her cold and silent breast,
Gone where wicked cease from troubling
And the weary are at rest.
Soon we look to meet our Savior
And his mansions bright to share
For we know the next to meet us
Will be mother when we're there.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express through these columns our appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother, also for the many beautiful flowers.

AND CHILDREN.

SUES FOR DAMAGES FROM EX-HUSBAND

Mt. Clemens Woman Alleges She Was Falsely Accused.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 8.—Mrs. Elnore Weston of Armada has filed suit in the circuit court against her former husband, A. B. Weston, for $10,000 damages, alleging that her former spouse has falsely accused her of setting fire to the Weston residence at Armada.

Weston is seventy years old, and his divorced wife is ten years his junior. Mrs. Weston obtained a decree of divorce Feb. 10 in the chancery court, and the Weston residence burned to the ground on the same day.

State Fire Warden C. A. Palmer conducted an investigation some weeks ago, and his report exonerated Mrs. Weston from any suspicion. The report of the fire warden figures largely as a basis for the suit.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?
Distressed with urinary ills?
Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Velbert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind, says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

National Spirit Is Aroused.

The world, this country, is gradually waking up to a realization of how ineffably ugly our cities are, how forlorn are the houses and the lives of people outside of the cities. They are beginning to demand something better. No the spirit of art is not dying. It is preparing for a mighty revival compared to which the boasted Renaissence will be like a rush light in the full blaze of day.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alterative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. HESSHEIMER.

MRS. LIZZIE M. HESSHEIMER, of Lincoln, Neb., 529 "O" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured.

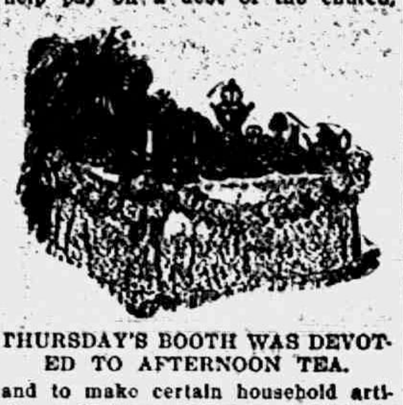
FOR A CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT

Novel Method of Decorating Booths That Charm the Fair-Goer

BOOTHS ARE CLUSTERED TOGETHER

The church of to-day is sure to hold a fair during one month or another, and right after Easter is a favorite time. When an entertainment of this sort is contemplated, the first thing to be considered by the parish ladies is the decoration of the booths. It is here that feminine ingenuity is taxed to the utmost for something novel, something new that will produce a display that will charm the fair-goer and bring in the money.

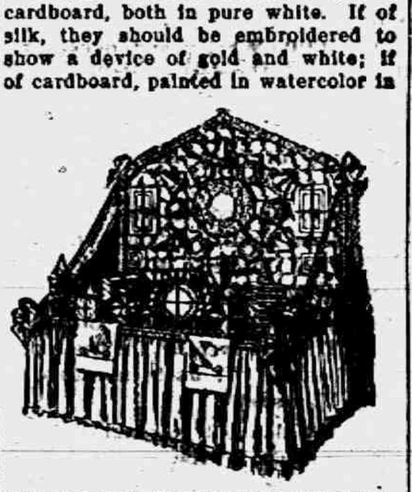
For some reason the Southern woman has a peculiar facility in getting up fairs, and with it the decorating of the booths. In a small Virginia town a number of parish members resolved to have a three days' bazar to help pay off a debt of the church, and to make certain household articles a feature, which are needed in all homes.



THURSDAY'S BOOTH WAS DEVOTED TO AFTERNOON TEA.

The idea grew that, as a novelty, a number of booths should represent the days of the week, from Sunday to the following Saturday, bringing together every sort of attractive commodity, none of which were to be sold above the current store prices.

These booths occupied one side of the room and were clustered together, making a very showy scheme, being only a few feet apart. The Sunday booth was covered with a cream cheesecloth, the fallover trimmed with some conventional pattern of striped effect placed so as to form a border, the colorings like those used in the church design. This frill was deep, reaching the floor, and made quite full. As corner decorations, there were banners of silk or of very fine cardboard, both in pure white. If of silk, they should be embroidered to show a device of gold and white; if of cardboard, painted in watercolor in some church pattern, and both held in place by gilt strands. In either case the treatment partook of some religious matter and church emblems, accompanied with brilliant and illuminated letterings. As a center ornament, the seven-branched candlestick was utilized, well filled with tall candles. To give a good effect to the whole, green palms of tissue paper made a fine border for all edges and had a harmonizing effect with the white and gilt. This Sunday booth was equipped with Bibles of different sizes, prayer-books, hymnals, church calendars and all the paraphernalia necessary for a church service. All sorts of holy devices were sent in for every denomination, and a variety of religious books which are published each season, all to be sold at the regular publishers' prices.



THE BOOTH SACRED TO WEDNESDAY HAD A DAINTY DISPLAY OF NAPERY, TABLE LINEN, CENTERPIECES, DOILIES, ETC.

Monday, being wash day, had its booth given over to an executive housekeeper, who begged or bought all the essentials for a "blue Monday." The lot comprised tubs, washtubs, all sorts of soaps, clothes-lines, wringers, boxes of starch and blue, clothes-pins and the like, all of which met a ready sale and reaped a good harvest. To make the booth attractive, it was dressed in a dark-blue cheesecloth with a pure-white border of the same material, with fluffy rosettes at the corners, and as a center decoration there was a child's tub filled with white chrysanthemums and big ferns.

Tuesday, which is generally ironing day in all families, was made a scheme of different shades of red tissue paper, which was adjusted according to fancy, festooned in big scallops, decorated with big rosettes and long ends at each corner falling to the floor. The back of the booth, which was decorated in red crinkled paper, was laid in pleats, the edges adorned with green paper ferns, which lapped each other as they approached the top. On this stand was found everything pertaining to the day. Every new invention was in evidence for smoothing sleeve and shirt-waist

A Lesson from the Beaver.

Science owes many a debt, especially on the practical side, says Harper's Weekly, to the instinct of the lower animals. One of these obligations may be cited in the matter of the construction of dams. Engineers have frequently built dams straight across streams, the object being, in some cases, to save expense by sparing material. But the beaver arches his dam against the current, and experience has shown that this form of dam is best for resisting floods and the impact of floating ice. Acting upon the knowledge which is instinctive with the beaver and which human calculation approves, the great Bear Valley dam in California and some other dams constructed within recent years have been so made that their stability largely depends upon the resistance which their arched form presents.

What the House Wants

"It ain't what the public wants," said Mr. Mat Wimberg. "And it ain't what the manager wants. It's what the audience wants that pays. Now, I'm a pioneer theatrical manager, one of the oldest in the business. Yes, sir, I've been in it three years and expect to start a chain of houses next year to show people what real amusement is. And during that time I've learned a lot. The public don't go to the theatre. It's the audience.

"Now, there was a man came up to the box office just before the doors open and he says: 'I suppose you know this is Lent, my friend?'

"Otto was standing there, and before I could say anything he butts in and answers: 'Of course the old heathen does. That is why we are giving every afternoon and evening the only sacred show in Harlem.'

"I was going to choke him off, but the man was interested and he says: 'Ah, indeed. I am pleased to hear it. I shall bring my wife and children around this afternoon, as I have nothing else to do.'

"When he went away I turned to Otto and says: 'Now, Otto, I don't mind a joke, but you can't fool patrons.'

"'That's alright,' he says. 'We'll have Louie sing "The Palms." That makes a sacred concert just the same as a leather sandwich covers the Sunday law.'

"Believe me, putting Louie on in sacred repertory, 'The Palms,' 'Jerusalem' and 'The Rosary' was the best stroke of work I done in a long time. The public wants novelty all the time, and I give it to them in Lent. That gave me another idea, so I ordered a lot of sacred films.

"The first one was certainly one fine beauty, 'David and Goliath.' I don't know how they got him, but Goliath looked twenty feet tall as he walked across the picture. But right there is where the boob comes in. Max Theimer, who drives in a brewery wagon and thinks he can handle men the way he does the barrels, got up and yelled, 'I'll challenge that fellow, best two falls in three, for a side bet of six dollars!' He was too thick not to know some better, but it got the audience going, and when David came out with a fur robe on another fellow yelled a challenge for him at 135 pounds ringside. I went down front and called:

"'Silence, gents, silence! This is a sacred picture.'

"Then Max claimed he had been insulted, and we had to put him out of the house.

"But I hadn't no sooner started the idea of an all-sacred Lenten show than all the houses around jumped at it.

"It worried me so I got a headache after having dinner with Otto when we had sauerbraten and potato dumplings and red pickled cabbage and salted beans and shad. Did you ever notice something about shad? They never give you a big enough portion. We had to have three before we had enough. And French fried potatoes and Spanish onions and anchovy sandwiches and whipped cream puffs and some hand-cheese, because Otto's people come from Mainz and he had been trained on it and coffee. Say, I don't know how long I'd been worrying about the state of affairs when it gave me a headache and my wife had to take the box office the next day. Well, about 9 o'clock at night I crept down and looked in the door. A baseball picture. Say, that's sacred, ain't it? I was mad until I seen the crowd. The place wouldn't hold a skinny man.

"Then Otto told me he'd dumped all the other films and had put on baseball strong. But he kept Louie plugging at the sacred songs so the people wouldn't feel they wasn't keeping Lent. I'm conservative and like to help people in their religious beliefs, and baseball ain't a thing that interferes with any creed.

"We ran the baseball pictures for two days, and then we began to have competition. There was baseball pictures everywhere, and sporting pictures. So it was up to me to get something new. I told Otto I thought it would be a good idea to give an exhibition of the harem skirt the first in Harlem, but Otto jumped on me.

"'Mat,' he said, 'your wisdom grows in the wrong direction every day. The only people excited about the harem skirt is the fellows that draw funny pictures in the papers. They have to be because it ain't often they have an idea. What excitement would there be in it for people who go every week to see the Boistrous Blondes or some other show like that? Naw. I'll tell you. Did you read about that man who is so rich he gets two hundred marriage proposals every day? Well, we'll advertise an heiress who's going to attend our performances and select a husband.'

"I was against it. But he was so set on the idea that when he threatened to start an opposition house so he could run it I gave in because he's my partner.

"You should have seen the house during the whole of the week. Some people attended every performance. Believe me, I never knew how [illegible] men were or how jealous [illegible]. Every man who came, and [illegible] had so many, had a woman with him. It was either his wife or his sweetheart. He came to get a look-in at the heiress. She came to see that the heiress didn't pick her man.

"All sorts of people were taken for her, and some nights we nearly had to call the police, and would have if Louie hadn't stepped right in and started a sacred song. But even while he was singing the men were rubbering around to see if they could spot the heiress. I'll bet every one of them had some sort of an idea she'd take him. It's funny how conceited men are. Now, of course, I'm happily married and got one of the best little women—huh? Oh, well, of course, Mrs. Wimberg ain't young any more than I am. She's dieted, and it brought her down to two hundred and six, but when I said I gotter little woman I was just using an expression you hear in plays sometimes. But I was thinking if there was an heiress and if I wasn't married, and I had this business and some money put aside what would be the matter with me? And I know any sensible woman would look at it in the same way. And, you bet, if a woman has money enough to be an heiress she's got sense. Then I be- [illegible] perhaps Otto didn't have something. You can't trust that Dutchman. So I looked the audience over.

"It was the cause of the first serious trouble I've had with my wife since I left the retail shoe business. I didn't know it, but she'd come down every performance to see if there was anything to that heiress story, and she kept her eye on me. Then she accused me of catering to wealth and of being more interested in the heiress than I was in my business. I tried to convince her that it was all a press-agent story, but she wouldn't believe it, and I wasn't sure myself. So the more I talked the deeper in I got.

"Then I went around to Otto and said: 'Otto, I want a look at that woman.'

"'What woman?' he asked.

"'That heiress. Now you don't hold something out on me. I want to see her. You've been hogging this show too much, and keeping up too much of a mystery. If there can't be honesty between partners then there ain't any left. Which woman is the heiress?'

"He looked at me a long time and then he rose from the piano and folded his arms.

"'I am,' he said.

"Well, my wife was listening and she got mad and sailed into Otto and claimed he was running the show in his own interests. Then he got mad and said he'd cut the whole thing out; that we made him sick. It was an awful fight and lasted all through the supper hour. We'd 'a' busted then and there if my wife, who's got good business sense, hadn't cooled off and said: 'Otto, tell me the truth. Who is this heiress?'

"'Mrs. Wimberg,' he said, 'I will tell you who and what she is. She is what the audience wants.

"'What is that?'

"'That is a large, mysterious BUNK, a fine, fat fake!'

"'Do you mean there ain't no heiress?'

"'There are lots of them. But not here. However, I'm trying to put Mat in such a position that in a few months he can make you a rich heiress, a widow heiress, if he's got any gentlemanly instincts.'

"He'll have his joke, you know. But he's gotter good heart, even if he is rough. But, my that heiress idea of mine was one swell success. People still come around to see if she still attends the theatre. And we heard afterwards that about thirty love matches were made while we were running it."

The Tears in Books.

It is not hard to understand why, when a book makes you laugh, you want to read it and to read it over and over again. But it is rather puzzling to find that one also enjoys reading and re-reading books that make one want to cry. What can there be in us that likes to be made to feel unhappy? In real life we don't try to do things that will make us suffer—not at all! But there are books that you cannot think of, once you have read them, without tears coming to your eyes, and yet you will find that you love these books perhaps more than any others.

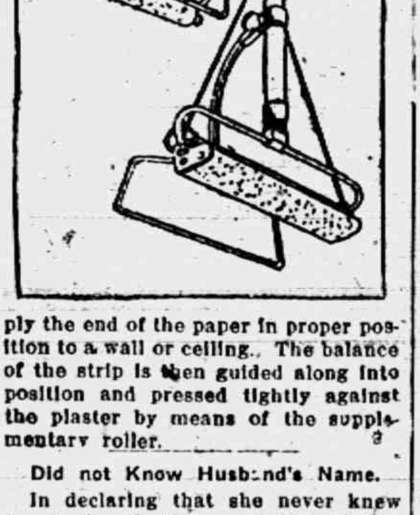
To feel deeply is one of the best things in life; and there maybe, lies the explanation of why we do love sad stories. They make us unhappy in a way, but they do not leave behind any bitterness or sense of personal loss. And they usually have a special beauty of their own. "Books and Reading" in St. Nicholas.

"Words, Words, Words."

It is truly wonderful, when you stop to think of it, this power of words—just words printed in black on white, without even the help of the voice, without any appeal at all except to our imagination. Here they are, grouped in various ways, and as our eye travels over them all sorts of pictures arise before us. Our hearts grow sick with pain and sorrow, or we break out into laughter. We toss about on high seas or languish in fetid prisons, we are old or young, poor or rich, as the words choose. And we have only to rearrange these words to produce a quite opposite impression. Surely it is an amazing thing, more so perhaps than anything the words succeed in telling us.—St. Nicholas.

Wallpaper Hanger.

A simple and easily manipulated device by which paper can be expeditiously and effectively affixed to the walls and ceiling of an apartment without the employment of scaffolding is shown in the illustration below. A disagreeable feature in connection with the paperhanger's trade is the nuisance of hauling a scaffolding to the house to be papered. This is done away with where the device shown here is employed. The paper is arranged over the loop at the top of the holder, so that a person standing on the floor can conveniently apply the end of the paper in proper position to a wall or ceiling. The balance of the strip is then guided along into position and pressed tightly against the plaster by means of the supplementary roller.



Did not Know Husband's Name.

In declaring that she never knew her husband's first name Mrs. Esther Nieman of Monroe street, Philadelphia, created laughter at the central police court.

"I have always called him 'Pop' from the first day I married him, and as he did not object I never worried myself about his first name," said Mrs. Nieman, who had her husband arrested on the charge of failing to support her.

The accused husband by direction of the Magistrate was induced to tell his wife his full name.

"Certainly I'm glad to do it," remarked the defendant, "but I think my wife has known right along that I am Jacob Nieman."

ASSASSIN TRIES TO KILL ALFONSO

Halts Monarch's Horse in Principal Street of Madrid.

SAVED BY PRESENCE OF MIND

King Pulls Up Steed and Bullet Buries Itself in Animal's Chest—Would-Be Assassin Seized by Police, but Manages to Fire Two More Useless Shots.

Madrid, April 14.—A well dressed man of twenty-five years, fired three shots at King Alfonso as he was riding through the streets here, but none of the bullets struck the monarch. One of the bullets struck his horse in the chest.

Stops Monarch's Horse.

The king was returning to the palace from a review of recruits and the ceremony of swearing in of the troops and the presentation of colors in the Pazo de Castellano. The king was riding slowly through the streets with a large staff and was near the Bank of Spain, on Alcala street, when a young man, who was standing in the front row of cheering spectators, rushed at the monarch's horse and clutched the bridle with his left hand. Then he put his right hand in his pocket and drew a revolver.

King Bravely Meets Emergency.

King Alfonso realized instantly that the man was an assassin and his skill in horsemanship and his presence of mind probably saved his life. He made the horse rear up just at the moment the assassin fired, but the king was already safe behind the horse which got the bullet in the chest. At the same moment a policeman threw himself upon the assassin and threw him to the ground and held him there, but he was unable to grip his arms before he had fired two other shots. They were random shots as it was impossible for him to take aim and they did not hit anybody.

The staff which was riding a little ahead of the king immediately formed around the sovereign and faced the crowd while the cavalry escort, which was following behind, immediately formed a cordon around the king and pushed back the crowd which the sound of the shots had caused to increase as if by magic. They were already greatly excited, but when the soldiers began driving them back the crush turned into a panic and a number of people were trampled under foot and eleven persons, mostly women, were badly hurt.

Alfonso XIII, King of Spain since May 17, 1902, when he still lacked ten days of being sixteen, is not only extremely popular among his own subjects, but is undoubtedly the best liked monarch away from home of all the European monarchs.

Attempts have been made on several occasions to assassinate the young king and his escapes from injury have led to the popular belief that he has a charmed life.

In thought and action Alfonso has been a republican rather than a royalist.

Alfonso has had an unconventional way of doing things even to his own selection of a queen in Princess Ena of Battenberg, granddaughter of Queen Victoria, whom he married in 1906. This was one of the few royal marriages for love, another reason for his popularity with the people.

Alfonso had been proclaimed king only eight months when, in January, 1903, he was shot at by a man as he was riding home from church with the Duke of Solomayor. The would-be assassin said that it was Solomayor and not the king he had hoped to hit.

On May 30, 1905, as the king and President Loubet of France were leaving the opera in Paris, a bomb was exploded, disembowelling the horse of a guardsman and injuring several persons.

Alfonso's Narrowest Escape.

The narrowest escape that the king ever had from an assassin occurred in Madrid on May 31, 1906, when the royal carriage in which he and his bride were receiving the plaudits of their people after coming from the altar, was wrecked by a bomb. Seventeen persons who were near the carriage were killed and many were hurt.

ALFONSO OF SPAIN

Young King Escapes Death at Hands of an Assassin.

Immediately after the explosion the king, making light of the trial through which he had passed, gave orders for the care of the dead and the injured.

Spain's next door neighbor, Portugal, has had her troubles with assassins. In 1908 Carlos I and his older son, Louis, Duke of Braganza, who was twenty-one were assassinated in the streets of Lisbon.

Street of Assassination Attempt.

This attempt on King Alfonso's life took place on the Calle De Alcala in front of the Banco de Espana, which was erected in 1884-1891. This street runs from the western edge of the city directly through the center of Madrid to the Puerta del Sol, in which square Prime Minister Canalejas was assassinated last November. The Puerta del Sol is only about half a mile from the royal palace.

The last of the European rulers to die by the hand of monarch haters was King George of Greece. He was shot in the back by Aleko Schoinas as he was walking through the streets of Salonica on March 18 last and died half an hour later.

DID FELONS SPREAD KANSAS PRISON FIRE?

Some Prisoners Accuse Others of Arson Attempts.

Lansing, Kan., April 14.—Fire that destroyed four large buildings and caused a loss of $500,000 in the Kansas penitentiary was spread by convicts, who scattered burning papers in buildings not in the path of the flames, according to Fire Chief Michael Bahler of Leavenworth and prison officials.

"Several prisoners told me of seeing other convicts lighting bunches of papers in the old building known as the furniture factory," said Chief Bahler. "When I reached the prison the fire was confined to the twine factory. Later we saw flames bursting out of the second-story windows of the old furniture factory. We found fires had started inside the building, one in a room 300 feet from the burning twine plant."

John Higgins, parole officer, and Dr. A. T. Axford, prison physician, confirmed the opinion of Chief Bahler. Warden J. K. Codding believed it improbable that convicts fed the flames.

Aside from the indications of incendiarism evidences of mutiny were lacking. Prison officials made every preparation for a mutiny, but the convicts as a whole preserved the best of order, hundreds assisting in fighting the flames. The state carried no insurance on its property.

TRESTLE SINKS WITH TRAIN

200 Laborers Are Precipitated Into Flood-Filled Ditch.

Vincennes, Ind., April 14.—B. & O. Southwestern work train carrying something like 200 men went through a trestle three miles west of here shortly before 3 p. m.

Many were injured.

The trestle which went down is a temporary one, being used for work trains only.

Nine of the men who were on the train were brought to a local hospital and it is said two are probably fatally injured. No lives, it is believed, were lost.

Four carloads of gravel were being unloaded at a high trestle when it gave way, precipitating the workmen into the water, which was several feet deep as the result of the recent flood.

POPE YET ALIVE AND ON UPGRADE

Prof. Marchiafava Says He Is Going to Recover.

IS STILL CRITICALLY SICK

Attending Physicians Disagree as to Chances of Distinguished Patient—Pontiff's Bedroom Window Is Center of Attraction for Tourists from America and Elsewhere.

Rome, April 14.—The pope suffered another relapse, his temperature rising to 103 degrees Fahrenheit. The papal chamberlain has been notified to hold himself in readiness for a call to the Vatican at any moment.

Rome, April 14.—The pope is still critically ill, but there is no indication that the end is imminent. The pontiff's eldest sister went to the Vatican and was at her brother's bedside when Professor Marchiafava and Dr. Amici visited him.

After making a careful examination and holding a conference with Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, the physicians issued a bulletin saying the pontiff was calm and his fever had fallen to 100.1 Fahrenheit. The symptoms of bronchitis continue, particularly on the left side.

Condition Reported Not Serious.

Professor Marchiafava gave a statement to the Tribuna in which he declared again that the pope's condition was not serious. The fever, he said, had abated and although it was likely that his temperature would rise again his illness was following the natural course and the pope's recovery was possible.

Professor Marchiafava added that the pope was cheerful and his mind was perfectly clear. He said jokingly to his principal physician:

"This is my third relapse," and smiled in a manner which showed that he was convinced of his recovery. Professor Marchiafava again reiterated the statement that the pontiff's condition was not such as to cause apprehension, otherwise he would stay at the Vatican day and night.

After their later visit the doctors issued another bulletin that the pope had passed a quiet day. After midday the pontiff's fever rose to 101.3 but was already diminishing. The symptoms of bronchitis and influenza were unchanged and the general conditions were still satisfactory.

Disagreement on Outcome.

The doctors seem to be in disagreement as to the pope's chances of recovery. Dr. Amici is pessimistic, while Professor Marchiafava continues to be optimistic. He persists that the pontiff's condition has not yet become alarming, but his statements are generally received with a good deal of skepticism. The pope's respiration is difficult, owing to the cough, the heart action is irregular and the pulse rapid. Dr. Amici wanted the heart beats and the pulse recorded in the bulletin, but Professor Marchiafava was opposed to this. Cardinal Merry del Val decided the point. When the bulletin was submitted to him, he personally put it on the typewriter and omitted the heart and pulse records.

The pope's window is now one of the chief attractions for foreign tourists. Numbers of these people, notably Americans, neglected the other sights and walked and drove through St. Peter's square to watch the windows of the pontiff's bedroom. Numerous pilgrims from Venice, Hungary and Poland wandered anxiously about the square hoping against hope for an audience, but admittance to the Vatican was strictly forbidden.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, biliousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1,00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. R. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultra-refined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle, which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse subtitutes. MARKET BASKET NOW CONSIDERED

Democrats Figure Tariffs on Things We Need to Eat.

LOWER FOOD PRODUCTS DUTIES

Many Changes from Underwood Schedules to Be Brought Forward In Senate — Several Southerners Particularly Prominent in Opposition to Underwood Bill.

Washington, April 14.—The Democrats of the house resumed consideration of the Underwood tariff bill in caucus. In view of the defeat on Saturday of those who want sugar on the free list at once instead of the sliding reduction in the rates with free sugar at the end of three years, it is not likely there will be any further trouble in the caucus.

"Market Basket" Under Discussion.

The agricultural schedule is now up for debate. This embraces what is known as the "market basket," which provides many free food products and others on which the rates are materially cut. Mr. Underwood is convinced that it will be adopted in precisely the form in which it was reported.

Democratic members of the senate finance committee also resumed their conferences. Most of the day was devoted to consideration of items in the Underwood bill. It is manifest that many amendments will be made to the bill by the senate Democrats. The chairman, Senator Simmons, believes there will have to be readjustment of many items and in some instances duties will have to be increased for revenue purposes. Senator Johnson of Maine will offer amendments changing duties on some of Maine's products. Senator Stone of Missouri is not entirely satisfied with the lead schedule, while Senator Shively of Indiana will advocate several changes in the house bill rates, notably in regard to wheat and flour.

LaFollette Fights for Millers.

It was learned that Senator LaFollette has taken up the cudgels for the millers. He believes that taxed wheat and free flour is an incongruity. He also believes the senate finance committee should give public hearings. He is opposed to the closed caucus, such as that now being held by the Democrats of the house to perfect a tariff bill.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi stands out in the open as an insurgent against the Underwood bill. He declares it is not a revenue measure, as the duties have been laid, and objects to free sugar and several other items in the bill. The indication of a growing revolt among southern senators becomes more marked daily.

Senator Johnston of Alabama objects to free lumber and to the low duties on steel products.

Senator Walsh of Montana has announced to his constituents that he will not vote for free wool or free sugar.

WEBB JURY DISAGREES

Discharged by Judge When Unable to Reach a Verdict.

Chicago, April 14.—The jury which has been considering the case of Robert Webb, auto bandit, on trial for the murder of Detective Hart, was unable to agree and was discharged by Judge Kersten.

It is asserted that one man hung the jury by holding out for a verdict of manslaughter. So obdurate was he, it is said, he would not compromise with those who urged the death panalty by agreeing to a murder verdict and a life sentence.

BRIEF AND BREEZY

If the great powers wish to keep up with the times in diplomatic matters they must read the Commoner.

Cyclones and such disasters make even the "cities in their pride" more thoughtful and kind, bringing close to view the great democracy below the grass roots.

Complaint is made that President Wilson has injured the "open door" policy for China, just as if that policy had come through the Taft administration with its parts intact.

Senator LaFollet gives it out that he is a Republican; and this stirs up a lot of natural curosity as to what the republicans are not.

There will be revision downward in the toriff.

Former Senator Bailey's observation that election to Congress was a sign of volubility rather than real ability is partly true.

OUR FLAG

Sunday April 13, was the one hundreth anniversary of the official raising of the stars and stripes above the house of representives in Washington.

June 14, 1777 the Continental Congress decided that the flag of our nation should consist of a blue field with thirteen white stars and thirteen stripes alternating red and white. During the years that have passed many changes have occurred, but our flag with the addition of a star for each new state has remained practically the same and today we have 48 stars on its blue field, and glory in our banner of red, white and blue as it floats upon the breeze, an emblem of peace and prosperity.

THE SENATOR'S JOB

Representative Edwards of Georgia was an expert stenographer before he came to Congress. One day, during the recent investigation of the money trust, his secretary was away, and he was sitting at his secretary's desk, typing his own letters. The door was open and in walked one of New York's multi millionares, who had been summoned before the investigation committee.

"Young man," began the man of millions pompously, "the committee will meet again in thirty minutes, and I have an important letter I must get off in the meantime. If you will take it down, I will pay you handsomely."

"Certainly sir, certainly," said Mr. Edwards, without cracking a smile, and he fished out his notebook, took down the New Yorker's dictation, and copied it off on the typewriter at lightning speed.

Mr. Morganfeller looked at the note, observed that it was neatly and correctly done and smiled his approval. He then handed the Congressman a five-dollar note, and said, "My son I need just such a bright young man in my office. I will give you a position."

"What will it pay?"

"There is no limit to what it will pay. You can go up just as far as your ability will carry you," said the millionaire arrogantly.

"But what will it pay now?" persisted Mr. Edwards.

"I will start you at one hundred and fifty a month," said the bond-holder, with a frown. "But young men are not accustomed to inquise so particularly when I offer them a place of trust and promise of opportunity to advance."

Representative Edwards laughed, handed back the money, and explained that he hardly felt justified in leaving his present salary of seventy-five hundred dollars a year for the one offered him. "Besides," he said, I rather like my present job as Congressman."—April Lippincott's.

THE BASE BALL SEASON

Preparations have begun early for the opening of the baseball season for Southern Michigan. Every team is training and the big opening day of 1913 is one grand topic in base ball circles. In spite of the late flood and the forloin state of the city Saginaw began training in Dayton Monday. Jackson and Flint are busy this week, Flint on the home ground and Jackson at Charlotte. Faster Base Ball is promised for the season of 1913 by Prs. B. B. Johnson of the American League.

Report was referred to Street Commissioner to report next Monday night, April 14, 1913.

Motion made that we do now adjourn.

F. G. HEESEN, Clerk.

HOME COMERS DAY

Whats the matter with Tecumseh? Clinton already is talking and arranging for a Home Comers Day for the coming season and are pretty well assured of success. It would seem good to everybody here to have one of the old time reunions. Who will be the first one to make a move in this direction?

GOES TO A NEW FIELD

Supt. D. P. McAlpine goes to South Haven for the New Year

Supt. D. P. McAlpine has severed his connection with Tecumseh High School and will take up his line of work at South Haven at the beginning of the new school year.

The position came to him unsought and he will receive quite an advance over his present salary.

Mr. McAlpine has served Tecumseh faithfully in the schools for the past four years and his friends will regret his departure, but wish him well in his new field of work.

"FROM THE MANGER TO THE CROSS"

"From the Manger to the Cross" is a wonderful film of moving pictures. It is probably the most expensive and carefully planned film in the world. The life of Christ from his birth in the manger at Bethlehem to the crucifixion on the cross at Mount Calvery is presented in moving form.

The pictures are presented in five parts or reels, but each reel is divided into shorter sections. This proves a decidedly effective way of breaking the tense situations that develope. It seems more like some great service than a moving picture.

The Kalem Company followed Hoffman in presenting the features of Christ, Tisset in the detail of dress and costumes and Herr Seqick in architectural matters.

The Babe of Bethlehem and the Christ child were overshadowed in the first parts by the wonderful pictures. One losses sight of the Christ in the scenes of Eastern life. Later, the Christ dominates the film.

The pictures are wonderfully good, depict the costumes and scenes of the Holy Land and visualize many things that had seemed unreal. They have great educational value. A picture every one, no matter what their belief or religion may be, should see.

This wonderful production will be seen at the Bradley Opera House next Friday night. See ad for particulars. etc.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The message of President Wilson is calling forth many comments, both favorable and otherwise which of course is to be expected. We can see no reason why he should not read it himself. The message is noted for its brevity, dealing in a concise manner with the business interests of the country. He is in favor of the revision of the tariff. The tariff on sugar is cut in half for three years, then placed on the free list. Raw wool is on the free list, and the 90 per cent on woolen goods cut 25 per cent. Lumber, steel rails, and steel goods are free. Cotton rates are cut, and tax imposed on all income above $4,000.

The entire schedule will soon be given to the public, and will show that an effort is being made to reduce the high cost of living. There is nothing in the message for alarm to business. It seems to be a strong call to duty for both houses of Congress

PENSIONS FOR MOTHERS

At a meeting of the house in Columbus Ohio April 11, the pension bill for mother was passed by a vote of 92 to 4. It is now to go, the Governor. This will make necessary an annual tax which has been placed at one-tenth of a mill to raise a fund of not less than $700,000.

Those to be benifited are destitute widows, women whose husbands are totally disabled or have deserted them or are serving time in prison. The Juvenile courts will be authorized to pay $15 a month for a child under 15 years and $7 for each additional child under 15.

Folling the lead of other States, New York is to have a statute providing for the pension of mothers, this bill is to be introduced in the Assembly next Monday. It provides for a pension for any widow with children under 16 years of age, and who is not able to support them, $9 a month for one child, $14 for two and $4 additional for each other child. The maximum pension will be $30 per month

APPLE DAY

For the purpose of bringing the producer and the consumer nearer together, the state of Washington, inaugerated an Apple Day April 5. The day was ushered in with an apple battle when six automobile trucks each loaded with 50 boxes of apples headed by the buglars corps from the Fourteenth Infantry at Fort George passed through the business streets of Spokane. A crew of expert ball players tossed apples by the thousands into the waiting crowd.

It is estimated the full 700,000 apples were sold that day and the restaurants served apples in every concievable way. Half the proceeds of the apples sold went for the benefit of the Ohio flood sufferers.

BLACK SILK
BLACK SILK
LIQUID STOVE POLISH

A Shine In Every Drop!

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not dry out; can be used to the last drop; liquid and paste one quality; absolutely no waste; no dust or dirt. You get your money's worth.

Black Silk Stove Polish

is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant, silky lustre that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not rub off—it lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—so it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want stove polish be sure to ask for Black Silk. If it isn't the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will refund your money.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware, or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?

Distressed with urinary ills?

Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience.

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Velbert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

National Spirit Is Aroused.

The world, this country, is gradually waking up to a realization of how ineffably ugly our cities are, how forlorn are the houses and the lives of people outside of the cities. They are beginning to demand something better. No, the spirit of art is not dying. It is preparing for a mighty revival compared to which the boasted Renaissence will be like a rush light in the full blaze of day.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alterative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. HESSHEIMER.

MRS. LIZZIE M. HESSHEIMER, of Lincoln, Neb., 529 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured.

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

DOCTOR GETS MILLION FROM MAN HE HELPED

Loaned Student $700 to Take Him through College.

Chicago, April 14.—Dr. Edward S. Higley of the suburb of Glen Ellyn had no particular idea that he was casting bread on the waters in the early eighties, when he lent Charles Froelich $700 to assist him through a course in the University of Nebraska.

Eight years ago Froelich, who had grown wealthy in Australia, visited his former benefactor and repaid the loan with interest compounded.

Froelich died recently without heirs, and Dr. Higley has learned that his fortune, approximating $1,000,000, had been left to him.

BANDITS BACK AT WORK

Chicago Teamster Slain as He Fights with Two Men.

Chicago, April 14.—The lenient attitude of the jury that refused to convict Robert Webb, auto bandit and murderer of Policeman Peter Hart, was appropriately celebrated in the underworld. The celebration took the form of:

One murder in an effort to rob a man of $10.

The reopening of hostilities by auto bandits after four weeks of peace.

The auto bandits broke out of seclusion before the Webb jury disagreement was known. Their offense was the robbery of a saloon on South State street in broad daylight. The coincidence became more sinister when Robert Gannon was held up and stabbed to death in the Maxwell street police district.

Chumming With An Apache

Never go chumming with an Apache. You smile at such strange advice? Well, I might have smiled at it once myself. But we are all creatures of circumstance, and I was a tenderfoot then, anyway. This is how I chummed it with my little Indian:

I was swinging my red-and-blue clubs under the pepper-tree at the back of the railroad station. This I did because I had a theory that exercise was good for a man living on a desert. The lazy Mexicans, and most of the Americans thereabouts, had no ruddy glow on their faces. They were all sallow. What I wanted was a ruddy glow.

My red-and-blue clubs circled about very prettily that day, and the ruddy glow came; also a dripping epidermis, and a big desire to sit down in the shade of the pepper-tree and blow tobacco smoke. The tree was a small one. When the station tank ran over, which was not often, its roots received a little moisture. So it grew, slowly.

As soon as I dropped my clubs a squeal of disgust went up from somewhere, and, as I turned about, I saw a small, brown head dart behind a cactus-lined rock.

I said nothing, but leaned back on my seat, pulled my sombrero down over my face, and shammed sleep, with one half-closed eye on the rock and the big cactus-shrubs. No use. You can not get an Apache out of his hole that way.

Next day, with my beautiful exercise theory still bristling in my brain, I turned quickly, while in the midst of my club-swinging, and saw the wide-open eyes and gaping mouth of the cunningest little savage I had ever beheld. He sprang about and fled behind the rock, but not too quickly for me to read "XXX Family Flour" in large red letters on his back. His one short garment was a cotton sack, with holes cut through it for his head and arms.

"Come, Tads," I cried, christening him in that fleeting second with a name that stuck to him all his life, "out of that!" And I jumped behind the rock, swinging an open hand that did not grasp the flour-sack, as I had intended it should.

Where was the wee savage?

Like a lizard, he had darted from sight somewhere in that little patch of rocks and cactus, though there did not appear to be cover enough there to conceal a jack-rabbit.

"The spines must scratch him," I thought, as I looked at the prickly cactus; but I did not know then how Apaches put up with small irritations. Not wanting to give the boy unnecessary torture, I went back to my clubs. Throwing my eyes about again, I caught another fleeting glimpse of the brown head as it dodged behind the rock.

Tads must have been disappointed next day, for there was no club-swinging under the pepper-tree. The duties of telegraph agent lay too heavily upon the desert. I saw Tads steal away from his lair about two hours after my usual exercise time and walk down the sanddrifts with a dejected air, his one garment flapping in the hot wind.

A wild nature like his was proof against such snares as the toothsome confection, the golden orange, or the mealy peanut. I found that out by trial in the course of the next week. But an old jack-knife won him over. That was something his Apache mind could grasp. It was a greater delight to him than the red-and-blue clubs. Sworn friends from that day were Tads and I. His talk was a ridiculous mixture of English, Spanish and Apache, and his voice was very throty. But I understood him. Indian-like, he said little. It was, therefore, easy to get along with him. He would sit for hours on a high stool, listening to the "tunk-tunk-tunk" of my sounder. The telegraph was an awful mystery to him at first, and it squelched his imagination; but he solved the problem at last. A man away off over the mountains spoke with his finger to me and I spoke back to him. That was his idea of it, and it was not such a bad one, either. The hummings of the wires overhead were the voices of people with pondrous fingers, but they were not of this world.

How the cowboys laughed when they saw Tads and me in the station.

"That tenderfoot's a queer one," they said of me.

The despised Apache could not crawl into their hearts—no, not even if he were a six-year-old.

"He'll steal everything the tenderfoot's got," they pleasantly averred. But he did not.

When Tads left the station of an evening, his little brown feet pattered straight over the roads to the wickiups, a half-mile away. In time he wore a narrow trail over to the hunts.

"Pitty vell," was what Tads would grunt to me every day when he came shyly into the office and I greeted him with a friendly "How-de-do?" Then he would shrug his shoulders in a way that wrinkled the three X's into such bewildering folds that you could not have read them unless you had known what they were beforehand.

One day while he was meandering about the place, grunting quietly to himself, he upset one of my battery jars.

"Tads," I cried, angrily, for the desert's breath was hot upon me and was irritating enough, let alone spilled vitriol, "you're a little beast! Skip out of here, or I'll take a stick to you!"

Then arose a great howl from Tads, and he kept on howling until an Apache woman came over the sands from the wickiups and gathered him up in her arms. She was his mother. She eyed me suspiciously and walked away with her highly demonstrative burden.

Of course I regretted my hot language and wanted the little beggar back again. It was so lonely there on the desert. The wires wailed so heartbrokenly, while the sun beat down so fiercely in the daytime and the coyotes yelled so dolefully at night. How he had crept into my heart, to be sure!

It was several days before we were on satisfactory terms again. Tads wanted to be a white man. He wanted to make "talk marks" on "pupper" with a feather—I sometimes used a quill pen, be it remarked—and he wanted to speak with his finger. Well, I did manage to teach him a few letters from a railroad poster, and he learned to drawl out "T-a-d-s" in a droll way. With perseverance that was really startling, I afterward took him in an uncertain way through a page or two of "Can you see the fat ox," and so on, wherefore his heart was glad.

"I'll be w'ite mans, heap sure," he declared in his bullfrog voice, after he had accomplished this wonderful feat.

Great distress racked Tad's soul on the fatal day when the wickiups were taken down and the tribe mounted its mustangs to go over the hills. The Apaches had to search all over the station to find Tads. At last, they hauled him forth from under my bunk, screaming like mad. Of no avail were his screams, of no avail was his cry: "Me yanter stay wid him! Me yanter be w'ite mans!"

Apache papas are unbending and Apache mammas are inexorable. Away they whisked Tads, leaving behind him a tenderfoot with a queer feeling in his throat.

"Well, the boy has the instincts of a white man," I said, for I was proud of what I fancied I had made of him, "and he'll be a shining light among those devilish people of his. If we had a few more like him to put among them, the Apache question would settle itself, and we could set our soldiers to hoeing corn."

Then I took up the restless life of a city man, and a big and busy railroad office claimed a good share of my attention for the next ten years. Yes, it was fully that long before I again set foot upon the desert. Our train stopped at the old station. How the pepper-tree had grown, to be sure. In its shade sat a cavalry sergeant with a half-dozen of his men about him, and in their midst were three Indian prisoners, who were being taken to the fort to be shot.

They were fierce-looking fellows, those three savages. There was one, the youngest, who was a perfect demon, the soldiers said.

"Killed three women and two babies down at Mustang Wash last Tuesday," said the sergeant to me; "just after one of them had given him his breakfast, too. He's a young one, not more than seventeen, I should say; but he's the worst red devil I ever saw."

Gazing at the boy captive, a strange feeling stole over me. The stolid face was oddly familiar.

"His name? Blessed if I know," said the sergeant; "what do you call yourself, young one?" he asked, giving him a not too delicate poke with the toe of his boot.

"Me? Why, my name's Tads!" grunted the boy.

"Talks pretty good English for a wild devil who has been over the Mexican border so long, doesn't he?" asked the sergeant, turning to me.

But I said nothing.—Frank Bailey Millard.

The Era of the Waterfalls.

One of the most notable things in the rapid march of mechanical science is the increasing use of waterfalls for the production of electric power. This is going on in all parts of the world, and has resulted in an enormous increase in the money value of the falls. Some one has estimated that Niagara Falls, as a producer of power, is worth $1,000,000,000. Waterfalls are now driving tram-cars, lighting cities, running factories, irrigating farms and performing innumerable other services, often at a distance of many miles from the source of power. Italy, abounding with waterfalls on the slopes of the Alps and the Apennines, is among the leaders in this advance. In India it is proposed to derive 50,000 horse-power from the Doogh Sagar River, at a point where its waters descend about 2,500 feet.

Apple Trees In Tubs.

In Germany dwarf standard pear and apple trees about four feet tall and pyramidal in form are grown in small tubs for decoration. The trees bear from ten to thirty pears or apples which, when nourished with muriate of potash, are highly colored and effective both in the blossom and the fruit.

Looked Like a Fake.

Tommy—What did you think of the play "Julius Caesar," last night?

Billy—Oh, gee! It was a fake.

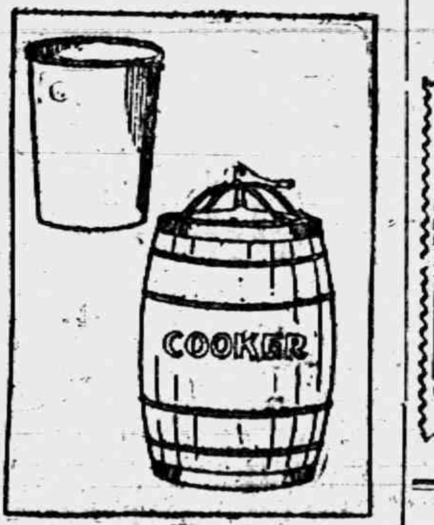
"Why so?"

"'Cause, when they killed Julius Caesar and the curtain went down, he comes out and bows to the audience. He wasn't dead at all!"

COOKING IN A KEG

It Is the Very Latest Word of the Development of Fireless Stove.

Wireless telegraphy is not accomplished entirely without wires, and fireless cookery is not arrived at without fire. The advantage of the latter system of cookery is that a little fire goes a great way in that the operation of cooking having been started in the regulation manner either on a coal or gas stove, it is continued through the entire process to the end in the improved cooker without the further use of fire. Viands in the course of treatment are thoroughly cooked without the least danger of burning, and demand no watchful care such as is required when the articles are being cooked in the regulation manner on a stove. The latest form of a fireless cooker is that of a keg as shown herewith. The jacket of the cooker is made in the same manner as the best liquor kegs of quartered white oak, with the grain running crosswise so that they will not seep, soak or absorb. It has a steel lid or top, which is fastened securely by a single turn of the eccentric knuckle. The cooking receptacle is arranged to rest on a steel rim, so that the can does not come in contact with the jacket, thus leaving a vacuum chamber between the outer and inner wall. This affords an insulator, and is a non-conductor of heat or cold.



The cooking in an apparatus of this kind is done by schedule. The cook knows which viands require the longest treatment, and these are subjected to the heat of the gas burner or stove for a slightly longer period than others, and the schedule tells how soon the articles will be ready to be taken from the cooker, although no harm is done by leaving them in a longer period.

GEORGE M. SHIPPY DEAD

Former Chief of Police of Chicago Succombs to the Reaper.

Formr Chief of Police of Chicago George M. Shippy died at his residence, 6421 Monroe avenue, at 3:45 in the morning. He had been suffering from softening of the brain for some time, and a few days ago returned to his home from Kankakee, where he had been confined in the insane asylum.

Former Chief Shippy was born in 1854 in a cottage where Medinah Temple building now stands, at Fifth avenue and Jackson boulevard.

WIFE OF SHERIFF PREVENTS ESCAPE

Detects Filing of Steel Bars amid Prisoner's Songs.

Cadillac, Mich., April 14.—Mrs. Ella Chamberlain, wife of Sheriff Chamberlain, prevented a jail delivery here.

Between snatches of rag-time songs in the corridor, on the part of the five prisoners, she heard noises like a filing or sawing of iron. Stationing herself over the window from whence the noise came, Mrs. Chamberlain soon realized that her suspicions were correct.

The sheriff was out of town, but she quickly called on two former sheriffs who came to the jail, made a search and found where the prisoners had sawed off a number of bolt heads so that a set of bars could easily have been pushed out.

The men evidently expected to make their get-away that night. They were placed in their cells and charges of attempting to break jail have been brought against all five, Sampson, Kitchen, Jacobson, Stewart and Gilbert.

SHOT IN TRIVIAL ROW

Fisherman in Dangerous Condition from Loss of Blood.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 14.—During an argument over some driftwood, Louis Bouiller was shot by a man, alleged to have been Charles Furtah, another fisherman of Peach Point.

Bouiller started for his home following the shooting, but fell unconscious in the road. He was found by a D. U. R. repair crew, and taken to New Baltimore.

Bouiller was shot in the leg, and is in a serious condition as the result of the loss of blood.

CATCH THREE TINY WOLVES

Hunters Find Pups in Cave and Bring Them Away.

Munising, Mich., April 12. — David Estill and H. J. Hotchkiss, who are trapping near Sixteen-Mile lake, in Alger county, found three wolf pups in a cave. They located the den by following the tracks of the mother.

The old animal was too wary for the men to shoot or trap her. The pups are interesting creatures, considerably darker than adult wolves. They were so young when captured their eyes were not yet open. The wolves are in the possession of Thomas B. Wyman of Munising.

Library Officers Elected.

Hastings, Mich., April 12.—The following have been elected officers of the city library board: John T. Lombard, president; Lee H. Pryor, vice president; Mrs. Edward A. Burton, secretary. Arrangements will be made to secure a librarian and equipment. Contributions of books will be solicited from citizens.

Police Seek Missing Man.

Flint, Mich., April 12.—Police have been asked to search for Thomas Hite, sixty-five years old, who has been missing since Tuesday morning. He wandered away from the home of his niece, in the country, where he was visiting. Relatives fear he has been a victim of an accident.

Oldest Living Elk Is Recovering.

Linden, Mich., April 14.—Daniel O'Connell, oldest living member of the Elks, who suffered an attack of heart trouble a few days ago has recovered and is around again. It is the boast of Mr. O'Connell, who is 108 years old, that he had never been sick in his life before and had never taken any medicine.

BELGIUM'S STRIKE

DEMAND MANHOOD SUFFRAGE

All Branches of Industry Are Affected, the Men Quitting Work in Mills, Mines and Factories All Over the Kingdom—Street Car Men Join the Strike Movement.

Belgium is the scene of one of the greatest general strikes the world has ever witnessed.

At least 300,000 men—possibly 500,000—will cease work.

Unlike most strikes, this movement is not for an increase in wages or a betterment of working conditions; it is in protest against the refusal of the government to grant the workers manhood suffrage.

All Branches Affected.

Men are laying down their tools in every branch of the industry in the kingdom. Mills, mines and factories everywhere are being forced to close.

Coal miners, railroad men, glass workers, foundrymen, electricians and dockmen had pledged themselves to obey the summons of the Socialist leaders to make the walkout effective.

The strike at Louvierre was general All the factories, except a pottery, closed. The strike of motormen, and conductors was time to begin at 7 in the evening. Some attempts were made to cut telegraph wires.

Farmers to Withhold Food.

Socialists declared that every industry in Belgium will be paralyzed and that even the telegraph, telephone and transportation systems will be prostrated.

Farmers who supply food to Antwerp have given notice that they dare not bring in anything. The inhabitants are laying in provisions for a long siege. The workers declare that no violence will be permitted and believe that the nation will be starved into submission in a few days.

Work Stops at Coal Mines.

Suspension of work at the coal mines in the Charleroi district is complete. Enough men remained at their posts to keep the machinery in good order and the pumps working.

The metal workers of the vicinity have only partly quit their employment, but it is understood that soon the remainder of the men in this trade will lay down their tools.

FROST NOT GUILTY

Verdict Reached in Alaskan Land Fraud Cases at Chicago.

A verdict of not guilty was returned in Chicago by the jury in the Alaskan land fraud cases. After seven and a half hours' consideration of the evidence the jury changed from an evenly divided body to one unanimous for the acquittal of all defendants as follows:

Albert C. Frost, former president of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric railway company and the Alaska Central railway company; George M. Seward, Chicago broker and former vice president of the two above companies; Pierre B. Beach, Chicago lawyer and former secretary of the companies; George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., glass manufacturer and financier; Frank Watson, Spokane, Wash., claim locater.

Boosters Feast at Allegan.

Allegan, Mich., April 12.—The annual booster banquet of the board of trade was held, the principal speaker being Frank P. Welton, cashier of the City Trust and Savings bank of Grand Rapids. Secretary Kennedy of the West Michigan Fair association discussed the relations of Kent and Allegan counties along agricultural lines.

FIGHT FREE WOOL

Nine Buckeye Congressmen Are Off the Reservation.

MAY BOLT UNDERWOOD BILL

Fact That Duty Is Taken Off Wool at Once and That Three Years Is Allowed Cane Growers in Which to Prepare for Removal of Sugar Tariff Is Commented Upon.

Senator Pomerene and eighteen of the nineteen Democratic members of congress from the state of Ohio met in caucus and before the caucus was concluded nine of the congressmen present declared themselves in opposition to free wool. A resolution was adopted expressing it as the sense of the Ohio delegation that its members should not be bound by the house general caucus action in regard to the tariff bill.

Some Will Not Vote for Bill

It is not certain that all nine Democratic members will vote against the tariff bill in case free wool is retained in the bill, but some will undoubtedly decline to vote for the bill. The nine members are Goeke, Post, Claypool, Sharpe, White, Francis, Ashbrook, Whitacre and Bathrick. The only absentee was Representative Ansberry, Ohio member of the ways and means committee, who was too ill to attend. Nearly all the Ohio members believed there should be some duty on wool. Representative Allen of Cincinnati made a speech in which he avowed himself willing to support the tariff bill including free wool but he would have preferred a 15 per cent duty.

It developed that in the Democratic caucus Wednesday Representative Bathrick of Akron demanded of Chairman Underwood information as to who was responsible for free wool. Mr. Underwood put the responsibility on the president, whereupon Bathrick inquired why the president had postponed free sugar three years and insisted on free wool at once.

Mr. Bathrick Asks Questions.

Chairman Underwood explained that the postponement on free sugar was agreed on out of consideration for the capital invested and to give the interests in this industry time to readjust affairs. Mr. Bathrick demanded to know why the president and Chairman Underwood thought it necessary to show more consideration to growers of sugar cane and sugar beets than farmers who produced wool.

Chairman Underwood made no reply and his attitude of silence was referred to in the Ohio caucus as significant. It was said in behalf of Chairman Underwood in the Ohio caucus that he had never been in favor of free wool, but had simply yielded to the president's wishes as a matter of expediency.

Wish to Hurry Bill Through.

It is the purpose of the Democratic leaders to put the Underwood tariff bill through the house on or before May 1. This was made known by Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader. Mr. Underwood said there would be very little opposition to the bill as introduced and he saw no reason why action by the house should not be concluded by May 1, if not earlier.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a vote.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, billousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing!

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse subtitutes. For sale by all druggists.

RAILROAD MANAGERS FIGHTING BATTLE OF THE PUBLIC

Committee Representing 52 Railroads in Conference

We are in receipt of a very interesting article handed us by Mr. McLauchlin, relative to the wage controversy with the firemen from the Eastern Railroad's committee. Since the beginning of the controversy, things have materially changed owing to the floods, that will cost the New York Central and B. & O. railroads over $3,000,000, to repair the damage to property alone. To repair and replace this must be done out of the current earnings, and will practically wipe out the surplus earnings of many railroads.

The State of New Jersey has passed a law that all grade crossing renewals shall be borne by the railroads alone and it has been stated that to carry out the law fully would cost one company alone $50,000,000.

Very lately New York has passed an extra crew law, which is expected to cost the railroads of N. Y. $2,000,000 a year. Various laws are pending in other states for new and unnecessary railway expenditures, among them is the granting of two firemen to every heavy locomotive, regardless of conditions making it an arbitrary rule and thereby depriving the railway manager of any discression and forcibly adding unnecessary expense to the pay rolls."

"The railway managers of the country are fighting the battle of the public, that public which is entitled to have efficient transportation facilities at reasonable rates. It is entitled to rates based upon real capital invested. It should pay rates which will yield proper wages to railway labor and a sufficient return upon the capital necessary to provide proper facilities."

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Miss Lydia McNiel had a birthday Tuesday and about 40 of her friends dropped in upon her during the afternoon and evening. Each one came laden with a timely gift to cher her on her passing of another mile stone of life. Every one was in a happy mood and the social good time was enjoyed by the visitors and visited. As the guests departed for their homes each the wished Miss Lydia many happy returns of the day.

To Our Friends and Neighbors

You know us. You know we would not—that we could not afford to—go back on our word. Nor can you afford to ignore this money-back-if-not-satisfied offer on this splendid laxative.

We honestly believe we have the best bowel remedy ever made—the most pleasant-to-take, most permanently beneficial laxative for relief from the miseries and dangers arising from constipation.

We wouldn't say this if we didn't believe it to be true. We wouldn't risk our reputation by making such statements did we not feel sure you would find them true.

Our faith is built both on the knowledge of what Rexall Orderlies are made of and on observation of very many severe cases in which they have proven their merit.

Try them at Our Risk

If they do not abundantly prove their merit with you also—if you are not entirely satisfied with them—we will refund your money—and we will do that on your mere say-so. We don't ask you to risk a penny. Isn't that fair?

Just let the bowels fail in properly doing their work—just let their action be delayed and incomplete and the entire system and every other organ suffers. Wastes that should have been dispelled remain to poison the system.

Headaches, biliousness, nervousness and other tormenting and serious ills are common when the bowels fail to act daily as nature intended. All this may be avoided, if you will accept our advice.

Rexall Orderlies taste just like candy. They are soothing and easy in action. They do not cause griping, nausea, purging or excessive looseness. They tend to tone and strengthen intestinal nerves and muscles. They promptly relieve constipation, and help to permanently overcome it.

Rexall Orderlies promote better spirits and better health. In all of these things they are vastly superior to old-fashioned, harsh salts and other purgatives, which are not only unpleasant to take but which usually leave the bowels in worse condition than before. We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children, aged and delicate persons.

COTTAGES AT SAND LAKE

Entered and robbed

Those owning cottages at Sand Lake, have been much stirred up for the past few days over the discovery that thieves have been putting in their work at the cottages.

The man who takes charge of the cottages, and cuts ice through the winter, found his boat house had been broken into and some of the houses showed signs of having been entered. He sent word to Wm. Bowerfind of Adrian, and Sheriff Henig and Under Sheriff Nutten went Thursday to investigate. The boat house and Mr. Bowerfind's cottage were the only places that had suffered any great loss, Mr. Bowerfind estimating his loss at $40. Chests and trunks had been opened and overhauled in the other cottages, but nothing of value was taken. No trace of the guilty party has been found.

The Aid Society of the M. E. Church are requested to meet on Thursday next at 2 o'clock to sew. Business meeting at 4 o'clock. On account of conflicting with the evening meeting she will be no supper served.

Tecumseh Chapter No. 57 O. E. S. will entertain the Adrian Chapter O. E. S. Thursday April 24. They will come on the afternoon train returning on the regular night train. A five o'clock dinner will be served after which the work of the degrees will be given by the visiting lodge.

The favorite perfume at the store of Fred Rosacrans & Sons seems to be orange blossoms and there seems to be a fresh supply just now. During the past season weddings have been quite in evidence and now the marriage of Eugene Rosacrans the youngest member of the firm, and Miss Ruth Kimball of Clinton is announced for May 7. This making the fourth wedding since the begining of the new year from that store.

The many friends of Mrs. Leman Barnes will regret to hear that she still continues very ill, and under the constant care of the doctor. We hope we may record more favorable news in the next issue.

BRIEF AND BREEZY

Mr. Wilson begins auspiciously. There is no Ballinger in his cabinet.

His resolution to be an American President, rather than a Democratic President increases the dignity of Mr. Wilson's job.

To make for the perfection of peace and harmony, Col. Roosevelt should now be made editor in Chief of the Commoner.

That Boundary between Arizona and Mexico seems to be altogether too imaginary.

Let us hope that the Senatorial Janitor in Washington is keeping those two Illinois seats free from dust and refuse. They may be used sometime.

Have a care Mr. President—if the Wilson clan gets sore and votes against you en bloc, good night "That's all."

Before Frank Roosevelt went to Washington to be assistant Secretary of the Navy, it would have been well for him to stop at Oyster Bay and obtain a few helpful onward and upward hints

King George is to wear a crown. If it has an open top doubtless its use will tend to prevent baldness, but there is little excuse for it otherwis.

CLUB WORK

The Social Book Circle, The Friday Club, The Twenty Century and Woman Literary Clubs of Hudson, are interested in several phases of government by committees, and these are some of the subjects to be considered: Civic and Town Improvement, Civil Service Reform, Forestry, Audubon and Waterway Conservatism, Corrections and Charities, Educational, Historical, Household Economics, Legislative, Press and Public Health.

All subjects dealing with things of today, and along lines in which the woman of today, should be conversant.

EDWARD FRENSDORF

Indications point quite strongly that the strife between the Michigan State Democratic Organization and the "original" Wilson men is ended and that the two will combine in a reccommendation that Edward Frensdorf be given a good appointment in Washington, as a slight token of appreciation for the services rendered by Mr. Frensdorf during the late presidential campaign.

Mr. Frensdorf is a favorite in all circles and his friends would be pleased to see him honored.

Mr. Frensdorf is identified with many interests in the county and here in Tecumseh with the Tecumseh State Savings Bank. He also has a large circle of friends here, everyone of whom will watch the outcome of the present movement with deep interest

CANAL COAL DEPOTS

The official newspaper published by the Government in the Panama Canal Zone known as the "Canal Record" contains an item to the effect that fifteen German steamship lines have applied for coal space on the canal zone sufficient to store 15,000 tons of coal. This only substantates the statements that the great steamship companies were getting ready to make the fullest possible use of the canal. After passing through this new maritime highway the first port of call on American soil will be San Diego, where active preparations are now being made to celebrate the opening of the canal with a great international exposition. Preparations are being made by the steamship companies to take thousands of visitors to the San Diego Exposition.

Much Interest has been shown the past week in the work of the new superintendent, Mr. Henderson, who is cleaning up the campus and trimming the trees. There is no reason why Adrian College campus should not be the prettiest campus in Michigan, and the student body and faculty are confident that Supt. Henderson is the man who has the ability to make it such.—The (Adrian) College World. Mr. Henderson is evidently carrying out his well known taste and love for the beautiful as he did in Tecumseh and if Adrian will only give him time the college may well boast of a campus that will be a perpetual delight.

MASONIC VISIT TO DETROIT

Tecumseh Chapter R A M. Royally Entertained by King Cyrus Chapter of Detroit.

100 IN PARTY.

The Tecumseh Chapter R. A. M. having received an invitation to visit King Cyrus Chapter R. A. M, of Detroit, through the courtesy of Harry Hanford High Priest, an old Tecumseh boy, left on the excursion train Tuesday at 8 a. m. leaving on schedule time and arrived in Detroit at 10:20 They were met at the depot by the High Priest and his officers and were given a royal welcome. A cordial invitation was given the ladies of the party to the 6 o'clock dinner to be served in the Temple. The party then dispersed until 2 o'clock when work began in the Temple which was continuous the afternoon and evening.

The dinner at 6 o'clock was most elaborate and delicious and was followed by a musical program. The ladies of the party were met by a number of the Detroit ladies who gave them a cordial welcome,

During the evening those not interested in the work of the order attended the theatres or visited with friends until the hour for the return trip.

The hospitality of the Chapter was still further shown by the elegant lunch furnished on the train when some fifty or more broilers and a basket of rolls were provided.

As the train pulled into the station at three o'clock in the morning it was a tired but a very satisfied crowd that wended their way homeward. Each and everyone voting Harry Hanford a royal brother and friend.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Veibert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills." For sale by all druggists.

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what this substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red blood and throw out the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years has excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a pure glyceric extract (without alcohol), of bloodroot, golden seal and Oregon grape root, stone root, mandrake and queen's root with black cherrybark.

J. H. MARTIN, Esq

"My husband was a sufferer from stomach trouble and impure blood," writes MRS. JAMES H. MARTIN, of Frankfort, Ky. "He had a sore on his face that would form a scab which would dry and drop off in about a month, then another would immediately form. It continued this way for a long time. He tried every remedy that any one would suggest but found no relief. He then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which completely cured him. He has stayed cured now for two years, and I recommend this valuable medicine for impurities of the blood."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

PORT HURON — The Michigan supreme court has just reversed the case of Harry Edgerly vs. the Ladies of the Modern Maccabees, and the decision is of interest to fraternal policy holders all over the state. Edgerly's mother was suspended from the order because of delinquency in payments, but continued to make payments on her policy, which were accepted by the finance keeper. Two lower courts ruled that the acceptance of the money made the order liable upon the death of the woman, but the higher tribunal declared that the beneficiary is without any claim.

DETROIT—Definite returns from the various counties in Michigan voting on the local option liquor question show Jackson to have gone "wet" by from 800 to 1,000 majority. Clinton is "dry" by a good majority and in Ionia the "wets" seem to have won. Calhoun is "wet," and Tuscola returns to the "wet" column after four years by a majority of 250. Emmet seems to have gone "wet." Genessee is "dry" by 77 votes. Lenawee probably remains "dry" by a majority of 500.

GRAND RAPIDS—Following closely upon statements made in the recent million dollar school bond issue campaign that many of the public school buildings in Grand Rapids were unsafe, unsanitary and should be condemned, Mayor Ellis has appointed a commission to examine into the alleged conditions. If the statements are found to be correct at least five school buildings will probably be replaced with new structures, entailing an expense of half a million dollars.

KALAMAZOO—J. B. Hatfield, who made an attempt to murder his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Nightingale, in Gobleville, some time ago, and who later made an unsuccessful attempt to take his own life, appeared in the Van Buren circuit court in Paw Paw and pleaded guilty to the charge of attempted murder.

The woman is still paralyzed and little hope is held out to her friends for her recovery.

Repairing High Monument.

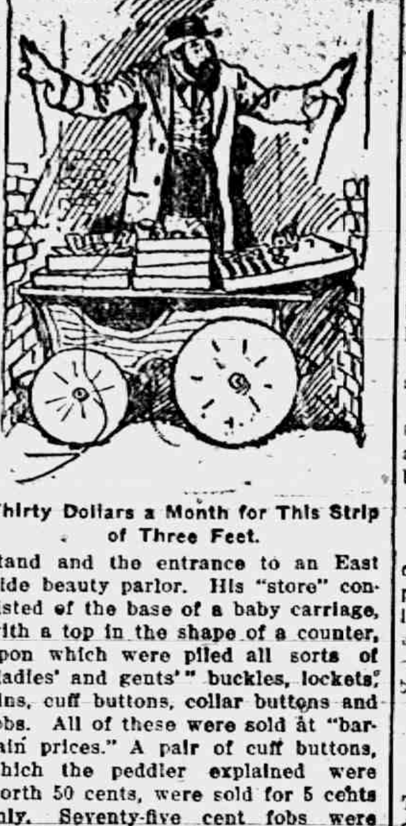
A well-known London steeplejack named Larkins has been engaged to repair the monument to the first Duke of Sutherland, on the top of Ben Vraggie (Sutherlandshire), 1,300 feet above the sea. The statue is 35 feet high and is on a column of solid masonry 90 feet high. It takes the men two hours to climb to work, and they have to "down tools" before dusk to allow of a descent in daylight.

Three Feet of Space and a Fortune

Enormous Sums Paid in Privileges and Rent for Places on the Streets.

"Scores of men come to my office every day in search of a few feet of space," said an agent whose business is to find locations for East Siders who have saved enough money in the sweatshops to go in business. "They are willing to pay from $100 to $500, not for the space, but for the privilege of establishing some sort of a business there and paying rent—high rent—in addition. I know many persons who are prospering with a business occupying not more than 3x3 feet of space."

With directions from this agent a few such business men were visited and in every case the three feet of space in Manhattan proved to be an excellent investment. The first man was a jewelry dealer, who occupied two by three feet between a herring stand and the entrance to an East Side beauty parlor. His "store" consisted of the base of a baby carriage, with a top in the shape of a counter, upon which were piled all sorts of "ladies' and gents'" buckles, lockets, pins, cuff buttons, collar buttons and fobs. All of these were sold at "bargain prices." A pair of cuff buttons, which the peddler explained were worth 50 cents, were sold for 5 cents only. Seventy-five cent fobs were sold at 7 cents apiece and brooches that were "a bargain for $1," were sold at 10 cents. The jewelry man was too busy to talk, for it was Saturday afternoon and time was money. But the man at the herring stand told the story.



Thirty Dollars a Month for This Strip of Three Feet.

The jewelry man had been an operator in a sweatshop until several years ago and barely was making a living.

Then a friend suggested this jewelry business. The odds and ends, the scraps, of the factories where cheap jewelry is made furnish his stock. He buys by the bushel and takes the stuff home, where his wife and two daughters repair and polish up the pins, bracelets, fobs and other gewgaws until they look bright. Then he sells them. At first he sold in the street from a pushcart. Then he spotted this location, the narrow strip of place near the entrance to the beauty parlor. He got it for $10 a month. Then they raised his rent to $15; now he is paying $30 a month for this strip of three feet, and should his rent be raised to $50 a month he would pay it, for the location is excellent for his business. A girl coming out of a beauty parlor where she had just gotten a marcel wave (marcel waves are still in vogue in these parlors) is sure to feel like investing a dime or even a quarter to improve her appearance still more with a trinket that looks like real gold.

Three feet of space near the entrance to a large office building on Broadway gives a comfortable income to a man who has established himself there with a portable stand weighing in all not more than fifty pounds and containing all sorts of rubber bands, erasers, clasps and a few other things which serve as accessories to a well-ordered office desk. He has been there for years and does a pretty good business. In front of another skyscraper a Greek pays a stiff rental ostensibly for the space which one bootblack chair occupies, but it carries with it the privilege of going to all the offices in the building to shine shoes. He seldom works himself, he hires boys who do the shoe shining for $6 a week, while he pockets the

Novel Lightning Arrester.

A novel lightning arrester for telegraph and telephone train dispatching circuits has recently been devised. In place of using an air gap, a block of carborundum is employed, which furnishes enough resistance to prevent leakage of the current under normal conditions, but allows charges induced by lightning to pass freely to the ground. These lightning arresters have been found to prevent the clicks commonly produced by static charges.

Will Wipe Out Many Mills.

The dam which the United States Government is planning to construct at Troy across the Hudson River will wipe out a number of factories and mills in that region using water power. The head furnished by the dam will be utilized to generate about 6,000 horse power, and this will be sold to the mills and factories at cost. However, the companies will be required to pay the cost of building the power house. It is estimated that the amount of power utilized will be three times as much as has heretofore been employed.

INSANE MAN JUMPS THROUGH A WINDOW

Believed to Be Fred Stiff of Grand Junction.

Hastings, Mich., April 12.—Fred Stiff, aged twenty-five, of Grand Junction, Van Buren county, is confined in jail here a raving maniac.

Stiff was brought to Hastings by Middleville officers. Shortly after midnight, Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, residing on a farm in Yankee Springs, were awakened when Stiff, dressed only in an undershirt, crashed through a bedroom window, declaring they had saved his life by giving him refuge.

Officers responding to Shaw's telephone call, recovered Stiff's clothing, scattered along the highway. On arrival at the jail, Stiff said he was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Stiff of Grand Junction.

Apparently he is a man of refinement. A book showing deposits in a Bloomingdale bank was found in his clothing. Later he began to rave and frothed at the mouth.

Man Pays Debt of $1.50 He Has Owed for Forty Years.

Sparta, Mich., April 12.—The Rev. H. Rose of the Free Methodist church has received a letter containing $1.50 from an unidentified person.

The letter said that if Russel Wooden, a merchant in this village about forty years ago, were alive that the money belonged to him, and that if he were dead to try and find some of his heirs.

The money will be turned over to a son living in Grand Rapids.

The senior Wooden was at one time the leading merchant of the village, and several business places which he built still stand.

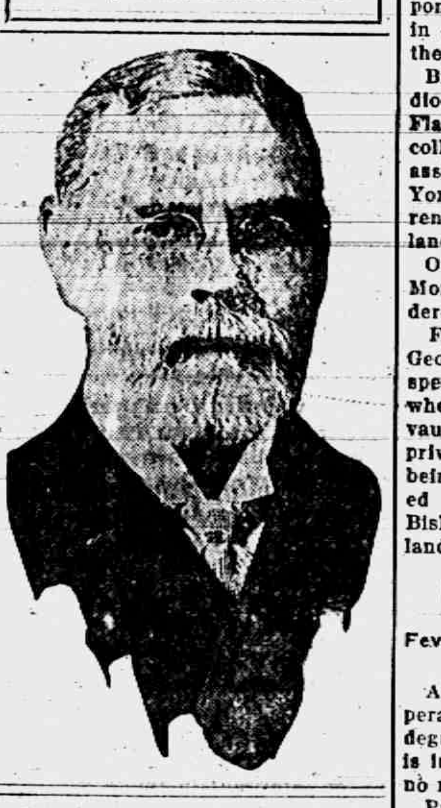
JAMES R. MANN.

Illinois Congressman Who Secures Open Republican Caucus.



G. O. P. CAUCUS IS OPEN

Republicans Debate Tariff Bill Opposition with Public Present.

At Washington for the first time in the history of the party the Republicans of the House of representatives held an open caucus. On motion of Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, the Republican leader, the press representatives were invited to attend the caucus, which was called for the purpose of condemning the Democratic tariff bill, presented on Monday by Representative Underwood of Alabama, the majority leader.

It was decided after an hour's debate to offer as substitutes for the Underwood bill the reports of the Taft tariff board on particular schedules, these reports proposing rates lower than those in the existing law, but not quite as low as those of the Underwood bill.

GRAND RAPIDS—Harry Hugney, who is about twenty-three years old, of Cedar Springs, has been brought here under arrest, charged with attempting to wreck G. R. & I. fast train No. 92 near Cedar Springs. He is alleged to have placed rails and ties on the track. Hughey told of seeing three men run away. He was immediately arrested.

CHARGES ILLEGAL VOTING

Accusation Against 18 Students of Polish Seminary.

Pontiac, Mich., April 14.—Henry C. Kyle of West Bloomfield township made complaint against eighteen students of the Polish seminary at Orchard Lake, alleging illegal voting at the election last week.

The eighteen students complained of, all "swore in" their votes, stating they had resided in the state six months and in the township twenty days. Justice Stockwell has taken the matter under advisement.

SIX PASSENGERS KILLED

Fifteen Others Injured in Accident to Excursion Train Near Montreal.

Seven persons are dead as a result of an excursion train being derailed on the Montreal-Chambly branch of the Central Vermont railroad, about six miles from Montreal. There were 700 passengers aboard. The engine left the rails from some cause, unknown as yet, and the tender, which was in front of the engine, turned bottom up.

Both engineer and fireman were thrown from the cab, the fireman receiving injuries from which he died soon after, while the engineer escaped with severe bruises. The coaches which followed immediately after the engine were telescoped and it was estimated that six of the passengers were killed and others injured.

STUDENTS DROWN AT WINONA

Fritz Dittman of Chicago and a New York Boy Perish in Indiana.

Fritz Dittman, aged twenty-one, of Chicago, and J. M. Johnson, seventeen years old, of New York, students at Winona college, Winona Lake, Ind., were drowned in the lake.

The young men, who were expert canoemen, attempted to cross the lake while it was rough. The canoe and paddles were found in the morning. Because of the roughness of the lake it has been impossible to make search for the bodies.

J. P. MORGAN ENTOMBED

In New York city three bishops, a college president and the rector of St. George's church, of which J. Pierpont Morgan was senior warden, were in charge of the funeral services for the financier.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Morgan, the stock exchange was ordered closed until noon.

Following the services at St. George's the body was taken on a special train to Hartford, Conn., where the burial was in the Morgan vault. At Hartford the services were private, only members of the family being admitted. They were conducted by Bishop Brewster, assisted by Bishop Lawrence and Rev. Mr. Reiland.

POPE PIUS IS BETTER

Fever Disappears and Fear of Pneumonia Has Passed.

At Rome, Italy, Pope Pius' temperature decreased at 1 o'clock to 96 degrees. The disappearance of fever is interpreted as a sign that there is no more fear of pneumonia.

Professor Ettor Marchiafava on leaving the pope's apartment after examining him, said: "I now trust that the pope's illness will have a favorable solution, if it is possible to induce the patient to take proper care of himself."

Attempt to Kill Alfonso.

At Madrid, Spain, a well dressed man of twenty-five years, fired three shots at King Alfonso as he was riding through the streets here, but none of the bullets struck the monarch. One of the bullets struck his horse in the chest.

GRAND RAPIDS—After alleging that their mother, Mrs. Ellen J. Morse, was unduly influenced when she willed her property worth $100,000, to their sister, Elizabeth A. Stowe, two prominent and wealthy citizens, George M. and Edward A. Morse, of Grand Rapids, filed a petition in the probate court to break the will.

PORT HURON—H. H. Rawlings, who is a local real estate agent, lay helpless on a cot in his home while flames overhead came nearer and nearer. His cries were heard by his wife, who alone and unassisted, helped her husband into a wheel chair, and safely guided him down a stairway to safety.

TARIFF MEASURE IS BEFORE HOUSE

Plainly Bears Imprint of President Wilson's Handiwork.

CAUCUS MAKES FEW CHANGES

Underwood Act Is Formally Presented in Lower Branch of Congress, Will Be Reported Favorably Tomorrow and Called Up for Debate Wednesday.

Washington, April 21. — The tariff revision bill with its sweeping reductions, its long free list, augmented at the last day's session by the ways and means committee, and its income tax, was presented by Majority Leader Underwood for debate in the house of representatives.

Approved by the Democratic caucus as amended in two weeks' discussion, the bill will be reported favorably by the majority of the ways and means committee Tuesday, and called up for debate Wednesday.

Mr. Underwood predicted that the bill would be passed in the house by May 15. Two months, the administration leaders believe, is a generous time to allot to the senate for its consideration and passage, and unless it is decided to bring in a currency bill thereafter congress should be ready to adjourn about July 15.

Wilson's Views Prevail.

The bill as approved by President Wilson came through the caucus unscathed. Democratic opponents of free sugar in three years and of free raw wool made the most vigorous fights on the president's suggestions adopted by the ways and means committee, but they were hopelessly outvoted.

The caucus ratified the bill with its minor amendments by an overwhelming vote, some members taking advantage of the rule granting them freedom from the caucus pledge to support the bill in its entirety.

Members who were released from the caucus pledge were Brussard, Dupre, Lazare and Morgan of Louisiana, on account of sugar; Ashbrook, White and Francis of Ohio, because of wool Bremner and Kinkead of New Jersey on account of cattle; Donovan [illegible] Kennedy of Connecticut, because of hats; Burke of Wisconsin because of farm products and Fowler of Illinois because of linseed oil.

Changes Not Numerous.

The principal changes made in the bill were:

Shoe machinery, buckwheat, rye, rabbit fur and phospheric acid transferred from the dutiable to the free list.

Onyx reduced from 65 cents to 50 cents a cubic foot, to put it on the same basis as marble.

Cut diamonds increased from 15 to 20 per cent.

Castor oil reduced from 15 to 12 per cent.

Cod, seal and herring oil reduced from 5 to 3 per cent.

Sperm oil increased from 5 to 33 per cent.

Vanila beans reduced from 50 to 30 cents a pound.

Salts and other compounds and mixtures of which bismuth, gold, platinum, rhodium, silver, tin and uranium constitute the chief value cut from 15 to 10 per cent.

The caucus adopted an amendment fixing May 1, 1916, as the date when raw sugar should go on the free list. The time when the income tax shall become effective was left subject to future disposition by the house.

MAY END PATERSON STRIKE

American Federation of Labor Takes Hand in Situation.

Paterson, N. J., April 21. — Trades people and business men generally are welcoming the advent of the American Federation of Labor into the silk weavers' and dyers' strike situation in the hope that the older organization may succeed in bringing about a settlement of the difficulties and restoring peaceful trade conditions in the city.

Even the silk manufacturers, who refuse to deal with the I. W. W. leaders running the strike, do not deprecate the announced plans of the A. F. L. to do what it can to induce the strikers to desert the standards of William D. Haywood, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and others, and take them into camp.

Amateur Burglar Kills Woman.

Attleboro, Mass., April 21.—An armed man who shot with a promiscuousness that leads the police to believe he is an amateur burglar, killed Mrs. Eugene Colbert in her home in St. Jane village, and half an hour later wounded Joseph Powers and his sister, Miss Mary Powers, in their house at South Attleboro.

PFANSCHMIDT GUILTY OF QUADRUPLE CRIME

Jurors Doom Quincy, Ill., Youth to Death for Murder.

Quincy, Ill., April 21. — Ray Pfanschmidt is guilty of the mruder of his father, mother, sister and Emma Kaempen, and as a penalty for his crime must forfeit his life. That is the verdict a jury returned here.

The foreman of the jury, Sampson G. Sparks of Camp Point, handed the verdict to Judge Williams, who glanced at it and turned it over to Circuit Clerk Beatty.

The clerk read aloud: "We, the jury, find Ray Pfanschmidt guilty of the murder of his sister, Blanche Pfanschmidt, and fix the penalty at death."

Immediately after the verdict was read George Govert of counsel for the defense made a motion for a new trial. Judge Williams set May 6 as the date for argument on the motion.

The first ballot taken by the jury proved the twelve men were unanimous on the defendant's guilt. The next ballot taken was on the penalty. Eleven favored death and one a life sentence. On the fourth ballot the one juror favoring a life sentence changed his vote to the death penalty.

While technically Pfanschmidt was found guilty of the murder of his sister Blanch, in reality he was convicted of the murder of four persons who were killed on the Pfanschmidt farm near Payson last September.

EXPECTS VARIED WEATHER

Washington Bureau Tells What We May Experience This Week.

Washington, April 21.—The distribution of atmospheric pressure over the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate that the coming week will open with moderately warm weather throughout the central valleys. There will be unsettled weather with local rains the first part of the week in the upper Mississippi valley and the region of the great lakes. A change to warmer weather will overspread the lake region and the Ohio valley Tuesday and Wednesday.

The next storm of importance to cross the country will appear in the great central valleys Thursday or Friday; this disturbance will be preceded by a general rise in temperature, attended by showers and thunder storms and be followed by considerably colder weather.

South Bend, Ind., April 21.—Suffering an attack of heart failure while about his duties at Notre Dame university, Brother John of God, one of the pioneers of the school, fell down a flight of stairs, suffering injuries which caused his death several hours later.

He did not regain consciousness. Brother John, whose wordly name was Hagan, has been in the school since 1877.

PROVISIONS OF MORGAN'S WILL

Bulk of the Vast Fortune Will Go to the Son.

$3,000,000 INCOME TO WIDOW

Same Bequest Made to the Three Daughters of the Financier—Employes Generously Remembered in the Will—No Accurate Estimate of Fortune Can Be Made at Present.

New York, April 21.—J. Pierpont Morgan is the chief beneficiary in the will of his father, according to facts just made known from authoritative sources.

To Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, the widow, is left the income of $3,000,000 for life, th principal at her death to revert to the estate. In addition Mrs. Morgan also gets the use for life of the Morgan residence at 219 Madison avenue, as well as the country place at Highland Falls, N. Y.

Three Million to Anne Morgan.

To Miss Anne Morgan a similar monetary bequest of $3,000,000 is made, the income from this amount to be paid to her during her life. Should she marry and leave children it is provided that the principal on her death shall revert to the children.

But should she die unmarried or childless, the full amount of the principal, it is provided shall revert to the residuary estate. Under no conditions would it be possible under the will for Miss Morgan's husband to inherit the money.

To Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, formerly Laura A. P. Morgan, and Mrs. W. Pierson Hamilton, who was Juliet T. Morgan, the income of $3,000,000 is devised separately, with the proviso that upon their deaths the full sum in each case shall go to their children.

Valued Employes Remembered.

For the rest, two employes of Mr. Morgan who had served him faithfully and upon whom he relied particularly—Miss Belle da Costa Greene and Mrs. Ada Thurston—have been generously remembered. Miss Greene and Mrs. Thurston served Mr. Morgan in his wonderful library.

Phillips, the valet, who had been in Mr. Morgan's service for fifteen years, receives $15,000. To each of the household staff in the employ of Mrs. Morgan for more than five years the sum of $1,000 is bequeathed.

The son is made the residuary legatee.

Not even the members of the family, to whom the will has been read, know the extent of the fortune which Mr. Morgan left. No accurate estimate, it is said, can be made until after the estate has been appraised, the work of which, unofficially, is already under way.

EYES FOCUSED ON CALIFORNIA

Action of Legislature on Alien Land Bill Awaited.

HOW AVOID FUSS WITH JAPAN

Governor Johnson Acknowledges Receipt of Message from Secretary Bryan, Urging Him to Not Sign House Measure, but to Favor One Originating in Senate.

Washington, April 21. — Now that President Wilson has acted with regard to the California-Japanese situation, interest in Washington is centered on what California intends to do about it. The federal authorities feel there is nothing to do now but wait and see what developes in the California legislature.

Johnson Acknowledges Dispatch.

Secretary Bryan received from Governor Johnson an acknowledgement of his dispatch of Saturday, communicating to him the views of President Wilson regarding the situation. This acknowledgement was taken to the White House by Mr. Bryan. Further than this incident there were no new developments in the situation from this end. An increase of optimism was noticeable, however, following the president's recommendation, suggesting a toning down of the proposed legislation in California.

Californians in Washington stick to their predictions that the bill will be passed which will achieve the desired end, that is, the elimination of the Japanese farmer. Representative Raker, who has conferred with President Wilson frequently since the Japanese objected to the California bills, said.

"This matter will be settled satisfactorily. Legislation with reference to the holding of land by aliens will be enacted. The people of California want the question settled once for all."

At a meeting of the California society here the proposed anti-Japanese bills were heartily endorsed.

Text of Bryan Telegram.

This is the telegram sent to Governor Johnson by Secretary Bryan, at the suggestion of President Wilson:

"Washington, D. C., April 19.—The Hon. Hiram Johnson, Sacramento, Cal.: The president desires me to say that, while he fully recognizes the right of the people of California to legislate according to their judgment on the subject of land tenure, he feels it his duty to urge a recognition of the international character of such legislation.

"Being anxious to preserve and strengthen the long standing friendly relations existing between this country and the nations of the orient, he very respectfully, but most earnestly, advises against the use of the words 'ineligible to citizenship.' He asks that you bring this view to the attention of the legislature.

"He believes the senate bill, as telegraphed to the department of state, is greatly to be preferred. The bill limited ownership to citizens and to those who had declared their intention to become citizeens.

Fail to Find Broker Martin.

Geneva, Switzerland, April 21. — A search of every hotel and boarding house at Vevay revealed no trace of Joseph Wilberforce Martin, the missing cotton broker of Memphis, or of any one who resembles him, and the police are emphatic in declaring that he is not at that place. Telegrams which have been awaiting him at the postoffice are still unclaimed.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pill's. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, biliousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps: every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00, Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hsngs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

REV. J. WIRT DUNNING OF PORTSMOUTH HEARD FROM

Rev John Wirt Dunning had quite an experience in his journey home from Tecumseh After speaking at the Opera House on "The Disadvantages of Living in a Wet Town". We quote from an account in the Portsmout Daily of April 10

"At 9:03 I sneaked out of the wings of the Bradley Theatre in Tecumseh, Michigan, heading for the stage entrance. The train for home left at 9:05 Being unused to things thespian, I tripped on one of the wings at upper r. e, and fell sprawling on the floor. I left the manuscript I held in my hand and carried away two large bruises. I suppose the theatre still has the manuscript I have the bruises. I believe J. Wilkes booth had a similar experience after he had shot Lincoln. Sic semper tyrannis."

"The subject of the lecture had been "The Disadvantages of Living in a Wet Town." A few remained to be experienced in the beginning of three days of rather strenuous life, for a preacher. I had engaged a sleeper from Toledo to Columbus, but was informed that it had been raining torrents for three days in the Scioto and Ohio valleys, and no trains were running south that night. There was nothing to do but "cast anchor and wait for the day."

All along the line he met with discouragement after discouragement.

The late papers told of serious floods in Portsmouth. And it was impossible to get south. Who could stand it to be marooned in a strange city when ones church and home and friends were lying only one hundred miles south, in the very center of the flood district.

From this point a man took him and Rev. Hughes in his carriage as far as he could drive, and then they started afoot, caught an auto ride, hired a horse and in various ways made their way to Portsmouth, which they reached at midnight of the third day.

I remember now a word the driver on that forty miles night ride said when we stopped in the mud of Forts hill to pour a little oil in the timer, "This is a strange experience. There must be something behind it."

Rev. Dunning reports 12 feet of water in his church and two-thirds of the city under water. The losses is estimated at $1,000,000.

THE POST BOY PASSES

His Picture not Upon the New Special Delivery Stamp.

The historic post boy passed into history with the arrival of a new assortment of special delivery stamps, which bear designs minus the mythical youth on a bicycle. Post boys themselves were abolished from the service about two years ago, but the design of the boy riding a wheel was retained on the special delivery stamps. The new stamps are smaller than the old ones and are scarcely bigger than the new fifteen cent issues.

Since the beginning of the postal system there has been a place in its heart for the post boy. It was the post boy of our grandmothers and grandfathers who delivered the mail at all times of the year, and whose picture adorned the early issues of stamps. Through softness of heart the Government at Washington allowed his figure to be kept on the special delivery stamps, but now he has to go. The early stamps pictured him riding at breakneck speed on a horse, the later ones put him on a railroad train or mail cart, then he ran on foot for a while, and then he was given a bicycle.

When it came time for the new stamps the officials were confronted with the problem of a boyless mail service. All the post office clerks are men more than twenty-one years old, and even the substitutes who stay in the office during the summer have to pass civil service examinations. The boy has no place in the modern post office, although his elimination has been completed only within the last few years.

The new style stamp is much different from the old. It is much more conspicuous, being green in color, with glaring edges that catch the eye. Since the order was issued in Washington doing away with the necessity of purchasing special delivery stamps there has been a total falling off of about 2,000,000 special delivery stamps. It is advised by officials at the office that special delivery stamps be used on letters instead of using the ordinary ones, as they quickly catch the eye of the men handling them and are sure of being recognized.

Barbara, aged four, had always been allowed to make small cakes out of the scraps of dough left from the morning's baking, so one morning after being sent to gather eggs, she came running in with a very tiny one and exclaimed, "Oh, mamma! see this little egg. Causes Much Disease

Advice about Stomach Troubles and how to relieve them.

Don't neglect Indigestion, for it may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of all ills have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be one of the most dependable remedies known for indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. Rich in Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine, the relief they afford is very prompt. Used persistently and regularly for a short time, they tend to relieve pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help insure healthy appetite, aid digestion, and promote nutrition. As evidence of our faith in them, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give entire satisfaction, we will return the money you paid us without question or formality. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00.

MRS. LEMAN BARNES DIED SUNDAY MORNING

Prominent Member M. E. Church President of Foreign Missionary Society, Sunday School Teacher, and Member of W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Leman Barnes one of the most beloved members of Tecumseh Methodist church, passed away at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, after an illness of one brief week. Ever thoughtful of the interest her many friends had in her welfare, she sent word to the Tecumseh Herald of her illness for Tuesday's issue, and feeling that she was not gaining, she also reported for Friday, as we recorded her last message, we said, we hoped that we might have a better report for this week, and it came, for she han entered into her rest for which she had so longed, to be with her husband and children who had preceeded her into the Better Country, and to enter into the joy of her Lord, for which she was so eminently prepared.

For a number of years she has been in failing health, but was ever, been faithful in her attendance on her Church duties, the Church which was always first in her thoughts and in her heart.

Many memorials of Dr. and Mrs. Barnes are left in the Church for reminders of their love and devotion, a Corner Stone on the addition to the Church bears their names as the most liberal donations to the building fund. Through Mrs Barnes' kindness an individual Communion set was given the Church. Improvements were made at the Parsonage, and whenever a call was made for money to advance the interest of the Church in any way her purse was always open to help.

Since the death of Mrs. Griswold, Mrs. Barnes taught a large class of young women in the Sunday School, and once a year on her birthday, they have met together in a social afternoon at the different homes. Last year the meeting was held in the Church parlors, and will be a pleasant memory with all who were present on that occasion, as Mrs. Barnes was so cheerful and happy.

Mrs. Barnes was much depressed over the tragic death of Mrs. G. W. Jackson who was a member of her Sunday School class, and in writing to her brother last Sunday, she said, "I am far from well, for I am quite unnerved by the death of one of my class in Sunday School, and she went on to tell the story of the accident." Her sympathies were unbounded, and she mourned with those who mourned, and gave of her best to comfort and cheer them.

Harriet Doty was born in Lockport, N. Y., June 24, 1831, the daughter of Samuel and Hannah Sanford Doty. In 1857 she was united in marriage to Leman Barnes, to this union four children were born, all dying in early childhood. Dr. Barnes passed away about twelve years ago.

The funeral of Mrs. Barnes was held at the M. E. Church at 2:30 this (Tuesday) afternoon, Rev. G. H. Whitney officiating.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTSBURG.

July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, 1913

Senate Bill No. 69 has become a law, and we enclose you a copy of the enrolled bill, which should be read in every Grand Army Post—the Officers and Comrades are requested to secure the name, post office address, company, regiment, date of enlistment, and date of discharge, of every comrade that was a member of any regiment that took part in the Battle of Gettysburg, they must have been members on July 1st-2nd, and 3rd, 1863—and send said names and information to—Henry Spaulding, Lansing, Michigan, Secretary of the Gettysburg Commission. As soon as the names with other information as above are received at this office, the applicant will be sent a card to fill out (written plainly) and returned promptly to this office, and if found correct after comparing it with the records here in this office, he will be sent at once an order on the railroad ticket agent, good to Gettysburg and return, the Comrade when he presents the order to the railroad agent will have to get some one to identify him as the identical person named in the order. The state only furnishes transportation to Gettysburg and return, the General Goyernment sleeps, and the state of Pennsylvania feeds them while there. The applicants must get their names in by the first day of June 1913.

THE SUFFRAGIST FEEDER IN ENGLAND

Senator Townsend has a very interesting "souvenir" of late suffragette movement in England, which was sent to him by Miss Lillian Scott Tray of London, it being the apparatus used in forcibly feeding those militant suffragists who will not eat.

This aparatus consists of two rubber tubes with glass attachments for draining liquid nourishment into the nasal orifices or into the stomach, also two ugly attachments to force the mouth open in the shape of gags, to be used on those who refuse to be fed otherwise. One gag is made of boxwood in spiral form like a top, the other of highly tempered steel with two strong levers which when inserted in a womans mouth opens her jaws and keeps them open until the operator has completed the feeding process. By this means of forcible feeding the prison officials compel suffragists to forego their scheme of martyrdom.

ONE SECTION SOLD

D. T. & I. Has Begun Moving

Henry V. Porr bidding for Daniel B. Murry and Herman J. Schmacher of the New York Central Trust Co. purchased the Ohio Southern division of the D. T. & I. at the receivers sale at Springfield O., April 17, for $1,550,000.

The northern division between Lima and Detroit and a branch between Willston and Ironton failed to sell and an adjournment was made to June 24, at a place to be designated by the United States court of Detroit.

WILL FREE 500 SONG BIRDS

Imported Singers to be Freed Near Detroit

Detroit, Mich., April 17.—Nearly 500 song birds imported from England by Henry Ford, a local manufacturer, arrived in Detroit and will be given their liberty on Mr. Ford's farm near this city. Nearly one hundred birds died on shipboard.

Included among the birds are larks, linnets, brilliant yellowhammers, thrushes, green finches, bull finches, jays, chaffinches and redpolls. It is expected these birds will increace rapidly in numbers and eventually spread over the state.—Adrian Daily Times.

THE EXPOSITION

Provision must be made by Congress for official recognition of the great expositions to be held to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal. These will be held in San Francisco and San Diego, both in California, in 1915. Never before have two expositions been held at the same time in the United States. Never before have two such great expositions been held at the same time and in the same country. That Congress has thus far failed to place the stamp of official approval on two such great international enterprises, although asking foreign nations to participate, is almost incomprehensive. Congressman Kettner of California intends to press this matter on the attention of Congress at once, when the session opens, and to urge that steps be taken to prevent this Nation from from stultifying itself in the eyes of the world.

School Board Members Fined.

St. Louis, April 21.—Eleven members of the St. Louis board of education were fined $300 each in the circuit court here for failure to equip three school buildings with fire escapes. The members signed their own bonds and were released pending the outcome of appeals.

HOLLAND—The city of Holland will practically be a local option city, in a "wet" county, if persistent rumors are in any way reliable, when the licenses held by the wholesale liquor dealers expire on the first of May. It is said the brewery is likely to suspend operations, as the last link of the chain which will be drawn around a teetotally "dry" town.

Golf Ball Poachers.

Many complaints have been received by the police lately of the loss of golf balls from the Epping Forest links, while actually in play. It is alleged that gangs of youths gather at places on the links where the players cannot see the balls fall, and that the balls disappear sometimes even when they fall on the fairway. As the result of a watch kept by the police in trees and behind hedges, several prosecutions have taken place recently.—London Mail.

SURPRISED

The surprisers were surprised Saturday p. m when then went to the home of R. J. W. Bowen to help him celebrate his birthday. Not notifying any member of the family of their intentions they found the doors locked and nobody to receive them. After waiting until nearly six o'clock at the neighbors they saw Mr. Bowen wending his way homeward and at last they made their entrance.

Mrs. Bowen who was shopping down town came later and a merry time followed. A pot luck supper was no mean feature of the occasion.

BILL LOST

Lansing, Mich., April 18.—Brides and bridegrooms will not have to present health certificates in order to be married in Michigan for the next two years, at least. The Glasner health certificate bill was defeated in the senate yesterday afternoon by a bare majority.

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY

A Proclamation by the Governor

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate Friday, May 9th, A. D. 1913, as Arbor and Bird Day, and do request that this day be observed by all schools, public and private, and other educational institutions by the planting of trees for beautifying school grounds and parks, and by conducting suitable exercises for promoting the spirit of protection to trees and birds.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this first day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, end of the Commonwealth the seventy-seventh.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS,
By the Governor:
Frederick C. Martindale,
Secretary of State.

American Cabinet Material

In the United States the cabinet has no relationship to Congress, its members have no seats in either house and no voice upon the floor, and the President of the United States has the entire range of his fellow-citizens from whom to choose. Thus the newspaper and the public find a certain mild speculative excitement in guessing – from election day, in the first week of November, until inauguration day, in the first week of March—what men may be called to the nine posts (now increased to ten by the creation of a Department of Labor) which carry so much responsibility and involve the exercise of such vast power. This concern about the cabinet is speculation of no idle sort; for it deals with that which concerns the lives and fortunes of men, and with public matters of vast moment.

We are a nation possessing a far greater number of men of political aspiration than any other country; and from the standpoint of men's ambitions the selection of a cabinet is intensely interesting. For it must be remembered that a multitude of other appointments are directly or indirectly dependent upon the choice of ten department chiefs. Every State has its quota of men who have had opportunity to serve in elective or appointive office, in such a way as to have become notable among their neighbors and ambitious for higher preferment. When an administration at Washington changes, there are literally hundreds of men who might be regarded as possibly available for cabinet posts, and there are several thousand who might naturally aspire to important positions of lesser rank.—From "President Wilson's Cabinet." by Albert Shaw, in the American Review of Review for April.

BLACK SILK LIQUID STOVE POLISH

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

IT'S different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware dealers.

All we ask is a trial. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish.

Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Studebaker

"Such shipments mean Studebaker has the confidence of the farmer"

Every year over one hundred thousand horse-driven vehicles are sold by Studebaker. Over a million Studebaker vehicles are always in use. Stop and think what that means.

And a Studebaker wagon never fails. It is always ready to do a big day's work—and to keep on doing it. There are thousands of Studebaker wagons that have been in service from 20 to 40 years.

A Studebaker wagon is a real business asset. Wheels, body, frame, axles and running gear have been tested and retested by experts. You can buy cheaper wagons but they're not Studebakers, nor will they last like Studebaker wagons.

Whether in city, town or country, for business or pleasure, there is a Studebaker vehicle to meet your requirements. Farm wagons, trucks, contractors' wagons, buggies, surreys, runabouts, pony carriages, business and delivery wagons—each the best of its kind. Studebaker harness also, of every description.

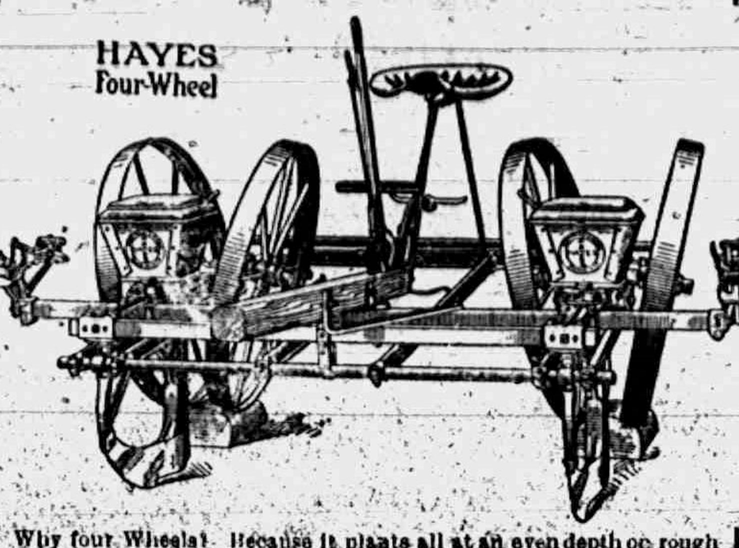
Expensive Taste.

A woman wine taster in France is said to earn nearly $25,000 a year, as her services are in good demand. Not many women have adopted this profession, but a half dozen or so have been famed for their powers. It takes a rare sense of taste to be able to tell as soon as a drop of wine touches the tongue in just what part of the world the grapes are grown.

Chestnut for Poles.

A writer in the Electrical Times recently stated that probably the best wood for poles is cedar, but chestnut also makes excellent, durable poles. Much depends, however, on the nature of the soil, and, generally speaking, native timber will be more durable than poles of otherwise equal quality grown under different conditions of soil and climate.



HAYS FOUR WHEEL PLANTER

Why four Wheels? Because it plants all at an even depth on rough or even ground insuring earlier cultivation—cleaner fields Quick Germination—surer growth. Hayes' Four-Wheels covers where all ordinary open wheels fail. The axles are adjustable and permit the wheels being set to pack as much or as little soil around the corn as conditions require. There are many other reasons why this planter is the one you should buy. Come in and let us demonstrate them to you.

This planter is sold at $45 on time with a substantial discount for cash.

The working force of the Tecumseh Herald is nearly all girls. The record is about one graduate each year, when some fellow asks a pretty type setter to be his life partner. Of course in leap years the order is reversed. With the coming of spring it is time for another announcement. Watch the colums of the Herald closely —Hudson Post. The Tecumseh Herald is getting used to this sort of criticism, and the girls say, if you have any candidates in the Hudson Post Office send them along.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor, somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?

Distressed with urinary ills?

Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action John Velbert, Foster, Calif. says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100 00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Stilted sermons never elevate the preacher in the estimation of his congregation.

NEW AMBASSADOR ON WAY

Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice Leaves London for America.

London, April 21.—Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, the new British ambassador to the United States, sailed for New York on the Carmania.

"I shall assume the duties of my office as British ambassador immediately on my arrival in Washington," he said before his departure, "and my family will come on later." The ambassador succeeds James Bryce at Washington.

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what this substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red blood and throw out the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years has excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a pure glyceric extract (without alcohol), of bloodroot, golden seal and Oregon grape root, stone root, mandrake and queen's root with black cherrybark.

J. H. MARTIN, Esq

"My husband was a sufferer from stomach trouble and impure blood" writes MRS. JAMES H. MARTIN, of Frankfort, Ky. "He had a sore on his face that would form a scab which would dry and drop off in about a month, then another would immediately form. It continued this way for a long time. He tried every remedy that any one would suggest but found no relief. He then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which completely cured him. He has stayed cured now for two years, and I recommend this valuable medicine for impurities of the blood."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

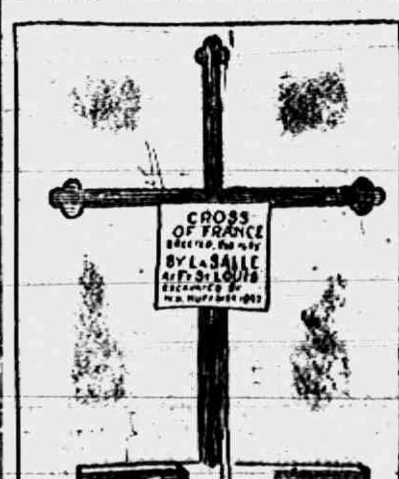
A REMINDER OF LA SALLE.

Cross Found on the Site of Old Fort St. Louis Built by Explorer.

A number of ancient relics have been found from time to time during the last few years upon the site of old Fort St. Louis which La Salle, the noted French explorer, and his brave band of adventurers erected in 1685 upon the east bank of the Navidad river, just above where Port Lavaca, Texas, is now situated. One of these historic reminders of the visit of the explorer is a cross which is made of iron. It was found several feet beneath the surface near the bank of the river. It is now in possession of Harry Bickford of Port Lavaca.

It was from Fort St. Louis that La Salle started upon his ill-fated expedition into the interior in search of the Mississippi river. He entered Pass Cavallo and explored Matagorda bay in the original belief, it is said, that it was here that the Mississippi river emptied its broad waters. He spent some time exploring the coast in this section and then went up the Navidad river some ten miles and there built his little fort. The site of this first settlement is full of beauty. The timbers of the ancient fort long since have rotted, but there are still heaps of stones and pieces of iron to be found scattered about upon the site.



Iron Cross a Relic of La Salle.

The trip which La Salle and his band of explorers made across the country was full of dangers and hardships. They are said to have left a few men behind to retain possession of Fort St. Louis. What became of these men history does not say. It is reasonable to suppose that they were killed by Indians.

HARRY THURSTON PECK

Former Columbia University President Who Is Very Ill.

PROF. H. T. PECK ILL

Former Columbia University Educator In Nervous Collapse.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 21.—Harry Thurston Peck, who was professor of ancient languages in Columbia university for twenty-eight years, is critically ill at the Ithaca City hospital. He is under the care of special physicians, who give little hope of his recovery. Professor Peck came here a few days ago to visit friends and was stricken by a nervous disease. His nerves and mental condition are seriously impaired.

He was sued about two years ago by Miss Esther Quinn, a stenographer, for $50,000 for breach of promise The suit was dismissed but another action for a similar amount brought by Miss Quinn is still pending. Professor Peck's connection with Columbia university was severed shortly after the first suit was brought.

MOTHER AND BABES ARE FOUND SLAIN

Farmer's Wife Shot and Infants' Heads Crushed.

Elgin, Ill., April 21.—A triple murder was revealed when the bodies of Mrs. Maude Sleep and her two infant children were found in a cistern on the Sleep farm near Plato Center, five miles west of here.

Mrs. Sleep had been shot five times in the neck and head. The babies' skulls had been crushed with an ax. The three bodies had lain in the abandoned water hole, directly beneath the kitchen, for several days.

Manny Sleep, the husband of the woman, and two sixteen-year-old boys employed on the farm are under surveillance by Kane county officials. Herman Koppels, one of the boys, was taken to Geneva and locked in the county jail. Stanley Philipsky and Mr. Sleep were permitted to remain on the farm at their work under the guard of two deputy sheriffs.

Mrs. Sleep and her two children—Sarah, four years old, and Orville, two years old—disappeared Monday evening between 4 and 7 o'clock.

Sleep, a "dreamer of dreams" and a man who reads visions in the clouds, said he followed clews during the week that had been revealed to him in nocturnal visits of the phantom spirits which guide him. His failure to discover the bodies, in view of the fact that the only opening to the cistern was in the family kitchen, led Coroner Eugene H. Norton to question him closely at the inquest.

"When did you first miss your wife and the children?" the coroner asked.

"Monday evening when I came in from the field and found this note." He handed a scrap of paper to the official on which was scrawled:

"Mr. Sleep deer father I have killed miself. Maude."

"Why didn't you find the bodies before?" the coroner asked suddenly.

Sleep stammered and then talked incoherently of a "vision" he had had. Following this story, Coroner Norton ordered that Sleep and the Phillpsky boy be watched. Both boys were wards of the St. Charles School for Boys and were paroled to the Sleep family for six months.

The Koppels boy was declared by Ida Sleep, eleven-year-old daughter of the murdered woman, to have displayed in school a revolver similar to the weapon found with the bodies in the cistern. His also showed Phillpsky an empty cartridge of the caliber found in the revolver.

The handwriting in the note presented by Sleep was much different from that of Mrs. Sleep. Koppels was forced by the coroner to copy the note. The official declared there was enough similarity to warrant the boy being held.

HASTINGS—The body of the murdured infant which was found in a corn shock was buried by the authorities following a coroner's inquest. Sheriff Williams and Deputy Lichty have several clues. An attempt will be made to decipher the name on the handle of the basket in which the corpse was found.

KALAMAZOO—The 7th day of May has been fixed as the date when the big celebration takes place in honor of Father F. A. O'Brien's recent appointment to monsignor by Pope Pius X. At that time he will be vested with the purple robes and will be the only priest in this state bearing this distinction.

PORT HURON — Although the river has been most thoroughly dragged no trace has yet been found of Ralph Fisher, aged twenty-four, of Caro, Mich., who, after leaving a note in which he said that he was going to end it all, disappeared from sight. His young wife has arrived here and is frantic from grief.

EATON RAPIDS—Oliver S. Blakeslee, who was one of the most prominent farmers in Eaton county, is dead at his home in Delta township, after a brief illness. He had been a resident of Delta many years, and had a state wide reputation as a breeder of blooded stock.

POPE MUCH BETTER BUT IS VERY WEAK

Aged Brother Shocked at Pontiff's Emaciated Condition.

Rome, April 21.—Angelo Sarto, the aged brother of Pope Pius X, said in answer to questions that the pontiff was much better. He admitted, however, that his brother was suffering from extreme weakness, adding that he is "so emaciated and changed that I hardly recognized him. I was frightened at his appalling condition," concluded Angelo.

Dr. Andre Amici made several visits to the pope and Professor Marchiafava accompanied him on his evening visit.

The sisters and niece called at the Vatican four times during the day but were not allowed to see the patient. This action was taken apparently to spare the pontiff the effort of talking.

Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state under Pope Leo XIII and the leading candidate for the papacy after the latter's death, was specially delegated by the pope to officiate in his stead at the papal altar in St. Peter's and celebrate the pontifical mass in commemoration of the Constantine jubilee.

BATTLESHIPS TO LEVANT

Secretary Daniels Will Send Atlantic Flet on Three Months' Cruise.

Washington, April 21.—As part of his policy to give the enlisted men of the navy a liberal education, Secretary Daniels announced that the entire Atlantic battleship fleet will next winter make a three months' cruise of the Meditterrean. Secretary Daniels said:

"I have decided to send the Atlantic fleet on a winter cruise covering the most interesting ports of the world because I believe we should offer to the enlisted man every opportunity which lies in our power to obtain that knowledge of other countries from personal observation, which in every rank of life gives to the travelled man an advantage over those who have spent their lives at home in the upward struggle."

St. Louis Has 831,570 People.

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—The population of St. Louis based on the new directory returns, is estimated at 831,570, while the population of suburban towns swells the total to more than a million.

WAYMAN IS DEAD

Former Chicago State's Attorney Takes Own Life.

SICKNESS CAUSES ABERRATION

Two Bullets Fired Into Body by Lawyer In Closet of His Home—Neither Strikes Vital Organ and Physicians at First Held Out Hope That Mr. Wayman Might Recover.

John H. W. Wayman, the former states attorney at Chicago, died at 1:18 a. m. from two self-inflicted bullet wounds in his left breast eight hours after he attempted suicide in a clothes closet in a bedroom of his home at 6834 Constance avenue.

Mrs. Wayman heard the reports. She ran upstairs and saw her husband lying crumpled up on the floor, the weapon by his side. Hysterically she ran down the stairs and out doors, screaming for help.

George C. Bour, real estate man and friend of the lawyer, was passing at the time with his brother, Frank Bour. They rushed into the house and to the wounded man's side. He was fully conscious. Mrs. Wayman flung herself over his bleeding body and began praying.

"What is the matter, John?" George Bour asked the former state's attorney, after he had picked him up and laid him upon a bed.

"Oh, I've made an awful fool of myself, George," he answered, his features writhing with pain. "I just acted on the impulse. I don't know why I did it."

Brain Turned by Sickness.

It is understood that Mr. Wayman, while an apparently robust man, has been suffering from a chronic case of Bright's disease, and his sickness caused temporary aberration in consequence of which he attempted to take his life.

Mr. Wayman chose a closet opening off his bedroom as the place in which to make his suicide attempt. He fired two bullets into his body from a revolver, one of which pierced the chest about two inches below the heart and, passing from the back, entered the wall of the house. The other missile entered the chest slightly lower down than the first and ranged downward, finally lodging in the groin.

Physicians who were summoned at once worked over Mr. Wayman for several hours. They finally stated that neither bullet had touched a vital organ and that Mr. Wayman stood a good chance to recover.

Friends Talk of Tragedy.

Friends of Mr. Wayman declared he was not in any financial or business trouble and there was no reason for attempt at suicide. It was pointed out by others, that Mr. Wayman had suffered a big political disappointment when he was defeated for the Republican nomination for governor and this coupled with his ill-health and recent criticisms which have been directed against him, might mean that the shooting was designed.

Wayman Was Born in 1872.

John E. W. Wayman was born in Glen Easton, W. Va., in 1872. He was graduated from Bethany college, in West Virginia, in 1894, and from Kent College of Law in Chicago in 1898, and was engaged in practice until 1908. He was elected state's attorney of Cook county in November, 1908, for the term expiring in November, 1912. In 1895 he married Elizabeth Calef and has three children, Anna, John E. W. Jr., and Calef.

One of Mr. Wayman's most noted cases while practicing law was that of Rudolph Jonas, charged with murder and convicted in the municipal court. Mr. Wayman raised the question of the jurisdiction of the municipal court to try felony cases. The supreme court upheld Mr. Wayman's contentions and discharged Jonas.

AUTO BANDITS GUILLOTINED

Monier Is Sarcastic as He Is Thrust Under Knife in Paris.

At Paris the auto bandits, Monier, Callemin and Soudy were guillotined at 4:35 o'clock in the morning. The execution of the three took less than four and one-half minutes. Soudy was the first to suffer the penalty; then came Callemin and last Monier. All died quietly.

Monier alone gave a last flash of defiant sarcasm. As he was pushed on the plank he cried: "Good-by gentlemen all and human society."

WILL OFFER PAYNE BILL

Republicans Propose It as Substitute for Democratic Wool Schedule.

After debate in an open caucus the Republicans of the house decided to present as a substitute for the wool schedule of the Underwood tariff bill the Payne bill introduced at the last session of congress.

The Payne bill proposes wool rates lower than those of the existing law and a little higher than those of the pending Democratic bill.

TARIFF IN HOUSE

Plainly Bears Imprint of President Wilson's Handiwork.

CAUCUS MAKES FEW CHANGES

Underwood Act Is Formally Presented In Lower Branch of Congress Will Be Reported Favorably Tomorrow and Called Up for Debate Wednesday.

The tariff revision bill with its reductions, its long free list, augmented at the last day's session by the ways and means committee, and its income tax, was presented by Majority Leader Underwood for debate in the house of representatives.

the bill will be reported favorably by

Approved by the Democratic caucus as amended in two weeks' discussion the bill was reported favorably by the majority of the ways and means committee and called up for debate.

Mr. Underwood predicted that the bill would be passed in the house by May 15. Two months, the administration leaders believe, is a generous time to allot to the senate for its consideration and passage, and unless it is decided to bring in a currency bill thereafter congress should be ready to adjourn about July 15.

Wilson's Views Prevail.

The bill as approved by President Wilson came through the caucus unscathed. Democratic opponents of free sugar in three years and of free raw wool made the most vigorous fights on the president's suggestions adopted by the ways and means committee, but they were hopelessly outvoted.

The caucus ratified the bill with its minor amendments by an overwhelming vote, some members taking advantage of the rule granting them freedom from the caucus pledge to support the bill in its entirety.

Members who were released from the caucus pledge were Brussard, Dupre, Lazare and Morgan of Louisiana on account of sugar; Ashbrook, White and Francis of Ohio, because of wool; Bremner and Kinkead of New Jersey, on account of cattle; Donovan and Kennedy of Connecticut, because of hats; Burke of Wisconsin because of farm products and Fowler of Illinois because of linseed oil.

Changes Not Numerous.

The principal changes made in the bill were:

Shoe machinery, buckwheat, rye, rabbit fur and phospheric acid transferred from the dutiable to the free list.

Onyx reduced from 65 cents to 50 cents a cubic foot, to put it on the same basis as marble.

Cut diamonds increased from 15 to 20 per cent.

Castor oil reduced from 15 to 12 per cent.

Cod, seal and herring oil reduced from 5 to 3 per cent.

Sperm oil increased from 5 to 33 per cent.

Vanila beans reduced from 50 to 30 cents a pound.

Salts and other compounds and mixtures of which bismuth, gold, platinum, rhodium, silver, tin and uranium constitute the chief value cut from 15 to 10 per cent.

The caucus adopted an amendment fixing May 1, 1916, as the date when raw sugar should go on the free list. The time when the income tax shall become effective was left subject to future disposition by the house.

Petoskey, Mich., April 22.—The Emmet County Poultry association has decided to give two $25 cash prizes and to award $100 in cups during the third annual show, to be conducted next January.

TWO PEOPLE HURT AS CAR HITS POLE

While Chasing Speeder Officers Meet Fatal Accident.

Pontiac, Mich., April 22. — Patrolman F. Blynn was killed, and Patrolman Gordon West was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were driving crashed into a telephone pole at the crossing of the D. G. H. & M. division of the Grand Trunk and South Saginaw street. Patrolman Joseph Poske was bruised, but was not seriously injured.

West is the motorcycle patrolman of the police department. He was using an Oakland test car in place of the motorcycle and took up the chase of a speeding automobile headed down South Saginaw street.

Poske sat in the seat with Blynn on his lap, West driving the car. At the railroad crossing they had nearly overtaken the speeder. The gates were up and the officers did not see an approaching freight train until they were almost on the tracks.

It was a choice between the train and the roadside, and West chose the latter. The car struck a telephone pole a glancing blow with sufficient force to break it off near the top and bend it over.

Blynn sustained a fractured skull and died at 7 a. m. West sustained a fractured right arm and possibly internal injuries. It is feared some of his ribs are broken. Both injured men were taken to Oakland hospital.

IMPERATOR AGROUND IN THE ELBE RIVER

Largest Ship Was About to Make Trial Trip.

The Hamburg-American line steamship Imperator, 900 feet long, ran aground in the Elbe, Hamburg.

She was proceeding from the Vulcan shipbuilding yards for the lower Elbe to make ready for her official trial trips, when she grounded off Altona. Under favorable conditions it is hoped she can be floated.

The Imperator, when she goes into commission by the start of her maiden voyage to New York, May 28, will for a time be the largest vessel sailing.

Her keel was laid two years ago 900 feet in length, or almost double that of Germany's largest warship. Her other dimensions are 96 feet beam and 62 feet depth.

Election Expense Threatened.

The failure at Moline, Ill., to qualify by two Socialists and one Progressive, elected constables and justice of the peace, respectively, at the recent township voting, may cause the holding of a special election and the expenditure of $900 more.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS

SENATE.

James Hamilton Lewis sworn in as senator from Illinois, and appointed to privileges and elections and District of Columbia committees.

Senator Thompson introduced resolution for constitutional amendment providing presidential direct election and limiting term to six years.

Senator Chamberlain introduced resolution for abrogation of Hay-Pauncefote and Clayton-Bulwer treaties with Great Britain.

Senator Smith (Arizona) introduced resolution asking President Wilson for all information regarding injuries to Americans in Mexico.

HOUSE.

Representative Henry introduced bill to amend anti-trust law so as to define precisely what constitutes a trust.

Tariff bill as amended by Democratic caucus was reintroduced and referred to ways and means committee.

President Wilson in his first special message to congress urged the appropriation of $20,000 for the expenses of an American commission to the final opium conference of the powers at The Hague next June.

ALMA FIREMAN IS HERO

Braves Smoke and Flames to Rescue Telephone Girl.

Alma, Mich., April 21.—Claude Struble, a member of the Alma fire department, was the hero of the $30,000 fire which destroyed the drygoods store of N. B. Waterman and badly damaged the stocks of the Crandell & Scott Furniture store and the Smith & Clapp hardware stores, adjoining, besides causing a large amount of damage to Alma's largest store building.

Struble made his way up a ladder and through the dense smoke, into the Bell telephone office, located over the stores, and rescued Miss Sadie Burgess, who was overcome by smoke. Struble suffered severely from the smoke.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testmonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

A good thing will always bear repeating, unless it happens to be a vote.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 239 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired aud floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, biliousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1,00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore. Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing!

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse subtitutes. For sale by all druggists.

HOWE'S MOVING PICTURES

"What's the idea?" said a workman who standing on a narrow strip of iron that had just been placed at the very top of one of the highest buildings in the world

He had just been hoisted from the street below to join his fellow workmen by a process of elevation that had astonished the Lyman H. Howe camera man who was making a reproduction of it.

He had been "lifted" to his work at a dizzy height at the rate of 600 feet per second, but this, to him, was an ordinary incident. However, for him to find a photographer at that altitude was distinctly extraordinary It was a matter of much speculation on the part of the fearless worker.

"Who want to see this stuff?" one of the men queried, "I go to shows to see some real stunts, like flights in an aeroplane or automobile races."

"Wouldn't you sit in a raging car or fly in a biplance?" remarked the camera man with a shiver as he looked down into Broadway.

"I should say not" came back in a chorus from the three men who were bolting swinging together.

This was the conversation that took place while Lyman H. Howe's photographer was filming the remarkable series of animated scenes depicting the hazardous occupations of those who make the great buildings of New York possible, which will be shown at the Bradley Opera House on Wednesday April 30. The part of the Howe camera staff that was assigned the work of taking the pictures was made up of men who had previous experience in high altitudes. They had made views in Switzerland which seemed to prepare them for the feeling one meets when he finds himself far above the "level of things" It wasn't long before they discovered that carrying heavy apparatus up the skeleton of a skyscraper is very different to the difficulties of mountain climbing.

There are no beaten paths to the tops of high buildings when the iron workers go there.

Every day, for many weeks the Howe men climbed by ladder and often girder to the points from which the most vivid scenes could be photographed.

There was no posing. The men who follow them with concrete floors, the masons on swing cradles—every member of the small army from bottom to fiftieth floor—have their work to do in a given time and have no leisure for other things. The Howe story of the industry with its thrilling points of view constitutes a startling record of the perils faced every moment by these fearless iron-workers.

A GARDEN CINDERELLA

If I could choose only one flower from all the plants in the world, it would be the nasturtium, for its beauty of leaf, bud. blossom and seedpod, its delightful fragrance, entirely devoid of sickishness, its few requirements and its long season of bloom. Not many other garden flowers have all these good points in their favor.

Although it has pushed its way into flower society from the vegetable garden, this Cinderella of the blossoms richly deserves the position it has attained, not only on the score of good looks, but also that of fine character, which is more than can be said of some "climbers."

A generous handful of these flame colored blossoms, so spicily sweet, set off by the plant's own cool-green, white-veined leaves, when arranged in a clear glass bowl on a showy cloth will make the plainest meal attractive. These bright blossoms do not combine well with other flowers, nor is decorated glass or garish pottery becoming to them. They can be arranged gracefully in a common brown butter-crock, however, and look well in the unpretending ware.—The Ladies' World and Housekeeper for May.

THE OPEN-AIR SCHOOL IN MICHIGAN

Five open air schools are now in operation in Michigan according to an article appearing in the April Bulletin of the Michigan Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis. Three of these schools are located in Grand Rapids, one in Detroit and one in Ypshanti. Three are for anaemic children who do not have tuberculosis, and two are for tubercular children.

The first open-air school was started at the Grand Rapids Sanatorium under the apple tree. Later the school was housed in one of the open shacks, This is the only open air school was housed in one of the open shacks. This is the only open air The results were astonishing, for children coughing and spitting tubercle bacilli and way below par in physique have increased in weight, lost their cough and in comparison with children attending non-tuberculous fresh air schools and living at home seem much stronger and in better physical and mental condition.

HIS LEGACY

A PROMINENT Congressman decided to turn over part of his law practice to his son. Shortly afterwards the young man entered the office and with a face beaming with pleasure exclaimed:

"Father, you know that Wilbour case you'd been trying for the last ten years?"

The Congressman admitted that he did.

"Well," said the young man triumphantly. "I've settled it!"

"Settled it!" reiterated his father. "Settled it! Why my boy, I gave you that case as an annuity!"—May Lippincott's.

Why We Can See Smoke.

Smoke is not composed of gases only, but of solid, or perhaps partly liquid particles, which are mixed with the gases and carried along by them. It is these particles of matter that are visible to the eye, and not the gases themselves.—St. Nicholas.

SPRING CLEAN-UP DAY FOR MICHIGAN.

May 15, 1913

STATE FIRE MARSHAL'S DEPARTMENT

Lansing, Michigan,
April 16th, 1913

To all Fire Chiefs, Presidents of Villages, Deputy Fire Marshals and the Public.

It is the desire of this department to have a concerted, uniform effort on the part of all officials made so by the Fire Marshal Law, to clean up our State and to accomplish this I have set apart Thursday May, 15th, to be designated as "SPRING CLEAN-UP DAY."

Will you not make it your especial business on this date to see that the law is strictly enforced in your community with reference to the cleaning up of basements, alleys and hazardous buildings?

This is the time of the year when the Winter rubbish should be taken care of. We are especially confronted with the danger of fires, and will you not do your part to help prevent the great loss of life and property occasioned through the carelessness of our people in the storing of rubbish, shavings, excelsior, tissue paper, and the like in basements and alleys, and see to it that your locality upon this date is cleaned up?

WHAT MAYORS CAN DO

We request all mayors to issue and publish in the local papers a proclamation calling attention to this day, and to urge citizens to clean up and remove all inflammable and combustible materials, wherever found on their premises, in yards, alleys, cellar entries, area ways, under sidewalks, in basements, storerooms, closets, attics, around barns and sheds, and along hedges and fences.

We further request, that each mayor urge the performance of the work suggested in the next paragraph:

WHAT FIRE CHIEFS AND HEALTH OFFICERS CAN DO

The live fire chief is a fire prevention enthusiast. He takes just pride n the low fire loss of his city, He is ever ready to aid in the removal of fire danger.

On Fire Prevention Day he should inspect the schools and other public buildings in his city to discover and cause to be remedied all canditions liable to cause fires.

A trip of inspection through the city, in company with the local Health Officer, to urge upon citizens the necessity of removing all rubbish, rags, waste paper, packing materials, hay, straw, banking around buildings, debris, filth and offal, in fact all things dangerous to health or liable to cause fires, would accomplish much good.

We know that we can rely upon the active support of the fire chiefs in cooperating with the department.

WHAT SCHOOLS CAN DO

Schools should teach the practical and real things of life. The disgraceful fire waste and the sacrifice of property, lives and limbs to the fire fiend constitute one of these real things of life. Through a strong program on this day, occasional lessons and talks by teachers and citizens, scholars can be taught the facts of needless loss of life and property. They will thus learn, that most of the fire waste is preventable, that it is a loss to all and increases the cost of living for all. Thep will also thus be aided in forming habits of care in the handling of materials liable to cause fire, and taught the important principle of responsibility to their neighbors and rellow men, and so be ever watchful not to endanger them or their property. Fire drills and lessons on What to do in Case of Fire should never be neglected

Send committees of scholars through the school buildings to discover and report defective conditions and dangerous practices. Ask them to inspect every room from cellar to attic and in their homes for a like purpose. Let the child become the teacher in the home. Let the school teacher be the leader of thought and action in this important conservation movement, and let every day become fire prevention day.

Very cordially yours,
C. A. Palmise
State Fire Marshal.

By C. A. Wolff
Assistans Fire Marshal.

Approved April 16, 1913,
Woodbridge N. Ferris
Governor.

PASSES TEACHERS' PENSION BILL MINUS THE REFERENDUM

Senate Puts it up to House to Concur or Allow Measure to Die

LANSING, Mich., April 23.—If the teachers of Michigan get the bill through providing for a retiring, or pension fund, they will have won a signal victory, for the senate today, while passing the bill without the referendum attached, has placed the house in the position of having to concur with the charge made in the senate, where the referendum clause was stricken out, if the bill becomes a law. and as the vote, even with the referendum attached in the house, was close, there is some doubt if the members of the lower house will place themselves on record as favoring the bill without the referendum.

After a fight Tuesday, in which the senate knocked out the referendum clause, the fight was renewed again today, when the bill came up for its final passage. Senator Odell, of Shelby, moved to reconsider the vote of Tuesday, by which the referendum was taken out, but could only muster 16 votes for his motion, an equal number being against,

The arguments for and against the bill then started, and after another prolonged discussion, the bill was finally passed by a vote of of 18 for to 14 against. Had the referendum been attached there would have been less opposition.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c and $1.00.

AT REST

The funeral of Mrs. Leman Barnes which was held at the M. E church Tuesday afternoon, was largely attended, Rev. G. H. Whitney having charge of the services.

Rev. Ward of Romeo, who came to attend the funeral, preached the funeral sermon, paying most loving tribute to her who had been such a dear friend to him and his family, in the years since he had known her, The choir sang Mrs. Barnes' favorite hymns, "Jesus Lover of my Soul," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Asleep in Jesus, Blessed Sleep"

Her Sunday School Class each wearing a carnation came in a body, and as they passed by her casket they left their flower upon it

The floral offerings were most beautiful, the Men's Class and Official Board of the Church sent a spray of lilies, the Ladies Aid roses, the Missionary Society carnations. the Sunday School Class sweet peas, there were many other flowers from her friends and relatives. A spray of white roses from Oklahoma, were remarkable for their beauty.

The casket was borne to the grave by J. H Smith, Andrew Taylor Will Wescott, Wilford Waldron, Leon Williamson and Charles Ruthruff, and was laid beside those of the loved who had passed on before.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Honoring her birthday a number of her friends from Adrian dropped in upon Mrs. Frank French Tuesday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hopper and son Harry, Mrs. Charles Treat, Mrs. A. Goodrich and Harvey Brandit of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tansley of Tecumseh. They came well laden with good things to eat and a number of presents for Mrs. French.

A merry day was spent by all an on leaving for their homes it was with many wishes for happy returns of the day that they parted with their friend

BIGGEST TAXPAYER

Henry Ford is said to be the largest individual tax payer in the United States. He has compromised with the Detroit Assessors and consented to a personal assessment of $2,000,000 an increase of $1,726,000 over last year

This assessment has nothing to do with the Ford plant and represents nothing but cash and personal property.

WASHINGTON NOTES

The Tariff Bill

The new tariff bill that has just been presented to Congress by Hon. Oscar Underwood, of Ala , chairman of the Ways and Means committee has been received throughout the country with a most hearty approval The bill has been drawn with a great deal of care and it is quite certain to promote the prosperity of the country. For instance, steel rails have been placed on the free list. Our steel rails in London for $24.00 per ton and yet they sell those same steel rails to the American public at $28.00 a ton.

If the steel trust can do business in Europe without the aid of a protective tariff they certainly can do business at home likewise without a protective tariff. By lessening the cost of steel rails a great many more miles of electric roads and steam rail roads will be built every year.

The bill also places wire fencing and nearly all kinds of farming machinery on the free list, thereby conferring as much benefit on the farmers as possible. On the other hand the tariff is greatly reduced on nearly every article that goes into the market basket, so that this bill will have the effect of substantially reducing the high cost of living.

One of the most tragic death incident to the floods at Dayton, was that of Clarence E. Bennett, formerly of Adrian. Thinking the hotel where he was stopping was on fire, they carried him to the roof across planks, up and down ladders, and over roofs until they were nearly a block away. When the danger was past they carried him back, and he expired almost instantly on reaching the hotel office. He had been in poor health for a number of months, and the shock was to great for him in his weak condition.

FRATERNAL VISIT

TECUMSEH CHAPTER NO. 51 ORDER OF EASTERN STAR ENTERTAIN THEIR SISTER LODGE OF ADRIAN

A Fine Attendance of Adrian Stars.

Degrees Conferred on Two Candidates.

The Adrian Chapter Order of Eastern Star held a special meeting Monday evening in honor of its reaching the 500 mark in its membership.

The chapter was instituted less than 20 years ago with a membership of forty, during that time it has taken in over 600 candidates. A number have withdrawn and joinsd other chapters and 54 have died. Its line of past matrons and patrons remain unbroken with but one exception in the line of patrons. Tecumseh Chapter entertained this Chapter last evening.

The guests began coming on the early afternoon trains and as the dinner hour drew near, assembled in the lodge room with the members of the home chapter and took up the line of march to Witherell Hall where dinner was served.

The tables were decorated with many colored candles, plants and flowers and with snowy napery bright silver and glass presented a very pretty scene when the company were seated. The menu consisted of:

Fruit Cocktail
Chicken patties Creamed potatoes
Macaroni Salad
Rolls Coffee
Ice Cream and Cake

A musical program during the dinner hour added to the pleasure of the feast. Mrs. Wood presided at the piano, Mrs. Ruthruff sang, "Every Kiss is a Song" and responded to an encore. Mrs. R. S. Moore sang, "Spring Flowers" also was encored and responded with a little coon song. At the close of this part of the entertainment the marching line was again formed for the return to the Temple for the work. For the march honoring Mr. King of Adrian, Past Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter O. E. S., he being a fine old Scotchman, Mrs. Wood played "The Campbells are Coming" in a right lively manner much to that gentlemans delight.

The visiting officers of Adrian Chapter occupied the chairs and conferred the degrees on two candidates, Mr. and Mrs. O. B, Leonardson of Britton in a most pleasing manner.

The guests left on the 9 o'clock train with good-byes and best wishes for another the visit in near future. About 75 visitors were present at this meeting and the spirit of fraternal love was shown by the social intercourse of the two chapters.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?
Distressed with urinary ills?
Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W. Cumming St. tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action John Velbert, Foster, Calif. says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1 00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Stilted sermons never elevate the preacher in the estimation of his congregation.

WOMAN'S TRIALS.

The burdens a woman has to carry through life are many but they can be lightened if she will turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A soothing and strengthening nervine—subduing nervous excitability, prostration, hysteria, hot-flashes and the many symptoms which may be caused by distressing ills peculiar to women. For those "dragging-down" pains or distress and for the derangements and irregularities the "Favorite Prescription" has had many thousands of testimonials from people living in every part of America. Another important thing to every woman is that this medicine is made from efficient medicinal roots, without the use of alcohol, narcotics, or any injurious agents. Full list of ingredients given on bottle-wrapper and sworn to by Dr. R. V. Pierce—who is President of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Every woman is invited to write to this Institute and receive confidential and sound medical advice, entirely without cost from one who makes the diseases of women his specialty.

MRS. MORRELL.

"I can cheerfully recommend your remedies, especially your 'Favorite Prescription,' for all female disorders," writes MRS. M. M. MORRELL, of Bluff City, Tenn., Route 2. "During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used in all seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female derangements."

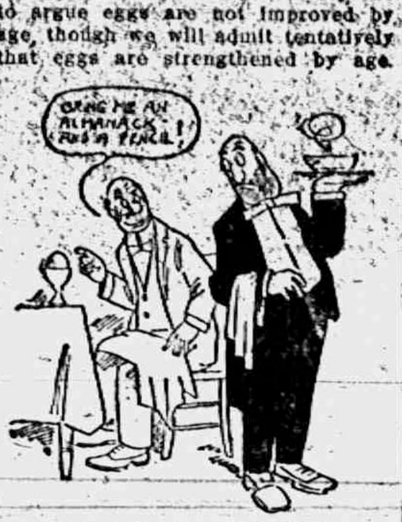
Time Clock Nest On Hen's Work

Jersey Eggologist Has Great Scheme to Show When "Improving by Age" Begins.

The great egg-eating public will always be more or less interested in affairs appertaining to and touching on hens and their product. Eggologists all over the country are taking advantage of this fact, now that eggs are apt to attain famine prices owing to the recalcitrant conduct of hens of laying age.

When these learned brethren attempt to assail our intelligence with the pronouncement that the time is approaching when we will classify eggs with friendship, wine and cheese, however, we begin to sit up and gasp. Prima facie, we are prone to argue eggs are not improved by age, though we will admit tentatively that eggs are strengthened by age.



Must Be Stored Fresh.

If you will permit us to qualify the premise, retort the eggologists, we will persist that an old egg, if properly aged, is a perfectly good egg. In other words, we can prove scientifically that a three-year-old egg is often better than a ten-day-old egg.

When an egg is born, run on the eggogolists, it is a sweet and toothsome thing to the human palate. When an egg is put in cold storage it enters into a condition of inertia. It goes neither backward nor forward. It maintains its standard of quality. Be it in storage for one, two or three years, an egg that is put in fresh comes out fresh.

Use Dating Stamp.

"Presto!" cry the eggologists. "We have solved the whole blamed egg problem. Our researches have taught us that it is now only necessary to assure the public that our cold storage eggs have gone into storage fresh. We can do that by a system of stamping."

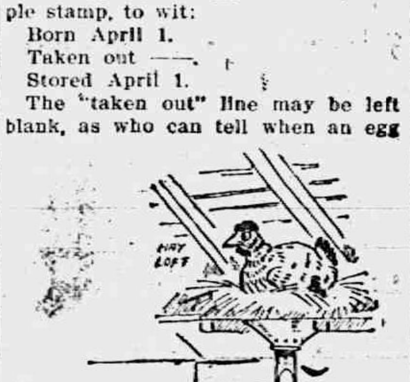
Born April 1.
Taken out ——.
Stored April 1.

The "taken out" line may be left blank, as who can tell when an egg will come out of storage? That all depends on the state of the market. It may come out ten years hence. All we require is an assurance that it has not been out too long, for though a new-born egg has not decreased in quality while in storage, the moment it gets out of storage it becomes again a creature amenable in temporal vicissitudes.



Some skeptic may scream out, "How in thunder are you going to get the egg fanciers to clock an egg honestly?"

Simple, lad, simple. Just as easy as hitting the ground after falling off a couple of Singer Buildings.

Let Egg Stamp Itself.

Build a patent egg-stamping nest. When the egg comes into the world it falls gently through a cushioned pipe, drops lightly as a feather on a time stamp and passes out through another cushioned slot into a basket, at the same time ringing a bell, which summons a collector. It is then only up to the collector to get that egg into immediate storage unless it is required for immediate consumption.

In fact it would be no great task to equip a composite nest with this device. Forty hens could be laying eggs from time to time, each egg reaching its designated cushioned pipe and descending gently to the time clock.

The veriest dub of an inventor, say the eggologists, can turn out one of these contrivances. Then let each State Legislature pass a law making it a misdemeanor, or felony if you will, for any egg raiser not to have his hennery equipped with a time stamping device.

Illuminating Shells.

Experiments have recently been made at Toulon with shells intended to illuminate the sea at a distance from the land, thus disclosing the presence and movements of an enemy at night. The shells are made to explode at a great height, and to give light for a sufficient time to permit an examination of the surface of the sea for several miles from the shore. The officers in charge of the experiments regard the illuminating shells as more effective than search-lights in disclosing the position of hostile ships.

Another form of shell has been proposed, which shall, in bursting over the sea, spread a cloud of thick smoke about the batteries on shore, thus preventing their seeing the approaching ships, and rendering the illuminating shells useless.

When He Came Home.

One of the neighbors who was visiting the home of little Dunnick, aged three, said, "Dunnick, I want you to go along home with me, and how long will you stay?" Dunnick put up four fat little fingers, saying, "I will stay these many days and come home on my thumb."—The Delineator for August.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

LANSING.—The important bill carrying an appropriation of $350,000 for new buildings at the Michigan Agricultural college, passed the senate, word having been received that the house ways and means committee is unfavorable to the plan to increase the per capita tax for the institution. Other bills passed are the Weadock bill, giving the railroad commission supervision of rates for electric power; the Ogg bill, providing that convicts brought back to a prison for violating their paroles may apply to the board of pardons and paroles for a hearing as to whether they should be obligated to serve their maximum term by reason of such violation.

CADILLAC — "Big May" Grill, the Indian woman who stands charged with the murder of her husband, Harry Grill, in their cabin in a lonely spot in the woods near Temple, Clare county, Sunday, was arrested after deputy sheriffs had battered down a door. She wouldn't admit the deputies to the house. They took cedar posts and using them as battering rams, broke in. The woman was placed in the town hall at Temple until late in the afternoon when she was taken to the county jail at Harrison, the county seat.

FLINT—The city of Flint's proposed new charter will be submitted to the electors on July 18th. The charter has been taken to the governor for his approval and signature. A period of ninety days must then elapse before it can be voted on. After the charter was practically completed, a sweeping change was produced changing all municipal elections from April to November.

JACKSON — After being caught peeking in windows, Paul Lesleicki, a foreigner, was given such a severe beating that the police interfered. John Tramowski caught his countryman at an early hour in the morning and pounded him unmercifully. Lesleicki refused to plead guilty in the police court, saying he had been punished enough.

ALBION — A most daring burglar entered the grocery of B. C. Franklin in this city by way of a coal chute, and carried off $20 in money, a quantity of pipes and cigars and a coat and hat belonging to the proprietor. In addition the thief stopped long enough to enjoy an extensive lunch from the store's stock of eatables.

CHARLOTTE — Charles Hastings, Jr., who was twenty-one years old, Eaton township farmer, murdered his wife and killed himself. The young couple, who were married last fall, moved in with Harvey Hotchkin about two weeks ago, and the bodies were discovered by Hotchkin when he returned from his work.

ALPENA — The handsome new postoffice has a revolving door, the first ever seen in this city. Several accidents have occurred in the door, the most serious when John McGillis, an aged man, started in just as another man started out. The jar threw McGillis on the stone steps and he was seriously injured.

PORT HURON—Mrs. H. Crawford, a resident of this city, has received a telegram announcing that her brother, Peter MacArthur, was shot to death in Philadelphia by a United States customs inspector. MacArthur was a native of Scotland and had just arrived in America, intending to visit his sister in this city.

BATTLE CREEK—The celebrated Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver is expected at the sanitarium in a few days where he will remain as the guest of Dr. J. H. Kellogg. It is expected the judge will give several lectures while in this city, and special plans are being made for his reception.

SAULT STE. MARIE — Frank Frankovitch, who made his escape last February from the Ionia State hospital, was captured as he was about to board a train for Duluth. Frankovitch, who was found guilty of attempted murder, was adjudged criminally insane and was sentenced to Ionia.

ANN ARBOR—A mysterious fire destroyed one of the barns belonging to Benz Brothers, agricultural implement dealers, and also damaged the barns of Mack & Co., where all their delivery horses and wagons were kept. The damage is about $2,000.

LANSING—After an illness which lasted for several months, J. Leon Tooker, Democratic member of the city council, died. Tooker was not a candidate for re-election as alderman, and his place will be taken by Frank L. Young, a Republican.

CALHOUN COUNTY "DRY"

Election Board Will Ask Court to Rectify Returns.

Battle Creek, Mich., April 19.—Attorney General Fellows has decided that the board of supervisors cannot go behind the returns, and therefore must declare Calhoun county "dry," although it voted "wet."

Calhoun county voted "wet" by 145 votes, but the election board of the First precinct of the First ward in Battle Creek filled out the return sheet wrong, giving 210 "wet" votes to the "drys."

As soon as the supervisors, when they meet Monday, formally declare the result of the election, attorneys for the "wets" will take the matter before the supreme court and ask a correction of the error.

POOR SEASON FOR SUCKERS

This Refers to Finny Fish and Not to Credulous Humanity.

Allegan, Mich., April 19.—The net fishing industry has been the poorest this season of any year within the remembrance of those longest engaged in that industry.

There are several sets of nets in the Kalamazoo river here and the supply is not one-third of what the demand has grown to be. Suckers sell at 25 cents each, where other years they sold at two for a quarter.

The poor season is attributed to the cold weather. The trapping season just closed has been a very poor one.

POPE IS MUCH STRONGER

Assisted to Chair and Sits Up for Half an Hour.

At Rome, Italy, the Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican, announces that it will continue to print daily all news as to the pope's convalescence notwithstanding the fact that no further bulletins will be issued by the physicians.

The pontiff was lifted out of bed into an easy chair and sat up for half an hour. He was propped up by pillows.

LEGISLATOR IS EXPELLED

Unusual Action Taken Against Member of New Hampshire House.

At Concord, N. H., Clifford L. Snow, member of the house of representatives from Manchester, was expelled from that body, the vote of his former associates being 119 against expulsion and 176 in favor.

The action was taken on recommendation of a special committee of investigation which found Snow guilty of offering to sell his vote on several specific occasions.

FLOOD RECEDES AT CAIRO

Ohio River Rapidly Dropping Below the Danger Mark.

The Ohio is falling at Cairo and will be below the danger mark in the next few days. The guage registers 52 feet, a fall of eight-tenths in twenty-four hours.

The steamer Three States left Cairo for Shawneetown to take off the troops stationed there. Adjutant General Frank Dickson left with a big load of supplies for the flood refugees in the Wabash river bottoms.

Church Is Dedicated.

Hillsdale, Mich., April 22. — At Litchfield occurred the dedication of the new Baptist church in that village. The beautiful new stone structure cost in the neighborhood of $7,000. It is built on the site of the original structure, built in 1845. The church in Litchfield was organized in 1839, with seven members, but it was six years before a place of worship was built.

BOY SLAYER CONFESSES

Herman Coppes Killed Mrs. Maude Sleep and Her Babies.

The murder near Elgin, Ill., of Mrs. Maude Sleep and her two babies was the work of a child. A boy of fourteen years shot the women to death with a revolver, killed the babies with an ax, dropped the bodies into a cistern under the kitchen of the Sleep farmhouse near Elgin, and then, according to an amazing confession made at the Kane county jail went out "to feed the cows."

The boy is Herman Coppes, recently paroled from the reformatory at St. Charles, where he was sent for stealing $2 from a school teacher. He has been employed by Manny Sleep as a farm hand under contract with the reformatory.

The boy can give no reason for his terrible act.

SAGINAW—Nearly all of the paperhangers of Saginaw went on a strike, demanding 40 cents an hour for all work. They assert that the wages paid heretofore have varied from $2.50 to $3.25 a day and they demand a uniform wage.

BAY CITY — Mabel Sheldon, of Bay City, has commenced a suit for divorce from Joseph T. Seeley, alleging non-support. They were married in this city in 1901, and have one child.

GUN FIRM RING SHOWS UP BAD

German Socialist Leader Tells of International Contracts.

GET RICH ON WAR SCARES

Kaiser Criticised for Honoring Head of Syndicate — Adolphus Busch's Son-in-Law Involved—Crown Prince Also Named—The Emperor Much Worried.

Berlin, April 28. — Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the German Socialist leader, continues his revelations in connection with the methods of armament concerns, which, he says, though living on international hostility, are run on internationalized capital.

He cited a cotract existing between certain leading small arms and ammunition factories—two in Germany, one in Austria, and one in Belgium—principally backed by French money, by the terms of which, the deputy alleges, an agreement had been reached to eliminate competition and to guarantee mutual profits.

Dr. Liebknecht points out that German companies were selling arms to Russia and that another concern largely capitalized with French money, is furnishing armor plate to Germany. All these companies, he says, are engineering war scares in order to insure contracts.

Socialist Leader Criticises Kaiser.

The Socialist leader has introduced the names of Emperor William and the German crown prince, mentioning that although the Vorwaerts printed in 1910 a letter showing an attempt had been made by a German arms syndicate to secure the publication in French newspapers of false news regarding the strengthening of the French army, with the object of causing a reflex action of German opinion, the emperor later did not hesitate to appoint Herr von Gontard, director of the syndicate, a life member in the Prussian house of lords. Herr von Gontard is a son-in-law of Adolphus Busch of St. Louis.

Referring to the crown prince, Dr. Liebknecht recalls that the heir to the throne has been demonstratively applauded in the reichstag during the campaign of a war clique against the German war minister in 1911.

Kaiser Perturbed.

The kaiser is said to be much perturbed over the disclosures of the Socialist leader. The emperor is worrid more over the possible political effects than over the gravity of the charges.

It is the best tactical stroke which the Socialists have made in years. It has shattered the position of General von Heeringen, the minister of war, and probably will add half a million votes to the Socialist party.

FRIEDMANN WILL SELL 'CURE'

Doctor and New York Firm Draw Up Contract.

New York, April 28.—Dr. Frederick F. Friedmann is on the eve of capitalizing his alleged tuberculosis cure. A contract for the manufacture and sale of rights of the Friedmann culture is drawn up and ready to be signed.

The contract provides for the cash payment to Friedmann of $150,000, and substantial royalties in addition, for the establishment of a local sanitarium and state branches for the distribution of the remedy, and probably for the giving up by Dr. Friedmann of the secrets of his "cure."

The payment of $150,000 to Dr. Friedmann is consistent with the latter's insistence all along that any distribution plan should include a substantial competence for himself. It is understood that in return for this he is ready to hand over to one or more chosen physicians all the secrets of his turtle bacilli culture.

Dr. Friedmann insists that the remedy be at all times and at all places available to public hospitals at cost price for free administration to the poor.

NEW CLEW TO STOLEN GIRL

Father of Katherine Winters Departs Hurriedly for Platteville, Wis.

Newcastle, Ind., April 28.—A clew that probably will lead to the recovery of Katherine Winters, nine years old, who was kidnaped from her home in Newcastle, Ind., March 20, was obtained by her father, Dr. W. A. Winters, who hurriedly left for Platteville, Wis.

It was learned that Mrs. Ida Whistler, grandmother of the missing girl, lives at Platteville.

War Specter Fades.

London, April 28.—Europe obstinately refuses to believe that its greatest powers will risk war for the sake of the small town of Scutari. Though clouds pass across the sky, the feeling, therefore, remains unconquerably optimistic.

Discoverer of Fish Glue Dead.

Gloucester, Mass., April 28.—Benjamin Robinson, the discoverer of fish glue, died here, aged eighty-four.

RAILWAY VALUATION

Announcement of Names of Advisory Board Coming.

Washington, April 28.—The interstate commerce commission, preparing for the work of making a physical valuation of railroads, in accordance with the provisions of a recent act of congress, is about to announce the personnel of an advisory board of five engineers, which will have direct charge of the valuation work in various sections of the country.

Approximately 10,000 applications for positions in the physical valuation services of the commission have been received, but all employees will be secured through the civil service commission.

A. S. DRAPER, TEACHER, DIES

Has Been In Poor Health for Past Two Years.

FORMER PRESIDENT ILLINOIS

Educated, Studied and Practiced Law and Was Superintendent of Public Instruction in New York State—Career at Illinois Brilliant—Recalled to New York.

Albany, N. Y., April 28. — Dr. Andrew Sloan Draper, state commissioner of education and one of the foremost educators of the country, died at his home in Albany. The commissioner had not been in his usual health for the last two years.

Educated in New York.

Dr. Draper was educated in the Albany public schools, Albany Boy's Academy and Albany Law School. He practiced law as a member of the firm of Draper and Chester for five years, served in the lower house of the state legislature in 1881 and 1886, was elected state superintendent of public instruction, which office he held for six years.

President of Illinois.

In 1894 he was called to the presidency of the University of Illinois. During his administration, the institution erected a dozen beautiful and substantial buildings, took on the organization of one of the very great universities of America and advanced from 750 to 3,900 students. In 1904 he was recalled to his native state and made a commissioner of education through election by the legislature. His elective term expired March 31, 1910 and he was then reappointed by the regents of the university for an indefinite term.

GRAND JURY WANTS HOYNE OUT OF WAY

Special Prosecutor In Vote Machine Probe Expected.

Chicago, April 28.—It was indicated that a grand jury investigation of the $1,000,000 voting machine deal will be conducted in Cook county under the auspices of a special state's attorney with authority and facilities to get to the bottom of the matter.

It was said the county board is prepared—following the startling request by the April grand jury that the case be taken from the hands of State's Attorney Hoyne—to provide salaries and expenses for the special state's attorney and his investigators. It was also said Judge Richard E. Burke, of whom the request was made by the grand jury, may see no cause to refuse the wishes of that body. He asked that the request be written and presented to him.

The decision of the grand jury came without warning. The first inkling Hoyne's aids had that jurors determined to "take the bull by the horns" came with the abrupt request that Hoyne's two assistants leave the room while Speaker William McKinley of the Illinois house of representatives was on the witness stand.

No Right to Ore Under Water.

Duluth, Minn., April 28.—That the state of Minnesota can not claim mining rights in bodies of ore lying under public waters is the effect of a decision by District Judge Cant.

DIPPEL IS CUT; WHO IS WINNER?

Climax to the Chicago Grand Opera Company Row.

GENERAL MANAGER RESIGNS

Public Is Left In Ignorance As to Whether Dippel Scored by His Resignation or Yielded to His Old Rival, Campanini, General Musical Director of the Company.

Chicago, April 28.—News that the climax had been reached in the three years' row in the Chicago Grand Opera company between Andreas Dippel, gneral manager, and Cleofonte Campanini, general musical director, was not a surprise to those familiar with the case.

Many are curious to know, however, whether Dippel scored by his resignation or yielded to his old rival.

What the Public Is Told.

Tenderly worded notes were passed out to the public to assure it that all was well and harmonious.

While patrons of the opera pondered the problem the company took an inventory of its stars and found that it had just one—Mr. Campanini. He was left alone to enjoy the victory. Some locked for Mr. Campanini to succeed Mr. Dippel.

Mary Garden, Carolina White, Mme. Tetrazzini and other stars are not under contract at present and some of the minor artists have signed contracts on condition that there is opera in Chicago next season.

Dippel's Plans for Future.

The directors of the company would not talk at any length. Mr. Dippel is known to have been negotiating with the management of the new Tivoli theater in San Francisco, which was recently opened by the company.

Another possibility for Mr. Dippel's future efforts was found in the "National Grand Opera company," which he organized in Washington, D. C., two years ago.

THINKS IT TOWER OF BABEL

Explorer's Report of Find Stirs Up Archaeologists.

Paris, April 28.—Archaeologists here have been stirred by the remarkable report laid before the Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres by the Abbe Henri de Genouillac, who believes he has found the Biblical tower of Babel.

The Abbe de Genouillac was sent by the French Institute on a mission of research to El Ahymen. There he laid bare the remains of the city of Kiss and uncovered an immense palace. In the middle of the great courtyard of the palace were the ruins of an immensely high tower.

This temple the Abbe de Genouillac thinks, is the original of the Biblical legend of the tower which should reached from earth to heaven. Statuettes and vases were found among the ruins, showing that the later were not later than the reign of Hammurabi, 2100 B. C.

CARLETON DIED IN DEBT

Gross Assets of Estate Fall Short of Amount Owed.

Indianapolis, April 28.—Will Carleton, the poet, who died recently, left less than nothing, it became known through the official appraisal of his estate.

The gross assets, including the poet's library and copyright on his books, fell $75 short of the amount which the appraiser found necessary to square his account.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SCENTS BIG PLOT

Effort to Get Hung Jury In Inspectors' Cases.

New York, April 28.—District Attorney Whitman has strong reason to believe that efforts have been made to provide a hung jury for the four former police inspectors who go on trial for conspiracy Tuesday. The same trick was attempted in the Robinson and Hartigan trials.

The four former inspectors who go on trial Tuesday are only charged with a misdemeanor and each side is allowed only four peremptory challenges.

A rumor spread that Rosie Hertz, convicted keeper of a disorderly house, whose sentence of a year on Blackwell's Island has just been upheld, will tell Mr. Whitman all she knows of the police graft situation. It was said that she has made up her mind that she has been the victim of blackmailers.

NO LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Miss Borden Will Be Protected from Further Notoriety.

Boston, April 28.—Romona Borden tumbled into the arms of her father, Gail Borden, New York millionaire, at the Hotel Touraine and brought to an end what the family has decided to regard as a schoolgirl's escapade.

Half an hour later father and daughter drove away in an automobile for a destination not made public. Mr. Borden hopes the affair will soon be forgotten and is determined to protect the girl from further notoriety.

Miss Borden will not return to New York immediately. Her father plans to place her under medical care in a quiet retreat to recuperate from the physical and nervous strain that attended her flight from the sanitarium at Pompton, N. J., last Wednesday.

There will be no legal proceedings against Mrs. W. J. White, wife of the millionaire chewing gum man, who assisted in the flight of Miss Borden from Pompton, or of any others who have been connected with the case.

To Probe Flood Relief Need.

Indianapolis, April 28. — Governor Ralston will investigate need for flood relief in Wabash township, Gibson county, as a result of a visit of a committee from that district. The committee included Sanford Trippot, former prosecuting attorney; Mayor D. A. Davison of Princeton and James R. Roby, township trustee.

House Orders Glover Arrest.

Washington, April 28.—The special house committee which investigated the assault by Charles C. Glover, a local banker, on Representative Sims of Tennessee, reported it had found Glover in contempt of the house, and recommended that the speaker issue a warrant for his arrest to answer that charge.

Schrank Asks for Pistol.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 28.—In a letter to Milwaukee authorities John Schrank, now confined in the northern hospital for the insane, near Oshkosh, Wis., asks to have sent to him the revolver he used in his attempt to assassinate Theodore Roosevelt here last October.

Fort Wayne Turning Point.

Chicago, April 28.—Fort Wayne, Ind., will be the turning point in the two-day run that will mark the sixth annual motoring match between the Chicago Automobile club and the Chicago Athletic association. The run will start June 12. The exact route has not been picked.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollers for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Recommended For a Good Rsason

C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and saw big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. Thats why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me."

It takes a pretty mean man to keep the cigars you gave him, only to pass them back to you.

There is no record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggist.

Those who have greatness thrust upon them are apt to grate on the rest of us.

Drive Sick Headaches Away

Sick headaches, sour gassy stomach, indigestion, billousness disappear quickly after you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They purify the blood and put new life and vigor in the system. Try them and you will be well satisfied. Every pill helps; every box gauranteed. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

You sometimes hear of a woman who is speechless with indignation—in books.

Pains in the Stomach

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommed Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you, too. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Many a woman with a fair complexion is unfair in most other ways.

Heed the Cough That Hangs on.

The seeds of consumption may be the cause, and a cough that hangs on weakens the system. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks the cough, heals the inflamed membranes and strengthens the lungs. E. D. Rountree, Stillmore, Ga., says: "Lagrippe left me a deep seated, hacking, painful cough which Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured." For sale by all druggists.

Some people seem to be so ultrarefined as to scorn common sense.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores

The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin disease is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haflin, of Iredell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

It seemed just right to us to begin the new year by loafing.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound fails to cure your cough or cold. John Bernet, Tell, Wis., states: "I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for five years, and it always gives the best of satisfaction and always cure a cough or cold." Refuse subtitutes. For sale by all druggists.

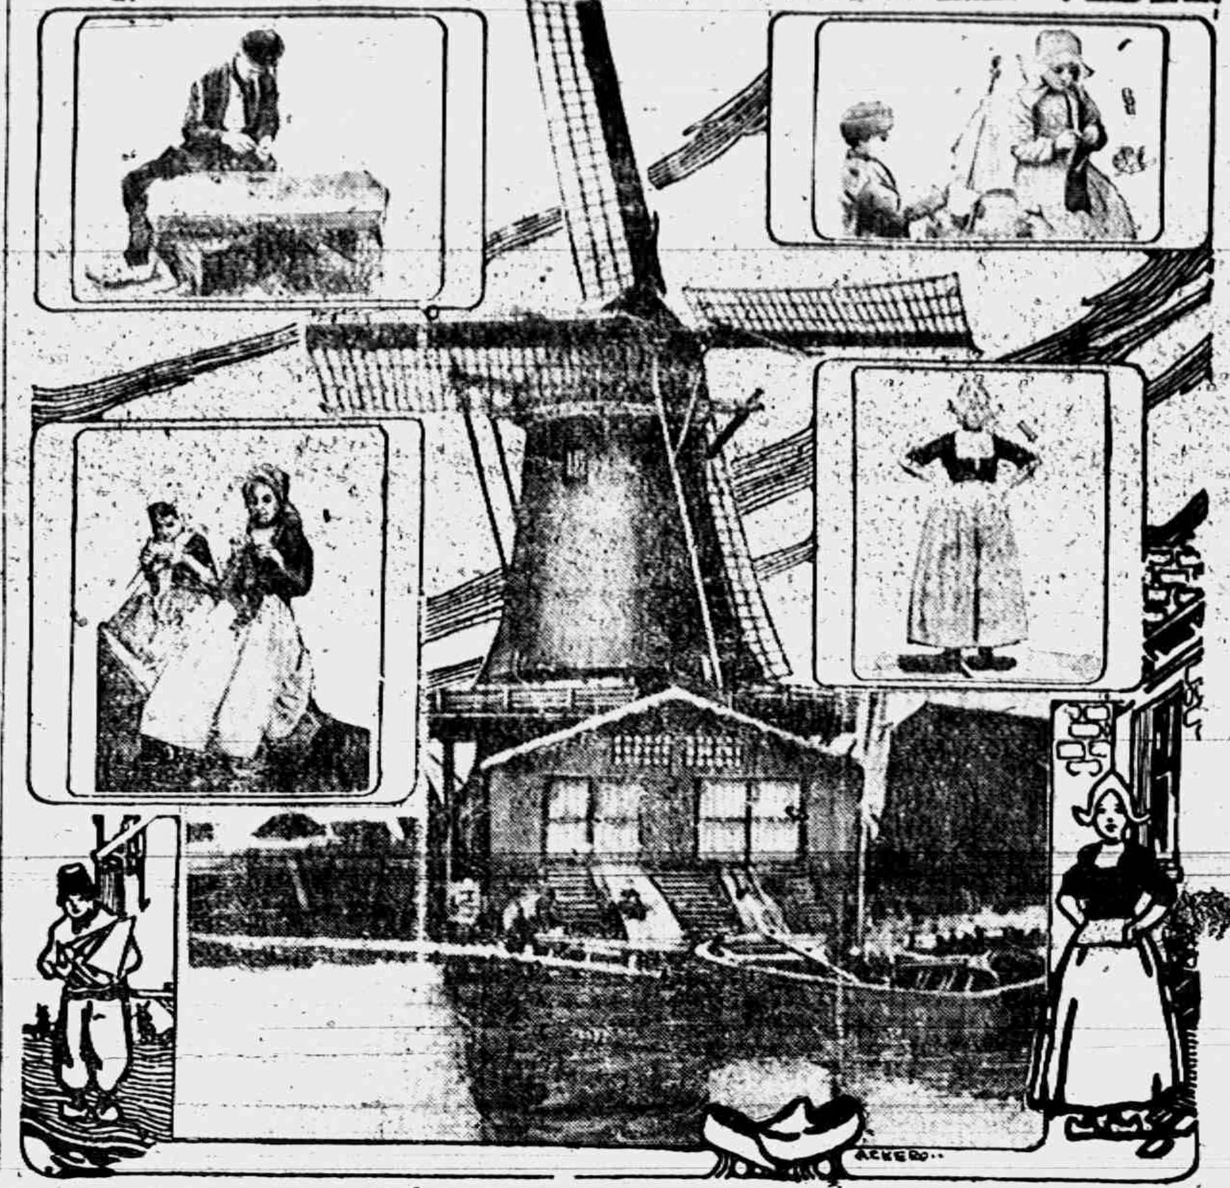
HOWE TAKES HIS AUDIENCES TO QUAINT HOLLAND WHICH FEW PEOPLE VISIT.



Different lands have their distinctive characteristics just as people do. Some are commonplace and uninteresting, but certainly this can never be said of quaint—sedate—curious Holland. On the contrary, Holland is companionable. It piques the curiosity of travelers. It allures by its beauty. It attracts by its strangeness just as some person whose mannerisms, words, or lines of thought interest you because they are so different from your own. In this sense each land or nation has its own human attributes that are unlike those of any other. It is the power to picture perfectly just these personalities of the nations to which must be ascribed the great success of Lyman H. Howes Travel Festival which comes to the Bradley Opera House on Wednesday, April 30. It visualizes the "atmosphere"—the personalities—of the nations so stubtly that it would be impossible to describe just how or why Mr. Howe's reproductions convey so much more than any others. In the case of the scenes of Holland, it is not wholly the architecture, nor the crowds on the city streets, nor the pursuits of the peasantry, nor even the scenic glories portrayed, but rather a fusion of all these phases into one comprehensive yet composite series which, for want of a better name, may be called the personality of Holland. It is because this personality is so subtle and elusive that it has not been grasped hitherto. Recently, however, Mr. Howe's artist photographer "covered" the country, sought out its nooks and corners congested with odd types and peculiar customs, and discovered a wealth of subject-matter which is as new as it is delightful and artistic. These scenes convey the spirit and soul of Holland as they have never been recorded before. They express the life of Holland, simply and frankly. They define the personality of the land. They show precisely those characteristics of the country which make it so unlike any other.

Clerk made report that the insurance on the boilers at the Water Works would expire May 5, 1913, and a new policy had been taken out with the same Hartford Company, policy was taken for three years, May 5, 1913, to May 5, 1916, the insurance premium was $100.00. Moved and supported that the report be accepted and the bill referred to the Finance Committee. Motion carried.

Moved and supported that the Village buy a carload of sewer tile to be used for sluice and drainage purposes, size of tile to be given by the Street Commissioner. Motion carried.

Complaint was made that the Village was running the water from the streets upon the land owned by Irving Clark, located south and east of the Water Works and south of the Railroad, known as the Dundee branch.

Motion made and supported that the complaint be referred to the Streeting Committee. Motion carried.

Motion made and supported that the Village of Tecumseh carry compensating insurance on all the village laborers, including Water Works Engineer, all street laborers, cemetery laborers, Marshal, Night Watch, Street Commissioner, Village Teamster, and the Fire Department, if there could be a rate got at $10.00 per man on the Fire Department, and to be taken out with the Travelers Insurance Co. Motion carried.

Motion made and supported that H. S. Temple, local agent for the Travelers Co., be given the policy, if the price of the policy was satisfactory to the Council. Motion carried.

Motion made and supported that the business men guarantee to the Village $21.00 per week for sprinkling, and that the Village would sprinkle north on Railroad street as far as the Central hotel; south as far as W. W. Whiting's property on Railroad street; on Chicago street east as far as Miss Hough's millinery store; west as far as the Methodist church parsonage. Motion carried.

Druggist bond of B. J. Pulver, with W. D. Reed and Guy E. Belding as sureties was presented.

Motion made and supported that the bond be accepted. Motion carried.

Druggist bond of C. A. Wright & Son, with W. W. Whiting and C. E. Williamson as sureties was presented.

Motion made and supported that the bond be accepted. Motion carried.

Finance Committee reported favorably on bills.

Motion made and supported that the report be accepted and orders drawn for the amounts. Motion carried.

Motion made and supported that we do now adjourn.

F. G. HEESEN Clerk.

The following resolution was offered and adopted April 14, 1913:

Resolved, That the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh does hereby require that a new sidewalk be constructed along that portion of the south line of Pottawatamie street in this village which lies along and adjoining the north line of that parcel of land situate in the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County and State of Michigan, and described as follows:

Lot bounded west by Union street, north by Pottawatamie street, south by Mrs. John Anderson's house and lot, and east by McCowen house and lot.

Said walk to be 4 feet in width, on the established grade, of Portland cement, sand and gravel.

The trench shall be excavated to a depth of 10 inches at least below the established grade except for driveways and street crossings when the depth shall be at least 12 inches below the established grade.

The foundation shall consist of clean cinders or gravel entirely free from clay, thoroughly rammed to a thickness of at least 6 inches, except for driveways and street crossings which shall be at least 8 inches.

On the foundation shall be laid a concrete filling, thoroughly rammed to a thickness of 3 inches.

The concrete shall consist of not less than one part cement to six parts of clean sharp sand or gravel.

On the concrete filling shall be laid a finishing layer one inch thick, consisting of one part cement and two parts of very clean, sharp sand. The said finishing layer shall in all cases be finished with a granular surface with a wooden float.

To secure a true line for the edges of the walk 2x4 strips shall be solidly staked down parallel to grade and on the true line of the walk, these strips to be removed when the walk is finished for use.

The concrete filling shall be tamped thoroughly till the water comes to the surface, then the finishing layer shall be immediately spread on in thin coats and rammed into the concrete, each coat being troweled until the water appears on the surface, the top surface being troweled only sufficiently to leave it smooth. The foundation shall be thoroughly wet while being rammed.

The joints for the blocks shall be made in the concrete and then in the finishing layer directly above those in the concrete.

Only Portland cement shall be used in the construction of walks and shall be in every respect the equal of the best grades of German Portland cement. The concrete filling shall be made from the same cement as the finishing layer.

And the owners and occupants of said lots and premises are hereby required to do the necessary grading therefor and to construct said sidewalk according to the provisions of this resolution, under the supervision of the street commissioner, said walk to be completed within 30 days from personal service, upon the owner or occupant of said described land, of a copy of this resolution, and in case of default in the construction and completion of said walk, as herein directed, the street commissioner is hereby ordered to have said walk constructed, and payment therefor shall be required of the owner of said above described land, and the expense thereof assessed and levied upon said land in the same manner as other taxes.

F. G. HEESEN Clerk.

SENACA FIRE

The village of Senaca was the scene of a bad conflagration last Thursday, when sparks from a switching engine fired the Wabash depot, which for the fifth time was burned to the ground at a loss of 12,000. The high wind spread the flames and the store run by Abe Dershun was destroyed with all its contents, a loss estimated at $1,800. The Union church and sheds were burned, the Ho ton Cheese factory, in fact the west side of Main St. except two houses is a scene of desolation and ruin. A bucket brigade was their only fire department and did most heroic work. Adrian department went over but could do nothing. The whole loss is estimated at $20,000.

JUSTUS LOWE

Justus Conrad only son of Chas. and Martha Lowe, was born April 11th, 1905 passed away suddenly last Thursday noon, thus being 8 years 13 days old.

Naturally of a robust, rugged build Justus enjoyed perfect health until last fall when he was taken ill with that most dreaded disease, scarlet fever.

It was thought for a time that nature had done so much for the boy in giving him such a splendid physical body, that the subsequent effects that generally follows this disease would be defeated but alas? "Jesus touched him and he slept."

Posessed of a quiet sunny disposition, Justus was the pride and joy of the family and greatly beloved by the neighbors and friends.

It is needless to say he will be missed but such is life a co-mingling of sunshine and rain; joy and sorrow; of life and death, with sorrowing hearts, yet with loving remembrance, we say adieu.

"We loved thee dearly, but Jesus loved thee best" and has transplanted thy pure life into the garden of eternal day, where there shall be no more sorrow or tears, or sickness or death.

Beside the father and mother, four sisters and an aged grandfather are left to mourn his departure. He was laid to rest Sunday afternoon in Ridgeway cemetery covered with blossoms and flowers he so dearly loved

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who so kindly assisted us and extended their sympathy in the loss of our dear one also for the floral offerings and music.

Our Annual Flood Bill, $50,000,000!

A retrospect of the occurrences up to date suggests the urgent necessity of doing everything that is humanly possible to obviate or at least mitigate the standing menace of the great Ohio river system, not only on account of the vast interests at stake in the drainage basin of that stream itself, but because it is notoriously the mainspring of trouble in the much-afflicted lower Mississippi. An immense amount of earnest attention has recently been devoted to his problem, some results of which will be found incorporated in the reports of the National Waterways Commission and the Ohio Flood Commission.

Aside from the recent unparalleled disaster, it is a stupendous fact that Ohio floods have for years caused devastation to the extent of at least $50,000,000 annually, on an average.—From "The Story of the Great Floods," in the American Review of Reviews for May.

FORD'S GREAT RECORD

A great record was established in the last six months by the Ford Motor Company, the books of which show that during the months of October, November, December, January, February and March this company did a business of approximately $147,000,000.

These months constitute the first half of the company's fiscal year. At the close of March 31, the records showed that 78,463 Fords had been sold and delivered, approximately 3,000 more were sold and delivered during all of last year. This output of cars swelled the total of Model T's in use to the sum of 234,753.

To build 200,000 cars this year one will have to come into existence on an average of every forty seconds. The big production months of the factory are still ahead. April will see an output of 1,000 cars pere day, and from that month on every effort will be expended by the manufacturing force to keep up with the sales.

During the month of March just passed the company built and sold 17,364 cars of a total valuation of something like $10,000,000.

Siberian Bread that Makes You Drunk

Since you don't live in Siberia you need not be afraid, says M. Narrion, a Russian, to get drunk through eating ordinary bread. A hardened hobo would, on the other hand, think that Providence had played him a nasty trick in not allowing him first to see the light of day in Siberia.

In Far Eastern Russia, in that region which lies between the sea and the river called Msuri, the humidity of the climate, as well as of the soil, is remarkable. Vegetation is here distinguished for its wondrous exuberance, to such an extent that the soil never dries up. The result is that the inhabitants, in order to prevent putrefaction of the roots, sow their corn upon a series of layers of the soil. Nevertheless, in certain districts, the humidity is so intense that there grows upon the ears of corn a kind of fungus-matter made up of microfungi.

As a result of this sporadic excrescence, the bread made from the corn in question gives all the results of an overdose of alcohol. In very humid climates the phenomenon is likewise known, though to nothing like the extent of Eastern Siberia, where whole districts are affected by this strange kind of "alcoholized bread."

Studebaker
STUDEBAKER

"Yes, our new wagon's a Studebaker—the only kind we KNOW"

"The Studebaker idea has been in our family for sixty years. We have never thought of buying any other kind of a wagon."

"It's true, we're continually being offered other wagons costing a little less, with lots of promises as to what they will do. But we know in our family what a Studebaker will do. A few dollars difference in price doesn't mean much. It's the service a wagon gives that we consider most."

"Long service for a fair price means more every time than short service for a few dollars less."

"That's why we stick to Studebaker—and 'Stick to Studebaker' is a pretty good motto for a man who uses wagons."

"Studebaker wagons are built of good stuff. They're made right by people who've had years and years of experience in making them right—people who are trusted the world over."

"Studebaker wagons last, because they're made to last."

"Look out for the dealer who tells you his wagon is just as good as a Studebaker. That's my advice after a good deal of experience—and the experience of all of my people. You get a Studebaker and you've got a safe investment."

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

EVERY STREET IN TECUMSEH

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Suffer Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?
Distressed with urinary ills?
Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Tecumseh people recommend. Every street in Tecumseh has its cases.

Here's one Tecumseh man's experience

Let E. A. Hodges of W Cumming St tell it.

He says: "I cheerfully confirm my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and again advise other kidney sufferers to try them. Several years ago I began using Doan's Kidneys Pills, procuring my supply at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and I found them to be a tonic for my kidneys and very effective in relieving my aches and pains in my back. Other members of my family have taken this preparation and it has done good work in each instance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Conscience is a still, small voice that tells a man when he is found out.

No matter how long you suffered or what other remedies have failed to cure, Foley Kidney Pills will surely help you. They are genuinely tonic, strengthening and curative, build up the kidneys and restore their regular action. John Velbert, Foster, Calif. says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure. For sale by all druggists.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

Some men seem to think they are doing pretty well if they don't break more than five of the Ten Commandments.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache and sore kidneys will all yield to the use of Foleys Kidney Pills. They are tonic in action, quick in results, curative always. W. S. Skelton, Stanley, Ind., says: "I would not take $100.00 for the relief from kidney trouble I received from one single box of Foleys Kidney Pills. For sale by all druggists.

Stilted sermons never elevate the preacher in the estimation of his congregation.

EMPEROR WILLIAM

The Socialists Have Germany's Ruler Greatly Worried.

WOMAN'S TRIALS.

The burdens a woman has to carry through life are many but they can be lightened if she will turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A soothing and strengthening nervine—subduing nervous excitability, prostration, hysteria, hot-flashes and the many symptoms which may be caused by distressing ills peculiar to women. For those "dragging-down" pains or distress and for the derangements and irregularities the "Favorite Prescription" has had many thousands of testimonials from people living in every part of America. Another important thing to every woman is that this medicine is made from efficient medicinal roots, without the use of alcohol, narcotics, or any injurious agents. Full list of ingredients given on bottle-wrapper and sworn to by Dr. R. V. Pierce—who is President of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Every woman is invited to write to this Institute and receive confidential and sound medical advice, entirely without cost from one who makes the diseases of women his specialty.

MRS. MORRELL.

"I can cheerfully recommend your remedies, especially your 'Favorite Prescription,' for all female disorders," writes MRS. M. M. MORRELL, of Bluff City, Tenn., Route 2. "During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used in all seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female derangements."

WILSON BACK

Returns from Two Days Vacation to Virginia Capes.

Washington, April 28. — President Wilson has returned to the White House from a two days' trip to the Virginia capes. Secretary Tumulty prescribed the trip as a relaxation and sent Dr. Gary Grayson, naval aid at the White House, to see that the president did absolutely no work.

The president has been working under pressure lately, the Japanese question in California, the tariff problem and the Mexican situation having occupied his mind, as well as troublesome questions of appointments.

LIVING FACES ON SCREEN.

Apparatus Reproduces Moving Image of Head Thrust Inside.

An interesting and sometimes startling invention is the apparatus designed by a New York man, by means of which living images can be projected on screens and all the movements of the subject's features can be reproduced as in moving pictures.

The apparatus consists of a camera-like arrangement much like a stereopticon. In the rear is a large opening that will admit a person's head, while in front is a lens and inside is means for illuminating the interior of the chamber. The head is thrust downwards into the apparatus, and the image is inverted to normal position on the screen. By this contrivance it is possible to have the image present all manner of facial contortions, as on moving picture screens, and the startling effect may be greatly enhanced by having the subject talk or sing, giving the appearance of sound issuing from the reflection on the canvas. Other images besides those of the human face may also be reflected by this machine.—Boston Post.

English Women's Feet.

The short skirts now in vogue in London are making one fact quite evident; that Englishwomen's feet are larger than they were the last time short skirts were in fashion.

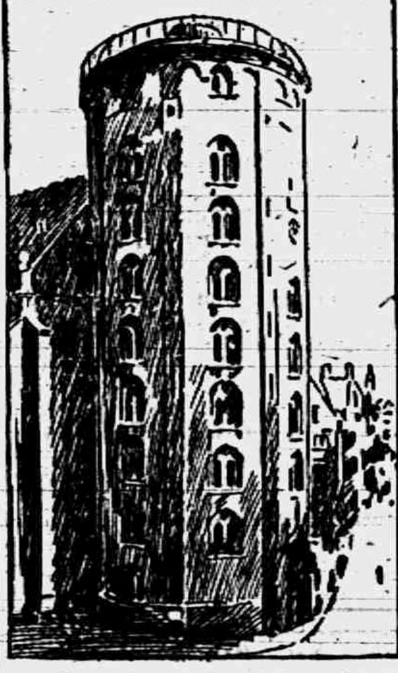
A reporter watched a number of his countrywomen at smart tea shops and in fashionable thoroughfares and was convinced that this was the case, so he went to various shoe stores for confirmation, and there he learned the truth, that the Englishwomen are taking far larger sizes in shoes than in former days.

Substantial fives and sixes are required in place of the twos and threes which used to be worn. Indeed one shoe dealer informed the reporter that in the last ten years the lowest size in women's shoes had risen from a two and a half to a five, that is from a 9 1-2 inch shoe to a 10 inch shoe.

In proportion as sizes have increased heels have grown higher, till now it is not an uncommon sight to see a tall Englishwoman adding to her stature by 3 1-2 inch heels, on which she totters along.

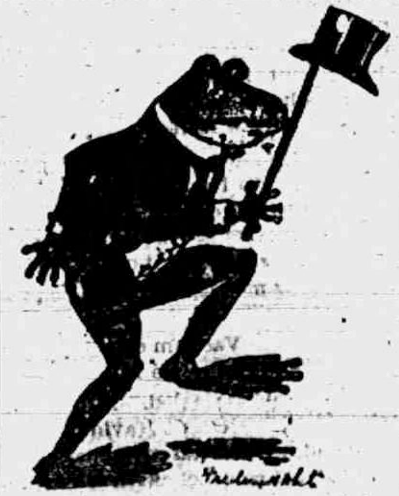
The feet of American women are not getting larger, say English shoe dealers. In fact it is for American sales that the small sizes are kept at some of the larger shops.—New York Sun.

Copenhagen's Round Tower.



One of the sights of Copenhagen is the famous Round Tower. It was built for astronomical purposes shortly after the death of the great Danish astronomer, Tycho Brahe, but is no longer in use as an observatory. The tower contains a broad spiral roadway with an easy gradient on its outer border. Peter the Great and the king of Denmark once drove with horses and carriage to the top, and not long ago some bicyclists rode up the tower and down again in two minutes and 16 seconds.

The Foolish Frog.



This truthful little picture shows
A foolish frog, insane on clothes,
The other day he bought a hat
And tried to wear it. Think of that!
Of course, it covered up his eyes;
And now the crazy creature tries
To wear it on his walking cane.
I fear he's hopelessly insane.

CHOIR GIRL SLAIN BY JILTED MEXICAN

Dental Graduate Commits Double Tragedy.

Indianapolis, April 28.—Miss Nellie Joyner, twenty-three years old and a choir singer, was shot and instantly killed by Carlos Goozman, twenty-four years old, a jilted Mexican admirer who recently was graduated from the Indiana Dental college. The girl's mother, Mrs. Sarah Joyner, tried to save her daughter's life and was shot twice and seriously wounded.

Goodman ended his life at the police station with poison, which the officers overlooked when they placed him in a cell.

Goozman told the police the girl had refused to marry him and that he had grown desperate when ordered to remain away from her home.

About a year ago Goozman is said to have threatened Miss Joynes with death if she did not consent to marry him. He was arrested again about a month ago for molesting the girl.

As Miss Joyner was going to a mail box Goozman began shooting at her with an automatic revolver. He is said to have fired four or five times when Mrs. Joyner ran out of the house to the rescue of her daughter. Goozman turned the weapon from the girl to her mother. He shot at her two or three times, two of the shots taking effect.

BRYAN TALKS TO LEGISLATURE

Asks Solons to Wait in Allen Land Bill Matter.

ADDRESS TO SPECIAL SESSION

Delivers His Word from President—Secret Conference with Lawmakers—Washington Divided in Opinion as to Wisdom of Visit—Some Good Effects.

Sacramento, Cal., April 30.—Secretary of State Bryan held two conferences with the state legislators concerning the proposed anti-alien land holding laws.

The first one began at 11:15 o'clock in the assembly chamber with only Secretary Bryan, Governor Johnson and the 120 members of the legislature in attendance. Although it was stated earlier that Secretary Bryan had requested a private conference, from which the newspaper men and the public in general should be excluded, this responsibility was disclaimed by the secretary of state immediately after the meeting convened.

Bryan's Speech.

"This is a matter which can be settled by diplomatic negotiations," said Secretary of State Bryan to the legislature. "The national government asks you to let alien land ownership legislation lie over until the next session."

Although he will spend much of his time at the governor's home, arrangements have been made for Secretary Bryan to have an office at the capitol building, where he will be accessible to callers during his stay.

Statement by the Secretary.

Secretary Bryan made the following statement on his arrival:

"I am visiting California at the request of the president, and with the consent of the legislature, to confer upon an important matter which while local in its immediate effect is international in character.

"Each state occupies a dual position. While it is the guardian of its domestic affairs, it is a member of the Union, and therefore interested in all that concerns the nation's relations with the outside world.

"The president, upon whom rests the constitutional duty of maintaining diplomatic relations with other countries, asked me to come to California to confer with the governor and legislators upon such phases of the subject as touch this nation's relations to other nations.

"Coming on such a mission, it would be obviously improper to say anything in advance upon questions which may enter into the conference."

During the discussion of the land bill Secretary Bryan told the legislators that if they were bound to pass an alien land law, at this time, that he was authorized by President Wilson to request them to pass one modeled on the Illinois law, which was the least objectionable.

Beginning at 4 p. m. a second conference was held between Secretary Bryan and the legislators, and discussion lasted into the night.

Secretary Bryan in his first speech suggested four methods of relief for California. One to delay immediate action and permit the state department to frame a new treaty with Japan; or to appoint a commission to investigate alien land ownership and act with President Wilson; or to enact a law similar to the six year land law for alien property owners as in Illinois, or to create a law similar to the District of Columbia statute.

Either of these Bryan said were superior to the bill which includes the offensive phrase "ineligible to citizenship."

At the second confefence Governor Johnson plainly announced that an alien land bill will be forced through the legislature.

The governor's statements are considered by Democrats and by regular Republicans to be bordering on direct insult to the national government.

The next secret session will be called today, probably just as soon as Secretary Bryan receives replies to the telegrams he has sent to President Wilson.

MISSISSIPPI A SEA

Marooned People Being Brought In by Steamers.

New Orleans, La., April 30.—Mississippi flood water, pouring through a break in the dike near Gibson's Landing, has formed a lake fifteen miles long and many miles wide in sections of Tensas and Concordia parishes in Louisiana. The water has spread over the towns of Goldman, Gibson, Waterproof and Azucema and was approaching Ferriday and Clayton. Eight river steamers and numerous launches are bringing marooned people to concentration camps.

Court Foribds Insurance Exit.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 30.—The state supreme court has issued an injunction restraining 182 fire insurance companies from terminating contracts now in force. The court did not restrain the companies from ceasing to write new business in the state.

POLICEMAN AS BANDIT CHIEF

Charged with Having Directed Numerous Burglaries.

PRISONERS MAKE CONFESSION

Accused Officer Is Stripped of His Star, Revolver, Club and Belt After Being Summoned Before Acting Chief of Police Schuettler In Chicago—Denies His Guilt.

Chicago, April 30.—Policeman William H. Ohm, charged with being the silent leader and "brains" of a band of seven burglars and highwaymen who terrorized Chicago during the winter, will be arraigned before Judge La Buy in the Maxwell street court.

Investigation of the charges against Ohm, which were made by three prisoners in the county jail, will be made by Acting Chief Schuettler and a continuance of the hearing will be asked meanwhile.

Ohm was stripped of his star and other insignia and was locked up at the Fillmore street station on the specific charge of being an acessory to two robberies. He lives at 5404 West Adams street.

Prisoners Make the Charges.

The story of Ohm's alleged connection with the holdups and burglaries was told by Homer G. Reed and Charles Wood, who were to have been tried before Judge Scanlan for several robberies to which they had confessed. Their hearing was postponed and detectives were sent to the home of Ohm.

The accused policeman was taken to the office of Acting Chief Schuettler in the city hall. He emphatically denied the charges, declaring himself the victim of a "frameup."

Despite Ohm's denial Schuettler reached for the policeman's hat. He tore off the badge. He snatched the policeman's shield from his breast and ordered him to give up his revolver, club, handcuffs and belt.

Confessions Corroborated.

The confessions of Wood and Reed were corroborated, it was said, by Thomas McManus, another prisoner charged with becoming a members of Ohm's band, to his attorney, Robert W. Childs. McManus would not tell his story to the police.

The prisoner, Wood, said he became acquainted with the Ohm about three years ago, when the policeman arrested him on a charge of burglary and had him sent to the bridewell for sixty days. During the trial the two became "chummy." After his sentence had expired, Wood met Ohm on his beat, according to his story.

Says Ohm Directed 37 Jobs.

Wood declared he, with other members of the gang, committed thirty-seven "jobs" under the direction of Ohm.

"We gathered up five other fellows and traveled in a gang," said Wood. "The members were myself, Reed, McManus, Benjamin Wilhelm, Tom Gurling, William Davis and Frank Pluth."

Wood said Ohm pointed out two saloons as "easy meat" for the gang. They were the places of William Ready, 2704 Ogden avenue, and William Brawn, 2958 West Twelfth street. These saloonkeepers filed formal charges against Ohm.

Americans Amcrers Not Guilty.

New York, April 30.—The International Peace Forum, of which Andrew Carnegie is patron, has assured itself, after an investigation, that the manufacturers of arms and of powder in this country have not been interested in embroiling the United States with other countries or in manufacturing war sentiment.

TARIFF BILL WILL SOON PASS HOUSE

Measure Being Considered Paragraph by Paragraph.

Washington, April 30.—The Democratic tariff revision bill advanced another stage in the house when the reading of the measure, paragraph by paragraph, was begun. Amendments will be offered by the Republicans and the Progressives, as the minority, while the bill progresses through this part of its legislative journey, and some amendments that may seem best in the light of developments may be brought in by the ways and means committee majority.

The minority of the house will make a fight on some of the provisions, realizing, however, that with a large majority of Democrats the bill may go through unaltered by the opposition to it. Whatever amendments are agreed to by the Democrats will be voted upon later as a whole, when the bill is reported to the house as a formality from the committee of the whole house, the parliamentary status of the house consideration at this time.

Consideration in the house itself will be brief. Representative Underwood, Democratic leader, said he expected the bill would be passed by the house this week.

GAUTEMALA WANTS HELP

Great Britain Demands That She Pay Up.

Washington, April 30.—The government of Guatemala, through a special representative here, made an appeal to the United States for protection against British reprisals for nonpayment of debts.

Minister Mendez and Antonio Patres Jaureguey, special envoy to the United States, for the presidential inauguration, representatives of the Guatemalean government, informed Acting Secretary of State Moore that Great Britain has delivered to their president, Manuel Estranda Cabrera, an aultimatum demanding immediate action, to the effect that the Guatemaleans take some steps at once to make a settlement on their long outstanding indebtedness to British subjects or else look for trouble from the British government after the first of May.

ROBBED BY GYPSIES.

One of a band of gypsies entered the harness shop of Jake Walsh at Capac and wanted to tell his fortune but there was nothing doing. Then she offered to "bless" Walsh's stock and as she asked no money for this as she did for the fortune telling, Walsh was agreeable. She went around the store, "blessing" each particular thing, and when she was through, she asked Walsh if he had any money he wanted "blessed." Walsh opened his safe, disclosing quite a sum, and this in its turn was "blessed." After the gypsy had gone Walsh counted his cash again and found that he was shy a $20 bill. He immediately notified the sheriff. The gypsy was caught near Yale and the money recovered. Then the gypsies were ordered out of the county, on pain of arrest.

NEW TRIAL DENIED

Third of Albion Bankers Given Sentence.

FIVE YEARS IN WORKHOUSE

Albion Banker Sentenced to Five Years in Work House—Motion for New Trial Overruled.

Five years in the Detroit House of Correction, the minimum sentence was imposed on George V. Dearing, former assistant cashier of the Albion National Bank, found guilty a few weeks ago in the federal court of abstracting funds from the bank, by Judge Clarence W. Sessions. When sentence was pronounced, Dearing cold and impassive as he had been all through the trial, heard sentence passed without the least show of emotion, only turning to glance at his wife, who sat sobbing in the rear of the court room.

Former Judge Fred H. Aldrich, attorney for Dearing, motioned for a new trial on the grounds that the jury had compromised on the verdict which resulted in the conviction of Dearing, and also alleging that the district attorney had erred in his argument to the jury. After some consideration by Judge Sessions, the motion was refused.

The man, still young, not yet 30, had been reared as the son of the man supposed to be one of the most prosperous in Albion, the president of the National Bank. The father's testimony showed that since his son's infancy, funds had been illegally abstracted from the bank by himself, and the young man's friends say they do not believe he had any guilty knowledge of what was going on, or, if he did, it was the result of parental influence. Young Dearing, due to his father's position, had been looked up to as one of the leaders of the younger [illegible] of Albion. He had never known what it meant to have a reasonable [illegible]nt denied him.

SURVEY FOR STATE HIGHWAY

Preliminary Work for New Trunk Line Road Will Be Done This Year.

Lansing, Mich., April 28.—Preliminary surveying of the route of Michigan's proposed new 3,000 mile trunk road, which will traverse the state north and south and east and west, will be started by engineers of the state highway department about the middle of May. In order to handle the increased duties through the enactment of the trunk road measure, at least two other engineers will be engaged for the highway commissioners' staff.

One of the new men will act as a field worker. He will traverse the line recommended for the state turnpike. The second of the engineers will prepare plans for bridge construction. With the addition of these two to the engineering corps, the department's staff will be four greater than it was at the commencement of this season's work.

It is not thought by the commissioners that much actual road building on the trunk line will be done this year. Work during 1913 will be chiefly devoted to mapping out plans for the furtherance of construction in 1914 and thereafter.

MAJORITY AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

Detroit voters rolled up a negative majority of 22,373 on the equal suffrage amendment at the recent election, according to the official report of the county canvassing board. Wayne county at large cast a total of 80,201 votes against the measure, the amendment being defeated in the townships as well as in the city. The votes in favor of the amendment total for the city 13,798, and for the townships of Wayne 3,003. The negative votes were 39,174 in the city and 7,828 in the townships.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If you can't get behind a movement for the town's good, at least don't get in front of it.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and badder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says:—"It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." His name is J. A. Farmer. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The queen of May may have to wear her heavies this year. This is no weather prediction, however.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of a grave nature. Croup may come on suddenly, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deepseated cough, and heals inflamed membrances. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Well, April gave us some beautiful weather, even if some people were fooled in taking 'em off to soon.

CONSTIPATION CURED

Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve constipation promptly and get your bowels in heathy condition again. John Supsie, of Sanbury, Pa., says: "They are the best pills I ever used, and I advise everyone to use them for constipation, indigestion and liver compaint." Will help you. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

May will bring the alluring apple blossoms. Even the Berr Davis blossoms are sweet and fragrant.

FOR THE WEAK AND NERVOUS

Tired-out, weak, nervous men and women would feel ambitious, energetic, full of life and always have a good appetite, if they would do the sensible thing for health—take Electric Bitters. Nothing better for the stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands say they owe their lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs. O. Rhinevault, of Vestal Center, N. Y., says: "I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest of gifts. I can never forget what it has done for me." Get a bottle yourself and see what a difference it will make in your health. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommend by C. A. Wright & Son.

One never hears a small boy saying that he is going to be a soap manufacturer when he gets big.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly over-shadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. Poole, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes—"My daughter had a very severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time." Refuse substitues. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The man who argues that it is too late for him to do much rarely does anything.

WONDERFUL SKIN SALVE

Bucklen's Arnica Salve is known everywhere as the best remedy made for all diseases of the skin, and also for burns, bruises and boils. Reduces inflammation and is soothing and healing. J. T. Sossaman, publisher of News, of Cornelius, N. C., writes that one box helped his serious skin ailment after other remedies failed. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

To be popular on a small salary a man must possess a special gift.

Foley Kidney Pills repay your confidence in their healing and curative qualities. Any kidney or bladder disease not beyond the reach of medicine will yield to their use. Mrs. Cordelia Copeland, Ardeola, Mo., says, I had kidney and bladder trouble for over a year and 5 bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me." It is the same story from every one who uses them. All say, "they cured me." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

County Federation of Womens Clubs

Delegates from 16 Clubs Met in Hudson April, 30

TECUMSEH NEXT PLACE OF MEETING

The eighth annual meeting of the Federation of Womans Clubs was held in Hudson Wednesday, April, 30.

Mrs. Mary A. Shull of Tecumseh was the presiding officer of the convention, which opened at 10 o'clock a. m. Mrs. James Hyslop of Hudson gave the invocation and was followed by Miss Grace Birch who gave a vocal solo.

Alberta Foster gave a charming address of welcome to the visiting Clubs and Mrs. Dean of Addison for Mrs. Mary Rogers was unable to be present responded in a very happy manner.

Reports of officers and standing committees then followed and were very gratifying. The delegates to the State Convention gave brief reports of their meeting. Miscellaneous business came next, this was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Ella Howes of Hudson. Following the reports of the Presidents of the Clubs the federation hymn was sang and the company adjourned for dinner.

The afternoon session was opened at 2 o'clock by a select reading, "The Price He Paid" by Mrs. Lonva Mc Donald of Morenci, an address followed by Miss Susie Furman of Clayton on "The Child that is Different" her talk was very interesting being a story of her work at Furman Vale Farm, where she has a home which she conducts for children that are not normal. At the present she has six little ones with her. A violin number by Mr. F. M. Hubbard of Hudson accompanied by Miss Cecil Pratt.

The Chaplin of Jackson States Prison Rev. E. H. Longher spoke next his subject being "Penology" this was a very interesting talk and was listened to with close attention. The following officers were elected for the coming year,

Pres. Mrs. John E. Carr, Adrian
Vice Pres. Mrs. Marion Landon, Addison
Sec. Mrs. Hazel Horton, Morenci
Treas. Mrs. Oat Whitney, Jasper.

At the close of the meeting the visiting ladies were given an auto ride about the town and Miss Frensdorf opened her home to entertain those who had to wait for a late train.

All were loud in their praise of the hospitality of the Hudson Clubs. The meeting will be held next year in Tecumseh.

ENTERTAINED

Miss Nannie Kyle entertained her Sunday School class and their husbands at her home Thursday evening, there being 22 present. A pot luck supper was served at six o'clock with every thing good, after which came roll call with current events for reponses, this caused lots of fun to the crowd. A solo by Mrs. Weld was next on the program, followed by a recitation by Mrs. Stahl.

The event of the evening was a solo by Rev. B. R. Weld, which should be heard to be appreciated. Mrs. Pauline Bredow then gave an original poem in her own happy manner. Select reading by Mrs Weld, and a guessing contest closed the program. Miss Kyle said every one did beautifully and responded to repeated encores and she was very proud of her little class. A social hour was spent in story telling, and when the guests departed at a late hour they voted Miss Kyle a royal entertainer, and wished they might meet oftener then once a year.

OUR TALANTED MUSICAL YOUNG FRIEND MISS HAZEL ZIMMERMAN MAKING GOOD.

Voice Called A Rare Contralto of Musical Quality.

The many friends of Hazel Zimmerman will be delighted to hear what the May publication of the "Chicago Musical Leader" says in regard to her voice.

"L. A. Torrens, the well known musical quality as well as a future artist of charming personality in Hazel Louise Zimmerman, the young contralto at the Mary Wood Chase School of Musical Art. The Proffessor states Chicago Musical circles may expect a rare treat when the lady, who is a protegee of Miss Chase, makes her debut."

Three weeks ago Miss Zimmerman had a try out of her voice in Chicago, and secured to scholarship in the Mary Chase School of Music and since her arrival there two weeks ago she has had nothing but praise and encouragement in regard to her voice and has sang before many noted professors and before the Redpath Bureau. She is working hard to attain a place at the top of the ladder that her friends thought her capable of filling and everyone will rejoice when they read this last criticism from this noted publication.

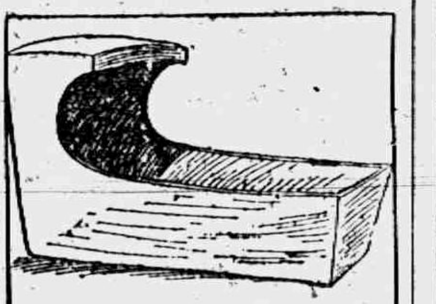
"PITTSBURGH PERFECT"

Welding two pieces of metal together by the old processes was at best unreliable. When the strain on the welded joint was heavy, you never knew whether it was going to hold, or not. But with the use of electricity in making the weld, the fiber of the two pieces of metal are made to flow into each other and so become practically one piece. The success of this new method was recognized at once, and now you have hardly a tool or piece of machinery on your farm but what is electrically welded where there is a juncture of metals. The present state of perfection of garden and barn yard tools, mowers, reapers, binders, threshers, cultivators, kitchen utensils, dairy machinery, edge tools, chains, automobile engines and steering gears, bottoms of oil cans, frames of old bicycles, etc., is made possible through electric welding. The same process produces "Pittsburgh Perfect" electrically welded wire fencing, made by the Pittsburgh Steel Company, whose advertisements are appearing regularly in this paper. "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fencing is a solid, one piece fabric with many distinctive advantages, among them being the ease with which it is strung, the great tension to which it can be stretched because of the absolute elimination of "long" and "short" line wires, the smooth surface making wire-cuts impossible, and the neat appearance of the fence. The welded joints in "Pittsburgh Perfect" are twice as strong as the wire itself, because two wires are made into one by electricity, which also piles the galvanizing around the joints, adding greatly to the life of the fence. Modern methods of manufacture in many lines have been greatly benefited by the discovery and practice of welding by electricity.

CRADLE GOLD CANNOT BUY.

Maine Woman Possesses One Sir William Phips was Rocked In.

Boston.—Mrs. S. S. E. Hawthorne of Woolwick, Me., has in her possession a relic which gold cannot buy, and which is considered one of the most valuable of the many pieces of antique furniture to be found in the old town. It is a homely, little, old-fashioned cradle, made of pine boards.



CRADLE OVER 200 YEARS OLD.

This cradle has been in the family for over 200 years, and according to the tradition which has been handed down from generation to generation it is the one in which William Phips, later Sir William Phips, was rocked when an infant.

Mrs. Hawthorne's ancestors were among the first settlers in Woolwich, and lived in the same locality where Phips was born. They went there from York in a schooner which they had built themselves, and brought up the families of children.

BUSINESS MEN PAY

To the business men of Tecumseh. The Council demands a guarantee of not less than $21.00 a week for street sprinkling so it will be necessary for each one to pay promptly amounts signed by them in order to keep our streets sprinkled. Below is a list of firms and amounts signed by them for each week for the season of 1913. We trust each firm will instruct their help to pay the collector in case they are not in their place of business when he calls as it takes time to call on each subscriber, there being 74 or more subscribers.

The amounts signed by the business men pays Mr. Mellon's salary for 5 months, pays feeding and shoeing of team for 5 months and more than cost of water for 5 months so there is no cost whatever to tax payers for support of team, man and water for 5 months of the year.

SENATOR TOWNSEND AND THE DEMOCRATIC SUNDAY BILL.

Senator Towsend opposes the democratic Sunday Bill which was vetoed during the last day of the Taft administration, when he comes up for repassage in the Senate, he will attack the provision intended to save labor unions and farmers organizations from prosecution under the Sherman Anti-trust Law. Senator Townsend is opposed to the exemption provision as a matter of principal assisting that it is class legislation of the worst type.

Unique Hat Fastener.

The average woman likes her friends to think she does not have to wear her hats or gowns many times, as this indicates a varied wardrobe. Unfortunately, some hats will betray the wearer, as the number of holes made by the hatpins will show how often they have been worn. To get around this a California man has devised a hat fastener which necessitates the use of only one hatpin, yet holds the headgear firmly in place. Inside the band of the hat is a revolving member equipped with a number of prongs. These prongs engage the hair and act as auxiliary pins, so to speak; indeed it is not absolutely necessary to use even one pin. If one is used, however, it may be passed through the casing holding the prongs and it will of course make the hat more stable than without it.—Boston Post.

Singing Nobleman Not Tempted.

It has been reported that the earl of Shaftesbury has been invited to go on the American music hall stage at the modest salary of $5,000 a week. This beats Harry Lauder. It is the largest salary ever offered to an amateur or even to an earl. Lots of the English nobility have found their way to the footlights, but few have possessed the qualifications of the young earl of Shaftesbury, whose fine tenor voice entitles him to recognition and big pay. Of course, the fact of being entertained by a real live lord should count on the playbills. Though his lordship has been pleased at the flattering offer of a 30-weeks' engagement in America at the sum named, it is just possible that he may reconsider his decision.

Mental Satisfaction.

And now the scientists tell us that when we think we have a cold we are just recovering from one. In other words, we don't know we have it until we begin to get well. While this isn't perfectly clear there is some little comfort in the idea.—Toledo Blade.

IT IS WELL TO INVESTIGATE

Some peoples fondness for gossip, coupled with an item that appeared in a Detroit newspaper about a week ago has caused a rumer about town that our former townsman, J. M. Crane had been arrested on a serious charge, convicted and sent to prison.

Thinking that it must have been a mistake, I wrote a friend of mine in Flint asking him to find out the truth and let me know. He investigated and found it to be aman who lived about nine miles from Flint, who pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court and was sentenced.

I then wrote Mr. Crane and received a telegram saying "All interested are all right here, Another man with the same name."

I hope those who circulated the false report will pass this along as they did the other, Respectfully,

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

KEEPS THE KIDNEYS WEL

Health it Worth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

A. H. Forche, 136 E. Maumee St., Adrian, Mich., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a valuable remedy for kidney trouble and lame back. I used this preparation for these complaints and received satisfactory results. Since I took Doan's Kidney Pills, my kidneys have been normal and the lameness in my back has disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Every married man ought to live next door to a model husband.

The spring months often find a woman tired out, with pain back, hips and head, nervous and sleepless. Foley Kidney Pills will quickly prove their worth and value as a healer of all kidney and bladder ailments and irregularities. They are a splendid [illegible] rheumatism, clearing the uric acid from the joints and system. Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The village band makes sweet music, but it isn't in it with the village carpenter.

BEST MEDICINE FOR COLDS

When a druggist recommends a remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he is talking about, C. Lower, Druggists of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright & Son.

This Interest Every Woman

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for for their kidneys and bladder, they they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. They are a tonic in action, quick in results. They will help you. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Well Known Editor Dead.

Ames, Ia., April 28.—L. G. Hardin, editor of the Ames Times, and for many years one of the best known newspaper men in the west dropped dead in his office here from heart disease.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature' own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

J. G. KENT, Esq.

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes MR. JAMES G. KENT, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

Fossils as Sign-Posts.

The recent discovery in the southern part of Madagascar of reptilian fossils, which geologists affirm belong to the Permian epoch, leads to the expectation that coal will be found there. In India, Australia and southern Africa the strata containing the remains of these animals are characterized by the presence of coal-beds. The likelihood that the same condition of affairs will be found in Madagascar is regarded as being much strengthened by the association of one of the fossils recently discovered with a leaf of glossopteris, one of the plants most distinctive of the Permian coal formations in the southern hemisphere.

INITIATING MACHINE.

Neophyte Spanked and Coused with Water When He Pulls Lever.

A machine that will initiate new members of secret societies while the old members can sit back and enjoy the fun has been designed by a Pennsylvania man. One of the best features of the device, too, is that the neophyte really initiates himself, all unconsciously. A platform has a pair of handles sticking up from one end and a registering dial to give the apparatus the appearance of being a muscle machine. The neophyte, who is probably thinly clad, is told that his strength is to be tested, and stepping on the platform he stoops, grasps the handles and pulls with all his might. The pulling of the handles releases a concealed paddle in the platform, and this paddle, actuated by a powerful spring, flies upward and whales the surprised victim in the most appropriate part of his anatomy. At the same time another lever presses on the bulb of a syringe concealed in the front of the platform and a stream of water is projected into the neophyte's face, thus bewildering him with a front and rear attack.—Newark Call.

Plans for the centennial celebration of the battle and massacre of the River Raisin, which will be celebrated in connection with the annual "Custer Day" ceremonies, in Monroe, are nearly completed. Mrs. Custer, who has planned to be present, will give prizes to the children who present the monument the most artistic bouquets of flowers. An effort is being made to get Col. Henry Watterson to give an address.

The police of Monroe are in possession of a trunk which was found near the Pere Marquette right-of-way about a mile from town. It contained a small quantity of women's and men's clothing, and the address of the evident owner, J. W. Gibson, 522 South Seventh street, Cincinnati, Ohio. The trunk also contained a check book on a Toronto bank. It had been broken open, but how it reached the spot where found is a mytsery. It was checked through to Cincinnati and had evidently been rifled of valuables.

Compared with those of years gone by, the annual log drive in the Menominee river and its tributaries this spring is extremely small. The timber to be floated down the stream to the sawmills at Marinette and Menominee aggregates only 28,000,000 feet. Last year 45,000,000 feet of logs were driven, and in preceding seasons a great deal more than that. The decrease is significant of the waning of lumbering as an important industry in upper Michigan, although it is a fact that the mills are receiving more timber by rail than ever before

PANAMA CANAL SOON OBSOLETE

Varilla Tells Why Building Permanent Lock Was Wrong.

TWENTY YEARS OF LIFE IS ALL

He Asserts That Ships Will Grow in Dimensions, Making It Impossible for Them to Use the Ditch—Received with Great Interest in Paris.

Paris, May 5. — Phillips Bunau-Varilla has just published an interesting book on Panama; its creation, destruction and resurrection. This deals with the whole history of the enterprise from the most remote beginnings to the present moment.

The Bunau-Varilla Idea.

He discusses what he calls the Buena-Varilla idea, that of a lock canal first and then a sea level canal. He says:

"The engineers have obstinately refused to make the necessary modification for the application of my method of transformation, which would permit a gradual discarding of the locks without interrupting navigation or dredging at great depths. Four or five years will be necessary for this preparatory work to get into swing before the upper levels of the canal can begin to be lowered, while the transformation itself will take ten years to carry out."

Lock Canal Soon Obsolete.

Under the most favorable conditions, the writer says, the lock canal will be no longer workable in twenty or twenty-five years, perhaps after only fifteen. It is absolutely necessary, he asserts, that it be turned into a free strait for the following reasons:

"First—Because the difference between the dimensions of the largest ships now building and the locks is, at most eighty feet in length and eleven feet in width, which is merely a strictly necessary margin. Thus in a few years' time he locks will be inadequate to the needs of military and commercial navigation.

"Second—Because the canal [illegible] at the earliest possible moment [illegible] relieved of the menace of destruction now overhanging it, through the dangers to which the Gatun dam is exposed.

"Third—Because of the danger that the canal will lack sufficient water through the escape fissures in the banks.

"Fourth—Because the huge volume of traffic which will eventually thread the canal will absolutely require a free water way."

The book has been received with great interest in Paris.

BRYAN LEAVES COAST

Mission to California Fails to Accomplish Dessired End.

Sacramento, Cal., May 5.—Defeated finally in his diplomatic effort to dissuade the California legislature from enacting an alien land law affecting the Japanese, Secretary of State Bryan immediately before his departure for Washington declares that he looks to the people of the state to express a final judgment, through the referendum, before the act shall go into effect.

Secertary Bryan voiced the president's opinion that the words "eligibel to citizenship" substituted in the California attorney general's redraft of the alien land measure for the words "ineligible to citizenship," are equally discriminatory and therefore equally objectionable to Japan.

If a law must pass, he urged that it be limited in its operation to two years, in order that meanwhile diplomacy might so improve the international situation that re-enactment by the next legislature would be unnecessary.

WOMEN PARADE 30,000 STRONG

Great Suffragist Demonstration in New York City.

LARGE POLICE FORCE ON HAND

Every Precaution Taken to Prevent a Recurrence of the Scenes in Washington on March 3—Miss Inez Milholland Grand Marshal of Parade —Fine Weather.

New York, May 5.—Woman suffragists in large numbers from western states and from Washington, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and upper New York state joined their sisters here in the parade of 30,000, the largest demonstration of the votes for women advocates ever held in this country.

Every Precaution Taken.

Every precaution was taken to avoid the confusion which resulted in Washington when the suffragists held their demonstration there in March. Police Commissioner Waldo detailed a large number of the best men he had for the policing of the course of the parade, up Fifth avenue from Washington parade to Fifty-seventh street.

Ten policemen were assigned to each block, five on either side of the street, with a large cordon drawn up at Carnegie hall and the Central Park plaza at Fifty-ninth street, where meetings were held at the conclusion of the parade.

Miss Milholland Leads Parade.

Miss Inez Milholland led the parade on horseback, and twenty-four other woman riders were assigned to escort her.

Miss Alberta Hill, the young suffragist who made a name for herself by her work for the headquarters of the Wilson campaign last fall, headed the Woman's Political union section of the great parade.

Rosalie Jones' Pilgrims.

Conspicious in the lineup was the little group of pilgrims commanded by "General" Rosalie Jones, famous for their cross country marches to Albany and to Washington. They were attired in their pilgrim cloaks and hoods and their walking boots.

Indians, cowgirls and a prairie schooner were other features which attracted attention.

SHOT THROUGH WINDOW

Springfield, Mo., May 5. — William Widower, Is Found by His Son.

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—William Steele, sixty-five years old and reputed wealthy, was killed in his home near Wilson Creek, eleven miles southwest of here, by a charge from a shotgun fired through a window. The body was found by Steele's son on his return from a fishing trip.

Steele was a widower. The identity of the murderer and the motive for the crime are mysteries to the authorities

AUSTRIA WILL OPEN THE WAR

Military Action Against Montenegro Starts Tuesday.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA IN A PACT

King Nicholas in Statement Declares Montenegro Will Lose in Struggle but It Will Cost Victors Dearer Than Algeria Cost France or Transvaal Cost England.

London, May 5.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times says he hears from a well informed quarter in the Austrian capital that the ministerial council has decided that military action against Montenegro shall begin Tuesday.

The correspondent adds that he has been unable to verify the statement

Austria and Italy in Pact.

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in Vienna says he learns that Austria and Italy have made an agreement for eventual parellel action with a view to the pacification of Albania, where the state of anarchy is growing worse

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Vienna says a report has reached that city from Avlona that the troops of the provisional government there surrendered to the Turkish general Djavid Pasha's army. It adds that members of the provisional government fled or were arrested and courtmartialed and that Djavid Pasha appointed Colonel Shebab, former commander at Stamboul, as prefect of Avlona.

To Be Costly for Austria.

Paris, France, May 5.—Telegraphing from Cettinje, the correspondent of the Temps says that King Nicholas declares Montenegro will be beaten if Austria attacks her.

"But the victory will be a terribly costly one," the correspondent quotes the king as saying. "It will cost Austria dearer than Algeria cost France, than the Caucasus cost Russia or the Transvaal cost Great Britain."

$500,000 BLAZE IS CHARGED TO WOMEN

Extensive Railway Sheds Are Destroyed in England.

Bradford, England, May 5.—Extensive sheds belonging to the Midland railroad, containing much freight, were burned here, causing a loss of $500,000. Nineteen loaded freight cars and quantities of dry goods and carpets were consumed.

Mysterious fires have broken out in these sheds on three successive Friday nights. The militant suffragettes were suspected of arson, but there was no proof of this.

The latest fire evidently was incendiary for the firemen discovered it had been started simultaneously in several parts of the building

Earlier in the night a fire had been started in cars loaded with straw in another yard, apparently to divert attention from the principal scene of operations

Suffragettes Burn Public School.

Aberdeen, Scotland, May 5.—One of the public schools here was partly burned by militant suffragettes. The damage amounted to $2,500. A large quantity of suffrage literature was found scattered about the building.

Winslow of the supreme court of Wisconsin, writer of fiction, class of '04; Max Loeb, debater, class of '05; Edgar Eugene Robinson, orator and dramatist, class of '08.

Candidates for the "Hall of Fame" had been under conideration for many months before final selections were made.

DR. ABBOTT FIRED

St. Louis, May 5.—Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York was removed from the list of vice presidents of the American Peace society because he signed the appeal of the Navy league for large naval appropriations.

Objection to the name of Dr. Abbott was made by Charles E. Beals of Chicago, secretary of the Chicago Peace society.

As a result of his protests, five additional vice presidents were elected —Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago, Hiram Hadley of New Mexico, Edmund Stanley of Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. Frederick Schoff of Philadelphia.

The principal officers are Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, president; Benjamin F. Trueblood of Washington, D. C., secretary; Arthur D. Call, Washington, D. C., executive director, and George W. White, Washington, treasurer.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disas, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If you can't get behind a movement for the town's good, at least don't get in front of it.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and badder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." His name is J. A. Farmer. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The queen of May may have to wear her heavies this year. This is no weather prediction, however.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of a grave nature. Croup may come on suddenly, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deepseated cough, and heals inflamed membrances. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Well, April gave us some beautiful weather, even if some people were fooled in taking 'em off to soon.

CONSTIPATION CURED

Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve constipation promptly and get your bowels in healthy condition again. TWO ENGLISH BATHTUBS.

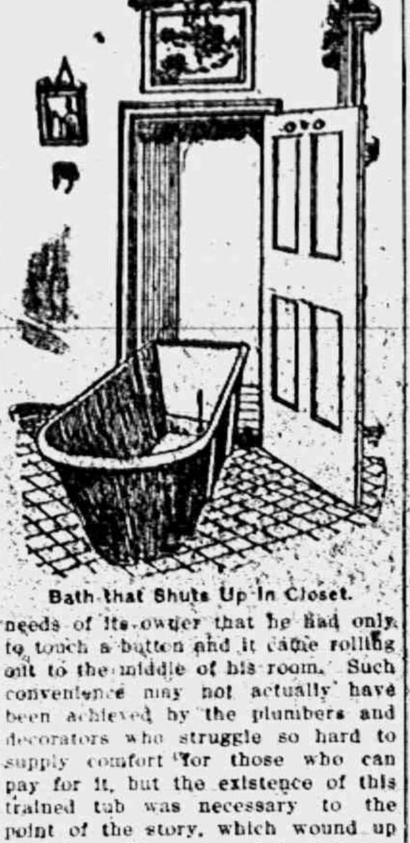
One in the Kitchen Floor, the Other Kept in a Closet.

There is a certain bathtub known more or less to the history of humor which was so nicely adjusted to the needs of its owner that he had only to touch a button and it came rolling out to the middle of his room. Such convenience may not actually have been achieved by the plumbers and decorators who struggle so hard to supply comfort for those who can pay for it, but the existence of this trained tub was necessary to the point of the story, which wound up with the sudden entry of the tub containing the wife of the owner, who was just demonstrating its wonders to a stranger. The story has an element of improbability in the supposition that a tub with such intelligence would have presented its owner's wife to the gaze of his visitors even for the sake of exhibiting its own qualities.

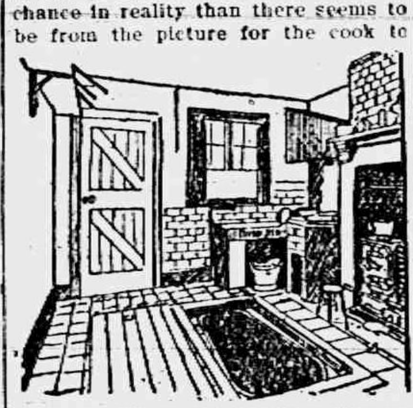


Bath that Shuts Up In Closet.

No such feats ought to be expected from the kind of bathtubs shown in the picture. They are humbler adjuncts of the home and intended to fill a useful purpose. They are meant for the homes of English workingmen, to economize space.

The sunken bath in the family kitchen is intended for small houses of the kind built now in the London suburbs for workingmen. It has been found most useful in two family houses and saves space needed for a bathroom. It is not nearly so dangerously as it looks here.

The cover, which in the picture is up, completely hides the tub when it is not in use, so there is much less chance in reality than there seems to be from the picture for the cook to fall in while she is preparing dinner. Nor would there be any likelihood of sparks from the stove falling on the skin of the careless bather, since the fuel is gas. The desirability of taking a bath in the kitchen is of course merely a matter of personal taste.



Sunken Bath In Kitchen Floor.

More desirable and also intended for the bedrooms of houses built for workingmen is the other bathtub. That shuts up in such fashion as to require very little space. It is attached to a spring which raises it as soon as it is emptied of a certain weight of water, so there is no danger of its suddenly shutting up with the bather inside of it.

When not in use it is caught at the top, and when the door of the closet in which it stands is closed the tub remains in an upright position. The water and waste pipe are attached to the bottom end of the tub on which it stands in the closet. Once the door is closed the tub is as much out of the way as if it were in a room reserved exclusively for it.

A PORTABLE DESK.

Can Be Folded Up and Carried About as a Suit Case.

If the Illinois man who invented the portable desk is not a traveling man he is a good friend of the family. Also he has added to the comfort of flat dwellers. Closed, the desk is about the size and shape of a dress suit case, which it closely resembles. Open, it is a substantial desk, equipped with drawers and pigeonholes after the most approved fashion of a big roll top. Metal legs, of the lazy-tong principle, unfold to form a support, and a supporting rod holds what might be termed the lid in the position of a writing table. To the top is attached a handle, by which the whole may be carried. For salesmen who have much writing to do the portable desk is of inestimable value, as it enables them to carry a supply of all sorts of stationery and to carry on correspondence at any place. Instead of writing their letters and filling out contracts in the public writing room of their hotels, they have simply to open their own desk in their own room. If the whole space in the desk is not needed for paper it can be used for samples, or on short trips to carry the clean linen required.—Washington Star.

An Ancient Lizard.

The tuatara lizard found in New Zealand is one of the most ancient forms of animal life now found on earth. Originally this lizard possessed four eyes, but in the course of the ages it has lost one pair and must now get along with two. The tuatara lays eggs which are remarkable in that they require fourteen months to hatch, the embryo passing the winter in a state of hibernation.

These small survivors of past ages are found only in a few localities and are becoming very scarce, collectors from every part of the world being continually on their trail. They are about two feet in length, and in common with other lizards have the fortunate characteristic of being able to replace portions of their limbs or tails which have been destroyed. It is asserted that one of these lizards owned by a naturalist had the misfortune some time ago to lose an eye and that a complete new eye, perfect in every way, has grown in the place of the old one.—Harper's Weekly.

MRS FRED GOHEEN

Mary St. George was born in Macon, Dec. 20, 1863, and passed away April 29, 1913, after a lingering illness. She was united in marriage to Fred Goheen Feb. 26, 1888. To this union was born three children, two sons, and one daughter who died in infancy, the two sons being left with their father, to mourn the loss of their dear one. Since the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Goheen, they have resided in Clinton township, where Mrs. Goheen ever made a happy home for her family. She was a loving wife and mother, a kind neighbor and friend, and will be greatly missed in the community. She was a member of the Catholic church, and Fathers Fisher and Griffin officiated at the funeral, which was held Thursday afternoon. The large attendance at the funeral, the wealth of beautiful flowers all attested to the love in which she was held. Her casket was deposited in the vault at Brookside, awaiting the completion of the Mausoleum, where it will rest in one of the Crypts.

Only the memory of this dear one is left, yet how sweet, how uplifting will be its influence, for, after all death is but the slipping off, of the outer body.

CARD OF THAKS.

We wish to thank our many friends who assisted us during the sickness and at the death of our loved one, especially do we thank Fathers Fisher and Griffin for their kind services. Also those who gave the beautiful flowers.

FRED GOHEEN,

RAY GOHEEN.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness to us during our late affliction; also to the Royal Neighbors for their comfort and assistance, for the beautiful flowers, to the Pastor for his words of comfort and also to the singers.

FIND OLD SOLDIER IS JUST A WOMAN

Went Through Civil War and Posed 50 Pears as Man.

Quincy, Ill., May 5. — To go masquerading as a man for over fifty years with but two detections, is the record of a woman inmate of the Soldiers' and Sailors' home in this city who is enrolled under the name of "Albert D. J. Cashier."

The woman known as Cashier has been in the soldiers' home for nearly two years. She has become enfeebled mentally and her secret became known to the authorities at the home only a few months ago when two male attendants attempted to give her a bath.

She appealed to a female nurse and told her story. The authorities have been unable to learn her real identity.

The first time her secret became known was two years ago, when she was run over by an automobile owned by Ex-Senator J. M. Lish, in Livington county. Her leg was broken at that time, but Mr Lish, by whom she was employed as a chauffeur, never betrayed her long guarded identity.

The woman soldier is a native of Ireland and claims to have come to this country shortly before the Civil War broke out. She donned boys' clothing and obtained passage across the Atlantic as a stowaway.

When the struggle between the north and south broke out she enlisted as a member of Company G. Ninety-Fifth Illinois infantry, and served three years in the war. When her company was mustered out the records show that there were only thirty survivors.

During the years following the war she worked in various parts of Illinois as a farm hand, doing a man's work wherever she could find it to do. In later years she became an automobile chauffeur and machinist. She was employed in a number of automobile garages in different parts of the state as a machinist.

FOREST FIRES RAGE

Mills Close Down So Employes Can Fight Growing Blaze

Marinette, Wis., May 5.—Forest fires are spreading over the entire northwest portion of Marinette county. Farmers near Armstrong Creek, Goodman and Amberg have been driven from their homes, and many are said to have lost all of their buildings, farm machinery and belongings.

Sawmills have been closed, so that the men can go to the forests and fight the flames which threaten to sweep through the county. The woods are very dry and rain is the only sure preventive of a much larger loss.

MOTHERS' DAY

A Proclamation by the Governor

Never did the word mother have a broader and deeper meaning than it has today. The welfare of the world is related to motherhood. Would that the mothers of our sons and daughters fully realized the power they wield. Through the double standard of virtue established by man long ages ago, mothers have unconsciously granted their sons license to disregard the sanctity of womanhood. When mothers shall insist upon as clean for husbands of their daughters as they now insist upon clean daughters for wives of their sons, a new era will have dawned in which the social evil and the white slave traffic will have largely disappeared from our fair land. The highest type of woman is the mother. The word mother thrills the heart with joy and gratitude, and gives to memory priceless treasures.

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris ask that the people of Michigan set apart the third Sunday in May (the 18th) as Mothers' Day. As far as possible, let parents in their homes and both young and old in public meetings discuss the theme, of Mother with that enthusiasm and sincerity which should characterize all loyal Americans.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this eleventh day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the Commonwealth the seventy-seven.

Woodbridge N. Ferris
Governor.

By the the Governor:
Frederich C. Martindale
Secretary of State.

MICHAEL ECKERT HEARD FROM AGAIN.

Michael Eckert has again been heard from by his friends who present the following poem for publication. It is a little late in the season for this part of the country.

The earth is wearing winter's mantle
And the birds have flown away;
They have gone to warmer climates
To return with balmy days in May
They know when time comes for migration;
How they flock before they go
To visit lands of other nations,
And avoid boreas blast and snow.
How we love to hear them twitter
In the spring when they return;
And oh, how gladsome comes the music
From the tree, and from the fern.
And oh, how busy when they're building
Nests with twigs, and straw, and hair;
And how they feed their little darlings
Bringing food from everywhere.
How they display a parent's anguish,
And how they give the young their care.
Catching bugs, and worms, and millers,
Gives them no moment's time to spare.
They get the full return for labor;
For not a moment's time is spent
In toiling to create a surplus,
From which to pay a land-lord rent.
They know much more than human beings
Who inhabit this terestrial sphere,
With cunning they are never scheming
To put natural laws all out of gear.
I'm glad they're not like human perverts
Who inherit a great rich continent;
It seems they'll never see the folly
Of paying one another rent.
For the use of land which nature gave them
From which their bodies all are drawn,
An equal right to every acre
Had they from manhood's early dawn.
It seems they cannot use they reason
Which the God of nature gave;
They persist in doing things perversely
From the cradle to the grave.
The state should be the sole collector
Of the economic rent;
Then will opportunities open
All over this great continent.
But now they're held away from labor
With speculator's title deeds;
Land is mother-nature's store-house
From which labor could supply its needs.

DR. WILLIAM OSLER

Celebrated English Physician Who Is [illegible] Very Ill.

Dr. Osler achieved considerable notoriety several years ago when it was published that in a lecture he had advocated the chloroforming of people when they reached the age of sixty. He afterward explained that parts of a humorous remark had been misinterpreted and enlarged upon by reporters. He is at the home of Dr. A. A. Cushing, Brookline, Mass.

EARLHAM (IND.) HOME COMING

June 24, 1913

"We must get home—for we have been away
So long it seems forever and a day."
—Riley.

The home-coming spirit is instinctive and universal. Happily, it is becoming stronger with us as a people. Happily, for what more sacred, more binding, and more beneficent tie than that which binds us to the old home and its associations?

This is a day of home-comings. New England States have their "old home" week; cities and towns everywhere their new celebrations; various organizations their natal days; families their annual reunions. All are expressive of the same feelings, the same yearning—"We must get home, for we have been away so long." Wanderlust yields at last to Heimweh.

Earlham has felt the throb—the "mystic chords" that bind her to her children have been tightening—she announces her home-coming.

Hear ye, all sons and daughters of Earlham, as far as the East is from the West, Earlham most cordially invites, yea, urges, all students and alumni—all who have ever been in attendance at the college for as much as one term—to be present at the grand home-coming to be held on the campus on Tuesday, June 24, of the coming Commencement week.

Indeed, a new emphasis is to be given to Commencement of 1913. While the usual features of the final week will be seen, dominating all and pulsating through all will be found the home-coming idea and spirit. Primarily, this is to be Old Students' Year.

RUNNING THE RHEA

Relative of Ostrich Chased with Dog and Horse.

For the person who desires a unique form of sport "running the rhea" in Southern Patagonia is recommended. The rhea is a member of the ostrich family, but somewhat smaller. It runs with the swiftness of the grey hound or a fast horse, and has a knack of doubling on its track, which often serves it in eluding its pursuers. The natives in hunting it use horses, dogs and the bola. The dogs course after the fleeing bird in full cry, while the hunters follow after at top speed, prepared to throw the bola if opportunity offers.

The bola, consisting of two or three heavy balls of lead or stone attached to a thong six or eight feet long, serves to hamper the movements of the bird, for the balls twine about the part which the bola strikes, regardless of whether it be the legs, neck or wings. This permits the dogs and hunters to overhaul and dispatch the bird.

At the approach of danger the rhea will often crouch flat upon the ground with neck outstretched under the grass, remaining motionless until the dogs have passed. This strategem is often successful when the wind is blowing against the scent, but when the contrary is the case the dogs soon discover the hiding bird. In this case, doubtless bewildered by the sudden failure of its artless ruse, it makes no attempt at escape.

The chase of the rhea, which sometimes extends over a distance of five or six miles, is a thrilling one. It has, for the rider, all the excitement of a horse race, with the added satisfaction of knowing that the winning of the race will result in a welcome addition to the larder. The wings of the rhea have a flavor not unlike that of turkey, and if one is not averse to the taste of horse flesh the meat of the thigh is very satisfactory. The rhea is one of the main food supplies of a Patagonian hunting trip.

When He Came Home.

One of the neighbors who was visiting the home of little Dunnick, aged three, said, "Dunnick, I want you to go along home with me, and how long will you stay?" Dunnick put up four fat little fingers, saying, "I will stay these many days and come home on my thumb."—The Delineator for August.

THE BUTTERFLY MARKET.

Once $3,000 was Quoted as the Value of a Rare Specimen.

There are many butterflies whose value to collectors is very great, but although $3,000 has been quoted as the value of a specimen, this is an exaggerated price.

Some years ago the female of a certain variety was much sought after by collectors, and only one or two specimens had been obtained. A clever fellow centred all his efforts upon obtaining a large supply of this particular insect. Unfortunately, he killed his own market by putting them all up for sale at once and instead of realizing a large figure for each specimen he only sold a few.

There are specimens at our own Natural History Museum to-day which are of considerable value, and one which has the largest expanse of wing of any known butterfly was once pointed out by a collector who had obtained it as being worth $1,500. A contrast to this huge insect is a tiny specimen from Ceylon which measures about half an inch across.

The value of an insect varies in proportion to the amount of money spent in getting it, and when some rich collector has had to equip and send out a complete expedition in order to obtain a specimen or two of one particular butterfly, one can understand him pricing such specimens according to the cost of the expedition, and it is in this way that so many fancy values are heard of. Anything up to $150 a pair, however, is not an uncommon price.

Almost Too Much to Believe.

A gunner of the royal marines tells a story, says an English paper, of how a seagull rescued an exhausted linnet from the sea and deposited it on the deck of a warship. We can stand a good deal, but this story should, we think, have been told by its narrator exclusively to his fellow marines.

WIT AND WISDOM

The Wit and Wisdom Club held its final meeting and banquet for the season Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs F. Rosacrans with an attendance of about 45.

A four course dinner was served at 6 o'clock to which all did ample justice, Rev. B. R. Weld as toastmaster took the floor later and called upon Rev. W. B. Hartzog who responded to the toast "Wit and Wisdom in Courtship" (as if it ever existed) in a most brilliant exposition of the theme from his point of view

Mrs. B. Hurry in a very pleasing and ladylike manner responded to the toast "The Suffragist" her remarks being the quite convincing as she viewed the subject.

C A Slayton response to "Wit and Wisdom of Spinsters" abounded in so many points that it might well be called a sharp speech

A lullaby was responded to by Mrs. A. O. Howard in her own happy manner.

Fred Rector as became his state of single blessedness responded to "Wit and Wisdom of Bachelorhood" He handled his subject in such a forceful manner that he almost persuaded himself that bachelorhood was just the best ever.

The program was intersperced with music, Mrs. McAlpine, Miss Marian Rosacrans and Elmer Slayton favoring the company with vocal solos and Prof. McAlpine and Miss Marian with instumental numbers.

The evening was a most delightful one throughout and verified the of saying:

"A little nonsense now and then,
Is relished by the best of Men".

OUR TALANTED MUSICAL YOUNG FRIEND MISS HAZEL ZIMMERMAN MAKING GOOD.

Voice Called A Rare Contralto of Unusual Quality.

The many friends of Hazel Zimmerman will be delighted to hear what the May publication of the "Chicago Musical Leader" says in regard to her voice.

"J. A. Torrens, the well known musical professor and critic, has discovered a voice of unusual quality as well as a future artist of charming personality in Hazel Louise Zimmerman, the young contralto at the Mary Wood Chase School of Musical Art. The Proffessor states Chicago Musical circles may expect a rare treat when the lady, who is a protegee of Miss Chase, makes her debut."

Three weeks ago Miss Zimmerman had a try out of her voice in Chicago, and secured to scholarship in the Mary Chase School of Music and since her arrival there two weeks ago she has had nothing but praise and encouragement in regard to her voice and has sang before many noted professors and before the Redpath Bureau She is working hard to attain a place at the top of the ladder that her friends thought her capable of filling and everyone will rejoice when they read this last criticism from this noted publication.

The voice students of the Mary Wood Chase School of Musical Art will be heard in private recital at the Little Theatre in the Fine Arts Building on Friday evening May 9. Miss Zimmerman the talented controlto of the school will make her debut at that time —Chicago Evening Tribune

"Yes Sir! Studebaker wagons are made to back up a reputation."

"I know, because wagons of every make come into my shop for repairs, and I have a chance to see how few are Studebakers."

That's the opinion of thousands of blacksmiths who know the quality of Studebaker wagons.

The owners never regretted that they bought Studebakers.

Tested materials, accurate workmanship insure a wagon unequaled for durability, and this careful selection of wood, iron, steel, paint and varnish has been a fixed rule with the Studebaker Company for sixty years. That is why a Studebaker wagon runs easiest and lasts longest. It is built on honor.

Whether you live in town or country, there is a Studebaker vehicle to fill your requirements for business or pleasure—and harness of every description made as carefully as are Studebaker vehicles.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorit holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthiest classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

KEEPS THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health it Worth Saving, and Som Tecumseh People Know How to Save It

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

A. H. Forche, 136 E. Maumee St., Adrian, Mich., says "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a valuable remedy for kidney trouble and lame back. I used this preparation for these complaints and received satisfactory results. Since I took Doan's Kidney Pills, my kidneys have been normal and the lameness in my back has disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Every married man ought to live next door to a model husband.

The spring months often find a woman tired out, with pain back, hips and head, nervous and sleepless. Foley Kidney Pills will quickly prove their worth and value as a healer of all kidney and bladder ailments and irregularities. They are a splendid remedy for rheumatism, clearing the uric acid from the joints and system. Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

BEST MEDICINE FOR COLDS

When a druggist recommends a remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he is talking about. C. Lower, Druggists of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright & Son.

This Interest Every Woman

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for for their kidneys and bladder, they they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. They are a tonic in action, quick in results. They will help you. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature' own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes MR. JAMES G. KENT, of 710 L Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

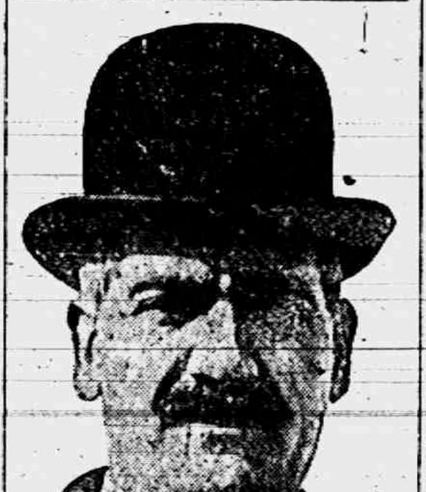
MADE JINGO TALK

Representative Sisson of Mississippi Arouses President's Ire.



Representative THOMAS U. SISSON
PHOTO BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Washington, May 5. — The redhot jingo speech delivered by Representative Thomas Upton Sisson of Mississippi in the house on the California-Japanese situation raised a temporary flurry and incidentally displeased President Wilson. Sisson declared that no alien should be allowed to hold land in this county. "Before we allow any foreign nation to dictate our land holding laws we should fight," said he. "What would Washington say were he confronted with this same proposition?" he asked, referring to the Japanese demand that California hold up its anti-alien land bills. "Shall the Japanese enjoy our prosperity, the fruits of our land and the learning of our institutions and yet not be forced to defend and sustain them?" Sisson is a Democrat, and the president expressed displeasure with such a jingo attitude.

The Doll

He had more tin soldiers than he was able to count, he had a drum and a bat and ball, a fire engine with real bells on it, marbles and a black lamb that made a loud "baa" when he wagged its head. But he didn't have a doll. Ever since he could remember Norman had wanted a doll. From the time when he saw the little girl in the train hugging the baby to her he wanted to have one for his own. He had been with his Aunt Martha at the time, and had asked:

"What is that, 'tisn't a really baby, is it?"

"It's a doll," she had replied, and he had said no more at the time. But later, when the family was all assembled he had remarked with irrelevancy:

"Mother, I wisht I had a doll."

"O, little sissy, little girl boy!" his aunt had returned. "The idea of a boy wanting a doll. They're only for girls." And she had laughed at him. Norman hated to be laughed at worse than he hated anything else except to be called a little sissy, and he said no more about the doll.

But the fact that he said nothing did not prevent his thinking about it. When he went over to the park where the children played he would look wistfully at the little girls with dolls, and wonder why dolls weren't made for boys, too. One day he thought that if he had a doll nobody would need to know, he could go back behind the bushes where there wasn't anybody, and play to his heart's content. But how could he get a doll? He would have to ask for it, and then they would all know.

Norman was out in the front yard, playing store with red sand and pebbles and grass, and a beautiful pair of scales that his father had brought him the night before. He had weighed out and measured innumerable tiny packages of sugar and coffee, tying them up in great leaves from the maple tree under which he was playing. He had delivered so many parcels to his mother in the kitchen that she said she wouldn't need anything more from the store for two weeks. Then he decided to take some rice and some dandelion stems, over to the neighbor's house. She must need something from the store. He crawled through a hole under the hedge and started around to the back porch next door. Half way around he stopped in amazement. There was a strange little girl sitting there, a little girl with tight pigtails and a pretty blue dress. He turned to go back, then he thought that she would be a good one to buy at his store. He hurried on down the walk, and when he was quite near her he hailed:

"Miss'! Want anything from the groceries to-day? Got fine things today, lady!"

The little girl held up her finger warningly, and beckoned him to come closer.

"Sh!" she said in a loud whisper. "The baby's asleep there; you'll wake her up if you talk so loud, and it took me so long to rock her to sleep today; she isn't feeling good."

She pointed with a plump forefinger to a pillow on the chair behind her. Norman approached on tiptoe, went up the steps of the porch, and over to the rocker. There, sound asleep, was the most beautiful doll he had ever imagined. She had tight sunny little curls all over her head, her cheeks were as pink as the lovely ribbon at her throat and she had such a pretty dimple in her chin. Norman drew in his breath sharply with delight. That was a doll! He turned to the little girl and asked in a low voice, so as not to disturb the sleeper, "Where doesn't she feel good?"

"I don't know, 'xactly," returned the dollie's mother. "But she didn't want to go to sleep a bit, and I had to walk up and down, and rock her and every time I thought she was asleep and went to put her to bed, she cried."

"Poor doll!" commented Norman softly.

"Oh, you mustn't say doll! She's a baby, and her name's Ruth. My name's Bessie. What is your name?"

"My name is Norman Gray. I live over there; where do you live? I never saw you before."

"I live in the city. I just came here to see my Aunt Beatrice. Do you—Oh! I've been talking too loud, and I've waked up the baby." Bessie leaned over and picked up the doll, carried it to her breast and began to croon gently, "Hushaby, Baby, Hushaby, Baby!" The doll's eyes closed again, and Norman thought she was asleep.

"Let's play house," he suggested. "You can be mother and I'll be father, and we can both take care of the baby." Norman longed to lay his hands upon the doll, but somehow he didn't like to ask. He was afraid that Bessie would think he was a sissy boy. The doll seemed to snuggle right into Bessie's neck; and Norman suddenly felt lonesome. It was almost as though he was jealous of Bessie.

"Yes," the little girl answered his question, "I like to play house. Where will we play?"

"Let's go over on that porch. Nobody lives there, and we can have our house all to ourselves." Norman pointed to a new house across the street.

"You stay here and mind the baby," ordered Bessie, "and I'll go in and get her clothes. She's only got her nightgown on now, and she might get cold if we took her over that way. I couldn't bring her carriage with me, so I'll have to carry her."

It was on the tip of Norman's tongue to say: "Oh, let me carry her for you," but Bessie didn't give him a chance, for, with a final warning not to make any noise or to touch the baby, she disappeared in the doorway.

The boy stood absolutely still watching the doll after she had gone. It was the first time he had ever been so close to a doll, and they were infinitely lovelier close at hand than from a distance. He put out his hand, the temptation to touch the velvety cheeks was too strong. Then he stopped. Suppose she should wake up and began to cry. Bessie would know that he had disobeyed, and she might not be willing to play with him after that. He deliberately turned his back on Ruth; it was easier not to touch it if he did not see the doll lying, so wonderful, before him. When Bessie came out she carried a whole armful of clothes, which she transferred to Norman.

Then she returned and a moment later brought out a miniature blanket, which she hollowed in the curve of her arms. Into the hollow went the baby, and Bessie tucked the edges of the cover well around her. At the last moment Norman remembered his express wagon; it would be fine to carry the clothes in that, and afterward it would make a good bed for the baby. He ran home and soon came back with it. Then the little family went to take up its quarters on the piazza across the street.

A pile of boards in the corner made a good dining room table, the express wagon by the steps was the bedroom, and under it Bessie carefully folded the baby's wardrobe. "It's night time now," Norman said, "and we've all got to sleep while the baby does. That step is your bed, and this is mine." He stretched himself out on the bottom step, and Bessie lay down on the step next to the top, where the baby's bed stood. She pushed the wagon back and forth a few times, explaining that the baby always had to have the cradle rocked before she would sleep. Then the whole family slept. It was only a moment that Norman was quiet. After that he opened first one eye and then the other, yawned mightily and sat up. "My goodness! It's morning!" he exclaimed. "Mother! Get up! It's time for breakfast."

Bessie sat up, and rubbed her eyes. "So it is!" she cried. "It must be 5 o'clock."

"It's time to dress the baby, isn't it?" asked Norman. Bessie nodded her head. "I'll do it now," she said. She lifted the doll from her bed, the doll's eyes opened wide, and for the first time Norman saw that they were a deep, pure blue. That was just the right color for eyes to be. The nightgown came off, and Norman had a fleeting glimpse of a plump, pink body before Bessie had slipped some dainty white clothes over the curly head.

Norman thought that nothing was ever so lovely as the doll when she was all dressed. She had tiny red shoes and socks, a white dress with red bows on the shoulders and a red sash. Bessie tied a mite of a red bow on the side of her head, and, as a finishing touch, she printed a sounding kiss on the doll's chubby face. Norman had stood watching in silence. Now he spoke.

"What are we going to have for breakfast, mother?" he asked.

"Eggs," replied Bessie, of course, and coffee and bread. But I have to make the beds before I make the breakfast. Papa, will you hold the baby and I'll make them now."

Would he hold the baby! Would he! He held out his arms in silence. He was too happy to speak. "You can take her for a little walk, and be careful not to let her fall, she might be killed," warned the little mother. She snuggled the baby under her chin for a moment, kissed her, and held her out to Norman.

The doll rested awkwardly in his unaccustomed arms. "She doesn't know me yet," he apologized to Bessie, as he walked down the path. He held the doll pressed tight against him. Somehow she didn't fit the way she did into Bessie's neck. He lifted her a trifle higher, so that the doll's cheek rested against his own. It wasn't warm and responsive as he had expected to find it—it was only cold and stiff. She didn't cuddle at all.

The tighter he held her the more uncomfortable it was. Something was wrong. He looked into the doll's eyes and smiled reassuringly, but there was no friendly glance in reply. Suddenly he wished that Bessie would come and take her. It was so much nicer to watch Bessie love the baby than to love her himself. He turned back to the house and walked very quickly, he who had strolled so slowly away a few minutes before. It seemed to him that he had gone a great distance. He stumbled up the steps. Bessie had just finished making up the cradle, and was looking down at him.

He held forth the doll very gently, but very decisively. "Take the baby, mother, and kiss her," he said. "Babies like it better to be with their mothers. And it looks nicer, too. I'll go to market and buy the breakfast, and you can stay and mind her." Bessie took the doll and brought it up to her breast. She belonged there, she curled up softly, and Bessie leaned over and kissed her again. Norman watched her with a feeling different from any he had ever had before. Dolls were bautiful and lovely—when little girls had them. But they weren't even nice when you had one yourself. He was growing up to be a man. "I'll go and get the breakfast," he repeated; "maybe mother will give me some cookies. I'll ask her."

Norman went down the steps and across the street to procure some breakfast for Bessie and the baby.—Dorothy Biddle.

EXPERIMENT IN DYNAMICS.

Odd Movements of a Spool of Thread and Pencil.

A half-unrolled spool of thread is placed on a table and the thread

pulled horizontally from the under side of it, the spool, contrary to general expectation, will roll towards the hand. In connection with this it is interesting to note that if the cylinder is larger in diameter at the point around which the thread is wound than it is at the points on which it rolls, it will roll away from the hand when the thread is pulled. This experiment can be tried by passing a pencil through a spool and resting the ends of it on two books as in the illustration. Also, if the thread be drawn from the under side of a full spool resting on a flat surface the spool will not move in either direction.

PASS ANTIJAP BILL

Lawmakers Will Not Incline to the Wishes of Wilson.

BRYAN'S EFFORTS ARE FUTILE

Immediately After the Secretary of State Leaves the California Senate Chamber the Anti-Alien Land Bill Is Adopted—Final Passage Will Be Bitterly Contested.

California's senate passed the anti-Jap land bill in an amended form despite the objections of President Wilson, as voiced through his emissary, Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan.

Immediately after Bryan left the senate chamber, after a night executive session lasting several hours, Senator A. E. Boynton, president pro tem., convened the senate.

Within three minutes a land bill which provides that no alien who is ineligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States may hold real estate property in California was adopted as a substitute for the pending measure by a unanimous vote.

Wilson Not Satisfied.

Significance is seen in the fact that immediately preceding the passage of the bill Secretary Bryan had informed the legislators that President Wilson was not satisfied with it.

Its adoption in the face of the White House objection indicates the total failure of Bryan's attempt to bend the Californians to the will of the Washington government, according to those in touch with the situation.

It will come up for final passage in the regular course of business tomorrow morning and undoubtedly will be approved, according to the prediction of administration leaders. When it comes to Governor Johnson it will be signed.

Will Fight the Bill.

In spite of the apparent overwhelming majority in favor of the legislation, Senator Leroy Wright, Republican, is planning to fight the measure when it comes to a vote on the floor. He had a long conference with Secretary Bryan at midnight.

The new bill is drawn in strict conformity with the treaty between Japan and the United States, but all efforts to secure an opinion from Secretary Bryan or President Wilson had failed and the state leaders decided forthwith to proceed with their plans for enacting it into law.

Secretary Bryan brought into the final conference further messages from President Wilson, but they met with no response from the legislators. At the close of the secret meeting Governor Johnson and a number of administration leaders declared their opinions remained unchanged.

TO PROTECT ALFONSO

Precautions Against Repetition of Attack in Paris

At Paris, France, great precautions are being taken to protect King Alfonso from outrages by anarchists during his visit there.

The authorities are determined that there will be no repetition of the attempted attack on him in 1905, when he was driving home from a gala performance at the opera to the Quai d'Orsay. Every railroad station from Hendaye on the frontier to Paris will be occupied by the military. Troops will also be stationed at every tunnel and bridge. Employes of the railroad company will be stationed 500 yards apart all the way from the frontier to Paris.

The program carefully avoids the necessity of driving through the streets of Paris by day during the visit.

PULITZER DENIED WARRANT

Charge of Criminal Libel Against Gaynor Not Sustained.

Magistrate Frederick Gernochan in New York city has announced that he has refused to grant a warrant for Mayor Gaynor on a charge of criminal libel brought against the mayor by Ralph Pulitzer, son of the late Joseph Pulitzer, owner of the New York World. Magistrate Kernochan based his refusal on the contention that it had not been proved to him that Mayor Gaynor had caused or procured the publication of the alleged libel, which, it was alleged, exposed the memory of the late Joseph Pulitzer to contempt and obloquy.

The application for the warrant was based upon a speech made by the mayor on Feb. 4 at a banquet given by the South Brooklyn Board of Trade

MICHIGAN COUNTY SWEPT BY FLAMES

Timber Company's Entire Holdings Wiped Out.

Escanaba, Mich., May 6. — Fanned into fury by high winds and with the grass as dry as tinder, fires of great magnitude have ranged almost in every part of Delta county and portions of the surrounding country.

Although but meager reports can be received in this city the loss is said to be so great that it will be impossible to estimate it, at least for several days.

Hundreds of men were in the fire district fighting the mighty blaze, but with little result.

One of the heaviest losers at present is said to be the Beaver Timber company, of this city, whose entire holdings have been wiped out, and over 150 carloads of posts and ties have been destroyed.

Thousands of feet of lumber piled on the landings for loading upon the cars have been consumed by the fires. With the flames leaping a hundred feet into the air I. Stephens camp No. 4 was almost completely wiped out, large tracts of the finest land being swept over and a great amount of cut timber being entirely destroyed.

WAS IT MURDER?

Body of Slain Woman Has Been Identified.

The body of the woman found beneath the Grosse Pointe bridge at Detroit has been identified as Belle Barry, aged 24 years, formerly of Mason and Belding, Mich., and the county physician declared positively that she was dead when placed in the water.

The identification when it occurred proved to be more nominal than real, and although the officials are now in possession of the victim's name and a few facts regarding her, they still lack the essential points which might lead to clearing up the mystery. Assured by Dr. E. L. Brandt, who performed the postmortem, that death was not due to drowning, the authorities were forced to theorize on the death agency.

Was Telephone Operator.

Miss Barry was until Feb. 16 employed as an operator for the Michigan State Telephone Co. She had been in the company's employ about a month. The authorities investigating her death are unable to say when she came to this city from Belding, Mich., where she was forelady in a silk factory. She had not been employed anywhere, as far as known, since leaving the telephone company, until last Thursday when she entered the employ of Chas. R. Wardell, 79 Lincoln avenue, Detroit, as a domestic. She left the Wardell home Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, and that was the last seen of her by the Wardell family until her body was identified by Mr. and Mrs. Wardell at the morgue Tuesday night. Miss Barry's parents live on a farm six miles from Mason, Mich.

In Water Three Hours.

"The body could not have been in the water for more than three hours, and more likely was there only about an hour," said Dr. Brandt. "Death unquestionably occurred within the past 36 or 48 hours, but I cannot venture a theory on the exact cause."

The identification of the woman was made complete by E. Fish, Harrison avenue, Detroit, who said that the girl had lived there for two or three months since leaving the Michigan State Telephone Co.

Crime Elsewhere Hinted.

With information in their possession Wednesday, the officials believed that the woman was slain and her body placed in the creek late Monday afternoon. Some were inclined to the belief that the crime was committed somewhere in the vicinity, while others firmly believed that the girl was poisoned and then taken in an automobile to the creek, the body being thrown over the bridge railing.

No Clues from Belding.

Efforts were made to learn from Belding any clues which would aid in solving the mystery. A locket containing a child's picture and engraved with the initials "A. L." were relied on by the officers, who also sought information regarding a bill-folder from the People's Savings Bank, of Belding. Persons communicated with in Belding, however, could throw no light on the affair.

NICHOLAS YIELDS

Finally Bows to the Will of the European Powers.

ENDS A THREATENING CRISIS

Decision to Give Up the City Which Cost the Lives of So Many of His People Reached by the King After a Council With All His Generals—Proposed Compensation.

King Nicholas of Montenegro decided after a council with his generals to evacuate the fortress of Scutari in response to the demand of the European powers.

When he took possession of Scutari April 23, after a six months' siege, which cost the lives of thousands of Montenegrins and Turks, King Nicolas declared that he would hold the city until the last drop of Montenegrin blood had been spilled.

Crisis Was Brought About.

As the European powers had decided previously that Scutari was to form part of the future autonomous state of Albania, a crisis was brought about and the powers immediately brought strong pressure to bear to force him and his troops to evacuate the place.

Meanwhile Austria took energetic steps to enforce the powers' decision and concentrated large bodies of troops in Bosnia, Herzegovina and Dalmatia. The powers in the interim established a blockade of the Montenegrin coast.

Ruler Stood Firm Until Now.

All these demonstrations, however, seemed not to affect the determination of the king. Some of the Montenegrin troops were withdrawn from Scutari in order, it was said, to resist possible Austrian advance.

Then word came that Austria and Italy had entered an agreement to solve the Albanian problem by a military expedition and it was known that the Austrian army was preparing to march forward.

Compensation for Nicholas.

It was suggested during the negotiations that the king of Montenegro would receive territorial compensation in another direction if he would give up Scutari and that his majesty was preparing to accept this offer.

JACK JOHNSON ON TRIAL

At Chicago "Jack" Johnson, the negro pugilist, was placed on trial before Federal Judge Carpenter on charges of violating the Mann act against trafficking in women

Should Johnson be convicted and be given the maximum penalty on the eighty counts in the nine indictments against him he would be sentenced to serve forty-five years in prison and pay fines aggregating $90,000.

It is understood that Federal Judge Carpenter will deny admission to the trial to any persons except those actually interested in the case.

This action, it is said, will be taken to prevent giving the trial undue publicity.

Lucile Cameron Johnson, the black fighter's latest white wife, was not in court, and it is said she will not appear unless she is called to testify.

School Teachers Get Increase.

Marquette, Mich., May 6.—After having had the matter of the salaries of the grade school teachers under consideration for two weeks, the Marquette board of education has granted a horizontal increase of $5 a month and has fixed $75 a month as the maximum. The former maximum was $65.

MUST HEAT POTATO CARS IN THE WINTER

Interstate Commerce Commission Issues Order.

Potato shipments during the winter will be made in heated cars and railroads will be required to furnish a sufficient number of cars to handle the crop as the result of a decision handed down by the interstate commerce commission.

Heavy losses have resulted to shippers through inadequately protected potato shipments and through the refusal of the railroads to undertake the risk of shipping during cold weather, according to complaints made to the commission.

The commission held that the potato traffic is a permanent feature of transportation and as such the carriers are obliged to make adequate provision for it and assume all responsibility regardless of weather conditions.

DR. ABBOTT FIRED

At St. Louis, Mo., Dr. Lyman Abbott of New York was removed from the list of vice presidents of the American Peace society because he signed the appeal of the Navy league for large naval appropriations.

Objection to the name of Dr. Abbott was made by Charles E. Beals of Chicago, secretary of the Chicago Peace society.

As a result of his protests, five additional vice presidents were elected—Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago, Hiram Hadley of New Mexico, Edmund Stanley of Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. Frederick Schoff of Philadelphia.

The principal officers are Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, president; Benjamin F. Trueblood of Washington, D. C., secretary; Arthur D. Call, Washington, D. C., executive director, and George W. White, Washington, treasurer.

THIRTY DAYS FOR GOMPERS

Court Hands Down Decision in Contempt Case of Labor Men.

At Washington the contempt of court judgments upon Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, president, vice president and secretary, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor, were sustained by the court of appeals for the District of Columbia. The court revised the former sentences, giving Gompers thirty days' imprisonment and fining Mitchell and Morrison $500 each with no jail term.

The chief justice of the court, dissenting, held that the entire judgment should be reversed. The lower court gave Gompers one year, Mitchell nine months and Morrison six months without option of fine. All were convicted of violating a court injunction in the noted Bucks Stove and Range case.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If you can't get behind a movement for the town's good, at least don't get in front of it.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and badder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." His name is J. A. Farmer. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The queen of May may have to wear her heavies this year. This is no weather prediction, however.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of a grave nature. Croup may come on suddenly, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deepseated cough, and heals inflamed membrances. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Well, April gave us some beautiful weather, even if some people were fooled in taking 'em off to soon.

CONSTIPATION CURED

Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve constipation promptly and get your bowels in heathy condition again. John Supsic, of Sanbury, Pa., says: "They are the best pills I ever used, and I advise everyone to use them for constipation, indigestion and liver compaint." Will help you. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

May will bring the alluring apple blossoms. Even the Ben Davis blossoms are sweet and fragrant.

FOR THE WEAK AND NERVOUS

Tired-out, weak, nervous men and women would feel ambitious, energetic, full of life and always have a good appetite, if they would do the sensible thing for health—take Electric Bitters. Nothing better for the stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands say they owe their lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs. O. Rhinevault, of Vestal Center, N. Y., says: "I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest of gifts. I can never forget what it has done for me." Get a bottle yourself and see what a difference it will make in your health. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommend by C. A. Wright & Son.

One never hears a small boy saying that he is going to be a soap manufacturer when he gets big.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly over-shadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. The plant of the Saginaw Wood Products Co. was practically destroyed by fire Saturday, entailing a loss of over $100,000.

The McDonald-Young contest for the twelfth Michigan seat in congress will come up for hearing the latter part of this week.

The pupils of the Harrisville schools, under the leadership of the Boy Scouts, planted 1,000 trees Friday, which had been contributed by the state forestry department.

Nearly $30,000 was collected at Grand Rapids Sunday for a Y. M. C. A. building in the opening of the campaign for $250,000. William H. Gay was the largest contributor, giving $10,000.

Frank Everett, 31, was caught and wound around the main shaft at Peninsular Paper Co.'s mill, Ypsilanti, and instantly killed Saturday morning. He leaves a widow and two children.

The state highway department at Lansing is in receipt of many applications for authority to build portions of the proposed trunk line highways, in accordance with a recent act of the legislature.

Seven persons, all officers and employes of the Olds Motor company, Lansing, were injured near Howell, Sunday, when a new car in which the men were making an endurance and speed test turned turtle.

During April the state game and fish warden's department investigated 226 complaints, as compared with 123 in April, 1912. There were 169 convictions, and the fines and costs amounted to $2,392.

Six members of the family of Herman Johnson of Union City are ill with diphtheria as the result of drinking water from an abandoned well which examination showed to be full of slime and reptiles.

The city council of Grand Ledge has voted to give the Knights of Pythias of the town the use of the streets on July 3 and 4 for a street fair and carnival and preparations are now under way for a big celebration.

Although rumors of a general strike of mine workers in the copper country have been prevalent for some time, there has been no movement in that direction. The date set for the strike was May 1, but no trouble materialized.

Lorenzo T. Durand, veteran member of the Saginaw county bar, member of the state board of law examiners, and one time democratic candidate for governor, is suffering from a broken arm. He was run into and knocked down by a motorcyclist.

The Smith-Bricker bill has been signed by Gov. Ferris. This bill eliminates the local tax on autos and provides a tax of 50 cents per horsepower, the money obtained therefrom to be used in the construction of state roads.

Deputy Sheriff Houghton of Durand has an automobile for which he is seeking an owner. The auto was found in the road near the city Thursday night. The machine was badly damaged, evidently having been used by joy riders.

Ralph Youmans, a machine helper at the Ann Arbor railroad shops at Owosso, 22 years old, has become insane. Three weeks ago the handle of his own hammer glanced and struck him a slight blow on the eyeball. Physicians say the shock to the optic nerve has unbalanced his mind.

The Muskegon Y. W. C. A. has purchased the Rathbun residence near the center of the city for $7,500 and plans to improve the property in such a way that it will be one of the most imposing homes of similar organizations in the entire state. The property, when improved, will be worth over $10,000.

State Game and Forest Warden Oates has renewed the warning against forest fires sent out to all game and fire wardens in the state. He urges all sportsmen to exercise the greatest vigilance while in the woods, as the dry condition of the moss and underbrush in the northern forests makes the situation highly dangerous.

After a search, which lasted for hours, the bodies of Harry Adams and Clarence Hornung, who were burned to death in the fire which destroyed the plant of the Michigan Condensed Milk company at Howell early Friday morning, were discovered Saturday. But little more than a handful of ashes remained, but Adams was identified by buttons, and a scrap of cloth from the corduroy trousers which he wore.

The state insurance department succeeded in getting through more bills during the recent session than any other state department as shown by tabulations now being made by the various departments. A total of 70 bills relating to insurance were introduced, 39 in the senate and 31 in the house. Of these measures 13 of the senate and 19 in the house passed and will undoubtedly become law as Gov. Ferris has not vetoed any of them.

Because his sweetheart, Miss Ethel Roth, refused to accept the gift of a pair of fine shoes which he had bought for her, Phil Pennock, 19 years of age, blew his head off with a shot gun. The girl objected to the gift because she thought the shoes were too expensive. She wishes to exchange them for a cheaper pair, but Pennock would not hear of it. He insisted, and a quarrel arose. The young people live near the village of Pennock and were highly respected.

Does the child of an alien father who does not become a citizen have to apply for citizenship papers just the same as any alien who has come to this country?

Children born in this country of alien parents and children born abroad of naturalized citizens are American citizens upon coming of age in this country.

Where is the dividing line between the north and the south—the Mason and Dixon line?

The Mason and Dixon line, which forms the southern boundary of Pennsylvania and Delaware, is usually given as the dividing line between the north and south east of the Alleghenies. West of the mountains the Ohio river was taken to mark the boundary line between the two sections, but west of the Mississippi there was a dispute. Missouri was claimed by both sections, but is now generally considered a southern state, while Kansas, directly west, has always been enumerated with the northern states. During the civil war Missouri was prevented from joining the Confederacy, although she furnished many soldiers for the south and was full of sympathizers with the southern cause.

Who is the commander in chief of the American army?

The constitution of the United States designates the president as commander in chief of the army and navy and of the militia when called into the service of the United States.

What is the Ivory Coast?

A French West African colony, covering 125,500 square miles, with a population of 1,127,170.

Why will a piece of black paper catch fire under a burning glass more quickly than a piece of white paper?

Because white paper reflects the heat of the sun's rays, while dark paper absorbs the sun's heat and thus burns more readily.

Cruel Form of Punishment.

A species of punishment, reminiscent of barbarism, was meted out a few days ago to a seven-year-old boy of Kiyosu, Japan, by the child's father. The little lad committed some trivial act of disobedience, and the father punished him by burying him for forty-eight hours in a hole in the ground, leaving only his head above the surface.

What is the area and population of Japan?

147,655 square miles. 51,591,361.

Kindly inform me where the quotation "Too full for utterance" can be found.

This is one of the common locutions of speech which have either been ignored by or have escaped the attention of Bartlett and other collectors of such information.

Were the inaugural invitations made out in the name of "Thomas Woodrow Wilson? If so, is that the president's correct name?

A firm of Philadelphia stationers printed the invitations "Thomas Woodrow Wilson," but when Mr. Wilson made it known that he refused to adopt his baptismal name, which he dropped some years ago, even to save the firm the cost of reprinting the invitations, they were reprinted "Woodrow Wilson."

What is the method by which the amortization of a bond or debt is derived?

Amortization amounts to no more than an installment loan. The term of the debt having been determined by mutual agreement and the number of payment periods, which may be annual, in larger business concerns semiannual, and particularly in suburban real estate traffic, monthly. The amount of each payment is readily determinable by the common arithmetical rule of partial payments. The basic principle is that the sum of all the payments shall produce at the end of the term such amount as the creditor would receive by a lump payment at term with accrued interest. The advantage to the debtor is that his installments are readily within his means and that with each payment he is decreasing the burden of interest charges.

In what states are cousins permitted to marry?

Marriage between first cousins is forbidden only in Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming. In some of these states such a marriage already entered upon is pronounced void.

Can you give the origin of the word "pinochle?"

It has been and still is spelled in many forms—binochle, pinochle, pinuchle, penucle, penuchle, peenuckle and pinuckle. All are found in works on card games. The word is probably derived from the French word "binage," the word at one time applied to the combination now known as "pinochle."

What is the population of Lancashire England?

About 5,000,000.

Did Great Britain first recognize the several colonies as separate and individual states?

The British recognition of American independence recognized the states as distinct and separate, but this preceded by some years the constitution, wherein by the states' general consent they became federated.

Tell me the origin and exact words of an old quotation which runs something like this: A broken (or cracked) pitcher goes oftenest to the well?

"The pitcher goes so often to the water that it is broken at last" is one form of the proverb of which you are probably thinking. In 1340 Michael of Northgate in his translation of French proverbs had it, "So long cometh the pot to the water that it cometh to home broke." In the early thirteenth century Gaultier de Celnci quoted it in French of that day. Cervantes used the proverb in "Don Quixote." The Danish have the proverb, "The goose goes so often to the kitchen that at last she is fastened to the spit."

Poetry and Music.

If I had to live my life again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once every week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept active through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature.—Charles Darwin.

Plants That Resemble Stones.

In South Africa there is found a plant of the genus Mesemgryanthemum, growing on stony ground, which so closely resembles a pebble that it is invariably taken by the strange for a stone.

Regulations.

On remarking some time ago that students cannot be driven anywhere by regulations, I was contradicted by the dean of another institution who insisted that by regulations they can be driven to the devil. I accepted the amendment.—President Lowell, in Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

Word for the Dog.

"Society women criticised for fondling dogs," said a newspaper headline, and the New York World comments: "It is not just to criticise a woman for enjoying the society of her dog until you have seen her husband."

PASSED AWAY

Mrs. George N. Stacy, Editor and Proprietor of THE TECUMSEH HERALD since the death of her husband George N. Stacy which occurred December 1907, passed away Thursday May 8 at noon, after an illness of less than a week.

She had been in failing health for several months and was operated upon for the removal of a tumor Sunday morning May 4. Her condition was quite favorable until 9 o'clock a. m. when a change came for the worst and despite all that the physicians or friends could do, sank peacefully to rest.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Stacy home.

EDWARD FRENSDORF TALKS WITH PESIDENT WILSON

Edward Frensdorf head of the Michigan Wilson League has been in Washington and in company with assistant Secretary of State Dudley Field Malone met President Wilson. This conference was the first the President has had with the Michigan leader. President Wilson had many questions to ask about Michigan and talked at some length on the wool schedule. As Mr. Frensdorf is a large wool buyer, he had some decided opinions to advance on the tariff on wool.

FOR BASEBALL

The people of Adrian are evidently enthusiastic where baseball is concerned as see this proclamation issued by the Mayor of the city.

To the People of Adrian:

Thursday, May 8, is hereby declared to be a holiday. Let all stores, factories and places of business, private or public be closed from 12 to 6 p m. Let the people take themselves to Franklin park, there to witness the inauguration of the base ball season.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

KEEPS THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health it Worth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

A. H. Forche, 136 E. Maumee St., Adrian, Mich., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a valuable remedy for kidney trouble and lame back. I used this preparation for these complaints and received satisfactory results. Since I took Doan's Kidney Pills, my kidneys have been normal and the lameness in my back has disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Every married man ought to live next door to a model husband.

The spring months often find a woman tired out, with pain back, hips and head, nervous and sleepless. Foley Kidney Pills will quickly prove their worth and value as a healer of all kidney and bladder ailments and irregularities. They are a splendid remedy for rheumatism, clearing the uric acid from the joints and system. Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The village band makes sweet music, but it isn't in it with the village carpenter.

BEST MEDICINE FOR COLDS

When a druggist recommends a remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he is talking about. C. Lower, Druggists of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright & Son.

This Interest Every Woman

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for for their kidneys and bladder, they they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. They are a tonic in action, quick in results. They will help you. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Do Not Be a Martyr.

Don't be a martyr. Bear the ills you cannot help with what fortitude you can muster. Fight the ills that may be vanquished; summon philosophy and religion to your aid if ever you are assailed by the temptation to be melancholy; remember that "the darkest day lived till tomorrow will have passed away"

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature' own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory or the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, lungs, and body," writes MR. JAMES G. KENT, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

Hattie Adelia Frost was born in Sherwood, Branch county, Michigan, October 14, 1857. She was converted and joined the Methodist church in Macon in early womanhood February 28, 1878, she was united in marriage to Wm. Pratt of Deerfield. Although very ill for two weeks the final summons came so suddenly as to shock everyone and wednesday afternoon, April 30, 1913, her spirit returned to Him who gave it. Of an affectionate, cheerful disposition, always seeing the bright side, she will be greatly missed. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. C. O Biddle, one sister and three brothers.

CARD OF THANKS

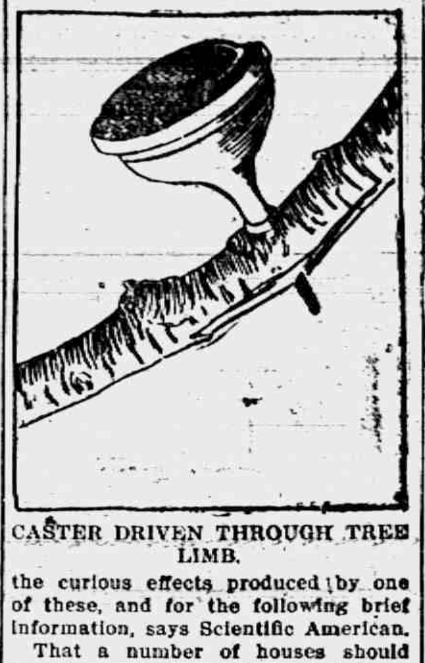
A CYCLONE FREAK.

Surprising Trick Played by a Twister in Nebraska.

New York City.—On June 4 last the inhabitants of Buffalo county, Nebraska, and particularly of the town of Kearney, were besieged by no less than seven tornadoes. We are indebted to Edward C. Bricker for the accompanying photograph of one of the curious effects produced by one of these, and for the following brief information, says Scientific American.



CASTER DRIVEN THROUGH TREE LIMB.

That a number of houses should have been wholly and in part destroyed is naturally to be expected of any cyclone that is at all violent. But that it should pick up a caster from a table, twist off the handle and drive the spindle through the branch of a walnut tree is surely no common occurrence. Mr. Bricker assures us that before the storm the caster found a place on the table of Mr. G. F. Franks, that it was intact with the bottles in their intended positions; yet after the tornado the base was found in a walnut tree limb, exactly as it is shown in the accompanying photograph. The wind had unscrewed the top and taken off the turntable. One of the bottles was found with twigs densely packed into its neck, without a leaf stripped. The bottle, however, was broken.

The Monkeys' Revenge.

A lady in India, residing during the hot season among the lower hills of the Himalayas, had a little terrier, says a writer in "Answers." "Fury," as he was called, disliked the whole monkey race, and as there were hundreds of them in the trees surrounding the house, he had many opportunities for exhibiting his antipathy.

The monkeys made no distinction between the house of an English lady and the cottage of a Hindu. They insisted upon sitting upon the balconies, and Fury resented their intrusion by barking and frightening them away.

The monkeys resented Fury's officiousness in due time, in a way which illustrates their revengeful cunning.

One day little Fury was walking in front of his mistress. As they were passing through a dark thicket of rhododendrons, she saw a skinny arm dart out from amid the blossoms, seize the terrier and both disappear.

She rushed to his rescue, but the monkey bore off the dog, yelping and howling, to the top of a high tree. The mistress stood helpless while her pet was passed from monkey to monkey, that each might pinch the hated dog, and pull out his hair. When they had tired of this sort of avenging themselves, one monkey took the dog out to the extreme end of a branch and dropped him over a precipitous cliff.

Hon. O. Lulu.

While in Washington a prominent citizen of Honolulu purchased a trunk. The dealer was requested to have painted on one end the purchaser's initials and adress, from a card as follows: "X. Y. Z. "Honolulu." The following cognomen inscribed in bold characters, "Hon. O. LULU" appeared on the trunk.

ALFALFA TRAIN'S FIRST WEEK

Attendance at Meetings Reaches 10,000—Experts to Be Banquetted.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 5.—The first week's dash of the alfalfa automobile train has ended.

A summary of the week's tour shows that the alfalfa crew traveled close to 300 miles, thirty-two stops were made, seventy-five alfalfa lectures were delivered, 10,000 persons attended the meetings, 500 farmers have promised to grow alfalfa and 5,000 acres will be seeded in alfalfa in Kent county during the next year.

The alfalfa experts will be banqueted at Allegan Monday evening preparatory to putting the campaign on in Allegan county.

The itinerary of the Allegen county tour, beginning May 6, is as follows: Allegan, Arehart farm, Otsego, Plainwell, Martin, Shelbyville, Bradley, Wayland, Moline, Dorr, Hillards and Hopkins.

CORNELL BEATS MICHIGAN

Wolverine Athletes Secure Only Two Firsts in Track Meet.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 5.—Cornell defeated Michigan in a dual track meet, the westerners landing only two firsts. The score was 55 to 32.

Sargent's 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump, and Kohler's victory in the hammer throw were Michigan's only consolation.

To admire, to love, to regret, is to live, said a great writer. Do not let the regret be brought on by a cough or cold, which if treated when it first appeared would have easily been controlled. Allen's Cough Balsam brings welcomed relief in such cases. Contains no harmful ingredients, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 bottles at all dealers.

Poor Elizabeth

"Poor Elizabeth will be down in a few moments," said Mrs. Tadpole, when Mary Zeal politely inquired after the guest.

"Why 'poor' Elizabeth?" asked Mary.

"Oh, she's just had another of her wretched summer vacations," sighed the hostess. "She's quite broken up about it. We used to think it was funny—but it's really getting to be a serious matter. Here she comes now!"

An extremely pretty girl entered and was introduced as "My husband's sister, Miss Tadpole."

"You haven't told Miss Zeal about me yet, have you?" asked Elizabeth.

Mrs. Tadpole shook her head.

"Miss Zeal, what would you take me to be?" asked Elizabeth abruptly "Do I look any different from any other girl?"

"Why, no," said Mary. Except that you are much more attractive in that hobble skirt than the average."

"And to think even a whole trunk full of hobbles never helped counteract the fact that I am a——" Elizabeth stopped. "Oh, I dread to say it!"

"Nonsense, Elizabeth," said Mrs. Tadpole. "Mary will have to know it some time and you may as well tell her all about it now."

"Well," sighed Elizabeth, "I've had a very peculiar experience. I am a school teacher. Every winter I work hard and always plan to have a nice, jolly summer. I go to all sorts of places, and I always have lots of pretty clothes. I'm always ready for amusement. What happens? It gets out that I am a school teacher. The effect? People immediately begin to mind their P's and Q's. Their grammar becomes painful in its accuracy. Of course, by 'people' I mean men. Women aren't afraid of school teachers, as a rule. But the average man is merely a grown-up boy—and boys don't like school teachers. They are afraid of making breaks and being laughed at. They think I'm critical. They act as if I were going to order them to bound the State of Mississippi or ask them 'if A had two cows and B had twice as many more and if C had three times the number of cows that——'"

"Oh, Bess, you exaggerate!" interrupted Mrs. Tadpole. "I'm sure it's all your imagination! I've known thousands of school teachers who have married——"

"I'm not eager to marry," snapped Elizabeth. "All I ask is to be treated like a human being. I don't say my case is typical of the entire race of school teachers. But everywhere I go it's always the same. This summer capped the climax. I was going camping in the Adirondacks with a party of friends. I swore to secrecy the two girls from home and the chaperon; the others were not to know my vocation.

"Well, the rest of the crowd were to come through on the 2 o'clock train in the morning and change cars. The two girls, our chaperon and myself were to join them, and, as father was out of town, we arranged with a new policeman on our beat to take us down to the station. So far as I knew, that policeman had never laid eyes on me before. The crowd tumbled off of the train, and I was introduced to everybody and everybody's brothers. Such brothers! They all looked at me as if they weren't sorry I was going along and we were getting on famously when the kind, well meaning policeman beamed on me and said: 'Well, I can leave you now, Miss Tadpole. I guess you can take care of yourself anywhere—such a clever young lady. You taught my Willie five years ago and he says you was the smartest teacher he ever had. I hope you have a good rest!'"

"That's about all she did have—a 'good rest,'" added Mrs. Tadpole. "And now we have persuaded her to spend the winter with us. Mary Zeal, how shall we keep the truth from our circle of friends? It always does creep out!"

"Always!" groaned Elizabeth.

"Here's an idea——" began Mary Zeal, putting down her teacup.

As Mary Zeal surveyed the group of men collected around her she appreciated Mrs. Tadpole's reproachful glance. But she couldn't chase them away like so many chickens. In a distant corner of the room the stunning Miss Tadpole chatted with some married women.

"Isn't it a pity Miss Tadpole's people are so opposed to her going on the stage?" asked Mary suddenly.

"The stage!" gasped her satellites

"Why not!" insisted Mary. "She certainly has the personality to make a success."

"Why, I heard she was a school teacher!" announced Hathaway. The others nodded.

"How ridiculous!" laughed Mary. "Isn't it funny the rumors that get around? It would certainly amuse Miss Tadpole to hear she was accused of being intellectual."

The five men regarded Miss Tadpole with a new interest. "What's her line—comedy or tragedy?" asked Williams, who knew a press agent.

"Oh, she's modest. Expects to start in the chorus, I believe," replied Mary.

"Funny that I got the idea she taught school," laughed Davis "When I talked with her I got awfully fussy with my grammar, afraid she'd be pained if I made a slip—one gets so careless."

"I suppose her precise way of speaking is part of her training for the stage," said Williams. "I'll have to say a good word for her——"

"If Tadpole is opposed to her going on as won't thank you," said Hathaway. "She's probably just stagestruck and some one ought to talk her out of it."

"She may have great talent, for all you know," reminded Mary Zeal.

"Probably recites 'Curfew Must Not' and thinks she's a second Bernhardt," said Hathaway.

Fifteen minutes later Mary chuckled to herself as she overheard Hathaway arguing with Miss Tadpole upon the hardships of one-night stands, while Williams was offering to "use his influence" in getting her a hearing. And into the merry party of which Miss Tadpole was now the radiant centre of attraction, for already the glamour of the footlights seemed to be upon her, blundered an uninvited guest—a Mr. Gibbons from Miss Tadpole's home town.

"How are you?" he asked affably. "By the way, Hixon, the superintendent of schools, told me to tell you that he expects you back to take grade eight after the Christmas holidays. Won't take 'no' for an answer, because he says you are the best teacher, the best disciplinarian and ——"

Judging by the expression on the face of Miss Tadpole, no one present envied the youngsters in grade eight after Christmas.

Mary now took an active interest in Miss Tadpole's sad case. She transplanted her for a week's visit to her own apartment in the Begonia, and sent out invitations with reckless profusion. Elizabeth's intimidating career seemed for once to be hiding its head.

"You are giving me such a splendid time!" declared the charming guest. "Oh, er—Mary, what did you say that Mr. Jerrold's business is?"

"I didn't say," replied Mary. "He looks to me rather like real estate or insurance. You see, I only met him recently, at the Hardings."

"He seemed quite nice," observed Elizabeth casually.

Mary Zeal regretted the invitations that fell due on the other remaining days of the week. Elizabeth seemed to have lost interest in being the centre of groups—which had seemed the pinnacle of happiness to her previously.

Mr. Jerrold suspects me of having a career up my sleeve," she sighed. "And he thinks it's something romantic, like art or music! Every man thinks he is doing the world a good turn when he rescues a girl from an artistic career. It appeals to his vanity. But I'm sure when Mr. Jerrold hears that I am engaged in a useful field he will lose his interest."

"Well, if he finds it out, don't glare at him indignantly as if all his answers-to-examples were wrong," cautioned Mary.

"It's wonderful how well acquainted we have become in a few days," sighed Elizabeth. "He's really very intelligent."

"Is he?" asked Mary, with a mocking little smile. "Then perhaps the truth about you won't frighten him!"

"I hope not," said Elizabeth humbly.

When Elizabeth and Jerrold returned from a walk in the park late the next afternoon Mary Zeal regarded them with a cheerful grin of understanding.

"To think he is Professor Jerrold!" gasped Miss Tadpole. "And you told him I had a prejudice against—against—one might as well say brains! But, oh, Mary, what can such a clever man see in a silly goose like me?"

"He says you've got the loveliest eyes he ever saw—and there's no compliment a Higher Mathematics Professor can pay an arithmetic teacher than to want to add her to his family" said Mary.—Helena Smith Dayton.

English and Irish Amity.

Joseph T. Ryan, secretary of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, said at the society's office in Broadway:

"With home rule assured this will be a glad St. Patrick's day for Ireland. The hatred that divides Ireland and England will now die out.

"It has been a bitter hatred, a hatred that manifested itself in many ways. Some of these ways were amusing.

"Arthur Balfour, the ex-Premier, for example, once was in a great hurry to get to England from his post in Ireland, and, there being no regular steamship for some days, he proposed to cross over in a cattle boat.

"But in the man from whom he sought information he found a home ruler of most ardent views.

"'Can I cross in tonight's boat?' asked Mr. Balfour.

"'No, ye can't thin,' said the Irishman.

"'And why not?'

"'Because 'tis a cattle boat.'

"'Never mind that. I'm not particular.'

"The home ruler gave a little laugh.

"'No, Mr. Balfour,' he retorted. 'I daresay ye're not, but the cattle are.'"

NO CREVICES OR CORNERS.

Refrigerator Built on the Lines of the Porcelain-Bathtub.

An unclean refrigerator can never be a good refrigerator, and the proper care of this very necessary article is always more or less a care to the housekeeper. Great advances have been made in the construction of refrigerators mainly by the elimination of all cracks and crevices which might offer a lodging place for particles of food. The perfection of this scheme seems to be in the manufacture of the interior lining of the refrigerator in one piece, being pressed out of the sheet metal and enameled in the same manner as the porcelain bathtubs. This leaves all the interior surfaces entirely smooth so that every part may be reached with the cleaning cloth or brush. Another advantage claimed is the positive immunity from leaks.

SOMETIME.

From a friend, in memory of all who have been taken from dear ones the past few weeks:

Sometime, when all life's lessons have been learned,
And sun and stars forevermore have set,
The things which our weak judgment here has spurned,
The things o'er which we grieved with lashes wet—
Will flash before us out of life's dark night,
As stars shine most in deeper tints of blue;
And we shall see how all God's plans were right,
And how what seemed reproof was love most true.
And we shall see, that, while we frown and sigh,
God's plans go on as best for you and me;
How, when we called, He heeded not our cry,
Because His wisdom to the end could see:
And e'en as prudent parents disallow
Too much of sweet to crying babyhood,
So God, perhaps, is keeping from us now
Life's sweetest things because it seemeth good.
And if, sometime, commingled with life's wine,
We find the wormwood, and rebel and shrink,
Be sure a wiser hand than yours or mine
Pours out this potion for our lips to drink
And if some friend we love is lying low,
Where human kisses cannot reach his face,
Oh! do not blame the loving Father so,
But bear your sorrow with obedient grace.
And you shall shortly know that lengthened breath
Is not the sweetest gift God sends His friend,
And that sometimes the sable pall of death
Conceals the fairest boon His love can send.
If we could push ajar the gates of life,
And stand within, and all God's work see,
We could interpret all this doubt and strife;
And for each mystery could find a key.
But not today. Then be content, poor heart;
God's plans, like lilies pure and white unfold;
We must not tear the close-shut leaves apart;
Time will reveal the calyxes of gold.
And if through patient toil we reach the land
Where tired feet, with sandals loose, may rest,
When we shall clearly know and understand,
I think that we shall say, that "God knew best."

—Ellen Morrison, Grand Rapids.

LAVERN ROBERTS.

Lavern Roberts, son of Carl and Julia Roberts, was born in Tecumseh township in 1868. When about 12 years old his parents removed to Tipton where he lived for a number of years. In 1892 he was united in marriage to Miss Amy Alexander.

He has been superintendent of the stock department in a large brass supply house in Chicago for the last twenty years. He was an accomplished musician and for a number of years has been connected with the orchestra of the Englewood Congregational church.

A week ago he was stricken with tonsilitis which later developed into malignant diptheria from which he died Friday night. The remains were brought to Tecumseh Sunday for burial, Rev. B. R. Weld officiating at the grave.

This was the fourth tragic death in his family. His mother was the victim of a run-away accident some 24 years ago. His sister was impaled on a pitchfork which she was carrying down stairs in a barn. His father died of heart failure while on the train. Surely "In the midst of life, we are in death."

Resolution on the Death of Harriett Barnes

In the death of Mrs. Harriett Barnes the T. B. A. sustains a great loss, as she with Dr. Barnes and Anna S. Hanley were the real organizers of the Auxiliary to Beers Post. After the W. R. C. disbanded, the three met at Mrs. Barnes' home and decided to call the W. R. C. ladies together, and if possible form a local society to assist in keeping the post together which was done, and Mrs. Barns was elected President and has always fulfilled all duties asigned her, also attended the meetings until within the last year when she was no longer able to walk to the hall.

Resolved that in the providence of God he removed our sister from amongst us the T. B. A. mourns her loss, Resolve that we extend our heart felt sympathies in their bereavement.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be published in our town paper (the Herald) and a copy be spread upon the secretary book.

IN TRIBUTE

TO MRS. GEORGE N. STACY

The whole community was inexpressibly shocked last Thursday afternoon when the news was received of the sudden death of Mrs. George N. Stacy. She had seemed the embodiment of perfect health, and was on the street Saturday afternoon and finished her usual duties at the TECUMSEH HERALD office, leaving with a cheery "Good-bye girls" To us who knew what the morrow was to witness, it sounded almost like a funeral knell.

Just one brief week and all that was mortal of our friend was laid beside the grave of the husband for whom she had mourned so long.

As a true and sympathetic friend, ever ready with kind words and deeds she was at her best, and, as we meet so many on the street as we pass along, they so often say, "She has been so good to we," and especially to these who have have had sorrow like her own, was she very tender and loving. When the sad tidings came to them they felt that they had lost one of their dearest and best friends. How much it means to those who have been in close touch with her in her business relations none outside can realize, ever ready with counsel and advice, rejoicing with those who rejoiced and sympathizing in time of trouble, always a good friend and true.

Her mother Mrs. A. J. Bigelow and sister Mrs. Blanche Turner of Flint and a brother J. W. Bigelow of Easton, Md. and Mrs. Arthur M. Bigelow a sister-in-law of Marquette and her daughter Alma with Miss Loana Stacy who has been with her since the death of her husband mourn her untimely death and have the sympathy of the whole community in this, their great bereavement.

Gertrude Bigelow Stacy, whose sudden death was recorded in the last issue of the HERALD was the oldest daughter of Rev. A. J. Bigelow a former pastor of the M. E. church in Tecumseh.

She came here with her parents in her young girlhood, and at the close of her father's pastorate remained until the close of her school work graduating with the class of 1878. She was united in marriage to George N. Stacy in October 1884 and for a few years resided in Saginaw going from there to Elgin, Ill., where Mr. Stacy was engaged in newspaper work. At the death of his brother Scovil C. Stacy, some fifteen years ago, they came to Tecumseh, taking up the work he had laid down, both in the home and at the HERALD office. The death of her husband which occurred December 13, 1907 was a crushing blow to Mrs. Stacy, but she bravely took charge of the work showing a marked ability in every business relation. She was identified with several business enterprizes, was a stockholder in the Tecumseh State Savings Bank, and in the Telephone Exchange, being Vice President at the time of her death, she also was interested in the H. Brewer Foundry. A member of the Monday Club of which, at one time, she was president and an active worker with the Kings Daughters. Socially she was a great favorite and though she has not been in society so much since the death of her husband, she enjoyed the company of her friends dearly.

The funeral was held from the Stacy home Sunday afternoon, Rev G. H. Whitney spoke most feelingly and paid a tender tribute to her he counted as a true friend. A male quartette W. S. Dickinson, Fred Dickinson, C. Ruthruff and Roger Waring sang "Lead kindly Light" and "Come to Me" in a most feeling manner. Surrounded by a wealth of flowers that she so dearly loved she looked so peaceful and happy that we could but feel "She is not dead but sleepeth."

She was borne to her last resting place by the same band of friends who acted as bearers when George was laid to rest with the exception of B. J. Garlinghouse who joined his friend in the spring of 1908, these were F. B. Wood, B. J. Pulver, N. S. Satterthwaite, A. E Hennedy, C. S. Patterson and F. S. Anderson.

Those present from out of town for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner and two children of Flint, Jay W. Bigelow of Easton, Md., Mrs. A M. Bigelow of Marquette, Miss Alma Bigelow of Chicago, George Turner of Flint, of Flint, George Monagan of Toledo, Mrs. Mary Walker and Scovil Walker of Jackson and Mrs F. P. Coder of Napoleon.

And now farewell for we must give up,
For death hath claimed thee for the realms of glory
Unto our lips we press the bitter cup
And close the book, for ended is thy story.
Farewell, when ended is our earthly toil,
And we are called to rest for evermore,
May it be ours when other loved ones meet us,
To clasp thy hand upon the other shore.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If you can't get behind a movement for the town's good, at least don't get in front of it.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and badder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." His name is J. A. Farmer. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The queen of May may have to wear her heavies this year. This is no weather prediction, however.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of a grave nature. Croup may come on suddenly, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deepseated cough, and heals inflamed membrances. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Well, April gave us some beautiful weather, even if some people were fooled in taking 'em off to soon.

CONSTIPATION CURED

Dr. King's New Life Pills will relieve constipation promptly and get your bowels in healthy condition again. John Supsic, of Sanbury, Pa., says: "They are the best pills I ever used, and I advise everyone to use them for constipation, indigestion and liver compaint." Will help you. Price 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

May will bring the alluring apple blossoms. Even the Ben Davis blossoms are sweet and fragrant.

FOR THE WEAK AND NERVOUS

Tired-out, weak, nervous men and women would feel ambitious, energetic, full of life and always have a good appetite, if they would do the sensible thing for health—take Electric Bitters. Nothing better for the stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands say they owe their lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs. O. Rhinevault, of Vestal Center, N. Y., says: "I regard Electric Bitters as one of the greatest of gifts. I can never forget what it has done for me." Get a bottle yourself and see what a difference it will make in your health. Only 50c and $1.00. Recommend by C. A. Wright & Son.

One never hears a small boy saying that he is going to be a soap manufacturer when he gets big.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly over-shadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. Poole, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a very severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time." Refuse substitues. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The man who argues that it is too late for him to do much rarely does anything.

WONDERFUL SKIN SALVE

Bucklen's Arnica Salve is known everywhere as the best remedy made for all diseases of the skin, and also for burns, bruises and boils. Reduces inflammation and is soothing and healing. J. T. Sossaman, publisher of News, of Cornelius, N. C., writes that one box helped his serious skin ailment after other remedies failed. Only 25c. Recommended by C. A. Wright & Son.

To be popular on a small salary a man must possess a special gift

Foley Kidney Pills repay your confidence in their healing and curative qualities. Any kidney or bladder disease not beyond the reach of medicine will yield to their use. Mrs. Cordelia Copeland, Ardeola, Mo., says, "I had kidney and bladder trouble for over a year and 5 bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me." It is the same story from every one who uses them. All say, "they cured me." For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

GETS BIG JOB

John Purroy Mitchel Is a Wilson Surprise to New York Politicians.

JOHN PURROY MITCHEL

The appointment of John Purroy Mitchel to be collector of the port of New York, succeeding William Loeb, Jr., came as a surprise. He was recommended by United States Senator O'Gorman, but was not on the senator's list as previously made public. The selection was supposed to be a compromise, so as to please both Senator O'Gorman and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who had favored Frank K. Folk. The decision was made after weeks of uncertainty and was important because the job is one of the best federal appointments, carrying with it great political patronage. Mr. Mitchel was president of the board of aldermen and an anti-Tammany man.

THREE "R'S" WITH SANITY ARE NEEDS

Tests Fourth Class Applicants Must Meet Given Out.

Washington, May 12—Fourth class postmasters must be able to read, to count accurately the money they receive, to measure the oil cloth on the floors of their offices and to write at least a decipherable letter once in a while in order to be taken under the wing of the civil service. In effect they must have a reasonable understanding of "readin', 'riting and 'rithmetic," according to regulations issued by the postoffice department.

A person to take the civil service examination must be a citizen of the United States, over twenty-one years old, and must reside in the community served by the office he aspires to fill.

No one will be eligible who is crazy, who is an ex-convict, who has been dishonorably discharged from the army or navy or who is disposed even occasionally to reduce the visible supply of strong drink.

All examinations will be conducted by the civil service commission and will be not for appointment generally, but for a particular office. The elegibility for appointment after examination will be for one year, except in special instances. The examinations will not be severe, but will be sufficient to test the business capacity of the applicants.

BALTZ'S NAME OFF ROLL

Illinois Representative Not Sworn in Affected by Ruling.

Washington, May 12.—The name of William N. Blatz, representative from the Twenty-Second Illinois congressional district, has been stricken from the official roll of the house by order of Speaker Clark.

Baltz is the successor to Congressman Rodenburg, and has been at his home ill since congress met. He has but to appear at the bar of the house and take the oath in order to have his name restored to the roll.

SELL TAGS FOR LOST GIRL

1,500 School Children Raise Fund to Aid Catherine Winter Hunt.

Newcastle, Ind., May 12. — Fifteen hundred school children sold tags for fourteen hours for the benefit of the Catherine Winter searchfund. The plan was suggested by a detective. Mayor Barnard announced the receipts amounted to $873, with country towns yet to report. The highest price paid for a tag was $5, the lowest 10 cents.

Leota Pierce, aged ten, made the highest record, collecting $33. She and the missing girl were playmates.

SERIOUS RIOTS AT CINCINNATI

Efforts to Resume Car Service Prove Futile.

STRIKE BREAKERS DRIVEN OFF

Of Nine Cars Started Moving, None Reached Destination — Motorman Fatally Injured—Bricks and Stones Weapons of Offense—No Cars Moving Last Night.

Cincinnati, O., May 12.—Serious rioting in different parts of the city followed the attempt made yesterday morning by the Cincinnati Traction company to resume traffic, which has been suspended entirely since noon Saturday as the result of the walkout of its motormen and conductors. At 4 o'clock Sunday morning the company brought 250 strike breakers to this city, recruited in Chicago and Detroit.

Shortly before 5, six cars manned by strike breakers were started out towards Fairmount, a western suburb, and four cars toward the city.

One car was brought to a halt by a mob of strike sympathizers, the strike breakers fled, and the abandoned car was then set on fire.

The two cars going toward Fairmount got to a point a mile from the starting point when they were stopped by a mob of about 300 men and boys. The crews fled. One strike breaker received a scalp wound and was sent to a hospital. The two cars were partly demolished by the mob.

Of the three cars that attempted to reach the lower part of the town, two got no further than a few squares from the barn. The third car got one block from police headquarters and about a mile from the barn, when a mob of close to 3,000 men and boys made further progress impossible. Charles Weber, the motorman, was hit in the abdomen, and received a ruptured liver. His recovery is very doubtful.

Not a car was running in the entire city last night.

HEAD OF PLAINFIELD RELEASES 122 BOYS

Sweeping Discharge First Action under New Law.

Plainfield, Ind., May 12. — More than a hundred young men in Indiana who have been under parole from the Indiana Boys' School at Plainfield have been granted their freedom by the first sweeping action of Superintendent G. C. Hanna under a law passed by the last legislature. Superintendent Hanna mailed out 122 discharges ordered at a meeting of the board of control May 2.

The purpose of the law is to discharge boys after reaching the age of eighteen instead of twenty-one, as under the old law.

The rules formulated by the board of control at its recent meeting require that youths must have been on parole one year or more and have made satisfactory reports to obtain discharges. Bona fide nonresidents of the state also are eligible.

Receipts of the letters sent out by Superintendent Hanna will release more than 10 per cent of the total number of boys under parole from the state institution. Those who are no longer residents of Indiana will be included in the large number to be considered at the next meeting of the board of control the first week in June.

AFTER POOLMAKERS

National Commission to Invoke Law Against Gambling.

New York, May 12.—The national baseball commission has begun an investigation of the new method of selling pools on baseball games. Chairman Herrman says that the concern which has been doing business in Broadway will be looked into by the commission's detectives and that if the law is violated arrests will follow.

"These pool sellers are swindlers pure and simple. Many of them have no idea of paying premiums to the winners of pools. They can welch without fear of prosecution, for in many instances they do business under assumed names."

SING SING PRISON CONDITIONS FLAYED

Commissioner Blake's Report May Cause Prosecutions.

Albany, N. Y., May 12. — Special commissioner George W. Blake, who is making an investigation of the state prisons, has presented his report on Sing Sing to Governor Sulzer. Although there are few specific charges, the report generally scores the institution and the management as a "startling illustration of mismanagement and waste."

Warden John S. Kennedy is condemned as incompetent and inefficient. Patrick J. Tracy, superintendent of industries, comes in likewise for severe criticism, he being accused of knowing nothing of his branch of the work.

It may be only a coincidence, but it is recognized in Albany that the removal of Warden Kennedy and Superintendent Tracy would enable Governor Sulzer to take another slap at Charles F. Murphy and the Tammany organization. Kennedy and Tracy are both friends of Mr. Murphy.

Commissioner Blake declares that conditions at Sing Sing are so frightful that not even the warden or the prison doctors attempt to defend them. His report, it is said, may be made the basis of criminal prosecutions. He not only criticises Warden Kennedy but holds that Former Superintendent of Prisons Colonel J. F. Scott was more incompetent in failing to remedy the conditions.

WOMAN EDITOR FLAYS SISTERS

Floretta Vining Changes Her Mind on Suffrage.

SEX SHOULD STAY IN BONDAGE

South Shore Woman Says They Are Not Yet Ready for Voting—Prosperity Has Killed Them—Critic Says They Won't Work or Stay Married.

Boston, May 12.—Miss Floretta Vining, the South Shore woman editor, has no desire to protect the undesirables of her sex. In a signed editorial she says:

"I have been a suffragist for years, but I have altered my opinion. Women should remain in bondage. They are not yet ready for voting or to have an opinion of events. Women are narrow, mean, cattish and gossips, and I have seen enough to last me for a while. For ways that are dark and tricks that are evil, the woman of today is peculiar. I have seen things done recently by a woman that I never expected to have seen and I have nothing in common with them; prosperity has killed them and I have always said that not one person could stand prosperity. They must still play bridge whist in the morning for a silly prize and they seem to adore it.

"Oh, for grand, broad minded, sensible women. The young woman of today can't stop. She wears only corsets, under flannel and stockings. My own opinion is that it is extremely vulgar. Their hats nearly cover their eyes. They won't do one particle of anything in the homes and when they marry, they won't stay married more than a year, then a divorce. I am down on divorces."

CAR THIEF CRUSADE

National Campaign Against Evil of Growing Proportions.

Chicago, May 12.—A nation-wide campaign against baggage and freight car thieves, who have been reaping a rich harvest throughout the country, was begun by the federal government when indictments were voted by the grand jury under the new "shipment protection law."

The first indictment was against James Barnes, charged with having stolen a bundle of clothing in transit from the Wells-Fargo Express company station, Plymouth place and Taylor street. Its value was $50.

Under the new law Barnes, if convicted, may be sentenced to ten years in the federal prison or given a $5,000 fine or both, instead of the ten days to six months' penalties which the state laws impose.

The robbing of freight and baggage cars has assumed the proportions of a fixed business. Gangs operate in the larger cities in conjunction with one another and their loot is supposed of through "fences" in Chicago and New York.

TAX FERRET WINS $2,508

Indianapolis Man Effects Compromise with Shelby County.

Shelbyville, Ind., May 12. — Ten years of litigation, in which Samuel Wallace of Indianapolis, a tax ferret, was the plaintiff, and Shelby county the defendant, ended in circuit court in a compromise by which Wallace will receive $2,408 on a contract with the county commissioners for placing sequestered property on the tax duplicates. Interest for several years was not allowed.

Wallace's work resulted in $11,000 being collected, and under his contract he was entitled to one-third of this.

Engagement Announced.

Champaign, Ill., May 12.—The engagement is announced of Miss Harriet Rinaker of Carlinville and Dr. Paul Howe of New York city. The weding will take place in June. Miss Rinaker has been instructor in the domestic science department of the University of Illinois for several years.

Dog's Cruel Predicament.

Orangeville, Ill., May 12. — A dog owned by Carey Curtiss, that had been missing for five days, was found hanging by one leg from the top of a wire fence in a grove half a mile from the Curtiss house. The animal was alive.

Will Establish Camp.

Bloomington, Ill., May 12. — Commercial fishermen along the Illinois and Missisippi river are planning to establish carp farms. One at Genoa has proven profitable to the owners, Frank Gillet and L. Riley.

COMING BACK

TO TECUMSEH UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST

WILL AGAIN BE AT THE BARRETT HOTEL, THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1913.

ONE DAY ONLY

HRS. 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Remarkable Success of These Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer their Services Free of Charge for the Last Time.

The United Doctors, licensed by the State of Michigan for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are considered by many former patients among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard indeed to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep-seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc. By their method these diseases are treated without operation or hypodermic injection.

They were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment, consult them upon this visit. It costs you nothing.

Remember, this last free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

ROOSEVELT CAN BECOME A KING

Throne of Albania Awaits Acceptance by Teddy.

RULER HUNTERS ARE EAGER

Provisional President Declares That Our Foremost Private Citizen Has Only to Announce His Candidacy—"None Better Fitted" to Sit Upon a Throne.

London, May 12.—"If Roosevelt desires the kingship of Albania we will put him ahead of all others who have been named. I myself would certainly vote for him. Roosevelt is one of the most extraordinary men in the world today, being by nature on a higher plane than mere princes."

This was the emphatic statement made by Ismail Kemal, provisional president of Albania and leader of the delegation from the Albanian people authorized to find for them a ruler acceptable to the ambassadorial conference of the powers.

Delegates Show Interest.

The statement by Kemal was given out in the Hotel Cecil, where he is stopping accompanied by his co-delegates, Louis Guracucchi, minister of education, and Nogga, Kunitza and Delejius.

All showed the greatest interest in and were evidently agreeably surprised by a suggestion of Roosevelt as king.

"None Better Fitted."

"There is no man better fitted than he to step upon our throne. I tell you, if Roosevelt will suggest himself we will put him in front of all others. There is no special form of etiquette to be observed in presenting his candidacy for in the crisis which Albania now faces we cannot stand on ceremony as to the manner in which Roosevelt's name may be submitted to us."

Will Receive Peacemakers.

Washington, May 12. — President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan will today receive members of the international committee on the celebration of the peace centenary between the United States and Great Britain. Members of the joint committee are arriving in Washington.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why the Electric Weld is the Most Effective Fence-Joint made

Electrically welding joints eliminates innumerable exposed wire ends, and does away with sharply and tightly bending one wire against another, which cracks the galvanizing. The Electric Weld makes every ounce of wire count for strength and durability—no wasted wire, no useless weight dragging down the fence. Electricity is the only medium which truly amalgamates metals—makes two wires one. As we use it, the galvanizing is piled around the joints, producing a one-piece fabric with absolutely dependable joints. Electrically Welded fence-joints (patented) are used only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommendating this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

Poetry and Music.

If I had to live my life again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once every week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept active through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness, and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature.—Charles Darwin.

National Spirit Is Aroused.

The world, this country, is gradually waking up to a realisation of how ineffably ugly our cities are, how forlorn are the houses and the lives of people outside of the cities. They are beginning to demand something better. No, the spirit of art is not dying. It is preparing for a mighty revival compared to which the boasted Renaissance will be like a rush light in the full blaze of day.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Miner T. Davison had a birthday May 8 and his daughter, Mrs. D. T. Hall planned a surprise for him. About 45 old neighbors and friends dropped in at an early, hour and he asked what it all meant, however he was equal to the occasion and enjoyed the visit hugely.

In behalf of the company Miss Fern DePuy presented him with a fine silk umbrella in accepting the gift he made some very witty remarks thanking them for their kind remembrance. A fine banquet of good things was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Davison has the distinction of being the first white child born in Macon, he was born May 8, 1833. He has always been a prominent farmer in this section, being noted for his fine cattle.

He is the oldest member of the Masonic Lodge No. 69 F. & A. N. joining this fraternity in 1858, he is also a member of Adrian Commandery K. T. of Blanchard Council R. & S. M. and of Tecumseh Chapter No. 51 O. E. S. and an honored member of Tecumseh Grange. He is 80 years young and enjoys life in all its phases.

Cruel Form of Punishment.

A species of punishment, reminiscent of barbarism, was meted out a few days ago to a seven-year-old boy of Kiyosu, Japan, by the child's father. The little lad committed some trivial act of disobedience, and the father punished him by burying him for forty-eight hours in a hole in the ground, leaving only his head above the surface.

Beautiful Party Given by

JUNIORS FOR SENIORS

At I O. O. F. Hall Friday Night.

The Juniors of Tecumseh High School tendered a reception to the Seniors and High School teachers Friday evening at the I. O. O. F hall.

The Senior room, the parlor, was decorated in the class colors, white and green, the junior room, the large lodge room, with blue and gold. Apple blossoms, lilac, tulips and palms were used in profusion and some 200 pennants were suspended overhead and were used for a screen for the orchestra

A fine four course banquet was served, oranges being served first, after these the second course, chicken patties, lattice potatoes, peas on rosettes, rolls, olives, radishes, coffee. The third course was pineapple salad, wafers and nuts. These were followed by ice cream, assorted cakes and mints.

The orchestra played during the banquet and between the courses Seymour Orr as toastmaster called on the following who responded in a very pleasing manner to the toasts assigned them:

Address of Welcome—Seymour Orr.
Response—Lucile Kelly.
"The Seniors"—Ruth Curry.
"The Juniors"—Holly Hand.
Vocal Solo—Miss Bonnie Brown.
"Our Studies"—Harold Kay.
"Our New High School"—Miss Harris.
Piano solo—Prof. D. P. McAlpine.
"Our Great Athletic"—Louis Schneider.
"High School Memories"—Wilfred Mills.
"Auf Weider Sehn"—Anna Carson.
"Finis"—Seymour Orr.

The Misses Zellah and Zorah Dickinson, Gladys Bowen, Camilla Hayden and Doris Kloffenstein were most charming and efficient waiters during the banquet and Service's orchestra furnished delightful music for the occasion.

WASHINGTON NOTES

New Parcel Post Rates

Washington, D. C.
May 5, 1913.

Congressman Lewis of Maryland, who is considered the "Father of the Parcel Post" is busy as work on a bill making radical changes, which he proposes to introduce in Congress making a substantial reduction in the parcel post rates. The operation of the Parcel Post which is much lower than the express rate, is nevertheless, yeilding an immense profit to the Post Office department As it is not the object of this system to wring a profit from the public, the rate should be lowered at once, and the bill by Congressman Lewis will probably be passed during the present extra session.

STAFDARD OIL AGENT IN THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McAdoo made a discovery recently of the fact that an "Agent" of the National City Bank of New York which is the Standard Oil Bank has one of its own clerks seated at a desk in the Treasury Department so that every night the financial condition of the National Banks throughout the country could be immediately made known to the Standard Oil financiers. This method of favoretism in furnishing exclusive information to a particular group of financiers is but one of the many abuses that has been developing in the Government at Washington, during republican rule.

RAW WOOL

The wool growers are also stubbornly contending that, that industry should not be taken at a single stroke of the pen and placed on the free list and it is likely that a duty of 10 per cent will be retained on wool.

Eating Sunflower Seeds.

Sunflower seed eating is the favorite holiday pastime of the Spanish Hebrews of the Levant. The kernel of the seed, which is about as large as a grain of rice, has a nutty, oily flavor, somewhat similar to raw peanuts. On Saturday, after synagogue, Hebrews all over the Orient are to be seen munching the sunflower seeds with gusto. The wealthier classes substitute the salted pistachio for the sunflower seed.

KEEPS THE KIDNEYS WELL

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

A. H. Forche, 136 E. Maumee St., Adrian, Mich., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a valuable remedy for kidney trouble and lame back. I used this preparation for these complaints and received satisfactory results. Since I took Doan's Kidney Pills my kidneys have been normal and the lameness in my back has disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Every married man ought to live next door to a model husband.

The spring months often find a woman tired out, with pain back, hips and head, nervous and sleepless. Foley Kidney Pills will quickly prove their worth and value as a healer of all kidney and bladder ailments and irregularities. They are a splendid remedy for rheumatism, clearing the uric acid from the joints and system. Try them. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The village band makes sweet music, but it isn't in it with the village carpenter.

BEST MEDICINE FOR COLDS

When a druggist recommends a remedy for colds, throat and lung troubles, you can feel sure that he is talking about. C. Lower, Druggists of Marion, Ohio, writes of Dr. King's New Discovery: "I know Dr. King's New Discovery is the best throat and lung medicine I sell. It cured my wife of a severe bronchial cold after all other remedies failed." It will do the same for you if you are suffering with a cold or any bronchial, throat or lung cough. Keep a bottle on hand all the time for everyone in the family to use. It is a home doctor. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright & Son.

This Interest Every Woman

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for for their kidneys and bladder, they they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. They are a tonic in action, quick in results. They will help you. For sale by all druggists of Tecumseh.

"BAD" MAN ARRESTED

Barney Bertsche, Alleged King of "Fortune Tellers' Trust" Taken.

Chicago, May 12.—Detectives broke down the door of C. P. (Barney) Bertsche's residence and arrested the notorious politician, bad man and saloon keeper on warrants naming him in connection with the operations of the Chicago "fortune tellers' trust."

The warrants charge conspiracy to defraud in the case of Mrs. Hope L. McEldowney of Milwaukee, who alleges she was swindled out of $15,500 by Frank Ryan, alias "Professor Crane," who has been named as the "brains" of the "clairvoyant trust." Bertsche appears as indorser of the draft given by Mrs. McEldowney to Ryan.

Additional evidence tending to link the "clairvoyant trust" with the wire tappers who are reputed to have swindled Dr. William T. Kirby out of $20,000 was unearthed.

Bertsche has had an unenviable reputation in Chicago for a long time.

OBSERVED MOTHER'S DAY

State Prison Inmates Accorded Special Privileges.

Michigan City, Ind., May 12.—Mothers' day was observed at the State Prison. Warden Fogarty received from the men's Bible class of a Presbyterian church at Fort Wayne 105 dozen carnations for distribution among the prisoners at the chapel services. The Rev. Q. L. Kiplinger, the chaplain, delivered a sermon in keeping with the occasion, and a vocalist sang.

The prisoners were given special privileges, among them that of writing letters.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature' own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes MR. JAMES G. KENT, of 710 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

The Princess Bee

The Princess Bee was lonely. You will begin to think that the Princess Bee was lonely a good part of the time. But the fact is that since she made friends with the pretty lady upstairs in the big apartment house she had spent many happy hours in the lovely rooms of that sunny apartment, or perhaps walking about with her friend. Now, however, the lovely lady had gone to Bermuda and the Princess Bee was left entirely to her own companionship. For the Queen Mother was always busy, either back in the dark kitchen or bending over her endless sewing.

Trudie's blue eyes slowly filled with big tears. Of course, she didn't know it, but those tears made her eyes look three times as big as usual, and also made them shine like sapphires. Her golden curls clustered in confusion about the little flower face, and she clasped her knee with two thin little white arms.

A young man in a big ulster, with his head buried down in his collar, came suddenly striding around the corner. If you looked close at his face he had a good deal the same expression as the Princess Bee—a sort of longing wistfulness. As he came to the sidewalk in front of the apartment house where Trudie lived, he looked up and saw the quaint small figure perched in its favorite spot on the sill of the half window looking into the janitor's apartment.

"My Zehnsucht!" he exclaimed.

He looked as if he had found something, and Trudie was a little frightened, for he was looking right at her. However, the young man's face was much too mild and gentle to scare anyone, even so fragile a little girl as the Princess Bee. In a minute he said gently:

"Hello—Princess in disguise. I feel quite sure you are that, now, aren't you?"

"No—I'm only Trudie Gray," the little girl said. "But the Queen Mother—I mean my mamma, calls me the Princess Bee."
